Boy Scout Sunday Is National Observance

To be observed in 125 churches within the area of the Lake Agassiz Council on Boy Scout Sunday, February 11, will be the 52nd anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.

As this anniversary recognizes scouting's contributions to family life in America, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers will attend services in uniform with their parents. It is expected that many sermons will stress the importance of the family to the nation.

Boy Scouts of America believes that no boy can grow to successful manhood without a firm belief in God. As the scout keeps himself physically strong by training, so he builds himself spiritually by practicing his religion.

The twelfth point of the Scout Law reads: "A Scout is Reverent. He is reverent toward God. He is faithful in his religious duties and respects the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion."

Some Scouts go further and give special service to their church or synagogue. This may qualify them for a religious award. This is not a scouting award. It is given by the church and synagogue after the boy has worked very closely with his minister, priest, rabbi, ward bishop or spiritual adviser. The Scout movement works with all religious bodies by suggesting requirements for the religious awards.

Each religious award requires the Scout to learn the history of his church, become familiar with the scriptures and take an active part in his church or synagogue as well as give personal service in special projects assigned by his religious leader.

Last year 104 Boy Scouts and Explorers of the Lake Agassiz Council earned the religious awards of their faiths. The award consists of a medal suspended from a colorful ribbon.

Nationally 49.9 per cent of all scout units are sponsored by religious bodies. This totals 65,094 unit. In the Lake Agassiz Council, 43 percent or 65 units are sponsored by churches and synagogues.

The Ad Altare Dei for Scouts who are Roman Catholic is a bronze cross suspended by a ribbon in national and papal colors. It was earned by 13,672 Scouts and Explorers in 1960. Of that number 32 were earned by local members.

A total of 10,018 God and Country awards went to Scouts of Protestant faith in 1960. Last year 16 local scouts received this honor. The design is taken from the shield of the crusaders featuring a red cross on a white background. The ribbon is blue.

Some 1,123 scouts of Lutheran faith earned the Pro Deo et Patria award in 1960. Some 56 local Scouts earned this honor last year. The design is the same as the God and Country award, but the inscription on the bar is in Latin instead of English.

Scouts who are members of the Episcopal Church also earn a God and Country award which has the crusader's shield for its design, but the upper left field of the medal contains nine small, white crosses and the ribbon is red.

Minnesota Towns May Get $1 Million U. S. Airport Aid

Requests Due Feb. 15 at State Aeronautics Department in St. Paul

All Minnesota towns wanting federal matching funds to build municipal airports or modernize their present airports must submit requests to the state department of Aeronautics by February 15. Over $1 million is available as Minnesota's share during fiscal 1963 starting July 1, 1962.

Late in January eleven Minnesota airports were granted $1,400,000 of federal funds for fiscal 1962 improvements.

Federal aid is limited to 50 per cent of the cost of a project. State aid of one-third the cost is available for most projects. Thus a town has to pay at least one-sixth of the construction cost.

The 1962 federal grants included two Minnesota cities in the 5,000-population bracket. LeSueur with over 3,000 residents was granted $27,000 to acquire land and construct a 3,200-foot landing strip. Montevideo with a population of 5,660 will receive $15,605 to buy land and construct a 3,300-foot landing stip and to build fencing.

One hundred five municipal airports have been built in Minnesota. Thirteen of these have airline service. The others make the cities and villages accessible by air to the thousands of business and private aircraft that come to our state every year.

All requests for federal aid for airports are channeled through the State Department of Aeronautics, according to Minnesota Law.

Cash Investments in State Aid Fund Earn $724,903

Amount More Than Twice Cost of Administration of State Aid Program

Total earnings of $724,903 received from invested cash in the state aid fund was more than twice as great as the costs of administering the whole state aid operation in Minnesota during 1961. This was revealed in a year-end report to county and municipal highway engineers by J. M. Evans, deputy chief engineer of the Minnesota highway department. The report also showed that the administration costs for the past year were $360,861, less than half of the income from the investments.

These costs include the full-time services of an 18-man state aid section, plus nine assistant district engineers, as well as essential services of six other sections of the highway department. All of the costs from these services, including the necessary printing, materials and supplies, are reimbursed to the department of highways from the state aid administrative fund. This fund is provided by annually setting aside 1½ percent of the state aid funds available for distribution to the counties and municipalities.

State management of these funds is not limited to providing reimbursable services. One of the important management functions provided by the commissioner of highways is that of investing all accumulated receipts and balances in the most favorable manner possible. The earnings thus realized on the monthly collections and accumulated balances for the 87 counties and 77 urban municipalities would not be possible on a local basis.

INA BAUER DISPLAYS THE FORM that has won for her the German skating championship three times, starring role in two full-length German motion pictures, and top billing in Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies. From flaming red hair to nimble feet Miss Bauer has 110 pounds of perfect coordination neatly distributed over 5 feet 4 inches of supple grace. You can see her at her best in the Follies ballet sequence titled "A Winter Fable" during their Minneapolis Arena run March 28 through April 15.

7th District DFL Meets at D. Lakes

Representative Ben Wichterman, Plummer, announced candidate for Congress on the Democratic-Farmer-Labor ticket, called for other potential candidates to throw their hats in the ring at a Seventh district DFL meeting held last Sunday in Detroit Lakes.

Twenty-three counties were represented at the meeting and endorsed Karl Rolvaag, lieutenant governor, as DFL candidate for governor, although Rolvaag himself has not announced his candidacy. Attending from Thief River Falls were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Johnson and Charles Kotaska, Pennington county DFL chairman.

State Republican Convention Set

Slated for June 7 to 9 in Minneapolis Hotel

The Minnesota state Republican convention will be held in Minneapolis June 7-9 in the Leamington Hotel.

The GOP executive committee, meeting Saturday, set the date and site and also approved a site committee resolution recommending that conventions in odd numbered years be held outside the Twin Cities.

District conventions will be held between March 30 and May 5. County conventions, set earlier, will take place between March 1 and 17. Precinct caucuses start Monday and run through Feb. 17.

The state Republican convention will follow the Democratic-Farmer-Labor convention, scheduled May 25-27 in Duluth.

Both conventions will endorse candidates for the primary election Sept. 11. Of chief interest will be endorsements for governor. The man elected will be the first to serve a four-year term under a constitutional revision.

National Guard Plans Seminar on Cold War

A seminar program to inform members of the National Guard about the menace of International Communism and America's responsibilities to the free world will get under way Sunday, February 11, Brigadier General Chester J. Moeglein, Minnesota's Adjutant General, announced today. Titled "A World in Conflict", the program is designed to reach all 10,000 members of the Guard during the next four months.

Colonel Leon H. Hagen, Assistant State Adjutant General, is in charge of the program, which is sponsored jointly by the National Guard Association of Minnesota, The Adjutant General, and the commanders of the 47th Infantry Division and 148th Fighter Group. Colonel Hagen is a recent graduate of the Defense Strategy Seminar at the National War College in Washington, D. C.

The program will be conducted in two phases, Colonel Hagen said. In phase I, a traveling faculty will conduct seminars for Guard officers at eight locations in the state, including one at Detroit Lakes April 8. Each seminar will be of four hours' duration and will be conducted on successive Sunday afternoons in February and March. Phase II will consist of a two-hour course of instruction to be given to enlisted men at their home armories by their unit officers, using material provided at the officer seminars.

"It is important for us in the National Guard to have as full an understanding and appreciation as possible of the international situation and the nature of the conflict we are in," Colonel Hagen said. "We find ouselves in a situation which does not conform to tradition, experience and the rules as we have known them. These new dimensions of conflict can make new demands on the National Guard. It requires that the Guard be maintained in a state of increased readiness. We can expect to be subjected to partial mobilization and mobilization for cold war purposes. Our Guardsmen must appreciate that now, more than ever, what happens in Latin America, Europe, Southeast Asia and elsewhere is of vital concern to us, their role as Guardsmen is increasingly significant, and their training increasingly important."

Garden Clubs to Have Program at RRV Shows Feb. 20

Minnesota Landscape Arboretum to Be Topic of 'U' M. Horticulturist

A special program for garden club members has been arranged again this year during the week of the Red River Valley Winter Shows, Crookston. All club members in the 11th and 13th districts of the Minnesota State Horticultural society are invited to the Garden Club Day program which will be held on Tuesday, February 20, at the Northwest School, Kiehle Building Auditorium, beginning at 10:00 a. m. Preceding the program, there will be "coffee time" at 9:45 a. m. in the dining hall at the Northwest School.

The program has been developed through the cooperation of the 11th District Horticultural society president, Mrs. Ernest Krabbenhoft, Jr. of Sabin, and the 13th District society president, Mrs. Selvin Bertilrud of Roseau.

The main topic to be discussed is "The Minnesota Landscape Arboretum." Speaking on this subject will be Dr. L. C. Snyder, head of the department of horticulture, University of Minnesota, who is active in the development of the Arboretum, located near Excelsior, Minnesota.

A "Flower Arranging Demonstration" will be presented by Mrs. Tom Gould of Moorhead, who is a member of the Town and Country Garden Club at Moorhead. Mrs. Gould has been active in garden club work for the past ten years.

The program will close at approximately 12:45 noon with a "Dutch Lunch" at Crookston restaurants. This will be followed with a visit to the Winter Shows activities and the new Winter Shows buildings in the afternoon.

NEVER TOO LATE...

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Matthew	24	36-44
Monday	Matthew	25	1-13
Tuesday	Romans	8	31-39
Wednesday	Colossians	1	3-8
Thursday	Colossians	1	9-14
Friday	II Corinthians	4	1-6
Saturday	Hebrews	10	19-25

How I used to hate to practice the piano when I was a child! Yet, today, how I wish I could play well — and that I had the time to practice!

So often, we turn our back on opportunity, only to find, when we want it, that it's too late.

Not so with the Church. The Church gives you no reason for regrets. If, long ago, you gave up going to church, there is no reason why you can't start again now. Even if you've never gone to church, you'll find a warm welcome awaiting you this and every Sunday. For God's love is constant and everlasting.

In the Church it is, literally, never too late.

New low-cost luxury in two just-out Chevy II Nova sedans

• Luxury and low cost have never been more beautifully blended than in these two newest additions to the Chevy II line! Like their running mates—the Nova 400 Sport Coupe, Convertible and Station Wagon—they have the same more-for-your-money features that have made Chevy II the winner of Car Life magazine's Engineering Excellence Award for 1962. Soft-riding new Mono-Plate rear springs, proved in the equivalent of 2,000,000-plus test miles. Thrifty 6-cylinder engine that gets more "git" out of a gallon of regular. Body by Fisher roominess that fits big families and small parking places. An easy loading vacation-sized trunk. New ideas that save on upkeep. Plus trim, tasteful styling, inside and out. See the smart, sassy, saving Chevy II Novas—and the other sensibly sized, sensibly priced Chevy II models—at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Agreement Made On River Cleaning

Watershed Board To Join Federal Service On Thief River Plan

Directors of the Thief River Watershed Development association voted unanimously Friday afternoon to join with the federal Fish & Wildlife service in support of a proposed plan for the cleaning of the Thief River channel for flood control purposes. The plan was explained to them by Herb. Dill, manager of the Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge.

Dill stated that district officers of the Fish & Wildlife service have made some progress in working out a channel cleaning program on the refuge itself and are of the opinion that this program might be extended beyond the refuge to the outlet here at Thief River Falls. The cost of such a project would be assumed by the U. S. Corps of Engineers from funds that already have been made available for flood control purposes.

Stanley Mortenson, secretary of the Red Lake Drainage & Conservancy District, was called in for advice on the procedure to be followed in securing sponsorship of the project by that organization. He stated that the project could be initiated either by a group of land owners through petition or by action of the county boards.

It was decided that the county boards of Marshall and Pennington counties should be asked to sponsor the project and Julian Rodahl, president, was authorized to invite the boards to meet with his directors and officers of the conservancy district on as early a date as possible.

If the proposal receives favorable consideration at this meeting, a meeting with officers of the Corps of Engineers and the Fish & Wildlife Service will be arranged. Dill was of the opinion that such a meeting should be held in this area and that the officials representing the two federal agencies would be glad to meet here, giving them an opportunity to make a

Roland K. Larson

Larson Elected To State Board of MCCE Group

Local Chamber Executive Secretary Appointed to Membership Committee

Roland K. Larson, executive secretary of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce, was elected to the board of directors of the Minnesota Chamber of Commerce Executives group at the 43rd annual conference held last week in Minneapolis. He was elected for one year to fill the unexpired term of H. M. Litherlund, Moorhead, who has retired from Chamber of Commerce work.

Appointment of Larson to the membership committee which is headed by Ed Hogan of Bloomington was also made by Don Brown, MCCE president. The local chamber executive also appeared on the Friday morning panel presentation of "A Dozen Ideas Tied and Why". He discussed "Operation Blitz" held in 1961 and "1962 Skidoo" held early this year, both revitalization programs featuring composite meetings of standing committees.

Prior to attending the Minneapolis meeting, Larson attended the Dairy Day meeting in St. Cloud on Wednesday. Lew Conlon, manager of the Minnesota Dairy Industry committee, was main speaker and emphasized the need for a good sound system at regional Dairy Days and the education of girls entering the county dairy princess contests as to the scope of the work done by Princess Kay of the Milky Way. Materials for Northwest Dairy Day were ordered at the meeting.

Man Who Robbed County Home Gets Stillwater Term

Sentence of 0 to 10 years in state prison at Stillwater was handed down by District Judge J. H. Sylvester in district court in Crookston Thursday against Lyle Thorpe, Williston, N. D., who pleaded guilty to the robbery of the Marvin Gilbertson farm home near Thief River Falls April 12, 1961.

The indeterminate sentence was given by Judge Sylvestre on Thorpe's guilty plea to a charge of third degree robbery brought by the Pennington county sheriff's office. L. W. Rulien, Pennington county attorney, prosecuted the case.

Thorpe was apprehended January 18 west of St. Hilaire by Charles Richards, Pennington county sheriff, and Eugene Prestegaard, deputy. Also apprehended at that time was Eleanor Norheim, formerly of Thief River Falls, who was also at the Gilbertson farm at the time of the robbery.

Charges of third degree robbery against Miss Norheim were dismissed by the county attorney for reason of insufficient evidence to justify trial. She was turned over to federal marshals for prosecution in federal court in Fargo on charges of harboring a fugitive. She is currently being held at the Cass county jail in Fargo.

T. R. Falls Builders Exchange Dinner to Be Held Feb. 20

The annual banquet and meeting of the Thief River Falls Builders Exchange will be held Tuesday evening, February 20, in the Elks club rooms, R. S. Eldevik, secretary, announced today. The annual business meeting and election of officers is scheduled for 6 p. m., with the dinner following at 7 o'clock. Gene Belto will serve as toastmaster.

Dedication of Winter Shows Home Feb. 14

Elaborate Progam Is Set for Ceremony Wednesday Evening

The public is invited to attend the dedication ceremony for the new Red River Valley Winter Shows buildings, which will be held on February 14, beginning at 7:30 p. m., in the new Winter Shows Arena, located just north of Crookston on Highways 2 and 75. The committee, headed by V. F. Hodgson, has spared no effort in creating a program appropriate to this historic occasion.

The purpose of these new buildings will be highlighted in word by the speakers on the program, including two college presidents from North Dakota and an associate dean of the Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota.

Both 4-H and FFA farm youth will be present in reserved section groups. Reserved seating is arranged for those who have worked actively in the fund campaign. Seated on the stage will be the Winter Shows Board of Managers and officials of the dedication program.

Ten band masters from high schools in Northwestern Minnesota will present selected band members in "The Festival Band." The All-Valley Male Chorus, directed by T. W. Thorson, will have the accompaniment of the Crookston Municipal Band for a number of songs. Mr. Thorson has served as music coordinator for the dedication exercises.

Presiding at the program will be B. E. Youngquist, president of the Red River Valley Winter Shows.

Pennington DFL Precinct Leaders Plan for Caucuses

Chairman from all 28 precincts in Pennington county were among 40 persons who attended a precaucus meeting of the county DFL party Friday afternoon at the meeting room of the county courthouse in Thief River Falls. Reports were given by each precinct chairman.

Membership cards were issued, and material for the drive for the sustaining fund was distributed. Charles Kotaska, county chairman, presided at the meeting, which was followed by a coffee hour, according to Alfred M. Johnson, secretary.

1 Minor Traffic Accident Friday

Despite very icy streets in the city over the weekend only one minor traffic mishap was reported today by city police.

This occurred Friday when a ladder protruding from a truck being backed from his driveway on St. Paul av. S. by Dennis D. Hanson struck the windshield of a parked car owned by Keith Fowler causing $125 damages to the car, none to the truck.

The mishap was reported to police. There was no investigation.

Registration in Adult Classes Opens This Week

Registration in nearly all of the 17 classes offered to adults by the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school will be received this week, according to Arnt Aune, director. Classes are open to all adults within travel distance of Thief River Falls and no prior certification or high school diploma is needed.

Fees are payable at time of registration and will not be refunded unless the class in which a person enrolls is withdrawn due to insufficient registration, Aune said. A complete listing of classes offered, registration fee, meeting time and place and instructor was published in the Thursday edition of the Times.

Republicans Plan Caucus at Court House Thursday

County-wide Meeting in Assembly Room Called by Chairman Stan Mortenson

"Republican activity in Pennington county for 1962 will be kicked-off with a county-wide caucus Thursday, February 15, at 8 p. m. in the court house assembly room," Mrs. Robert Bredeson, county chairwoman, said today.

"The county committee" she said, "is making every effort to assure full attendance. The caucus is designed for the members of the party to come and talk about candidates, issues, and plans for the campaign. We encourage all Republican-thinking individuals to turn out.

"The interest in the 1962 election," Mrs. Bredeson continued, "is being built up on several fronts. For instance, we have new legislative and congressional districts, and we can thank Governor Andersen for the latter. We have great interest in the controversial taconite tax amendment which the Liberals killed in the 1961 session. All state constitutional officers will be running for four year terms this year for the first time in history."

Senior Citizens' Recreation Will Be Aired Thursday

An open meeting for all Pennington county homemakers will be held Thursday, February 15, at 1:30 p. m. in the courthouse meeting room to hear Charles Martin speak on senior citizens' recreation. Martin is family relations specialist of the University of Minnesota.

This discussion is of importance to many for people are living longer than they once did. A total of 10.3 per cent of Pennington's population is 65 years or more of age. An estimated 57.9 to 64.2 per cent live in towns with population over 2500 and 20.2 to 29.1 per cent live on a farm.

To Review Local Planning . . .

Open Civil Defense Forum Set at Legion Club Tuesday

Information of interest to all persons in Pennington county will be provided at a special, open Civil Defense forum to be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the American Legion club rooms in Thief River Falls. The session is sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary in cooperation with the Pennington County Civil Defense unit.

"Since the work of Civil Defense in this county is a joint effort by the city of Thief River Falls, villages and rural areas, we encourage attendance at the meeting from all areas of the county," stated Kendall Gustafson, director of the program. O. E. Buckmaster, commander of Mobile Support Area 3, will be the guest speaker.

"This will be an excellent opportunity for all interested persons to find out what is being done in the county and the reasons for this action," Gustafson said. "Ample opportunity will be provided for anyone to ask questions about the program in general and its specific phases. We have high hopes for a large attendance and a lively, entertaining discussion."

Gustafson will lead the discussion on public and private fallout shelters, a controversial issue throughout the nation, and report on the survey of public shelters recently initiated in Thief River Falls. Ellsworth Jorgenson, deputy director, will give a resume of local planning under the Civil Defense program.

Other local CD personnel taking part in the evening program will be Paul Stelmaschuk, Pennington county agricultural agent, reviewing the anticipated duties of rural residents; Morris Owen, outlining the warning system used to alert the entire county; Norman Peterson, administrator at Northwestern Hospital, discussing available hospital facilities and advance planning; a school official outlining school planning and Charles Samuelson, science instructor at Lincoln high school, summarizing the effects of radiation.

Coffee will be served by the auxiliary free of charge to all persons attending following the conclusion of the program and discussion.

Firemen Answer 3 Week-end Calls

Little Damage Caused by Fires Friday and Sunday

Very little damage, comparatively speaking, was caused by three fire calls answered by the local fire department over the weekend.

The first call was to the Maytag laundromat on LaBree av. N. at 5:25 p. m. Friday. Some clothing in a dryer being used by a patron caught fire but damage was confined to the clothing.

At 10:37 the same day the department answered a call to the Albert Kemnitz home at 732 Markley av. S. where an overheated oil burner caused some smoke damage.

Sunday, the department answered a call to Dick's Corner Texaco, Sixth and Main, where a fire believed caused when some cleaning compound being used on a car engine ignited, causing fire damage to the wiring. The call was answered at 5:10 p. m.

Social Security Man here Tuesday

A representative of the Grand Forks district office of the Social Security administration will be in Thief River Falls at the city Auditorium Tuesday, February 13, at 10 a. m. Individuals who have questions regarding social security or who wish to file claims may contact him on that date.

Scout Court of Honor Features Eagle Awards

Annual Event Slated At St. Bernards; Cubs Hold Blue-Gold Event

More than 60 advancements in the Thief River Falls Boy Scout program, including three coveted Eagle awards, will be made at the annual Court of Honor to be held tonight at 7:30 p. m. in the basement of St. Bernard's Catholic church. Parents and interested friends of scouts and scouting in this area are urged to attend the event.

Troop 57 of St. Bernard's will be in charge of the flag ceremony and Rev. Pryor of the church will present the invocation. A special invitation has been issued to leaders of the Badger troop which was recently organized.

James Lee, advancement chairman for the Pen-Ro-Shall district of the Lake Agassiz Council, Boy Scouts of America, will serve as master of ceremonies for the evening program. Elling Iverson will be in charge of the tenderfoot investiture with other awards to be made as follows:

Second Class, Robert Protz; First Class, George Mostue; Merit Badges, Clarence Knutson; Star Awards, Evonne Olson; Palms Award, Florian Kritz; Life Award, Doug Remick; and Eagle Award, Quentin Jones. Receiving Eagle awards, the highest rank in scouting, will be Brooks Mostue, Larry Larson and Bruce Gilbertson, all members of troop 60 at Trinity Lutheran church.

In addition to the three Eagle awards, Troop 60 will have two Life awards, three Star awards, eight First Class awards, seven Second Class awards and 15 merit badges. Troop 59 at Zion Lutheran church will have one Life award, two First Class awards, two Second Class awards and a number of merit badges while troop 57 at St. Bernard's will have one Life award, four First Class awards, three Second Class awards and merit badges.

The Court of Honor will be one of the highlights of Boy Scout week which is being observed nationally. A number of window displays have been erected by Boy Scout troops and local Cub Scout packs to assist in emphasizing the observance.

Annual Blue and Gold banquet for Cub Scouts of Pack 60 at Trinity Lutheran church was held last Tuesday with more than 250 persons in attendance. "Parade of Presidents" was the theme for the

Snorre Lodge 70, Sons of Norway, Receives Award

National Recognition Is Given for Increase in Membership During 1961

Among the 87 lodges to receive national Sons of Norway awards for membership promotion during the year of 1961 is Snorre Lodge No. 70 of Sons of Norway in Thief River Falls, according to an announcement made by the international office in Minneapolis.

In addition to the lodge itself, certificates acknowledging their part in the membership activity of the lodge were also awarded to Harry F. Larson, president of the lodge; Lawrence K. Aase, membership chairman during 1961; and Marie Larson and Anna Aaseby.

The five certificates were presented at a meeting of the lodge held February 7 by Herman A. Kios, district president, Thief River Falls.

The award is made as a part of a District President's Recognition staged by the international fraternal benefit society during 1961 and the certificates are being presented to all lodges who showed a net increase in the membership during the year.

Sons of Norway is an international fraternal benefit society of men, women and children of Norwegian birth or descent in the United States and Canada. It has a total membership of nearly 40,000 with 250 lodges from coast to coast.

JUDGE of the Ninth judicial district will be the new title of County Attorney Lyman Brink of Hallock May 1, when he will succeed the late Judge Paul A. Lundgren of Thief River Falls, who died December 24. Mr. Brink whose appointment was announced late last week by Governor Elmer L. Andersen, has practiced law at Hallock since 1934, and he indicated that he will continue to make his home in that city. He has served as president of the Minnesota County Attorneys' association and on the board of governors of the Minnesota State Bar association.

New Judge Named in Holthusen Trial

Judge Murphy of Grand Rapids to Hear Case Feb. 26

Reinhard C. Holthusen Wednesday demanded and received a new judge to preside over his second degree murder trial in Bemidji.

Holthusen's attorney filed an affidavit of prejudice against Judge J. Hadler, International Falls, claiming the defendant could not receive an impartial trial with Hadler on the bench.

Judge Hadler removed himself from the case and assigned Judge James J. Murphy, Grand Rapids, to preside at the trial starting Feb. 26.

Holthusen was charged with the December, 1960 slaying of Palmer Anderson of Thief River Falls on the Red Lake Indian Reservation.

Mercury Mounts to 30 Here Sunday

Rebounds after Hitting 22 Below Last Thursday

Very mild temperatures and skies have replaced the clear, cold weather of last week in northern Minnesota, as warm, moist air moving in from the southwest overrode the mass of colder air moving away from the area. The result was a series of warm fronts, with fog, drizzle and some snow which hampered travel in the air and on the ground.

Roads in the Thief River Falls area were very slippery Sunday as the result of drizzle and snow mixed which fell early that day. Approximately two-tenths of an inch of moisture was measured at the airport.

The day-to-day temperature record is as follows: Thursday, Feb. 8, high 5 above, 22 below for low; Friday, 6 above and 16 below; Saturday, 24 above and zero; Sunday, 30 and 20, both above zero, and the low this morning was 20 above.

Mild weather should continue through Tuesday, according to the forecast. Cloudy skies and light snow, with little temperature change are predicted for today and Tuesday, with highs today from 20-30 and tonight's lows from 15-25.

Education Board to Meet Tonight

Election of directors and principals for the 1962-1963 school year and preliminary discussion of teacher salaries will be main items of business to be discussed at the regular meeting of the Thief River Falls board of education tonight. Action on sheltered annuities for employees of the school district will also be taken.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the kitchen of

MRS. TED HELLIE

This English Swiss roll recipe is a favorite of people in that country and one which Mrs. Hellie's family likes too, so she makes it fairly often. She prefers a lemon filling and powdered sugar frosting.

SWISS ROLL

1 cup sifted flour	1 cup sugar
1 tsp. baking powder	1 tsp. vanilla
½ tsp. salt	1-3 cup hot water
3 eggs

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Break eggs in large mixing bowl. Beat at high speed until lemon colored. Gradually add sugar, a tablespoon at a time, beating constantly. Add vanilla. Reduce speed to slow. Add dry ingredients, beating only until blended. Add hot water, all at once and beat to a smooth batter. Spread in a greased, waxed paper lined, 15 by 10 inch jelly roll pan. Bake at 375 degrees for 12 to 14 minutes. Loosen cake carefully and turn out immediately onto a towel that has been sprinkled with powdered sugar. Remove paper, trim crusts, roll cake and towel together. Cool on rack. Unroll and fill with favorite filling, jam or whipped cream. Frost if desired.

Mrs. Hellie came to this country from England in 1949 and has lived in Thief River Falls since 1951. Her hobbies are sewing, making desserts and trying new recipes. Mr. Hellie is an English teacher at Lincoln high school and during the school year has all his spare time taken up with football, hockey and basketball games and other school activities.

In the summer, however, Mr. and Mrs. Hellie are avid golfers and spend all their spare time on the course. They have two daughters, Diane, aged five and Susan, age two, and are members of the Community Methodist church.

Paul Bunyan Week Noted at Bemidji

Jerry Wedul Wins Honor in Beard-growing Event

Paul and Carrie at Bemidji State college for the 1962 Paul Bunyan Week are Pat Barker of Marshalltown, Iowa, and Carol Brovold of Gully. The couple received college mugs Wednesday night as the insignia of their reign over the festivities which ended Saturday.

Barker is a BSC senior, and was the "B" club's candidate for the honor. Miss Brovold is a freshman, and she was the band's candidate for Carrie.

Tuesday night men on the campus were judged for the best growth of beards in five categories. Winning honors for having the longest beard was Les Ploen of Jordan while Julius Dahl of Bemidji took first honors for sporting the best trimmed.

Jerry Wedul of Thief River Falls gained highest recognition for growing the shaggiest beard. David Lindberg of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was top man in the "peach fuzz" category. Dr. Philip Sauer received honors for growing the most intellectual appearing beard.

1961 Summary Reveals . . .

City Mishaps-When and Why

Room is left for theory and guesswork in the analysis of traffic accidents which were investigated by the Thief River Falls police department in 1961. A complete tabulation is kept by the department and lists time of mishap, age of driver and number of persons involved, rate of frequency and other pertinent information.

One somber note has already been struck in 1962, acording to the accident report record maintained by Irving Swanson, police patrolman. A total of 38 auto accidents occurred in January of 1962—exactly the same number as the first quarter (January-February-March) in 1961.

One of the surprising facts revealed by the report is that Monday was the peak day for accidents and that the hour from 4 to 5 p. m. was the most hazardous. Of the total 193 mishaps reported during the year, 38 occurred on a Monday and 25 were between the hours of 4 and 5 p. m.

Why there is such accident frequency on Monday is a point of question for the department. Several theories have been advanced for the 4 to 5 p. m. frequency, however. One is the rush of children home from school in their own cars or with parents. Another is the last-minute rush to finish shopping before stores close at 5:30 p. m.

While the latter theory on the surface may not seem too sound, consider another fact. During the year there were no accidents between 4 and 5 p. m. on a Friday—the night when stores are usually open. On Friday night the accident frequency moves back to the hour between 9 and 10 p. m.

"In spite of all the reference to 'Sunday drivers', Sunday is relatively safe," patrolman Swanson notes. "There is no definite trend as to time of accidents on Sunday. Even the early morning hours do not enjoy the relative immunity of other days." A total of 18 accidents occurred within the city on Sunday in 1961.

Women may take heart on one statistic judiciously ferreted out by Mrs. Pat Thompson, department clerk. That is the fact that of the 310 drivers involved in accidents within the city last year, 250 were males. It was also noted that 232 of the 310 drivers were local.

Bad street conditions were not always a factor in accidents, the report reveals. A total of 94 occurred under dry conditions as compared with 94 on snow and ice. Daylight mishaps totaled 140 against only 44 during darkness.

In the break-down of age groups in drivers involved in accidents, the 25-34 age group had the greatest number of mishaps with 54. Other age brackets and number of drivers involved include the following respectively: under 15, three; 16, seven; 17, 19; 18-19, 29; 20-24, 40; 35-44, 33; 45-54, 36; 55-64, 24; 65-74, 27; 75 and older, 5; and not stated, 33. Greatest cause of accidents listed was failure to yield the right-of-way.

Number of accidents by months for the year included the following: January, 10; February, 19; March, 9; April, 11; May, 12; June, 18; July, 18; August, 10; September, 16; October, 12; November, 30; and December, 28.

Farmers Told How to Appraise Earnings for Social Security

It's that time of the year again. And the farmers around here — along with those all over the nation — are going through their books to let Uncle Sam know how they came out money-wise in 1961.

One point farmers may want to keep in mind in figuring their earnings for social security purposes is that they may be entitled to use an optional method.

(1) If you gross income from agricultural self-employment is not more than $1,800, you may count as your net farm earnings either your actual net or two-thirds of your gross income;

(2) If your gorss farm income is more than $1,800, and your net farm earnings are less than $1,200, you may use either your actual net or $1,200;

If your gross farm income is more than $1,800, and your net farm earnings are $1,200 or more, you must use the actual amount of your net earnings.

Because of the option available, self-employed farmers with gross income as low as $600 can obtain social security credit for 1961—and so build protection for themselves in their old age; or if they become disabled, and protection for their survivors in case of death.

Some farm owners who receive cash-rent or crop shares from tenant farmers can get social security credit for that income. If the farm landlord (or his agent), under his agreement with his tenant, materially participates in the production or management of production of the farm crops raised on his land, this income may be reported for social security purposes.

Information regarding taxes due and tax return forms can be obtained at the Internal Revenue Office at Crookston, Minn. If you have any questions about old-age, survivors, or disability insurance, the people in the social security office at Grand Forks, North Dakota, will be glad to answer them.

Agreement Made On Cleaning of River Channel

preliminary inspection of the proposed project.

Dill emphasized that the channel cleaning would be strictly limited to cleaning and the removal of obstructions. He was satisfied that this would increase the efficiency of the channel a great deal and under flood conditions would get the water down stream faster.

Mortenson was of the opinion that the Corps probably would insist on the sponsors assuming responsibility for any claims for damages that might result. This is the usual procedure, he said.

Christensen Herd Tops Pennington DHIA in January

Cows Average 1,289 Pounds of Milk and 49.1 Fat; 500 Lbs. Producers Listed

Topping the list of highest 10 herds in the Pennington County Dairy Herd Improvement association for the month of February is the Clyde Christensen herd, according to Orville Peters, supervisor.

Four animals completed lactation during January with records of more than 500 pounds of butterfat. One cow was in the Darrow Lundeen herd and produced 13,960 pounds of milk and 509 pounds of butterfat in 365 days. The Merle Lundeen herd had one cow which produced 14,850 pounds of milk and 560 pounds of fat in 349 days and one which produced 13,480 pounds of milk and 504 pounds of fat in 309 days. Maynard Mehrkens herd listed an animal with production of 12,620 pounds of milk and 502 pounds of fat in 279 days.

Herd averages are affected by the number of dry cows in the herd. Amount of milk or butterfat produced by the herd is averaged out over all the cows to give the farmers a record of the earning power of the herd for the month. If too many dry cows are included the average for that month may be low although the cows which are milking produce a lot of milk. Top 10 herds for January include the following:

	Pounds Milk	Pounds Fat
Clyde Christensen	1,287	49.1
Darrow Lundeen	1,390	48.6
Laverne Johnson	1,094	43.1
Art Stenberg	1,118	41.2
Clarence Swanson	1,152	40.8
Paul Morkassel	918	40.2
Martin Hanson	1,111	39.7
Myron Carlson	1,044	38.5
John Burtness	1,074	38.5
Don Bruggeman	1,090	37.4

Flynn To Head Library Friends Membership Drive

Robert Flynn was named membership chairman of the Friends of the Library at a special planning meeting held Monday evening in the library meeting room in Thief River Falls. C. L. Charlson was named as a member of the membership committee.

All officers and nearly all committee chairmen were present at the meeting at which Mrs. Otis Wold presided. Discussion was held on an open house to be held at the library March 10 and plans of activities for coming months were also made.

Selected as members of the nominating committee were Mrs. Stanton Dahlen, chairman, Mrs. Les Ihle and Mrs. O. D. Belch. Named to the auditing committee were J. J. Womack, Robert Flynn and Virgil Burger.

UND Debate Team

A University of North Dakota debate team captured second place in the annual Red River Valley tournament at Concordia College recently. Team members included Deann Ellason, Grand Forks, and Pamela Thorkelson, Thief River Falls. The team had a 6-0 record with three "superior" and three "good" ratings. The University of Minnesota won the tournament. About 32 teams from 13 high schools of five states competed in the tournament.

Baudette Radar Base Is Now in Operation

A 10-ton mass of interlaced steel will rotate high above the Baudette community this week cementing yet another link in the chain of defense over the northern border.

Nearly completed and already tested is the latest in search radar, the AN FPS-24 — a nearly $9 million complex of ultra-modern electronics poised on an $800,000 cement and steel building.

Turned by a 3,300 horsepower electric motor, the giant screen is capable of separating minute targets at undisclosed ranges as well as avoiding possible enemy jamming by changing frequencies to operating requirements.

The new radar is the first of its type to go into operation in the 30th Air Division which stretches from Minnesota to Michigan and south through Indiana.

"There is only one other similar unit in the division," said Lt. Col. Carl A. Lindberg, the base commander, and the Baudette unit will be the first in operation—likely by the end of the week.

So new is the electronic marvel that there is no training facility elsewhere in the nation. Some 15 full time civilian and 15 or more contract civilians from the contracting firm will act as technical advisors and operate the equipment for training and maintenance for about four months.

The base complement is approximately 135 airmen and six officers, who also operate the more conventional type of radar with which the base was originally equipped.

The new system is entirely automatic. The 5,000,000 watts of power provide information which is computed in a massive concrete building and fed to semi-automatic ground environment computors at Duluth for analysis and possible action. It has the ability to eliminate weather "blips" as well as performing other so-called "high capability" functions, Lindberg indicated.

Presently on a trail basis, the unit is slated to be purchased by the Air Force.

S-SGT. KARMEN SCHNELL IN PHILIPPINES EXERCISE

Staff Sergeant Karmen Schnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mattson of Thief River Falls, is participating in Exercise Great Shelf-Taggo now being conducted in the Philippine Islands training maneuver for air and ground forces of the United States and the Republic of the Philippines. The 10-day exercise will end February 15. Sgt. Schnell is an aircraft maintenance specialist.

Road Conditions Uncertain During February Weather

Drivers Urged To Heed Yield Right-of-Way, Signs And Alert Driving Habits

February is generally a month of driving uncertainty and motorists should be on the alert for changes which will affect their driving habits, acording to Charles Richards, Pennington county sheriff and president of the county safety council.

"Drivers will find it much easier to cope with the new hazards if they pay particular attention to traffic signs," Sheriff Richards siad. "These warning signs are the motorists' protectors—warning drivers of icy spots, bad curves, dangerous passing zones and poor road conditions."

He advised special notice of "Yield Right-of-Way" signs which are being posted more and more along state highways, county roads and city streets. Pedestrians as well as cars are protected by this sign. When a vehicle approaches a 'yield' sign, its driver is required to slow down to a reasonable speed and to stop if necessary for vehicular or pedestrian traffic approaching or crossing the intersection.

Other "signs of life" are the railroad crossbuck, stop signs, diamond-shaped warning signs and round railroad warning signs.

While February is the shortest month of the year it is long on traffic hazards. Changeable weather and variable temperatures add to the driving risk as roads may appear clear and dry but icy spots prove to be unexpected hazards awaiting the careless driver.

Last year Minnesota traffic mishaps accounted for the deaths of 14 persons, including eight pedestrians, during the month of February. Excessive speed for conditions and other driver errors were listed as the cause for most of the fatal accidents. Conduct and attitude of the driver are the only factors which will decide the traffic results this month.

Rites Wednesday for Nels Boe, 77, Who Died Friday

Nels J. Boe, a lifelong resident of Marshall county, died suddenly at his home in Marsh Grove township Friday, February 9 at the age of 77.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday, February 14 at 2 p. m. in the Bethesda Lutheran church west of Newfolden. Rev. T. J. Weltzin will officiate. The body will lie in state at the Green Funeral home from Monday evening until 10 a. m. Wednesday and at the church one hour prior to services.

Mr. Boe was born February 8, 1885 in Alma township near Argyle, where he received his education and grew to manhood. In 1901 his parents moved to Marsh Grove township where they homesteaded and he helped with the farm operation for many years.

On April 10, 1935 he was united in marriage to Pearl Jarshaw at Crookston. After their marriage they continued to farm on the old homestead.

He is survived by his wife, Pearl, and three daughter, Mrs. Dale (Arlene) Carew of Grand Forks; Mrs. Oscar (Marlys) Bergos of Willmar, Minn.; and Shirley at home; two sons, Gene Boe of Buxton, N. D.; and Merlin at home; four grandchildren; and two sisters: Minnie Boe of Crookston and Mrs. Nellie McConnchie of Santa Ana, California, and one brother, Stephen Boe of Seattle, Wash.

He was preceded in death by his parents, three brothers and three sisters.

Services Held for Mrs. I. York, Who Died in Mpls.

Mrs. Inga York, a resident of Minneapolis and formerly of the Newfolden community, passed away Saturday, February 3, in Minneapolis at the age of 78 years.

Funeral services were held Saturday, February 10 at 2 p. m. in the Bethania Lutheran church west of Newfolden, with Rev. Elder Oscarson officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Mrs. York was born September 7, 1883, in Norway and came to America with her parents at the age of four years. They settled at Vigdal, Minnesota where they lived for a few years. In 1899 the family moved to Marshall county and homesteaded in Marsh Grove township where she attended school and grew to womanhood.

She was united in marriage to Lute York at Warroad where they lived for some time until they moved to Canada. Since her husband's death in 1941, she had lived in Minneapolis.

Surviving are one foster daughter, Rita of British Columbia, Canada and one foster son, Leslie McFarland of Illinois; one sister, Mrs. A. A. (Tillie) Wagner of Minneapolis and one brother, Anton Knutson of rural Newfolden.

She was preceded in death by her husband, parents, two sisters and two brothers.

The Green Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Black River 4-H

Black River 4-H club held its monthly meeting Friday, January 12. President Kenny Witt called the meeting to order. Roll call was answered by giving a New Year's resolution. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Karen Witt and the treasurers report was given. The play was discussed, but it was decided that we wait until the next meeting for further discussion. It was announced that Laura Duerst is to attend the February meeting and Bill Svendsgaard is to attend the March meeting. There was also a change in the date of the February meeting to Thursday, February 8.

The meeting was then turned over to Les Kelfenheim of the REA at Red Lake Falls, and he gave a talk on safety and showed a movie on the safety of electrical cords and plug-ins.

Program: Linda Kopecky and Tim Hirst were in charge. Project reports by Stan Johnson on pigs and Curtis Swanson on diary were given and a demonstration on making "No-Bake Cookies" was given by Bruce Steiger. Kathleen Hawkinson and Tommy Melin played several selections on their accordions.

Enjoyed by all was recreation led by Robin and Dennis Naplin. Lunch was served by the Herman Witt and Lowell Hawkinson families.

HAPPY HOMEMAKING

PENNINGTON COUNTY HOME AGENT

February is here, finding two famous birthdays and Saint Valentine's Day. Here are a few suggested edible decorations for your festive table:

For Lincoln: Cut brownies of fudge squares into long, narrow strips for Lincoln Logs; stack them log cabin style.

Serve little chocolate cake houses. Cut chocolate cake into 2½ or 3-inch cubes. Cut triangular pieces for the gables; make the roof of thin pieces of chocolate cake or pieces of thin chocolate bar. Put the house together with chocolate frosting and frost outside of house. Attach a small piece of cake or candy bar for the chimney. Outline windows and doors with silver candy.

Make small sponge cake mallets. Spread thin slices of sponge cake with chocolate frosting and roll up like a jelly roll. Frost and cut into desired length. Insert stick candy for a handle.

For Saint Valentine: Serve a Valentine dessert of heart-shaped meringues filled with strawberry ice cream. Stick a cookie Cupid's dart into the ice cream. Serve the whole thing on a lace dolly.

For Washington: Make soldiers for favors. Use gumdrops for the body and head, pipe cleaners for the arms and legs. Put paper cocked hats on their heads and toothpick swords in their hands.

Serve cherry roll for dessert. Chop maraschino cherries into whipped cream and spread between vanilla wafers. Let stand in refrigerator several hours. Slice and serve.

Cherries For February

Appropriately, canned and frozen cherries are among the plentiful foods for February—so use them often to add color and zestful flavor to everyday and festive meals.

Tiny tarts filled with cherry pie mix are perfect for a buffet. You can use cherry pie filling, too as a topping for ice cream or as a filling between layers of angel food or other white cake. . . or heat it and serve it with ham.

RLF Trailer Plant to Resume Feb. 19

Factory Now Owned by Detroiter Mobile Homes

The Red Lake Falls plant of the Detroiter Mobile Homes, expects to start production by February 19, according to C. C. Woodard, sales manager of the Minnesota division.

Woodard was recently appointed head of sales and distribution of the plant which will produce units for dealers in Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and also sections of Canada, Iowa and Wisconsin. Formerly with Detroiter at its St. Louis, Mich. plant, Woodard is a veteran of many years in the mobile home industry.

Since buying out the Alma Trailer firm which operated in Red Lake Falls for two years, Detroiter has been busy the past several months readying the plant for production of its 1962 models. New equipment, tools and other production facilities have and are being installed which will make the plant a modern and efficient mobile home factory.

The Alma plant ceased production last fall and during its existence operated on a limited basis. Production of the Detroiter units is expected to be continued with 35 men employed in the plant at the start.

Donald M. Olson Attends Meet of Coast-to-Coast

Merchandising New Lines for Spring and Summer Shown in Minneapolis

Donald M. Olson, owner of the Coast-to-Coast Stores in Thief River Falls, returned recently from the organization's 32nd annual convention. The four-day session of general and group merchandising meetings was held in the Pick-Nicollet Hotel and at the Coast-to-Coast stores central organization offices in Minneapolis.

Along with 1500 other Coast-to-Coast stores owners and their wives from 16 Midwestern states, Olson attended and participated in a full schedule of meetings in Minneapolis covering merchandising, selling and new advertising promotions. Many new displays of spring and summer lines were shown and detailed plans were discussed for better merchandise values, better business methods and expanded services to their customers. Also included in the full four-day schedule was the annual banquet, floor show and dance held Tuesday night.

Arthur C. Melamed, president, Maurice L. Melamed, secretary-treasurer, and H. J. Kantrud, executive vice-president, and other executives of the Organization spoke during the four-day meeting. The organization's 32 years of steady progress was reviewed and extensive new plans for future growth were revealed. Over 940 stores in 20 states are now franchised under the independent ownership plan of the company.

The new Coast-Way line of lawn care products was introduced to store owners. With this advanced line of lawn products the stores are able to offer a complete lawn care service to customers.

Plans for more through and expanded newspaper advertising were discussed by the organization's advertising department for each of the seven sale promotions in the year.

Three Directors of R. L. Electric Are Renominated

At a series of three district meetings held by the Red Lake Electric Cooperative the week of February 5 thru 9, three members were renominated as directors from their respective districts, C. M. Kleven, manager, announced.

They include: District 9, Leonard Melin, Pennington county; District 6, Joseph F. Skala, Red Lake Falls and District 3, Helmer Lind, Newfolden.

The names of these candidates will be placed on the ballot for election as directors of the cooperative for a three year term at the annual meeting of the membership on April 4 at Red Lake Falls.

Beltrami Sets Tax Hearing on Household Goods

To determine sentiment in regard to eliminating the personal property tax on household goods in Beltrami county, a public hearing will be held Friday, February 23, at the courthouse in Bemidji beginning at 10:30 a. m., according to Wayne Alsop, county auditor.

The Beltrami county commissioners, at their February 6 meeting, considered the matter of eliminating the tax on Class 2 (household) property. By a law passed in 1959, the board is permitted to exempt this class of property. If they do so, no assessment would be necessary on household goods in Beltrami county in 1962.

Any person wishing to be heard for or against the program is encouraged to attend the hearing.

Another important match on Thursday evening's 7:00 p. m. draw will find the Beverly Olson rink meeting the Alice Liden rink. The two rinks share second place in the league standings, and the winner of Thursday evening's match will take over sole possession of the runner-up position.

Middle River Is Leading Border Loop Basketball

After having won 15 consecutive games without a loss, Middle River now has a break from the basketball wars until February 17 when they meet the strong Plummer team. This is followed on Feb. 19 by a meeting with Greenbush who is second to Middle River in the North Border conference.

Middle River has now clinched the championship of the conference with an undefeated string, while Greenbush is a close second with only two losses. Middle River lost the first game of the season to Goodridge, which it avenged in a later meeting, and has since not been headed. They have averaged fifty-four points per game during the season, while holding the opposition to thirty-four.

Scoring is very balanced with any of the first six or seven players capable of hitting the double figures. The team includes three seniors, Calvin Anderson, Armand Kell and Wayne Larson. Coach is Jerry Snyder, a Bemidji State college graduate, in his first year of coaching.

'U' Gives Warmath 4-year Contract

Gopher Football Coach to Get Salary of $21,000

Football Coach Murray Warmath was given a new four-year contract Friday by the University of Minnesota Board of Regents, extending through Feb. 1, 1966, at a salary of $21,000 a year.

The board's action upon recommendation of University President O. Meredith Wilson was unanimous. The contract carries an annual increase of $500 over Warmath's old agreement, which carried through the 1962 football season.

Warmath, who suffered through a series of indignities including garbage tossed on his lawn during the 1957-59 period, took the Gophers to the Rose Bowl in 1961 and 1962. His team, although national champions, lost to Washington on the first trip but recouped with a victory this year over UCLA.

Viking Trotters To Play Gopher Gridiron Greats

Area sports fans will have an opportunity to see members of the University of Minnesota football team in action Saturday, March 3, when a basketball team comprised of Gopher gridiron greats meets the Viking Trotters at 8 p. m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium.

Members of the Gopher team include Judge Dickson, Bobby Bell, Dave Mulholland, Bill Munsey, Sandy Stephens, Tommy King and others. Advance tickets will be on sale at the Club Cigar Store or from any of the Viking players at a reduced price of $1 for adults. Admission at the door will be $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for children.

The Trotters have played a number of top teams around the area and have been defeated only once—that loss coming at the hands of a number of former Prowler stars who organized a team during the holiday vacation. In addition to seeing some of the Golden Gophers who were victorious in the 1962 Rose Bowl, fans will be treated to an exciting basketball game.

Winnipeg Sextets Top VFW Midgets, Eagles Bantams

In "kid" hockey played at the Arena on Saturday night, a pair of teams from the Earl Grey Community club in Winnipeg scored wins over the local V. F. W. Midgets and the Eagles Bantams. The Earl Grey Midgets defeated the local Midgets, 8-1; and the Earl Grey Bantams scored a 7-3 win over the local Bantams.

On Sunday afternoon, on the Arena ice sheet, the East Grand Forks Midgets and Bantams hockey squads defeated the local Midgets and Bantams. Coach Jim Williams' East Grand Forks Midgets marked up a 2-0 win over the local Midgets club; and the Eagles Bantams dropped a 2-1 decision to the East Grand Forks Bantams.

Bemidji Trounces Prowler Quint 60-35

A powerful Bemidji Lumberjacks basketball squad, showing fine all-round scoring balance and being especially effective in controlling the rebounds, defeated the Prowlers, 60-35, in a game played here Saturday night.

The Prowlers will travel to East Grand Forks for an important district conference game against coach Larry Selk's highly-rated East Siders on Friday night. And on Saturday night, coach Dick Wendahl and his Fertile Falcons will invade the local court for an inter-district game against the Prowlers. Fertile, defeating Halstad, 52-51, on Friday night, shares top honors in district 30 with the Halstad Pirates.

Except for the opening minutes of the first period when, on field goals by Wayne Bjerken and John Aune, the Prowlers tied the score at 4-all, coach Bun Fortier's Bemidji squad were in control of Saturday night's cage game here. A field goal by Dick Sessing, a newcomer to the Bemidji lineup; a free throw by Bill Hanson; a rebound shot from the lane by big Bill Rabe; a lefthanded layup by Jack Phelps; and a field goal by Bill Hanson, boosted the Jacks' into a 13-4 lead with 1:23 of the period to play. After Bjerken had notched a Prowler free throw, Hanson and Phelps hit on Lumberjack field goals to give the visitors a 17-5 first-period lead.

Sessing's four field goals and two free throws, paced the Lumberjacks to an 18-point second period, and gave Bemidji a 35-15 lead over the locals at the intermission.

After gaining a 49-24 advantage at the end of the third period of play, coach Fortier inserted numerous reserves in the Bemidji lineup, and the Prowlers, with Elton Hornseth looping in three field goals, played the Jacks on even terms in the scoring column, with each team racking up 11 points.

Sessing, with nine field goals and two free throws, was the game's high-point player, having 20 points. Rabe and Bill Hanson each tallied 9 points, while Jack Phelps added 8 points. The Prowler scoring honors were won by Paul Klungness with 9 points, and John Aune who tallied 8 points.

All-state Sextet of St. Paul Tips Thieves

A team representing the All State Properties of St. Paul, and composed in the main of former St. Paul Johnson high school players, defeated the senior hockey Thieves, 7-3, in an exhibition tilt played on the Arena ice sheet Sunday afternoon.

The Thieves will meet the St. Vital Bruins in an exhibition game here Sunday afternoon, 2:30 p. m., Feb. 18. The St. Vital team played here a couple of weeks ago and lost to the locals, 5-3, in a well-played and entertaining game.

In Sunday afternoon's game, the St. Paul club, skating three lines, held a manpower advantage over the locals who were without the services of Monty Marstrum and Kenny Wellen.

The visitors tallied a pair of goals in the first period when Bob Hult and Roy Wiggins beat goalie Ken Sauve. Hult's goal at the 3:46 mark of the second period gave the St. Paul sextet a 3-0 lead before DelRay Offerdahl, on a hard backhand shot from ten feet out, picked the corner of the cage to beat goalie Bob Johnson and score for the Thieves at 6:24 mark. Goals by Ron Crowe, John Beck, and Howie Peterson boosted the All State Properties' lead to 6-1. In the final minute of the second period, Dale Wennberg rapped in a pair of goals, paring the St. Paul lead to 6-3.

Gene Stark's hard shot into the south net at the 16:54 mark of the third period closed out the game's scoring, giving the St. Paul club a well-deserved 7-3 win. On Saturday night, playing at Roseau, the St. Paul team defeated the Roseau Cloverleafs, also by a 7-3 score.

Curling Activity Continues Here

Four Rinks from Piney Met Local Rinks Sunday

In curling activity at the Fair Grounds arena this past week-end, in the mixed league curling on Saturday night, Stream Olson defeated Duane Liden, Ed Berggren defeated Ken Liden, and Bob Mattson defeated Curtis Swanson.

On Sunday afternoon, four rinks from Piney, Manitoba, met four local rinks, with the following results: Jack Jensen, Piney, defeated Ken Liden, 10-8; Duane Liden defeated Maurice Mushaluk, Piney, 9-4; Wally Tunberg defeated Alf Thompson, Piney, 14-4; and Mike Sawka, Piney, defeated Curtis Swanson.

Arrangements are being completed for the sixth annual States-Dominion bonspiel, with thirty-two rinks competing, to be held here on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

Win 39 to 35; Center Bob Olson Leads in Scoring

The Prowler 'B' squad evened their season's record with the Bemidji 'B' squad when, in a preliminary game played here Saturday night, coach Joe Mrkonich's eagers defeated coach Phil Bubn's Bemidji squad, 39-35.

The Prowler B's, with Rick Jensen and Kenny Larson garnering four points apiece, outpointed the Jacks, 15-10, in the third period to take a 33-25 lead; and then were forced to hold off a rallying Bemidji club in the fourth period to gain their four-point win.

Center Bob Olson, with five field goals and three free throws, led the scoring for the winners. Forward John Warford, with 9 points, paced the losers.

Result of Wednesday's game: Knox, 9, at Northrop, 24.

Schedule, Wednesday, Feb. 14

Washington at Knox, 4:15 P.M.

Coach Al Staley's cellar-dwelling Northrop Indians provided the city grade school basketball league with an upset on Wednesday afternoon when, in a game played on the Northrop court, the Indians handed the league-leading Knox Tigers a 24-9 defeat. It was the first defeat in league play for coach Roger Dorn's Knox club.

The Indians, led by Danny Holden and Terry Joppru, who scored six points apiece during the tilt, held the Tigers scoreless throughout the second half. Northrop held a three-point margin, 12-9, at the intermission.

This week's schedule will find coach Rod Max's Washington Wildcats, invading the Knox court for an important game. Washington, by winning the two games remaining on the schedule, can gain a tie for the league title with the Knox team.

TRF Saddle Club Elects Officers

Officers for the coming year were elected at a meeting of the Thief River Falls Saddle club Sunday, February 11. Those elected were: president, Dan Keefe; vice president, Clark Carpenter; secretary, Pearl Iverson; and treasurer, Pat Hetland.

Lunch was served following the meeting by the hostesses. A sleigh ride is being planned for Sunday, February 25 at the Dan Keefe home starting at 7:30 p. m.

TURN TO PAGE 5 FOR ADDITIONAL SPORTS

DRIVING past the outstretched hand of a Lumberjack defender, Wayne Bjerken of the Prowlers moves into the lane for a two-pointer in Saturday night's action between Thief River Falls and Bemidji. The senior guard played a strong floor game for the Prowlers, doing the bulk of dribbling against a Lumberjack pressing defense. Defending in the above photo is Dennis Aguair, Bemidji guard, who sports fans will remember as an outstanding halfback during the football season.

The Final Home Appearance

The winningest varsity sports squad on the Prowler winter athletic program, coach Al Shaff's Prowler wrestlers, will be making their final appearance of the season here on Wednesday night when, at 7:30 p. m., they meet the Mahnomen Indians from District 30.

Last week the Prowlers won a couple of matches, defeating the Warren Ponies, 23-22, and the Crookston Central Pirates, 30-16, to boost their season's mark to ten wins, two losses, and a draw. And the draw match, a 26-26 affair, was with the Mahnomen squad in mid-December. And the two wins last week brought the Prowlers' winning streak to seven straight. The locals haven't lost a match since the Christmas vacation holidays. The two losses that have been taken were administered by District 29 foes, with Bemidji scoring a 35-12 win, and Park Rapids marking up a 35-8 win.

Wrestling fans should make a special effort to get to the gymnasium in time for the first match on Wednesday, for in that match the Prowlers' ever-winning Roy Delorme will attempt to continue his unbeaten streak. The 98-lb. Prowler is a top-flight competitor, and he must be rated as one of the favorites in his weight division in the Region Eight tournament which will be held in Crookston on Feb. 21.

The following schools will enter wrestling squads in the Region Eight tourney: Ada, Bemidji, Thief River Falls, Crookston, Greenbush, Mahnomen, Park Rapids, Warren and Waubun. The first sessions will begin at 11:00 a. m. and will continue until 5:00 p. m. The consolation finals will be held at 7:00 p. m.; and the championship finals at 8:00 p. m.

Good Luck, Prowlers

The hard-luck hockey Prowlers, who will enter first-round play in Region Eight hockey tournament competition on Tuesday night, when, at 7:30 p. m., they meet the Baudette Bears in the Warroad Arena, are hoping for some favorable bounces of the puck. And they will need these lucky bounces if they are to reach the finals of the Region Eight tourney.

First-round games in the tourney will begin tonight, Monday, with the defending Region Eight and state champion Roseau Rams playing Indus at 7:30 p. m.; and East Grand Forks meeting Crookston Central at 9:00 p. m. Following the Prowlers vs. Baudette game on Tuesday night, the second-place Warroad Warriors will play the Hallock Bears at 9:00 p. m.

The winners of the first-round games will then move to Roseau, where the semi-finals and finals will be played on Thursday and Friday, Feb. 15 and 16.

The Prowlers will be entering tournament play without the services of their co-captain Tim Teal. Tim, who is in Northwestern hospital here with a stubborn infection, has been a sturdy defenseman for the Prowlers all season, and his loss will put an additional burden on the locals' youthful blue-line corps. Tom Morben, a junior, has been called on by coach Gene Sack for full-time duty in the past couple of games, and Tom will perhaps see extra service during the tournament. He's willing, and tough enough.

And center Larry Poole, perhaps the Region's finest all-round player, will probably be asked to take an extra shift or two, too. Larry, who will undoubtedly move on into college hockey when he graduates this year, has been one of the bright spots in the Prowlers tough-luck season.

An Area Attraction

One of the most promising basketball games of the season, for providing fans with entertainment and excitement, is slated for the Middle River high school court on Saturday night when the Skippers meet the Plummer Cardinals.

The Middle River team, rated along with Lake Bronson as a pre-tournament favorite in District 32, boasts a fifteen-game winning streak. In meeting coach Howard Emerson's all-veteran Plummer team, a team that is considered as a "dark horse" entry in District 31 tournament play, the Skippers will be put to a fine test.

The game should be a thriller, with the odds being in favor of the home-standing Middle River club.

Rasmussen-Ekeren Duo Repeats as Bowling Champs

Pair Posts 1099 Total To Win Women's Doubles Tournament Last Week

Posting a 1099 total with respective individual scores of 553 and 546, Sam Rasmussen and Lu Ekeren won the Second Annual Women's Doubles bowling tournament held last week at Family Bowl in Thief River Falls. A total of 138 women entered the event.

Mrs. Rasmussen rolled games of 187, 176 and 133 with a handicap of 57 while Mrs. Ekeren posted games of 194, 174 and 144 with a handicap of 34. It was the second successive year when the Rasmussen-Ekeren duo took the tournament championship.

Second place went to Teen Berg with a 583 and Mona Storhaug with a 478 for a total of 1061 while third place went to Alma Malvig with a 541 and Janet Swanson with a 468 for a 1049 total. Five highest games rolled were Teen Borg, 201; Lu Ekeren, 194; Mary Washnesky, 193; Betty Roadfeldt, 191; and Fern Bruggeman, 188. Five high series for the tournament included Teen Berg, 583; Sam Rasmussen, 553; Mary Washnesky, 553; Doris Seefeldt, 549 and Lu Ekeren, 546.

Singles tournament will be held the week of March 12 and team events will be bowled the week of March 26, according to Mrs. Roadfelt, president of the local women's bowling association. All women bowlers are asked to read the tournament rules posted at Family Bowl to be familiar with them by tournament time.

Economist at 'U' M. Says U.S. Can't Ship Away Farm Surplus

Although the idea that we can somehow relieve our domestic surplus headache by shipping it overseas is widely accepted and has withstood 40 years of battering in the political arena, it's not likely to solve the surplus problem, a University of Minnesota agricultural economist said Friday.

Elmer Learn reminded the 34th annual meeting of the Minnesota Farm Managers association in St. Paul that the U. S. faces two distinctly different kinds of foreign markets for its agricultural products. One is the "somewhat artificial market" created by government programs and designed to make agricultural products available to foreign countries in exchange for local currencies or as outright donations. The other is the "dollar market" where U. S. farm products are exchanged as in any foreign transaction.

During the fiscal year ended June, 1961, the U. S. exported 4.9 billion worth of farm products. Of the total, $1.5 billion was shipped under special government programs. Farm commodities worth $3.4 billion were sold for dollars, but many of these sales received some government assistance in the form of export subsidies.

Regarding the special government programs, Learn said that the basic idea behind all Food for Peace proposals is that we should be able to find some way to use our agricultural productive capacity to assist underdeveloped countries.

"But the dollar costs, the foreign relations difficulties and the multitude of mechanical problems to be encountered by Food for Peace appear to be too great to permit expanding shipments to carry away the surplus.

"The gap between hungry mouths in Asia and surplus food in America is far greater than the 7,000 or so miles of ocean to be crossed," Learn said. "Some countries are showing increasing concern about the impacts of our food disposal programs on their markets.

"In many countries most in need of food the distribution system is so poor that it is extremely difficult to see that the food gets to those who are most in need. Furthermore, the commodities we have in surplus may not be those best suited for economic development assistance.

"We must be prepared to make long-term commitments; developing countries cannot devise meaningful programs involving U. S. food unless these food supplies can be assured on something more than a year-to-year basis. And our budget makers here at home are not likely to permit unlimited expenditures even for a program as popular as Food for Peace."

Concerning the "dollar market" Learn said that one of our greatest needs at the present time is for increased market development work at home to make us more effective competitors in foreign markets. Our prospects for a larger expansion in dollar sales are not good.

"In many respects we are not treating foreign markets with respect," he stated. "We are doing far too little to merchandise our farm products for overseas markets. Our grades and standards, our marketing practices and our marketing institutions in general are geared to the domestic market.

"The European Common Market poses some new and difficult problems for our dollar exports. It seems likely that the Common Market agricultural policies will reduce our exports of some commodities to that area. This is particularly serious, since Western Europe currently accounts for more than half of our dollar exports."

Learn said the Food for Peace program is an important part of an over-all economic development assistance program and no effort should be spared in attempts to overcome the problems involved in establishing a workable program. "However, I fear there are far too many people who think we can remove our domestic agricultural problem without pain by taking it overseas.

"I hope that we do not let our efforts on Food for Peace deter us from making the changes required to expand dollar sales abroad. I further hope that we will not let ill-founded optimism regarding foreign markets prevent us from making the necessary adjustments in our agricultural plant here at home."

Warner Reappointed Legion Baseball Head

Re-appointment of Thomas M. Warner, 3229 - 40th Avenue South, Minneapolis, as Director of Minnesota American Legion Baseball has been announced by George Abalan, Duluth, Commander of the Minnesota Department of the Legion.

Warner has been director the past four years and the re-assignment came by unanimous action of the Department executive committee. Under Warner's direction, the Minnesota program has grown to become the largest in number of Posts participating of any state in the nation. A total of 285 posts formally sponsored teams in statewide competition during 1961, involving more than 4,500 boys under 18 years of age.

Warner, who is head baseball and football coach at Cretin high school, St. Paul, has estimated that annually upwards of 18,000 youths play ball under guided direction of the Legion program in community competition in Minnesota.

1962 will mark the 37th year of Legion baseball. Minnesota is the only state that has conducted a program climaxed with a state tournament continuously since boy's baseball was originated by the Legion in 1926. Since its inception, many local Posts have not only supported Legion ball, they have assumed chief local responsibility for promotion of other boy's baseball programs for many age levels, according to Warner. As an example he cited the Post at Richfield, sponsor of last year's state Legion champs, where not only a full Legion program was conducted but in addition, an eight-team Babe Ruth League was supported.

Meanwhile, Warner announced that George Rulon, Indianapolis, Ind., national director of Legion baseball, will be in St. Paul February 17 to attend a meeting of the Legion's state committee to discuss 1962 rules and to lay plans for play. Rulon, a native North Dakotan, himself played Legion baseball, and is a former sports writer for the Fargo (ND) Forum.

For two and one-half years prior to his appointment to the baseball program last May, Rulon was director of the Legion's national membership program. "The more boys we can keep off the streets and busy learning how to give and take, the better," he said. "We aim to teach Americanism and to help answer the criticism about physical fitness of American youth."

Editorials . . .

"It is said an eastern monarch once charged his wise men to invent him a sentence to be ever in view, and which should be true and appropriate at all times and situations. They presented him the words, "And this, too, shall pass away." How much it expresses! How chastening in the hour of pride! How consoling in the hour of affliction! —And yet, let us hope, it is not quite true. Let us hope, rather, that by the best cultivation of the physical world beneath and around us, and the best intellectual and moral world within us, we shall secure an individual, social and political prosperity and happiness, whose course shall be onward and upward, and which, while the earth endures, shall not pass away."

Repayment with Thanks

The Japanese government has agreed to pay to our government 490 million dollars in settlement of the postwar economic assistance we furnished to that country. More important than the dollars we are recovering are the expressions of good will that come with them. Following is an encouraging comment from the Japan Times of Tokyo:

> "Foreign Minister Kosaka said at the signing ceremony that nobody would deny that the massive American postwar economic assistance given to Japan served to eliminate social unrest and to stabilize the people's livelihood in the midst of the chaotic postwar conditions prevailing in Japan at the time, and thus formed the foundation for the country's subsequent economic rehabilitation.
> "We all know how rapid and comprehensive this rehabilitation has been and Japan stands again today as one of the world's most important commercial and industrial nations. It might have been far otherwise and it is to America's everlasting honor that this assistance was given in sufficient quantity, and at the right time, to enable Japan to rebuild her economy."

What About Stockpiles

So what about stockpiles? Apparently there is nothing really mysterious about them. According to the Wall Street Journal stockpiling got started back in the days of the Truman administration,

> "—on the premise that the nation needed a reserve of strategic materials to have on hand in case of future wars. That premise is as valid today as ever."

Well, if stockpiling was right in theory why has it proved to be wrong in practice? According to the Journal it has been wrong because politics raised its ugly head. The Journal concludes:

> "The truth is that the faults of the stockpile program are bipartisan ones. They involve both White House and Congress, plus private pressure groups, over the past 15 years."

That in brief probably tells the whole story. The following observations by The Journal point up some of the facts that are interesting:

> "What went wrong with the stockpile, as these columns have observed over the years, is that the political hand of Government perforce sent it spinning out of control. One result is that the stockpile, according to Mr. Kennedy, now exceeds presently foreseeable requirements by a shocking $3.4 billion. How did it get out of control?
> "We see immediately, for one thing, the perils of central planning. Figuring on a long-term shortage of aluminum, the Government entered into long-term contracts to feed the stockpile. But the Government was deluged with the stuff a few years ago, and is still acquiring some. The President says the Government has $347 million worth of aluminum beyond the amount needed for a three-year emergency supply. Similar tales can be told of other materials.
> "Once the Government is so deeply involved in private business, it becomes an important factor in the market. Let the Government try to get rid of some of the excess stocks, as the Eisenhower Administration did try, and the very whisper of its desire may depress prices.
> "More than that, any such announced intention evokes howls of protest from the producers of the affected commodities, some of them foreign but many domestic. In the case of a foreign material, the Government promptly has a diplomatic crisis on its hands. In the case of domestic producers, they run to their Congressmen, who must approve of any disposals. And they get results. According to one calculation, Congress has been asked for disposal approval 50 times and granted it only once.
> "For, of course, the stockpile intended to help protect the nation has long since degenerated in a gigantic subsidy for certain segments of the population. Now they can't live without it, they say. Just like the farm program. Only more so; the value of the various stockpiles add up to more than the Commodity Credit Corporation's fabulous cache —and that's going some. In fact, the stockpile itself, among other things, is all balled up in bartering surplus farm goods for strategic items from abroad.
> "Unquestionably there is a dilemma here. How do you have a stockpile for security needs without its becoming just such a disrupter of markets and subsidizer of producers? At this stage, it seems plain enough that long-term contracts are a dubious procedure, that disposal rules need to be eased, that Washington must develop a more hard-headed attitude in the interest of the whole nation.
> "These and other matters the investigators will presumably explore. But in the process it is to be hoped that the main point will clearly emerge. At a time when so many are singing the praises of central Government planning of the whole economy, the stockpile story once again reveals the same old lesson: Not effective planning but wild disorder ensues when Government meddles in the marketplace."

Canadian Reaction

From the Financial Post, published at Toronto, Canada, we get the following reactions to our country's defeat at the Uruguay meeting of the Organization of American States last week. These reactions probably represent the thinking of most Canadians on this controversial problem:-

> "As distant observers of the conference at Punta del Este, where the Cuban question was hotly debated, Canadians must have reflected that they are well out of the Organization of American States, long known as the Pan-American Union.
> "Among OAS members there is sharp disagreement about the right way to deal with the Castro regime, now unblushingly communist. No doubt two opinions could be found among Canadians; but their majority view, if Ottawa has correctly interpreted it, leans to the moderate line taken by Mexico, Brazil and Argentina, strongest of the Latin countries.
> "It is incredible that Washington sees Cuba as a military threat, seeing that the U. S. still has a base on the island, at Guantanamo, while the Soviet Union, of course, has not. Cuba is receiving arms from the Russians; but Che Guevarra, Castro's right-hand man, recently offered a pledge not to export either weapons or the revolution to Cuba's neighbors.
> "Canada, fortunately, was not involved in the argument. Having declined OAS membership, this country had neither voice nor vote at Punta del Este. This is not a case of reluctance to stand up and be counted. There would simply be no advantage to Canada, or to the hemisphere, in an obligation to vote with or against the U. S. in such a controversy. Canada's independent judgement is more valuable than a makeweight or even in a decisive ballot in OAS."

Supreme Court Changes

(Morris Tribune)

The retirement of Chief Justice Roger Dell removed from the Minnesota supreme court one of the able jurists of contemporary times. In addition to being able, Mr. Dell was a hard-working member of the court who took an active part in the preparation of the many decisions handed down by the court during his tenure. He deserves credit too for a substantial part in the realignment of judicial districts resulting in reduction and, to a marked degree, elimination of the backlog of court business in several districts.

On the other hand, the retirement of Mr. Dell made possible the advancement of Justice Knutson to the top spot on the court and the appointment of District Judge Walter F. Rogosheske as associate justice of the supreme court. Knowing Rogosheske, his brilliant record in the legislature and on the bench, we predict that he will make an outstanding contribution to the state of Minnesota in his new role on the Minnesota Supreme court.

Interesting Opinions

I am not especially sanguine about the improvability of man and I have even graver doubts about his chances for redemption after he assumes public office. But I am persuaded that official inadequacy is something that can only be enjoyed in silence . . .

"We may lay it down as a law that without public criticism all governments look much better and are much worse."

—U.S. Ambassador to India, John Kenneth Gabraith

"While certain public policies would in the long run benefit everybody, other policies would benefit one group only at the expense of all other groups. The group that would benefit by such policies, having such a direct interest in them, will argue for them plausibly and persistently. It will hire the best buyable minds to devote their whole time to presenting its case. And it will finally either convince the general public that its case is sound, or so befuddle it that clear thinking on the subject becomes next to impossible."

of Rhyme & Reason

By MARY LUNDIN

BASHFUL BEAUS AND BELLES in the Thief River Falls area as well as throughout the world will be taking advantage of Valentine's Day Wednesday to notify their true love of their amorous affections. And greeting card companies have been figuring for countless years the most attractive way to help the guys and gals, wives and hubbies, etcetera and so-forth, to express these affections properly and still leave a profit.

But back in the "earlier days", which apparently is the same as "once upon a time, long, long ago", Valentine's Day was a time for serious husband-hunting. So states a release from World Book Encyclopedia concerning the practices which were observed on Valentine's Day long ago.

A girl might start out at midnight by circling the church 12 times and repeating the rhyme, "I sow hempseed, hempseed I sow, he that loves me best, come after me now". If the object of her affections happened to be waiting at the wrong church, stayed home because it looked like rain, was too tired to run after a hard day's work or for some other reason missed the starting signal, the wistful maid could still hope to see her true valentine in her dreams.

A peek through the keyhole on the morning of Valentine's Day was to give an indication as to whether or not marriage was possible in the coming year. If she saw two objects, well and good, but if she saw only one—better luck next year. And to help identify her husband-to-be, she wrote the names of her boy friends on slips of paper and rolled each one in a ball of clay. The she dropped the clay into the water and the first scrap of paper that floated to the top was believed to hold the name of her valentine.

Valentine's day is believed to have come from the old Roman festival of Lupercalia, a festival held in honor of Juno, Roman goddess of women and marriage, and Pan, god of nature. But people once thought that the day was for the birds. Some believed that birds choose their mates on February 14.

Times certainly have changed. Instead of girls circling the church and reciting rhymes, boys circle the block in automobiles and whistle. Instead of peering through the keyhole, girls go stag to group parties. Instead of writing names on paper and dropping them in the water, girls drop the boys themselves until one comes floating to the surface.

All in all, Valentine's Day is nice. Have a happy one.

BUILD BETTER BALANCE—Moved by the climbing temperatures, but not too sure of her flower names, a lady asked a garden club member for advice. She was especially fond of salvia. Showing her sketch to the club member, she said, "On this side of the walk I would like to have salivas. What would you suggest for the other side?" "Well," the other replied, "maybe in that case it would be a good idea to plant some spittoonias there."

If you think you have been using a lot of heating fuel lately—you're probably right. January and February take 36 per cent of the average annual fuel consumption in this area. Remainder of the percentage includes seven per cent in Sept.-Oct., 28 per cent in Nov.-Dec., 25 per cent in March-April and four per cent in May-June. (Thank goodness for July and August!)

Before you say it, ask youself: "Is it the truth? Is it fair to all concerned? Will it build good will and better friendships? Will it be beneficial to all concerned?" Chances are you may say it—but it won't be as much fun.

And I must add that several persons have mentioned after the recent publication of a feature story on curling that Tom Cochrane was not alone in starting the local club. Justin Moe and "Corn" Olson, who volunteered a substantial amount of their own money to initiate the club, should receive much of the credit. The local curlers thank you, gentlemen.

A TALE OF DEVOTION

The light in your eyes hints of laughter,
And I wonder what causes the smile.
I tingle when I see you coming
And I'm bursting with pride all the while.

I don't know what I'd do if I lost you;
My soul would be stricken with pain.
Though you seem to be happy and faithful
I've a notion to bind you with cahin.

If you left me to run with another
I'd surely go out of my mind.
Don't do it, I beg you, don't do it—
A good dog's just too hard to find.

WCTU Met Jan. 31

The Alice May Stuart Women's Christian Temperance Union met Wednesday, January 31, at the Mrs. Ida Lee home in Thief River Falls. Meeting was opened with a hymn, and scripture ready was given by Mrs. Edwin D. Hanson. Minutes of the 25th anniversary celebration was read by secretary Mrs. Gust Gustafson, who also read several thank you cards.

A report was given by social service director, Mrs. Carl Finstad. A suggestion was made that anyone wishing to make something to have on hand to give to a shut-in would be a great help to our social service director. There was also discussion on making a quilt to be given to some needy family.

A program is being planned for the Oakland Park Nursing Home at which time we will also serve coffee and cookies to all the patients.

Mrs. Olaf Snetting was honored since it was her brithday that day. Mrs. Louisa Anderson made the birthday cake which was placed on a musical plate that played "Happy Birthday to You". Lunch was served by hostesses Mrs. Ida Lee and Mrs. Nina Larson.

Next meeting will be Monday, February 12 at the Gust Gustafson home.

Returns From West Coast

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Swenson returned home Thursday, January 25 from a trip to Vallejo, California, where they spent the Christmas holidays with their daughter and son-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. Alan Cabot and family. Lt. Cabot is presently attached to the Nuclear submarine "Permit", now building at Mare Island Naval shipyard. While there Mr. and Mrs. Swenson made several sight-seeing trips to San Francisco over the Golden Gate and Oakland Bay bridges. Some places of interest they visited included Chinatown, Fisherman's Wharf, Treasure Island, and several museums. They also took a sight-seeing cruise around the Bay area which included seeing Alcatraz at a distance. They drove to the top of Mountain Tamalpais and into the Muir woods located along the Redwood Highway. It also snowed in San Francisco for the first time in many years, but there were many days when the temperature was reported in the 70's. Mr. Swenson also had the opportunity of touring some of our nation's nuclear submarines at Mare Island Naval shipyard. Lt. and Mrs. Cabot send greetings to their relatives, friends and former neighbors in the Thief River Falls area.

Martin Mau returned Monday after visiting the past two weeks with his sister, Mrs. Lena Lorenz and other relatives at New Lenox, Ill.

Mrs. Bill Sorensen of Minneapolis spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Swanson.

Martin Sjostrand of Schenectady, New York visited Thursday at the Winton Knutson home. Mr. Sjostrand has been visiting the past three weeks in this area with relatives and friends which include the Soren Knutson home in Thief River Falls and others at Viking. Mr. Sjostrand was a former resident of this area approximately 40 years ago.

The Numedal homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Ray Olson Tuesday afternoon, January 30. A short business meeting was conducted after which a social afternoon was enjoyed. Mrs. Alan Noreen was presented with a gift of money from the ladies who did not attend the Pink and Blue shower held for her recently. Those present included Mmes. Harold Kalsnes, Alan Noreen and Jeffrey, Frank Hible, Winton Knutson, Roger Hible and Dawn, Julius Alby, Ray Molskness, Norval Johnson, Olaf Pederson, Ted Halbasch and Olson. Pot luck lunch was served.

Langen Chides Farm Message for Failure to Provide for Sugar

Congressman Odin Langen Thursday warned the House of Representatives that time continues to run out on the Sugar Act while the department of agriculture and the agriculture committee refuse to consider permanent sugar legislation.

Langen said he has studied the farm message very carefully. "And now, at the risk of sounding like a broken record, I must ask one question. Where was the Administration's recommendation relative to the welfare of this nation's sugar producers?"

Langen has said many times in the past that the department of Agriculture should come forth with a proposal on sugar legislation. "It certainly comes as news to no one that the Sugar Act expires on June 30th of this year," said Langen. "We've reminded the Secretary often enough."

Langen said he cannot understand why a recommendation has not been made, considering the fact that the respective people in the sugar industry have expressed their concern and desire for early action. "But," Langen added, "the agriculture department and the agriculture committee remain conspicuously silent."

Congressman Langen noted that the agriculture committee is now starting hearings on the general farm bill; while time continues to run out on the domestic sugar producer's hope for fair treatment.

"It is inconceivable to me," said Langen, "that the Congress should be expected to talk about either farm problems or reciprocal trade policies without prior agreement on long term sugar legislation."

Festival of Arts Opens Wednesday at Bemidji College

Various Phases of Fine Arts to Be Presented In Period Ending Mar. 4

Bemidji State college has completed its plans for its second annual Festival of Arts which will open Wednesday and extend thru March 4.

Louis V. Marchand, chairman, said this week that the many facets of fine arts available on the campus will be explored and discussed during this three week period.

These will include faculty panel discussions, art exhibits, several art films, concerts, experimental theatre plus the appearance of Sigurd Rascher, noted saxophonist as a guest soloist Feb. 20, and John K. Sherman, Minneapolis Star and Tribune, Books, theatre, music and art critic, as a convocation speaker Feb. 27.

The festival will open Wednesday with a faculty panel discussing "Man's Attitude Toward Nature". Moderator will be Virgil Massman, reference librarian, and panel members will be Miss Ruth Stenerson, instructor of English and Literature; Dr. Ronald Gearman, professor of music; and Keith Malmquist, instructor of art.

This will be the first of three panels dealing with nature and art. February 21 a faculty panel will discuss "Man's Use of Nature In Art" and February 28 a similar group will discuss "The Process of Creativity." All panels will be organized to allow free discussion with the audience.

1st U.S. Astronauts Once Were Boy Scouts

The Boy Scouts of America were proud to learn that of the seven men trained as astronauts in the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Project Mercury, five have been Boy Scouts. This pride increased when it was learned that the first two men to make the United States trips into space had training as Scouts.

Navy Commander Alan B. Shepard, first American to man a flight into space last May 5, was a Scout three years in Troop 98, Derry, New Hampshire, and attained First Class rank. His father was chairman of the troop committee.

Air Force Captain Virgil I. Grissom, who made the successful second trip into space on July 21, was a Star Scout at Mitchell, Indiana. He believes that "boys should take a deeper interest in Scouting, not just for the fun in it but because of the greater interest it creates in our country."

Commander Shepard sent this taped message to the youth of the nation, through the Boy Scouts of America:

"This is Alan Shepard, one of the seven Project Mercury Astronauts of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. It was my distinct honor to be chosen to make the first manned Mercury space flight. Others will follow me, expanding horizons; setting new firsts and making important discoveries, contributing to the storehouse of human knowledge.

"Already we have learned much. Among the by-products of space research are improved communications in weather forecasting, new techniques for treating the sick, the development of new materials and new chemicals which promise benefit to all mankind.

"The future holds many unknowns, but of one thing we can be certain -- ahead is opportunity, challenge, excitement to exceed anything that has gone on before. As tomorrow's citizens, the future of our country - and indeed the future of the world — is in your hands.

"This is a grave responsibility requiring leadership, character, citizenship, and a keen sense of duty to God and country. The better way of life is for those who are willing to Build, for those who are willing to Serve, and for those who are willing to Achieve.

Census Bureau Is Always Counting

Keeps Occupied Between Population Censuses

Contrary to popular belief, the U. S. Census Bureau does not fold its tents and fade away between the big 10-year population and housing counts, according to Director Guy A. Lutz of the Bureau's permanent regional field office at St. Paul. The St. Paul region includes the States of Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Wisconsin.

Lutz points out that nine major censuses will be conducted between now and the next decennial census in 1970. The first will be the 1962 census of governments which is conducted every five years. Then comes the five-year censuses of business, manufactures and Mineral industries. These will be taken in 1964 and 1969, covering business operations in 1963 and 1968 respectively. The census of agriculture will be conducted in 1964 and 1969.

In addition to these major censuses, the Bureau carries out a wide variety of current surveys on a monthly, quarterly, and annual basis. Topics covered in the current surveys include employment and unemployment, population characteristics, health, housing, retail and wholesale trade, manufacturing, and related subjects. The purpose of the current surveys is to supplement and keep up to date the detailed information collected in the major censures.

Farmer Purchases Bolster Economy

'U' Specialist Says They Spend $40 Billion a Year

Farmers are important customers of business and industry. They spend $25 to $20 billion a year for equipment, goods and services to produce crops and livestock. They spend another $15 billion or more a year for family living items.

According to Kenneth Egertson, University of Minnesota extension marketing specialist, U. S. Department of Agriculture reports show that each year farmers spend $2.5 billion for new tractors and other motor vehicles, machinery and equipment. They spend $3.5 billion for fuel, lubricants and maintenance of machinery and motor vehicles; $1.5 billion for fertilizer and lime.

Products bought annually by American farmers contain 320 million pounds of rubber—enough to put tires on nearly 6 million automobiles.

Farmers use 27 billion kilowatt hours of electricity each year—more than Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Detroit and Houston combined.

Farm purchases create millions of jobs. Four out of every 10 jobs in private employment are related to agriculture. Sixteen million people work in processing and marketing farm products and furnishing supplies and services to farmers.

Spending billions for industrial products and services is one more way in which agriculture helps America grow.

Freedoms Foundation Initiates Campaign to Combat Communism

"What Have You Done For Freedom Today?" will be the theme for the 1962 Freedoms Roll-Call, sponsored annually by Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, to be conducted February 15-28, it was announced by Admiral Arthur W. Radford, former Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and National Chairman of the annual Roll-Call educational campaign.

In announcing the theme, which is designed to tug at the conscience of every citizen awakening him to the necessity to think, speak and act in behalf of freedom every day in the week, Admiral Radford said, "never was a theme more appropriate, for today the United States is engaged in a cold, all-out, total war with Communism for the hearts and minds of men which will be won only if our citizens are more dedicated, more active and more articulate in behalf of our way of life than the Communists are of theirs".

Feature of the Roll-Call campaign will be a "Freedoms Handbook" outlining what individuals, organizations and communities can do to help preserve and perpetuate the American Way. The "Handbook" will be given to all who send in a membership contribution of one dollar or more to Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. Another innovation of this year's Roll-Call will be a "Freedom Jingle" sung by Frankie Laine, popular singing star which will be made available to radio stations throughout the country.

Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge is a non-profit, non-sectarian, non-political organization founded in 1949 to rededicate all Americans to the principles of our Constitutional form of government. In the 12 years since its founding, it has received more than 1,000,000 entries on Americanism from schools, citizens from all walks of life, newspapers, magazines, radio and TV stations. In that time, it has made more than 12,000 awards in the form of cash, medals, citations and pilgrimages. Dwight D. Eisenhower is honorary chairman and Herbert Hoover is honorary president.

To house the award-winning collection of Americana and to serve as a center for study, research and training in the American System of Free Enterprise, Freedoms Foundation has started construction of a new American Freedom Center at Valley Forge at a cost of $1,500,000. Funds to complete the structure are being solicited from the public through purchase of "Freedom Bricks".

Senior Class Play Offered Feb. 15 at Northwest School

Jury to Be Picked from Audience to Hear Case In 'Night of January 16'

Something different in play production will be the feature when the senior class of the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, presents its class play "Night of January 16," February 15, at 8 o'clock in the Kiehle Auditorium at the school.

There have been plays before with vague endings, but this is the first one in which the audience takes an integral part in its development and conclusion. An attractive and talented young senior actress portrays the leading part, on trial, and the jury selected from the audience is given the problem of deciding her guilt or innocence.

As they get their tickets at the box office, patrons may leave their names as candidates for jury duty. These names are given to the clerk of court, who places them in a drum, and the twelve that are drawn by lot are selected to serve. They step up on the platform and take their places in a regular jury box just as they would in a legitimate court trial, are sworn in, and listen to the testimony.

Between the acts, the jurors are led off the stage to a samll deliberation room. Each act represents one day of the trial. Just before the ending of the third act, the jury retires for the last time to render a verdict.

The seniors who comprise the play cast include, from this area, Donald Strickler, Euclid; Norma Filipi, Angus; Georgia Ovsak Euclid; and Gloria Nelson, Grygla. Director of the play is Conrad H. Kvamme.

Many Scouters to Go to Camp in '62

Over 700 Boys and Leaders Expected at Wabaunaquat

On the basis of reservations from the 52 scout troops and Explorer units in the council, a record camping season is predicted for 1962. Over 700 boys and adult leaders will be in attendance at Camp Wabaunaquat, operated by the Lake Agassiz Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The camping program will open on Sunday, June 24, after a week of camp staff training. The 440 acre Camp Wabaunaquat is located 10 east of Ogema, Minnesota on White Earth Lake. The opening week of camp, which will be the 24th of June will be for senior scouts and explorers, who are 14 years of age and older. This will be a varied advanced program for the older boy. This will include rifle marksmanship and gun safety, advanced archery and aquatic program such as canoeing and canoe treks, just to mention a few.

This will be followed by five camping periods of one week each conducted for Boy Scouts 11 years of age and older. The range of acitivity opportunities at Camp Wabaunaquat are large enough to please everyone.

Religious services are planned for scouts and leaders during each camping period to enable campers to fulfill their religious obligations. A camp chaplain will be a resident of camp all summer.

Troops registering to date for Camp Wabaunaquat are: Troop 2, 3 and 20 of Grand Forks, No. 60 of Thief River Falls, No. 50 of Warren, No. 28 of Devils Lake, No. 40 of Crookston, No. 79 of Karlstad, No. 180 of Bisbee and 168 of Esmond, North Dkota.

St. Paul Man State Savings Bond Head

Rollis Bishop Succeeds A. Ueland of Minneapolis

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon today appointed Rollis O. Bishop volunteer state chairman of the Minnesota savings bonds committee. Mr. Bishop is chairman of the board of the American National Bank of St. Paul. He succeeds Arnulf Ueland, Minneapolis banker, who asked to be relieved of his duties.

In announcing the appointment, the Secretary said: 'We feel that the Savings Bonds program is one of the most important activities in which we are engaged, as it is not only an essential feature of our debt management program but also serves to encourage thrift."

The new state chairman has been a banker and bank supervisor most of his working life.

LOL District 17 Annual Meeting Set February 28

General Manager Will Speak at Event To Be Held In Thief River Falls

Annual meeting of District 17, Land O'Lakes Creameris, Inc., will be held Wednesday, February 28, at 10:30 a. m. in the city auditorium in Thief River Falls, according to Art Stenberg, district chairman. Corporate stockholders are requested to appoint one delegate to represent their association in conducting the affairs of the district.

This will include the election of a district board and the selection of a candidate from District 17 to be placed on nomination in the election of a member of the Land O'Lakes board at Minneapolis. An alternate candidate must also be selected and other business brought before the meeting will also be transacted.

Free lunch will be served at noon during which time there will be entertainment by the Lincoln high school band. Guest speakers on the afternoon program will be Frank Stone, general manager of Land O'Lakes, and Trig Sundheim, treasurer. There will also be several musical numbers including community singing directed by Bryant Ulseth of the high school faculty.

John Lager will award the efficiency prizes and there will be cash prizes to creameries registering the most people from their creamery. County agricultural agents, vocational agriculture instructors, F. F. A. and 4-H groups are especially welcome at the meeting.

Chamber Affairs Reviewed Tuesday

Board Discusses Plans for Varied Activities

General review of activities in progress was provided at a meeting of the board of directors of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday noon in the Rex Cafe. President Joe Holter presided at the business session.

Among items discussed were planning for a leadership institute under the chairmanship of Dr. O. D. Belch, fire prevention session under the direction of the community welfare committee headed by Sig Sinding, promotion of the District 17 Land O'Lakes meeting, billboard and Canadian traffic promotion, delegation from the chamber to the Red River Valley Winter Shows, attendance at a Congressional Action Aircade to be held March 16 and the 1962 spring opening promotion.

It was also noted that the local Chamber of Commerce was represented at the annual meetings of Fargo, East Grand Forks and Crookston chambers of commerce. Further information on individual activities will be carried in later editions of the Times.

Postpone EAA Meet To Friday

Regularly scheduled meeting of the Experimental Aircraft Ass'n., Minn-Kota chapter 121, to be held tonight at the airport has been postponed until Friday night. It will be held, as usual, at the airport at 8 p.m. and the same program will be in effect. The postponement was caused by today's heavy snow and bad roads.

Teachers Invited To Art Workshop At Local School

Work To Be Supervised by Trained Instructor In Learning by Doing

Teachers from Thief River Falls, St. Hilaire and Goodridge have been invited to attend an art workshop which will be held February 20-21-22 at Washington elementary school gymnasium in Thief River Falls, according to an announcement made by M. R. Hankerson, superintendent of the local school system.

Miss Sigrid Rasmussen, who has taught extensively and holds a master's degree from Columbia University will conduct the workshop which is a free educational service provided by a school art supply manufacturer.

Teachers will spend 15 hours of their own time learning more about modern creative art education and some of its materials and tools. They will learn by doing—rolling up their sleeves and trying out the art techniques presented by Miss Rasmussen. These will include uses of water colors, poster paints, finger paints, colored chalks, modeling clay and crayons.

Simple creative craft techniques will also be presented, giving teachers an opportunity to work with paper, paste and other materials to gain three-dimensional effects. All of the art workshop activities will be experiences which the teachers can relate to their own classroom teaching.

Other school officials cooperating in workshop arrangements are George Stockman, director of elementary education; John Elsbrenner, Washington school principal; Miss Olga Bloomsness, Knox school principal; and Kenneth Swenson, Northrop school principal.

Supt. Hankerson Speaks Feb. 19 to Washington PTA

M. R. Hankerson, superintendent of schools, will be speaker at the meeting of the Washington PTA Monday, February 19 at 8 p. m. The program will also include a piano solo by Carol Bren and a vocal selection by Mrs. Bernadine Hanson, grade school music supervisor.

Lunch will be served by the second grade mothers, with Mrs. Ellsworth Jorgenson and Mrs. Clayton Molstad in charge.

Following the dinner, movies were shown and games were played by the young people.

Heavy Snowfall Again Noted on Weather Scene

A heavy snowfall slammed into already snow-clogged areas in the Red River Valley early today, causing extreme difficulty in travel. North Central Airlines was forced to overfly here and at Grand Forks today because of poor visibility and some roads were extremely heavy.

The total snow received this month, not including today's fall, was over 7.5 inches, with total snow cover about 22 inches. Weather conditions prevailing today are expected to last, generally, through Friday, although there may be some slight let-up in the snow early Friday. Current conditions cover a wide area in Minnesota and North and South Dakota.

Temperatures since Monday have ranged in the low thirties and mid-teens. The day-to-day record is as follows: Monday, high 32, low 20; Tuesday, 34 and 28, with 4.2 inches of snow; Wednesday, 29 and 16, and the low this morning was also 16.

The forecast, as received at North Central Airlines office at the Airport, calls for cloudy skies and snow, little temperature change today. Cloudy, occasional snow, somewhat colder tonight, variable cloudiness and little temperature change Friday.

Occasional snow is again expected in our region Friday afternoon. Highs today will range from 25 to 35, lows from 15 to 25.

3-Vehicle Crash Noted Wed. at 3rd and Main

A three vehicle mishap early Wednesday at Third and Main caused an estimated $265 damages to the vehicles involved but no personal injuries.

A school bus driven by Ralph E. Dowers, city, was stopped, facing south, for the traffic light at Third and Main when a car driven south by Clark K. Dyrud, rt. 2, attempted to go around the bus to the right.

In doing so Dyrud scraped the side of the school bus, then slid into a parked car owned by Telof B. Johnson, city.

Police gave estimated auto damages as $100 to Dyrud, $150 to Johnson and $15 to the school bus. No tags were issued.

Judges Issue Order on Lost River Project

Next Step Is for 3 Affected Counties to Handle Financing

Judges J. H. Sylvestre of Crookston and Arnold Forbes of Bemidji last Thursday signed an order calling for the Red Lake drainage and conservancy district board to proceed with the Lost River channel improvement project as soon as arrangements for supplying the sponsors' share of the cost, estimated at $363,000 has been made by the three counties affected, Clearwater, Red Lake and Polk.

Stan Mortenson, secretary of the conservancy district board, stated that the overall cost of the project has been estimated at $1,421,000, including necessary bridges, with the federal government paying the major portion.

When the financing of the local share has been arranged by means of bond issues in the three counties, Mortenson said, the next step will be for the corps of army engineers to call for bids on the project.

The last in a long series of hearings and informational meetings was held in the court room in Thief River Falls January 8 with Judges Sylvestre and Forbes officiating. The late Judge Paul Lundgren of Thief River Falls had been a member of the panel in earlier hearings.

The project involves the straightening and deepening of the Lost River channel from a point two miles west of Oklee upstream eastward to a point in Windsor township in Clearwater county. In addition a clearing and snagging operation downstream from the west extreme of the project is included.

Newfolden Pupils Offer Three Plays

The Dramatics Club of Newfolden High School, under the direction of Mrs. May Larson, will present three one-act plays on Friday, Feb. 23.

The first play, "The Flattering Word", is about a minister and his wife who are visited by the wife's old school chum, an actress who is playing in town that night. Warren Sagstuen, Judy Hagen, Karen Mortenson, Jane Anderson and Dorothy Garthus fill the rolls.

In "Antic Spring", three boys and three girls go on a picnic, but complications come about, such as ants and lover's quarrels. This play is unusual in that no props are used. John Tandberg, Charlotte Schweitzer, Devere Chapman, Carol Rokke, Lyle Westman, and Emily Carlson take part.

"Enter the Hero" portrays a lovelorn girl sending love letters and roses to herself, pretending they are from a man who recently visited her family. Jerry Strandquist, Barbara Augustine, Susan Nelson, Karen Sannes are the performers.

Education Board Sets Administrators' Pay

Board Orders Survey of Old Washington by Engineer Monday

Establishment of a salary schedule for school directors and principals and the re-hiring of present personnel took place at the regular meeting of the Thief River Falls board of education Monday evening. M. R. Handerson, superintendent, was also instructed to make arrangements with a "disinterested" engineer to make an inspection of the old Washington school building and report to the board on condition of the building.

It was the decision of the board that directors and high school principals in the district should receive salary increases of $500 annually until an annual salary of $9,000 was reached and then $300 annually until a maximum salary of $10,500 is attained.

Re-hired by the board at the salaries listed were George Stockman, director of elementary education, $9,000; Arnt Aune, director of the area vocational-technical school, $9,000; Francis Hamerlinck, junior high school principal, $8,500; and Richard Edlund, senior high school principal, $9,300.

Approved by the board was a plan whereby school personnel, if they so desire, may purchase annuity in lieu of part of their salary. This amount would be withheld by the school from the person's salary and would not be listed as income for the year. The program is made available on a voluntary basis.

Upon recommendation by Howard C. Rosenwinkle, state supervisor of business and distributive education, the board voted to move the distributive education portion of the high school into the vocational school system. This would take place over an expected two-year period and bring an end to high school students taking the program. It would permit the school to accept students from other towns and also to place students at work in other communities.

Approval was also given by the board to prepare specifications and call for bids on two school buses. The district plans to use the new buses to replace two vehicles currently in use, but to retain one of the two used buses as auxiliary equipment.

ACCIDENTS will happen—even to police squad cars. For the second time within approximately two weeks, the city police car has been involved in a traffic mishap. The above photo, taken at the intersection of Duluth av. N. and Seventh st., was snapped early Tuesday afternoon. The squad car driven by Renie Werner was traveling south on Duluth when struck by a car driven east on Seventh by Henry T. Hastad, city. Damage was estimated at $75 to the Hastad car and $115 to the squad car. The previous mishap involving the squad car was one of five not carried in the Times due to lack of space. Four of these mishaps occurred an January 31 and two were of the three-car variety.

Rodekuhr Named 1st Vp of State Auditor's Group

C. W. Rodekuhr

C. W. Rodekuhr, Pennington county auditor, was elected first vice president of the Minnesota County Auditor's association at the annual meeting held last week at the Radisson hotel in Minneapolis. He served as second vice president of the state organization last year.

Kenneth Campbell of Anoka was elevated to the presidency of the organization and Martin Vanseth, Crookston, Polk county auditor, was elected third vice president of the group. Also attending a joint session of county officers in Minneapolis last week were Ellsworth Jorgenson, treasurer, and Henry Storhaug, clerk of court.

Dedication Set At Silver Creek Lutheran Church

Dr. A. E. Hanson Will Be Guest Speaker at New Church Dedication

Dr. A. E. Hanson, president of the Northern Minnesota District of The American Lutheran church, will be guest speaker and officiate at dedication ceremonies for the new Silver Creek Lutheran church three miles east and nine miles north of Thief River Falls. Services will begin at 2 p. m. Sunday.

Destroyed by fire early Palm Sunday morning in 1961, the church and parish hall have been re-built at a cost of approximately $30,000. Solheim and Ness of Thief River Falls were the general contractors with the interior painting and varnishing done by volunteer labor on the part of members of the congregation.

Much of the furnishings of the former church have been replaced, the only exceptions being the carpeting and kitchen cupboards. Among gifts and memorials given to the congregation is a piano which was given by Joe Vallet.

Rev. Hanson will also speak at the Silverton Lutheran church at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, at the Silver Creek morning service at 9:30 a. m. and at Nazareth Lutheran church in Holt at 11:15 a. m. On Monday he will address the Lutheran pastors of the Thief River Conference at the monthly meeting to be held at the Silver Creek church at 10:30 a. m. Rev. Milton R. Wilson of Holt is pastor of the congregation.

Two Adult Evening Classes Are Filled, Arnt Aune States

New Ceramics Course to Start Tuesday Night; TV Class Needs Five More

Two classes in the adult evening classes at the Thief River Falls area vocation-technical school have been filled and a new course will be offered beginning Tuesday, according to Arnt Aune, director. Five other classes have been started but still have room for additional participants.

Square dancing and knitting are courses offered which have their full complement of students. A new course in ceramics will begin Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the high school art room.

The ceramics course is designed to help the beginning student gain a broad understanding of working with clay. Work will be done in coil and slab methods, use of the potter's wheel, casting, decoration, glazing and making of ceramic jewelry. Fee will be $8 plus the cost of materials.

Five more students are needed to start a class on "Television—How it Works." This course will also start Tuesday if enough interested persons call in their registration before Monday noon. If at least five more persons are not registered the course will be cancelled.

Classes currently operating but in which there is room for additional participation include recreation for men, beginning typing, Freehand Drawing, Bookkeeping, and planning farm business for higher profits.

GOP CAUCUS SET TONIGHT

Pennington county's Republican caucus will be held tonight at 8 p.m. in the courthouse meeting room in Thief River Falls. All interested individuals are encouraged to be present.

County Officials Speak

Civil Defense Plans Aired at Open Forum

Presentation of Civil Defense as it applies to Pennington county and its residents was made at an open forum held Tuesday evening in the American Legion club rooms under the sponsorship of the local Legion Auxiliary in cooperation with county Civil Defense personnel. Poor attendance marred the program and was attributed in part to icy road conditions. Civil Defense officials comprised the major portion of the more than 30 persons who attended.

Mrs. Walter Halvorson, president of the sponsoring auxiliary, opened the program with a welcome to those attending and thanks on behalf of the Legion and auxiliary to the Civil Defense staff for arranging the program presentation. Kendall Gustafson, county Civil Defense director, outlined the objectives of Civil Defense (for detail see other story in today's Times) and presided at the program.

Ellsworth Jorgenson, deputy director, outlined local planning and organization, stating that an atomic attack would be aimed at destroying as much transportation, communication and government as possible but that total destruction throughout the nation is improbable. If the country is ready to survive a nuclear attack and return to production an enemy will be less likely to attack.

Since this would serve primarily as an evacuation area, Jorgenson said of Thief River Falls and Pennington county, we would be required to be prepared for a large population influx. Civil Defense organization must provide for the needs of these people as well as the present residents.

Various department chiefs have been secured as volunteer workers to warn the population of the county, provide for permanent and temporary residents, control movement of medicine, mobilize the manpower, check radiological levels and pass out this information, control supplies, control economics, provide accurate information, provide police service and traffic control, continue government, handle mortuary duties, serve as an intelligence service, handle fire and rescue duties and arrange for transportation.

Oscar Buckmaster, commander of Mobile Support Area 3, reviewed the organization of Civil Defense and its changes since its origin in 1950. He emphasized that in the event of a national Civil Defense emergency all local laws would be temporarily suspended and the nation would operate under Civil Defense law. This would be for the purpose of nation-wide coordination of activities.

Gustafson also reviewed the fallout shelter program, noting that

Selective Service Reminds Young Men to Register at Age 18

Lt. Colonel Murley A. Reep, state director of selective service, today called attention to the fact that all young men (including those who are or who become members of a reserve component, including the National Guard, and aliens) must register with their nearest local Selective Service board when they attain eighteen years of age or within five days thereafter, or in the case of aliens within six months after entrance into the United States, and that failure to register is a violation of the law and makes the delinquent liable to penalty.

"All a young man has to do," Colonel Reep said, "is to present himself to the local board or registration place designated in that particular area most convenient to the place he happens to be when he becomes eighteen. The registration process is simple and requires only a short time."

"The law is specific," he said, "and provides severe penalty for failure to comply," adding that the law is also specific in its requirements concerning the obligation of a registrant to keep his local board informed as to any change in his address — where he may be reached by mail, that is — or any change in his occupational, marital family or military status.

Colonel Reep also stated the selective service regulations provide that every registrant must have in his personal possession his registration certificate prepared by his local board which has not been altered or changed in any manner after its preparation by the local board, and a registrant who has in his possession an altered registration certificate may be declared a delinquent and ordered for induction ahead of other registrants by reason of the delinquency.

Colonel Reep emphasized the fact that requirements to register and legal obligations of registrants are in no way altered because selective service calls may be low for a particular month or months.

Registration for those in Pennington county may be made at one of the following places: Local Board No. 82, city Auditorium, Thief River Falls; Miss Norella Solem, office of Rullen & Wurst, Thief River Falls; Mrs. Irene Ellingson, postoffice at Goodridge.

Jaycees To Award Membership Kits

To Accept New Members At Tonight's Meeting

Awarding of membership kits to new members will be the main feature of the regular meeting of the Thief River Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce to be held Thursday at 6:30 p. m. in the Elks club rooms. All new members who have not received their kits are especially encouraged to be in attendance.

Committee reports will be given by John Elsbrener on the Jaycee bus trip to the regional meeting at Bemidji, Bruce Hall on teen-age dance, Glenn Peterson on a professional wrestling match, Larry Evanstad on the Valentine party and Roger Tunberg on the possibility of sponsoring a Minnesota Viking basketball game in Thief River Falls.

Tickets will be distributed for sale prior to the annual boss-employee banquet to be held February 27 at the Elks club rooms. William Ness is serving as ticket sale chairman with Warren McIntosh and Keith Spindler as assistants.

Adult Class Opens Monday, Feb. 19 in Newfolden School

Mrs. NeAlda Erickson, home economics instructor in the Newfolden school, will conduct a class for adults on the theme: "Make The Most of Your Kitchen Equipment" and "Decorating Ideas". There will be no charge for the course and all adults in the Newfolden school area are eligible to sign up. Classes will be held on Monday afternoons from 3:30 to 5:30 in the Home Economics Room beginning Monday, Feb. 19.

There will be six lessons in all as follows: I—"Use Your Appliance Attachments"; II—"Know Your Kitchen Appliances"; III—"Use Your Timer On Your Range"; IV—"Know Your Refrigerator & Freezer"; V—"Floral Arrangements"; and VI—"Make Your Own Serving Tray From Ceramic Tile".

Guest speakers during the course will be Miss Sandra Saranen, Marshall county home agent and Mr. Arthur Bluedorn from Laura's Flower Shop in Warren.

People wishing to sign up for the course may call the school office or see Mrs. Erickson, or come to the first meeting on Feb. 19.

The history of the world is the record of a man in search of his daily bread and butter. — H. W. VanLoon.

Wisconsin Feeder Pig Co-op Plans District Meeting

Growth of Marketing Group To Be Told at Annual Session Here

Annual district meeting of the Wisconsin Feeder Pig Marketing Cooperative will be held Wednesday, February 21, at 8 p. m. in the vocational agriculuture room at the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school. Election of district representatives will take place at the meeting.

All persons who marketed pigs through the cooperative in Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Marshall counties are urged to be present at the meeting and other interested in the possibilities of feeder pig production are invited to attend. Other district meetings in this area will be held at Greenbush, Baudette and Bagley.

Norval Dvorak, manager of the cooperative which has shown substantial growth in all phases during the past year, will attend the meeting. Also representing the cooperative which had headquarters in Francis Creek, Wis., will be Joe Raine, production manager for the Minnesota portion of the cooperative.

In 1960 the cooperative purchased 200,000 pigs from 4,100 producers, had a dollar volume of $2,700,000, paid an average of $10.65 for a 40-pound pig and showed a net earning of $35,000. Last year 286,000 pigs were purchased from 5,500 producers, a dollar volume of $4,300,000 was noted, 40-pound pigs averaged $11.71 and net earnings were $63,000 or a dividend of 22 cents per pig marketed.

Recently the cooperative has branched into the purchase and sale of quality breeding stock for persons wishing to obtain good breeding hogs. The cooperative has also arranged for a pre-fabricated farrowing house of 32x32 size with 12 pens, plumbing, wiring, ventilation, drinking fountains and feed troughs and heating which can be constructed on a farm in three days from date of order. Further information on this facility will also be given at the district meeting.

County Ranks 2nd In Region Sale of Christmas Seals

Pennington county ranks second in the 15-county northwest region on the percentage of 1960 sales reached in the 1961 Christmas Seal campaign, according to a release from the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health association.

Sale of Christmas Seals in this county in 1961 totaled $2,717.83, or 101 per cent of the 2,621 total noted in 1960. Mahnomen county leads in quota attainment percentage with 103 per cent on sales of $725 in 1961 as compared with $713 in 1960. The state sale to date is ahead of 1960 figures with $710,341 received from the 1961 sale as compared with $710,041 received from the 1960 campaign.

Percentage of 1960 sale among other counties in the northwest region include Becker, 95; Beltrami, 89; Cass, 96; Clearwater, 97; Hubbard, 95; Itasca, 93; Kittson, 96; Koochiching, 87; Lake of the Woods, 93; Marshall, 95; Polk, 92; Red Lake, 94; and Roseau, 99. From the 1961 sale the region has collected $40,118 or 94 per cent of the $42,775 collected from the 1960 drive.

100 Persons At NW Conservation Clubs Meeting

Approximately 100 persons attended the meeting of the Northwest Minnesota Association of Conservation clubs held Wednesday evening at Alvarado. Gay Warnecke of Thief River Falls presided at the meeting with James Lee of this city serving as secretary.

Discussion centered around the controversial Interbeach Lake which is again being promoted by several area groups. Speakers were Vernon Gunvalson, Bemidji, regional game manager, and Robert Farmes, Thief River Falls, area game manager for the state department of conservation.

Next meeting of the association will be May 9 at Red Lake Falls when all affiliated clubs are asked to have resolutions prepared for study. Resolutions adopted by the association will be sent to the Minnesota Federation of Conservation clubs for action at the annual meeting.

Clubs represented at the Wednesday meeting were Oslo, East Grand Forks, Crookston, Warren and Red Lake Falls in addition to Thief River Falls and Alvarado.

Lunch was served by the host Alvarado club at the conclusion of the meeting.

What Is C.D.?

County Director Outlines Situation

Editor's Note: The following is a copy of the text used as an introduction to the Civil Defense forum Tuesday evening at the American Legion club rooms, by Kendall Gustafson, Pennington county Civil Defense director. It was too lengthy to be included in the meeting summary but contains a concise explanation of Civil Defense deemed worthy of publication

"Civil Defense is a kind of extra-curricular activity of government. Yet it is a part of goverment by statue enacted by our legislature. It is a sort of step-child not too highly honored in many circles. It is the subject of much criticism, much of which is just, but much of which is misunderstood. It has one aim which justifies its existence: national survival, the saving of life.

"It may or may not accomplish this objective depending upon the understanding and support it receives at local, state and federal levels. In Minnesota we have a favorable climate for Civil Defense in that we have a nationally recognized state director in Colonel Hubert Schon, a completely dedicated man of great stature.

"Civil Defense is designed to bridge the gap between disaster and recovery. The military forces of our country cannot accomplish their missions without a working civil population to supply them with the tools of victory in the event of conflict.

"Civil Defense attempts to do this. It does not usurp the powers of elected and appointed officials. Wherever possible it utilizes existing officials in its organization; it attempts to expand their usefulness to cope with emergency — as in the case of the police and fire departments where we attempt to build auxiliaries to take care of much greater than ordinary needs. Necessarily it calls upon John Q. Citizen to fill these needs. In most instances he has responded with the patriotic enthusiasm characteristic of this country since we decided to be independent.

"It isn't necessary for me to describe the horrors of atomic war. It is beyond the comprehension of those who can best anticipate it in terms of scientific knowledge.

"Our contention is that we can survive with proper preparation — and the desire to survive is inherent in most of us. Surely we must exhaust all means of preventing such a holocaust, but if such means fail, we have to make provisions for the worst eventualities.

"This is the field of civil defense, a service whose existence we would prefer to be totally unnecessary. Unfortunately, the need for it is very valid and its efficient operation may well spell the difference between defeat and disaster or survival to build again and achieve victory."

Civil Defense Staff Explains County Planning

public shelters are only supplemental to private shelters and are designed to accommodate those who cannot provide shelters for themselves. The local "windshield survey" indicated 45 possible public buildings which could be used for this purpose in Thief River Falls but final listings will not be known until inspection is completed by the engineering firm of Foss and Company of Moorhead.

Brief resumes of talks given by division chiefs on their portions of the program include the following:

Norman Peterson, medical — Area must be ready to care for 10 times the persons which normal facilities provide. We have a 200-bed emergency field hospital with full equipment stored here for such use. Churches and schools would also be used. With eight practicing doctors currently located here, persons with background training in various fields would be called upon to assume duties beyond their normal limits. The area must be as self-sufficient as possible.

Morris Owen, warning system—Through arrangements with Northwestern Bell Telephone company, a call list has been arranged with the chief operator. The 12-page sequence list of phone numbers has been called three times with respective length of time required to reach all persons with telephones reduced from 1 hour, 47 minutes to 1 hour, 20 minutes and 1 hour 3 minutes. A new alarm system which would be activated by a generator increasing electrical output over transmission lines has now been perfected.

Lawrence Brown, radiological—Radioactive substances have been present since the beginning of time. Main radioactivity concern is with alpha and beta particles and gamma rays. Average half life of radiation from a nuclear blast (the time required for radioactivity to reach half its initial potency) is about 24 hours. Comparative safety would be offered outside shelters in most areas within several days after a nuclear blast.

Richard Edlund, school planning—Three plans are provided—a basic plan and two alternates. The basic plan is for all students to be sent or transported home in normal fashion to avoid traffic congestion at the school by parents calling for children. First alternate is the "storm plan" with each rural student assigned to a city student to provide housing in the city. Second alternate plan, to be used only if radioactivity is termed "imminent" is to keep the students in the school and provide as best possible for them there.

Paul Steimaschuk, rural areas—Farmers must make provisions for protection of themselves and their families, crops and livestock. Livestock should be afforded cover with an average barn having a filled hayloft generally considered adequate. Main duty would be to get back into production as soon as possible. Major danger from radioactive material is Strontium 90 which replaces calcium in plant and animal structure.

Ted Kusmak, education—Approximately 300 persons have taken courses offered in personal preparedness for survival in the area. Purpose of an informed public is to create a group which will not panic and will do the right thing at the right time.

Lions Club Views Lincoln Pictures

Club Also Donates $50 to American Field Service

In connection with the observance Monday of Lincoln's birthday, members of the Lions club at their luncheon meeting Wednesday viewed a projection of many historic photographs dealing with the martyr president's life and with the Civil War.

The film-pictures were supplied by L. N. Bennes, local representative of the Lincoln National Life Insurance company, which has collected a large quantity of material dealing with Lincoln. The projector was operated by Chief Norman Capistran, Navy recruiter.

In its business session, the club voted to repeat its $50 contribution as made in recent past years to the local chapter of the American Field Service, sponsor for the exchange of high school students between this country and nations overseas.

Gerald Dyrseth Finishes Ground Guidance Course

Pfc. Gerald Dyrseth

Pfc. Gerald A. Dyrseth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dyrseth of Grygla, graduated from the Corporal Ground Guidance—Guided Missile Repair Course at Redstone Arsenal in Alabama recently. The 23-week course trained men to repair the electronic ground guidance system.

Pfc. Dyrseth previously completed an 11-week electronic course at Ft. Monmouth, N. J. He is a graduate of Goodridge high school and attended the University of Minnesota one year before entering service. He is presently instructing the incoming corporal ground guidance classes.

Services Held For Matti Leskinen in Middle River

Matti Leskinen of Middle River died Wednesday afternoon, February 7 at Fergus Falls, after being in failing health for several months. At the time of his death he was 83 years old.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Monday, February 12 at the First Lutheran church at Middle River with Rev. James Hanson officiating. Interment was in the Finnish Lutheran cemetery.

Matti Leskinen was born January 24, 1879, in Finland, where he attended school and grew to manhood. In 1899 he came to the United States settling in Baltic, Michigan. On January 26, 1907 he was united in marriage to Miss Paulina Vainakorpi at Baltic, where they made their home until 1911 when they moved to Marshall county; settling on a farm in Spruce Valley township. After Mrs. Leskinen passed away in 1956 he continued to make his home at Spruce Valley.

He is survived by three daughters: Mrs. Orlin (Thelma) Ness of Holt; Mrs. Selma (Tyyne) Sorter of Middle River; and Mrs. Myron (Helen) Johnson of Phoenix, Arizona; three sons: Norman and Raymond, both of Middle River; and Edwin of Waukegan, Illinois. He is also survived by one brother in Finland and ten grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his wife, one daughter, two sisters and one brother.

Funeral arrangements were handled by the Collins Funeral Home of Middle River.

Arnold Cormier, Newfolden, Dies Wednesday, Feb. 7

Arnold Chester Cormier of Newfolden died Wednesday, February 7 at University Hospital in Minneapolis at the age of 53 years. Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Saturday, February 10 in St. Joseph's Catholic church at Middle River with Rev. Burke celebrating the requiem mass. Interment was in St. Bernard's Catholic cemetery at Thief River Falls.

Mr. Cormier was born December 27, 1908 at Argyle, where he attended school and grew to manhood. In 1940 he moved to Middle River, settling in New Maine township. From 1943 to 1945 he was employed at Sterling, Illinois. In 1945 he returned to New Maine, where he was united in marriage to Miss Clarinda Rud in 1946. Mr. and Mrs. Cornier moved in 1952 to Newfolden, where they had since made their home.

Mr. Cormier is survived by his wife; two sons, Adrian and LeRay, both of Newfolden; four daughters, Mrs. Orman (Caroline) Thompson of Halma, Joann, Elsie, and Cynthia Cormier, all of Newfolden. He is also survived by his father, Frank Cormier of Middle River, two brothers, one sister and one granddaughter. He was preceded in death by his mother.

The Collins Funeral Home of Middle River was in charge of all arrangements.

Rites for Five Leroy Peterson Children, Feb. 13

Funeral services for the five Leroy Peterson children, who perished Saturday in a fire which destroyed their Hatton, North Dakota farm home, were held Tuesday, February 13, at 2 p. m. in the Goose River Lutheran church west of Hatton.

The children, Dianne, 9; Michael, 8; Barbara, 7; Randy, 4; and Jeri, 3; are survived by their parents; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. August Peterson, Hatton; the maternal grandmother, Mrs. Cora Stavens, Hatton; and a brother, Timothy, 6, who was away from the farm home at the time the fire broke out.

Hilda Peterson of Viking Succumbs in Fergus Falls

Hilda Peterson of Viking died Friday, February 9, in Fergus Falls, Minnesota, where she had been a patient for a few months preceding her death. She was 78 years of age at the time of her death.

Funeral services were held February 12 at the Viking Covenant church with Rev. Walter Blackwood officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Peterson was born June 27, 1883 at Viking where she attended school and grew to womanhood. On June 18, 1914 she was united in marriage to Charley Peterson in Viking where they had resided since. She attended the Viking Covenant church and was a member of the ladies aid.

Survivors include her husband, six sons: Leonold of Minneapolis; Ray and Roy of Mankato, Minn.; Gerald, Willard, and Herbert of Viking; one sister, Othelia Ostrom of Santa Ana, Calif.; and three brothers: Victor Sustad of Santa Ana., Henry Sustad of Thief River Falls and Otto Sustad of Fergus Falls. Six grandchildren also survive.

Ralph Taralseth, Warren Pioneer, Died on Saturday

Ralph B. Taralseth, 78, life-long resident of Warren, pioneer business and civic leader, died Saturday at Warren Hospital where he had been a patient but a few days after being transferred from Emmaus Lutheran Home. He had been residing at the Home for several months during his illness.

During his many years of activity in business and civic life in the city, he served as a mayor of Warren, president of the Warren Chamber of Commerce, president of the Marshall County Fair Association and chief of the Warren fire department.

Surviving are his wife, Lottie, and his daughter Mrs. M. Lee (Janet) Reiman of St. Petersburg, Fla.; a foster sister, Mrs. Inga Sommers of Warren; a niece, Mrs. E. M. (Merece) Postlethwait of Tampa, Fla.; and one grandson, John Dohn.

Programs for Women Set for Winter Shows

Women interested in public affairs have a special treat in a seminar to be concerned with the subjects "A Homemaker's Interest in World Trade" and "United States and Soviet Beliefs—How Do We Differ?" This Public Affairs Seminar will be held during the week of the Red River Valley Winter Shows, Crookston, and is scheduled for February 20 at the Northwest School. It will run from 9:30 a. m. to 2:00 p. m.

Miss Carole J Brown, assistant agricultural extension specialist in public affairs, and Miss Barbara Stuhler, assistant director of the World Affairs Center, both of the main campus of the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, will be the speakers and discussion leaders.

A women's workshop has been planned by the women of the Farm Bureau and will be held Monday, February 19, beginning at 10:00 a. m. at the Northwest School, Kiehle building auditorium, with sessions continuing through most of the day.

On Tuesday, February 20, all Garden Club members are invited to attend a program especially planned for them, to begin at 10 a. m. at the Northwest School, Kiehle auditorium. Dr. Leon C. Snyder, head of the department of horticulture at the University of Minnesota, St. Paul, will speak on "The Development of the New Arboretum."

The Sheep Producers have planned a special program for women on Tuesday at the Northwest School in Bede Hall (home economics building). This program will begin at 1:30 p. m. with a demonstration on "Lamb—Its Selection and Preparation," by Mrs. Marion Rynn of the American Lamb Council, Denver, Colorado. Mrs. Evelyn Peterson, director of the "Make It With Wool" contest, will have a number of displays at the meeting as well as illustrate how wool can be used to best advantage in the home, the care of woolen products and methods and techniques to employ in making your own woolen products.

On Friday, February 23, women are invited to attend a cooking school at the Central High School Auditorium, Crookston, which is sponsored by the Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee. The program will begin at 1.30 p. m. with interesting demonstrations on cooking with dairy products. Also, there will be attendance prizes.

A special brunch with Princess Kay of the Minnesota Dairy Industry, who will be a guest at the Winter Shows on February 22 and 23, is planned for the morning of February 23.

HELPING Mrs. Adam Lendobeja make a belt for her dress at the second meeting of the "Make Yourself a Dress" workshop is Miss Laura Duerst, Pennington county home agent. The ladies had a choice of two methods of making a belt. On the wash cotton dress most of them chose to use the self fabric interfacing belt, as Mrs. Lendobeja did. This method omits the interfacing so the belt is cut three times the width and stitching on the back side makes for stiffness.

Those ladies who finished their dresses at this meeting were Mr. Adam Lendobeja, Mrs. Ted Betswenger, Mrs. Jim Lee, Mrs. Alton Sampson, Mrs. Paul Sjulson and Mrs. Arvid Dahlstrom.

FITTING her zipper into the dress placket at the meeting of the "Make Yourself a Dress" meeting in the county courthouse meeting room Tuesday evening is Mrs. Arvid Dahlstrom. The ladies used side dress plackets which were required to be placed in the left side of the dresses. The method used was done in three steps: Step 1—stitching the seam on the machine with the longest stitch followed by stitching the centered zipper to the back seam allowance. Step 2—closing the zipper, turning face-up and edge-stitching on the fold. The last step is spreading the zipper face down and stitching across the bottom, up along the side of the zipper and across the top.

Activity Increases In Municipal Court

Activity in municipal court increased considerably with the improvement in weather, as numerous offenders appeared before Judge Stanley N. Mortenson Monday.

There were four highway patrol cases. Sally J. Olson, St. Hilaire, pleaded guilty to driving over the center line and was fined $30, while Robert J. Nygaard, rt. 3, pleaded guilty to speeding and was fined $15. Gerald T. Landowski, city, and Larry A. Schauer, Storden, forfeited bonds on speeding charges. Landowski $17.50 and Schauer, $15.

The sheriff also had four cases. Vincent B. Hesse, rt. 2, pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct and drew a 15-day jail sentence. Galen N. Tveit, Goodridge, pleaded guilty to driving after his license was revoked and was fined $50, while Kenneth Siebert, Goodridge, pleaded guilty to permitting an unlicensed driver to drive a car and was fined $30.

George Duden, Red Lake Falls, pleaded guilty to issuing a fraudulent check and was given a 15-day jail sentence, which was suspended on restitution of the check.

All other cases were brought by city police. Richard A. Olson, St. Hilaire, pleaded guilty to failure to yield the right-of-way, accident involved, and was fined $30. Lester J. Anderson, Red Lake Falls, pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of intoxicants and was fined $100. On the additional charge of having no driver's license Anderson was fined $50, of which $25 was suspended.

Donald L. Lerud, Dale D. Knewtson and George Pukart, all of the city, pleaded guilty to making improper turns and were each fined $15, of which $7.50 was suspended in each case.

Newfolden Wins Two, Drops One Last Week

Newfolden Nordics had a busy time on their home floor this past week as they won two out of three games played to boost themselves into fourth place in the conference standings in games played to date.

On Tuesday, they took a shelling from the Middle River Skippers, the conference leaders, by a 65 to 39 margin. On Friday and Saturday the Nordics captured two conference victories as they edged Greenbush 38 to 36 and trounced Williams 56 to 24.

This gives the Nordics a 9-7 overall record for the season to date and a 6-5 conference record. On the basis of the present standings, it appears that the Nordics will play Baudette in the opening round of the Sub-district 32 tournament.

Middle River Skippers quickly proved why they have an undefeated record in conference play as their well-balanced attack sunk the Nordics on Tuesday. The Skippers opened scoring quickly and built up an 18 to 5 first quarter lead on six field goals and six free throws while the Nordics only managed two buckets by Verne Hagenbeck and a gift toss by Shern.

The Skippers almost maintained the same scoring pace in the second period as they scored 17 points, 10 of them on field goals by Ricky Anderson. The Nordics did better also as they garnered 7 field goals, four of them by Terry Strandquist. The Skippers went to the shower room with a comfortable 35 to 19 halftime lead.

In the second half they clearly maintained their superiority as they leveled off with 15 points per quarter while the Nordics could only pick up 19 points the whole second half. Coach Snyder had ten men in the box score before the end of the game. The Skippers had four men score in double figures with eight men getting into the scoring column.

Ricky Anderson led all scorers with 17 points followed by Don Anderson with 15, Calvin Anderson with 13 and W. Larson with 10. Terry Strandquist was high point man for the Nordics with 14 points.

Greenbush had to leave their tallest man behind with the flu as they invaded the Nordics den and the team which had defeated the Nordics, 47 to 32 on their home court fell 38 to 36 this time. Coach Komouter went all the way with juniors and seniors in this game as Ricky Inman, high scorer for the Nordics this season, was able to get back in the lineup after being out a few games with a bad rib.

The Nordics took the lead to start the game and were never headed although they had only a 9 to 7 first period margin. They held their highest lead at halftime when they went to rest with a 23 to 13 bulge and at this stage it looked like they would pull away to an easy victory. However, the Tigers came back strong and outscored the Nordics in both the last two quarters as they drew to a 28 to 22 third period mark and tied the game before it was over.

Jim Dahl finally threw in a jump shot with time running out to give the Nordics their margin of victory. Ron Brazier and Norbert Johnson of the Tigers were high point men for the evening as they caged 15 and 14 points respectively. For the Nordics, Rick Inman scored 8 points while Jim Dahl had 10 and Ron Shern tallied 8.

The Williams Wolves bothered Newfolden for two quarters even though they are the bottom man on the totem pole in the league standings. They kept within sight of the Nordics with a 9 to 6 first period score and a 21 to 13 halftime score. In the third quarter, the Nordics got untracked and scored as many points as they had the entire first half while the Wolves could only manage 3 points to give the Nordics a third period 42 to 16 lead.

Twelve Nordics saw action in the game and eleven of them hit the scoring column. High point men for the evening were Ricky Inman and Jim Dahl of the Nordics with 13 and 12 points respectively. R. Stenler and D. Rosaichel shared high point honors for the Wolves with 10 points each.

Final game of the season for the Nordics will be at Warroad on Saturday, February 17. Because of a conflict with a Warroad Lakers-Canadian Nationals Hockey game that evening, the "B" squad game will start at 5:30 p. m. and the "A" game will start at 6:45 p. m. Anyone planning to travel to Warroad to see this game, please remember this change of time. In an earlier encounter between these two teams, the Nordics bombed the Warriors 61 to 20.

If the Nordics can get by the Warriors, they should definitely end up in fourth place at least with a 7-5 conference record and a 9-5 point record since the games with Baudette and Williams counted two points apiece. Even if they lose to Warroad, they should end up in fourth place since Baudette has finished their season with a 7-7 point record. The worst the Nordics could do would be 8-6.

Bit and Bridle Club Visits McKircher Farm

Prowler Six to Face Warroad in Tourney

Tonight's, (Thursday's), semi-finals pairings in the Region Eight high school hockey tournament being played at Roseau will find the Roseau Rams meeting East Grand Forks at 7:30 p. m.; and the Thief River Falls Prowlers playing the Warroad Warriors at 9:00 p. m. On Friday night, with the face-off at 7:30 p. m., the Region Eight championship finals, between the winners of Thursday night's games, will be played. Following the championship game, and with the face-off slated for 9:00 p. m. a consolation game, between Thursday night's losers, will be played.

In first-round regional tourney play at Warroad on Monday and Tuesday, Roseau, East Grand Forks, Thief River Falls, and Warroad, scored victories. The defending regional and state champions, the Roseau Rams, trounced the Indus sextet, 17-2, and East Grand Forks edged out the Crookston Pirates, 3-1, in play on Monday night. On Tuesday night, coach Gene Sack's Prowler side-lined the Baudette Bears by scoring a 5-3 win; and the Warroad Warriors, overcoming a 2-0 first period deficit, defeated the Hallock Bears, 5-4.

Flashing some of the finest hockey they have exhibited this season, coach Sack's club skated to a 3-0 lead over the Baudette Bears in the first period of Tuesday night's regional game at Warroad. Don Mathieu, on a backhand shot following a face-off deep in the Bears' zone, tallied the first goal at the 2:58 mark. A couple of minutes later, at 4:34, Larry Poole sent a center-out pass to John Weigelt, and the young Prowler wing hammered home a goal. And at the 9:21 mark, with the Prowlers' skating a man short, having Ron Kvikstad in the penalty box, Larry Poole, on a breakaway play from his own zone, skated in to beat goalie Roger Koster and give the locals' a 3-0 lead.

The Bears, with sophomore center Dick Thompson scoring a pair of goals, pared the Prowler lead to 3-2 midway in the second period. Elroy Froiland, on an assist from Larry Poole, scored for the locals at 8:32 and the Prowlers held a 4-2 lead entering the final period.

In the opening minute of the final period, Weigelt pulled the trigger on a play set up by Larry Poole, and the Prowlers held a 5-2 lead. Late in the period, after the Prowlers had repelled a rally by the Bears when the locals had two men in the penalty box, Thompson scored from close in at the 10:13 mark, to narrow the game-winning margin to two goals, 5-3.

Local Grapplers in Tie with Mahnomen

In the final match on the wrestling program, and with the Prowlers trailing by a 23-20 score, coach Al Shaff's heavyweight, Dwight Mhyrer, scored a 4-3 decision win over the Mahnomen Indians' heavyweight Duane Holland, picking up three points and giving the locals a 23-all tie here Wednesday night.

The Prowlers, boasting a season's record of ten wins, two draws, and two losses, will conclude their 1961-62 schedule on Wednesday night, Feb. 21, when they meet the Greenbush squad at Greenbush. In a previous match between the two squads, held here in December, the Prowlers defeated Greenbush, 25 to 17.

In Wednesday night's entertaining and exciting match between the Prowlers, and the Mahnomen Indians (and the two squads wrestled to a 26-26 draw earlier in the season), each team gained a pair of pin victories. Roy Delorme, continuing his undefeated streak, pinned his opponent, Lloyd Steinmetz in 1:55. And Joe Taylor, wrestling in the 148-lb. class, pinned Ken Winter in 5:15.

The Indians' John Ahman pinned the Prowlers' Mike Soeby in 3:59 of the 136-lb. class; and Paul Roy, the Idians' 178-lb. wrestler, pinned Roger Miller in 5:45.

The summaries:

98-lb. Roy Delorme (TRF) pinned Lloyd Steinmetz (M), 1:55.
106-lb. Dave Reynolds (M) decisioned Don Berggren (TRF), 7-0.
115-lb. Roger Wilson (TRF) and John Blazer (M), draw, 2-2.

The States-Dominion Bonspiel

Sports fans who are looking for something different in the line of sports entertainment, or are anxious to watch the strategy and techniques of top-flight curlers, should make it a point to attend several of the sessions of the States-Dominion bonspiel that will be held at the Fair Grounds arena on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The out-of-town contingent of curlers will be in action on Saturday and Sunday, with local curlers taking over the draws on Friday night.

The Steve Larson rink of Fargo, the winner of the first event honors last year, has entered this week's bonspiel; but it is doubtful if the Larson rink will have their able skip, Dale Dalziel, along. Last weekend, in the North Dakota state curling tournament held at Minot, the Fargo rink, skipped by Dale Dalziel, and with Steve Larson curling at the number two spot, won the North Dakota state title, winning seven straight matches. The rink will now represent North Dakota in the nationals to be held in Detroit next month. Dalziel feels that he cannot take the time to participate in this week's States-Dominion 'spiel. He would have been worth watching as he has a very smooth delivery, and he comes "out of the hack" with a graceful slide that carries to the "hog" line. A couple of yehrs ago, while residing in British Columbia, Dale was a member of the British Columbia rink that participated in Canada's premier curling event, the McDonald Brier.

But there will be a number of curlers, from Winnipeg mostly, who will give the spectators some hints on how the "roaring game" is played.

Quite a Feat

On Monday night, in a Service bowling league match, Elwood Ehrenstrom picked up the "impossible" 6-10 split. And the oddity about the event is that Elwood didn't see the pick up. He had made his delivery, and was sure of picking up one pin and as he walked back to the bench, a couple of bowlers on the next lane called his attention to the fact that he had made a spare. It is reported that the pickup was made on a kick-back of a pin from the backboard.

Well, it will be officially recognized, and Elwood will receive a patch from the ABC.

Did You Notice?

One of the feature games on Tuesday's schedule in District 31 basketball competition was the Crookston Pirates at Climax contest. And what was surpirsing, and perhaps a portent of things to come, was the result of the game. Climax recorded a decisive 48-30 win over Crookston.

And it must be recalled that this is a pretty strong Crookston club. Last Friday night, the Pirates defeated the Warren Ponies, 65-60; and a couple of week's ago the Pirates forced the Prowlers into overtime before losing, 63-62.

In Tuesday night's game, one of the factors that provided the Climax Vikings with their decisive margin was the play of center Duane Palm. Palm, a veteran and perhaps the "biggest" man in the district, was out of action during the early part of the season, recovering from a football injury. Tuesday night he was a strong rebounder, and a strong scorer.

And local cage fans should make a note that the Fertile Falcons, who scored a 52-51 win over Halstad last week, will meet the Prowlers on the high school court here on Saturday night.

Washington Six Tips Northrop 8-3

St. Bernard's Team Takes Knox Saturday 3 to 0

Grade School Hockey League

	W.	T.	L.	Pts.
Washington	9	0	0	18
Northrop	5	1	3	9
St. Bernard's	2	2	5	6
Knox	0	1	8	1

Results of Saturday's games:
St. Bernard's, 3, vs. Knox, 0.
Washington, 8, vs. Northrop, 3.

Schedule, Saturday, Feb. 17
Northrop vs. St. Bernard's, 9 a.m.
Knox vs. Washington, 10 a.m.

The Washington Wildcats, with another high-scoring exhibition, defeated the Northrop Indians, 8-3, in last Saturday's feature game in the city grade school hockey league play. The win, the ninth straight for coach Gayle Halvorson's Wildcats, clinched the grade school title for the Washington club.

Leading the scoring outburst for the 'Cats on Saturday were Rich Holmes and Stu Rugland, who tallied two goals apiece. Single goals were racked up by Arlen Averbye, Allen Rugland, Dennis Roose, and Tom Stromberg. Scoring for coach Dick Brooks' Northrop were Jerry Casavan, Dane Stromberg, and Cal Wicklander.

In the other game on Saturday's twin bill, the St. Bernard's Broncos scored a 3-0 win over the Knox Tigers. The win moved the Broncos within three points of the second place Northrop club, and the two teams are slated to meet in a 9:00 A.M. game on Saturday. Second place in the final standings will probably be at stake in the game.

Thieves Victors 9-5 over Steinbach Club

The senior Thieves defeated the Steinbach, Manitoba club, 9-5, in an exhibition game played on the Arena ice here on Tuesday night.

On Sunday afternoon, with the face-off slated for 2:30 p.m., the St. Vital, Manitoba, Bruins, losers to the locals in a 5-3 game a couple of weeks ago, will meet the Thieves at the Arena.

Dick Johnson, with three goals and player-coach Joey Poole, with a pair of tallies, spaced the Thieves in their 9-5 win over the Steinbach club on Tuesday night.

The summary:

Advance Payments to Be Given in ASC Plan

Producers who participate in the 1962 feed grain program are entitled to payments for diverting acreage from production of corn and grain sorghum (or barley), according to Edward A. Johnson, chairman, Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. Up to half of the estimated payment to be earned may be paid in advance when the producers sign up under the program.

Chairman Johnson said these program provisions should be of substantial benefit to growers who can use some extra ready cash during the spring planting season. Signup for the program runs from Feb. 5 through March 30.

The program offers payments to producers for diversion of feed grain cropland to approved soil conserving uses. The program is voluntary, but farmers who cooperate must divert a minimum acreage in order to be eligible for price support on the normal production of their 1962-crop corn and grain sorghum acreage (or barley acreage).

Payments under the program will be in the form of a cash advance or a feed grain certificate, whichever the producer chooses. Each county will have two county average rates of payment per acre for corn, two for grain sorghum, and two for barley. One rate will be based on 50 percent of the county normal yield per acre times $1.09, $1.80, or 91 cents — the county support rates respectively for corn, grain sorghum, and barley. The second rate will be based on 60 percent of the county normal yield per acre times the applicable county support rate.

Farm payment rates will vary according to the farm's productivity in relation to the county average productivity and the number of acres diverted. The minimum acreage for diversion from corn or grain sorghum (or barley) will be figured from the "farm base" which is determined from the average acreage on the farm used in producing the crop in 1959-60. The minimum reduction is 20 percent of the base. The maximum depends upon the size of the farm base.

Farmers who are interested in participating in the 1962 feed grain program should get in touch with the county ASCS office at their earliest convenience.

Flying Farmers to Meet in Crookston

State-wide Meeting is Set for Next Thursday

Minnesota Flying Farmers will again make the Red River Valley Winter Shows, Crookston, a state-wide meeting place for their February meeting. Thursday, February 22, has been designated "Flyers' Day" at the Show. The Flying Farmers will make this an official meeting to conduct business as well as to see the new Winter Shows. They will have a 12 o'clock noon luncheon at "Your Host", followed by a business meeting at 2 p. m.

Arrangements have been made for the Flying Farmers group to stay overnight on February 22 at the Northwest School and have breakfast at the School on Friday morning, February 23. The Crookston Elks Club has offered privileges for the Flyers and their guests in their dining room on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. They will attend the Winter Shows activities after the dinner.

This will be the sixth year the Minnesota Flying Farmers have participated in the Red River Valley Winter Shows.

Potato Growers to Meet Tuesday at Winter Shows

The growers and the processor of potatoes are invited to attend a special meeting set for 10 a. m. Tuesday, February 20, at Northwest School, Crookston, in the livestock pavilion.

The purpose of the meeting is to take a look at where we are heading in the potato processing business. Dr. Orrin C. Turnquist of the University of Minnesota, St. Paul, will speak as well as other men well-known in the industry and who have recently returned from meetings at the national level. This will be a chance to ask questions on the recent hearings in Washington relative to a national marketing order for potatoes.

Turkey Growers to Meet Feb. 21

Session Scheduled at Winter Show, Crookston

Turkey growers of Northwestern Minnesota are invited to attend a program arranged by Robert W. Berg, extension poultry specialist from the University of Minnesota, St. Paul, to be held Wednesday, February 21, at 2 p. m. in the livestock pavilion of the Northwest School and Experiment Station.

Dr. Berg will speak on "More Efficient Labor and Capital Utilization on Turkey Farms." Dr. John Newman will speak on "Control of Respiratory Diseases in Turkeys." Roy C. Munson, executive secretary of the Minnesota Turkey Growers Association will speak on "Support of the Turkey Growers' Organization." Douglas McCully of Maple Plain, president of the Minnesota Turkey Growers' Association, will be present to speak to the group. Herman Natwick of Ada will preside.

There will be a 6 o'clock smorgasbord at Sidley's Cafe, Crookston.

Farm Problem to be Aired Monday at Winter Shows

"National Growth and Agriculture—What are the Alternatives" will be the subject to be discussed by Dr. Elmer W. Learn, well-known economist, at a meeting to be held at the Northwest school and Experiment Station, Crookston, on Monday, February 19. The meeting will begin at 10 a. m. in the Livestock Pavilion.

Dr. Learn, of the University of Minnesota, has acquired a nationwide reputation as a fair-minded commentator and analyst of the change and the adjustment taking place now in agriculture. He will compare the national growth in the United States and other parts of our society to that of agriculture. He will discuss the sharply different alternatives that are available to agriculture as the farmer seeks to adjust his business to a fast-moving society.

Motel Industry Plans Convention in Minneapolis

Some 600 members of the state's motel industry will gather for three days of business-building discussions at the tenth annual convention of the Minnesota Motel association in Hotel Leamington, Minneapolis, February 22, 23, and 24.

One of the features of the convention will be a series of skits enacted by industry members, designed to show proper methods of making the traveling public feel at home.

Fifty exhibitors will show new furnishings and supplies for the industry at an exhibit at the Leamington.

New Examination Is Announced by Civil Service

Announced today by the Ninth U. S. Civil Service region is an examination for stenographer and typist. Starting salaries range from $291 to $337 per month and thousands of interesting jobs will be filled from the list of eligibles established from this examination, the region has announced.

Promotion opportunities are excellent and fringe benefits include liberal vacation, eight paid holidays and many other benefits. A person may be considered for positions throughout Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, South and North Dakota by taking the one examination.

Eligible competitors may transfer their eligibility anywhere in the United States where they would like to work, without further testing. No experience is required to qualify for the positions.

Further information and applications may be obtained at most post offices or by contacting the director, Ninth U. S. Civil Service Region, Federal Building, 1520 Market street, St. Louis, Mo.

Football Tickets at 'U' Now $4.50

The University of Minnesota announced last week an increase in football ticket prices for the general public from $4 to $4.50.

The action, taken by the Senate Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics, also included a $1 raise in staff season tickets to $17. Student ticket prices remain unchanged.

All other Big Ten schools previously raised their public ticket sale price to either $4.50 or $5.

State Nurseries Still Have Some Trees Available

Conservation Department Advises Farmers to Get in Orders without Delay

Persons planning on ordering tree seedlings from state forest nurseries for spring planting had better get their orders in soon, according to the Minnesota conservation department.

Out of an original stock of 40 million trees, only 10 million are still available. Last week alone, the Department's forestry division reports, they received orders for approximately 2½ million trees.

"At that rate they won't last long now," a forestry official said.

One of the most popular species, however, is still available in good quantities, the division reports. This tree is the white spruce which has proved excellent for use in windbreaks, shelterbelts, soil erosion control, as wildlife cover, for stream-bank improvement and in forest planting for Christmas trees and pulpwood production.

Other species still available in fairly ample numbers are Norway pine and white pine. Several other kinds of both conifers (evergreen) and broadleaf varieties are reported on hand but in lesser amounts.

Those seeking tree planting advice or wishing to make arrangements for a planting machine were urged to contact their county agent, local SCS office or their state area forester.

Conifer species are sold at the rate of $10.00 per thousand and broadleaf types at $8.00 per thousand. Order blanks can be obtained from county agents, SCS and ACP representatives.

Future Farmers Feted Feb. 17-24

Governor Elmer L. Andersen has officially proclaimed the week of February 17-24 as "Future Farmer Week" in Minnesota. The week is to be observed in Minnesota as a part of the nationwide week honoring the National Association of Future Farmers of America, comprising over 375,000 members and its 9,000 affiliated organizations, as well as the 12,800 Future Farmer members in Minnesota in 285 affiliated local chapters. The theme for FFA week is "Honoring Rural Opportunities and Responsibilities."

"I agree with lobbyists for federal school aid that education is one of the great problems of our day. I am afraid, however, that their views and mine regarding the nature of the problem are many miles apart. They tend to see the problem in quantitative terms—not enough schools, not enough teachers, not enough equipment. I think it has to do with quality. How good are the schools we have? Their solution is to spend more money. Mine is to raise standards. Their recourse is to the federal government. Mine is to the local school board, the private school, the individual citizen—as far away from the federal government as one can possibly go. And I suspect that if we knew which of these two views on education will eventually prevail, we would know also whether Western civilization is due to survive, or will pass away.

—Senator Barry Goldwater

The Taconite Question

Pressure from Iron Range communities apparently has induced DFL leaders to change their position on the taconite tax problem. They now admit that it is a problem and that the industry is by-passing Minnesota and expanding elsewhere. State representative Cina has suggested a law that would forbid unfair taxation of the industry for a period of 25 years. Governor Andersen insists that the industry should be protected by a constitutional amendment.

It is unfortunate that taconite taxation has been made a partisan issue. In the present state of confusion there would be no chance for a favorable vote on a constitutional amendment, and an act by the legislature would be meaningless. The first thing that must be done is to clear up the misunderstandings. We are satisfied that if the facts are properly presented to the voters, the needed majority will favor a constitutional amendment.

The problem is simple. The industry's demands are reasonable. The industry is not asking for anything that it does not now have. The industry is satisfied with the present tax laws. All that is asked, actually, is a guarantee against future abuses. The industry is willing to pay its fair share of taxes. It does want assurance that future taxes imposed on the taconite industry will not be more onerous than taxes imposed on other industries.

Minnesota's present taconite laws were adopted some 20 years ago with bipartisan support. Congressman Blatnik, then in the legislature, was one of the sponsors. As a result of these laws the new industry was established and is operating successfully, so successfully that the industry would like to expand. All that it asks is assurance of continued fair treatment.

And this request is justified by experience over a period of many years in the regular mining operations. Most of the injustices have been at the local level. The Iron Range communities have been very unfair to the industry in their taxation. And the industry that now proposes to invest hundreds of millions of dollars in new manufacturing plants on Minnesota's Iron Range have a right to be skeptical.

Representative Cina's proposal that a law be passed forbidding unfair taxes for a period of 25 years is of course ridiculous. That's like saying that we'll be good for 25 years but after that period of good behavior and honest treatment we will revert to type and you may expect the worst. There should be no statute of limitations to a period of fair dealing.

It is not only the Iron Range that has been adversely effected by the unfortunate bungling that has made this a partisan issue. The state as a whole is being hurt, and we agree with Governor Andersen that the necessary action should be taken as speedily as possible. But before any favorable action can be hoped for, there must be agreement as to what are the facts and get these facts before the people.

The Challenge

In the monthly letter published by the First National City Bank of New York there is an informative article on President Kennedy's Common Market proposals. Congressional hearings are scheduled to start about March 1 and from then on the problem will be very much in the news.

The article expresses the hope that the advantages will more than offset the disadvantages. It does stress the fact that the change will not be painless and that we must be prepared for some difficult adjustments during the period of transition. It states:

> "It is common knowledge that labor costs, and taxes borne by business, are lighter abroad than here. If American goods can nevertheless compete abroad, it is because of the efficiencies of large scale production, heavy capital investment, and managerial skills; but our margin of superiority in this area is narrowing.
> "Competition is a healthy spur. The President's program represents a challenge—to management and labor—to accept added competition as the price of easier access to overseas markets. The real question is whether we are willing to face the facts of international competition and review all our policies—labor, fiscal, agricultural—accordingly.
> "One thing is certain. If the dollar is to remain a strong, desirable and respected currency, we will need to forget about aspirations for shortening working hours and taking it easy, and discard the notion that inflation of government spending, money supplies, wages and prices can invigorate our society.
> "We can rise to the challenge of enlarging our foreign markets and redress the balance-of-payments that undermine the dollar. But we can do so only by recognizing that power of foreign competition rests on private enterprise. What we need to do is to get back to the fundamental principle that carried us to the top of the heap—that individuals, given freedom and opportunity to seek their own advancement, build the strength and prosperity of the whole nation."

Troubled World

According to Colin Clark, director of the Institute for Research on Agricultural Economics at Oxford University, there is no immediate cause for alarm about the adequacy of the world's food supply. He points out that the Dutch, whom he credits with being the best agriculturists in Europe, produce a good and varied diet on the equivalent of two-thirds of an acre of ground per person, and he concludes:

> "If all the land suitable for agriculture throughout the world were cultivated in this manner, assuming at the same time that the whole world eats as well as the most prosperous countries do now, provision could be made for 28 billion people, or 10 times the world's 1960 population.

He says that if we take the Japanese instead of the Dutch standards of cultivation and diet, the world could provide for three or four times as many again. And he points out that the Japanese are a healthy people.

We assume this means that, according to Dr. Clark, if the world were inhabited only by people who averaged up with the Dutch and the Japanese in their capacity to get things done and their willingness to work, we wouldn't have to worry about the hunger problem in our time.

In other words, in this trouble-filled world of ours there are too many people who do not have the capacity to get things done and will work only when forced to by necessity. And no doubt that is why the world has so many troubles.

Moose Season

An open season for moose hunting seems to be on the way. Recent surveys indicated a substantial increase in the number of moose last year, the total being estimated at 5,911, approximately doubling in two years.

According to Jim Kimball, director of the division of Game and Fish, an open season would require special legislation so there probably would be no hunting until 1963, and then only on a limited scale. The last open season was 1922 when the kill was estimated at 300.

Political Education

(Don Brown in Waseca Journal)

Agricultural Extension Service, which in Minnesota is under the University of Minnesota, is being asked by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to enter the political arena to help shape future farm policies.

Extension Service has long avoided the area of politics going so far as to almost muzzle county agents from discussing certain matters which might indirectly involve the service with politics. The agency has remained aloof from political controversy and rightly so. Extension service has sought to teach farmers and their wives how to become better farmers and homemakers.

Sec. Freeman let it be known, in a talk before the annual conference of the Extension Service that he wants a broadening of the service's activities to help promote changes in the Federal government's policies.

Operated on a partnership basis between the Agricultural Department and the land-grant colleges or universities the Extension Service is educational in nature. Pres. Harry S. Truman said: "Efforts to increase the technical knowledge of rural people for more efficient farms, better homes and higher sandards of living are the basic core of the Extension Service."

Could there be much academic freedom under Secretary Freeman's proposal? A county agent would become a political aide of the Secretary of Agriculture. He would find himself under a new political alliance with each change of administration.

We have tried to insure that civil service appointees remain aloof from politics and now Secretary Freeman is striving to do the opposite in Agricultural Extension. No good can come from it.

"I am not convinced that the federal government is not tooponderous to do the best job of collecting taxes. Many people have the idea that if Washington foots the bill they don't have to pay, but if Michigan does it they will have to dig down in their pockets. People need to know that the money comes out of their own pockets either way."

Taconite Battle Continues

There can be no let-up in the efforts to enact a taconite amendment and do other things necessary to revitalize the iron mining industry of northeastern Minnesota.

With Congress considering the extension of reciprocal trade agreements the problem is more pointed. Most of the problems in northeastern Minnesota stem from the competition of foreign ore and foreign steel. One solution is the obvious one of restricting the import of this ore and steel. However in the broad sweep of international affairs and the seeking of world peace we know that international trade is important. How can we resolve the dilemma?

The solution is not hard but we must make decisions and we must act. We have the solution for revitalizing the iron mining industry within our own state. It is simply to make Minnesota competitive in world markets. Taconite can compete with foreign natural ores. We need taconite plants. We cannot get these big investments without some stability of tax policy. This does not mean the freezing of rates. It merely means the stability of policy that the taconite and semi-taconite industry will be taxed no higher than other industry in our state. This is no great concession - but it is significant because it would indicate that we know that we have changed from a monopoly situation to a competitive one. I do not believe people can urge us to support reciprocal trade agreements that let foreign ore and steel in and at the same time oppose solutions that would make us competitive in the world market. We either must have quotas or taconite plants. I'm calling on our Senators and Representatives to either throw their weight behind local solutions to the problem, such as the taconite amendment or fight for quotas to protect the jobs of our people. They cannot oppose both. It's quotas or taconite plants.

As I have said many times, the taconite amendment won't do the whole job. I favor accelerated depreciation allowances for new capital investment in distressed areas. This I have advocated for over a year.

I believe we should differentiate between operating reserves and holding reserves and have graduated taxes on holding reserves to nudge them into development instead of making it easy to hold them without development indefinitely.

I believe that tax concessions to U. S. companies operating in foreign countries should be reviewed. These concessions were made so our companies could compete abroad for foreign markets. If the result is to turn around and undermine our domestic economy, then they are not serving a good public purpose and should be changed.

The main thing is to encourage the building of taconite plants. I am positive the taconite amendment would be a key factor. I am certain that the people would like to have a chance to vote on the issue. They certainly have a right to that vote. There should be no slackening of efforts to see that the issue is resolved. Everyone agrees that we have a problem. It must be resolved. I have submitted positive programs to do so. Opposition has contented itself with saying no to what I propose and suggesting no alternative, as if this great economic issue would somehow solve itself.

I would urge every concerned citizen of this state to urge your legislators to urge legislative leaders to co-operate in supporting my program.

This is the Ford Fairlane's new Challenger "260" V-8.

There's no other V-8 like it. It's the latest in a series of Ford V-8 triumphs that started back in 1932 when Ford introduced the world's first popular-priced V-8. Today—30 years and 30 million V-8's later—the Challenger "260" adds new fuel to the hottest performance record in V-8 history. It gives you all the time-tested toughness of iron—with a lightness and compactness iron never had before. A muscular 164 hp, this new Challenger "260" V-8 is all snap, sparkle and smoothness. It runs on regular, yet gives you better gas mileage than any standard-size 6-cylinder car. Price it and you're in for a surprise—a Fairlane V-8 carries a smaller price tag than some compact Sixes. And, of course, a Fairlane gives you big-car room and fine-car quality you'll find in no other car anywhere near. Fairlane's amazing low price. There's never been a buy like Fairlane because there's never been a car like Fairlane; that's why this all-new car from Ford is now out-selling every other "new-size" car!

Here's what QUALITY has done!
At last count there were 1,499,927 Chevrolet trucks over 10 years old still working—424,381 more than any other make.

1962 CHEVROLET JOBMASTER TRUCKS built better...work longer!

When Chevrolet builds a truck, it builds a quality truck. This policy makes sense. Chevrolet trucks work a long time . . . cost less than many other makes to operate and maintain over the years . . . consistently bring a higher trade-in price . . . and, as a result, are bought by more people.

We invite you to come in and examine this quality closely and to take a 1962 demonstrator out for a good long test drive. Note the cab comfort, the good visibility, the smooth ride, the solid feel of its quality. Compare Chevrolet truck features with those of other makes. Then decide which are your wisest investment. We're sure it will be Chevrolet's.

Note how this Chevrolet cab roof is made of two sheets of metal, instead of one, with a layer of felt in between as insulation against cold, heat and noise.

A Chevrolet truck tailgate is sturdier because it has double-wall construction and strong steel chains in tough rubber casing to support it.

Quality independent front suspension fights road shock more effectively than other types —provides more protection for the truck, load and driver.

The standard 235-cu.-in. 6-cylinder Chevrolet truck engine has worked more miles than any other. There are nine more engines to choose from.

CHEVROLET See your Chevrolet dealer for trucks that keep running and running!

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

Volume Fifty-one — Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota — Thursday, February 15, 1962 — Number Fourteen

PREPARATIONS are being made in numerous phases for the presentation of "Babes in Toyland," a two-act operetta to be presented by the Lincoln high school choir in the school gymnasium February 26 and 27. Costumes are being prepared in the above photo by members of that committee. Left to right are Carol Stenseth, Emily Hoel and Gloria Philipp, members of the costume committee, preparing 75 shop aprons for the toy shop workers who will appear in the production. The operetta is under the direction of Bryant Ulseth, vocal music instructor at the school, with Bonne Nelson as student director.

Meetings on Highway Planning Scheduled

The first of three regional highway planning conferences will be held at the new Minnesota highway department and civil defense training center at Arden Hills on Wednesday, February 28, beginning at 9 a. m. Following this meeting for the Twin City area, similar meetings will be held at Mankato on March 7 for the soutrern portion of the state and at Brainerd on March 13 for the central and northern areas.

These conferences are being held to create a better understanding between the engineer and the planner and to foster a more complete appreciation of the roles of highway engineering and community planning.

E. J. McCubrey, highway department metropolitan district engineer, will serve as host for this initial meeting. Commissioner James C. Marshall will address the participants prior to the start of the morning session, which will be devoted to a panel presentation "The Highway Planning Process". George F. Welch, highway department district engineer from Golden Valley, will be moderator for the morning session.

The panel members will include T. S. Thompson, representing the highway department; James E. Gablou, Dakota county engineer, presenting the county viewpoint; Lawrence Irvin, Minneapolis planning director, the staff planner's point of view; Howard Dahlgren of Midwest Planning and Research, the planning consultants; D. L. Trueblood of the Bureau of Public Roads, Kansas City, Mo., representing the federal government; and Donald T. Sorensen, Golden Valley village engineer.

Following the luncheon in the center cafeteria, the afternoon session will take a double look at highway engineers and planners. Paul R. Staffeld, deputy highway commissioner, will be the moderator for this panel. D. T. Burns, highway department road design engineer, will speak on "The Highway Engineer Looks at the Planner", and John E. Vance, assistant director of the Metropolitan planning commission, will counter with "The Planner Looks at the Highway Engineer."

The seven-member panel will then discuss eight preselected topics having to do with highway engineering and community planning. Included on the panel will be Deane Wenger, highway department metropolitan area study engineer; H. H. Burry, St. Louis Park city attorney; Mr. Gablou; Tom Hodne of Community Planning & Design Associates; Warren Hyde, the Edina village manager; Mr. Truebood, and a municipal engineer.

Invitations have been sent to mayors and county board chairmen, asking them to designate representatives for their jurisdictions. The only charge will be for the luncheon, including afternoon coffee and refreshments, which will be served for $1.75 per person.

EAA Chapter To Meet Tonight

Film on International Fly-In Will Be Shown

Curtiss "Jennies", Wacos, Ford Tri-motors and scores of home-built planes are featured in the film to be shown at tonight's meeting of Minn-Kota chapter 121, Experimental Aircraft Ass'n., at the airport.

The film, shot by Bob Whittier, a writer and editor for Sports Aviation, portrays the 1961 EAA International fly-in at the Greater Rockford airport, Rockford, Ill. Local aviation enthusiasts, as well as EAA members, whether they are antique aircraft fans or just gas-model builders, are urged to attend tonight's EAA meeting.

Meeting time is 8 p. m. and after the business meeting, refreshments will be served.

Aslo of interest to the air-minded is a program to be carried by the CBS television network, Sunday, Feb. 18, on the "Sunday Sports Spectacular." Called "Air Show, U.S.A.", the program shows the nation's leading aerobatic pilots in action at the National Air Show last October. Homebuilts, antique and aerobatic aircraft will be featured. The area CBS affiliate, KXJB-TV, has not announced whether it will carry the program as schedueld by the network or tape it for later showing.

Moose Population of State Growing

Estimated Count of 5,911 Is 55 Pct. above Last Year

The third annual aerial moose census just completed by the Department of Conservation, division of game and fish, with the cooperation of the U. S. Forest Service, indicates that the moose herd in Minnesota has increased for the third consecutive year.

A calculated moose population of 5,911 animals in the two census areas, consisting of 8,400 square miles of moose range, represents an increase in the population of approximately 55 per cent over the 1961 census figures.

The greatest increase in the moose population has been in the Superior National Forest area.

Seventeen plots of 25 square miles each were flown by the U. S. Forest Service in his sample which represents 6,100 square miles of moose range in Minnesota. The calculated population in this area was 4,502 moose. Further west in the Red Lake area the moose population showed a very slight increase over the 1961 figures. A total of 16 plots representing 2,300 square miles of moose range was flown by the division's section of game personnel. The calculated population for this sample was 1,409 moose.

See it now at 10:10 each evening on KXJB-TV. There's more on 4. 1t14c

INCOME TAX ADVICE

By Minnesota State Bar Assn.

Reporting of Travel Expenses

(This is the tenth in a series of articles on income taxes made available as a public service by the Minnesota State Bar Association, Public Relations Committee.)

Generally, you must include in gross income the amount you receive from your employer as an allowance or reimbursement for meals and traveling expenses paid by you. So that you are not forced to itemize all of your personal deductions in order to recoup this addition to income, you are allowed to deduct from gross income the expenses you incurred for which your employer reimbursed you. Normally, this would require the reporting of the income and an itemization of your expenses in connection with this reimbursed income. However, the regulations now allow you to forego the detailed itemization of these expenses if you are reimbursed by your employer and if you were required to account for the money spent to your employer. If you received not more than 15 cents per mile for mileage and not more than $20 per day for other expenses while traveling on business away from home, you are presumed to have accounted to your employer, and, if your expenses were in an amount equal to the reimbursement from your employer, you need not report the income received or itemize these expenses on your tax return. You need only answer the two questions concerning expense allowance or reimbursement on the Federal tax return.

To this point, the discussion has dealt with expense reimbursement where your expenses are less than the amount received from your employer. However, it is possible that you may spend more for certain expenses incurred on behalf of your employer than the amount which he reimburses you. Some of these expenses incurred by you, when properly itemized on your return, are deductible directly from gross income, while others must be itemized as deductions from adjusted gross income.

For example, you are allowed to deduct from gross income, whether or not your employer reimburses you, for expenses or travel including meals and lodging incurred by you while you are away from home overnight performing services for your employer. You are also entitled to deduct from gross income transportation expenses incurred by you on behalf of your employer, other than the cost to you of commuting to and from work.

Sheep Producers at Winter Shows

Meeting and Dinner Set for Tuesday, February 20

Sheep producers from Minnesota, North Dakota, and Manitoba, Canada are planning to attend day meetings and demonstrations scheduled for Tuesday, February 20, of Red River Valley Winter Shows Week, Crookston. These will be held at the Northwest School and Experiment Station, Animal Products building, beginning at 1:30 p. m. There will be programs for both men and women. The public is invited.

Sheep experts from South Dakota, Wisconsin, and Minnesota will be on hand to present information and to provide demonstrations. Of particular interest will be a demonstration on killing and carcass cutting; also, there will be a sheep shearing demonstration. In addition there will be a special program of interest to women.

The day's activities will wind up with a banquet for all sheep producers and friends of the sheep industry at 6 p. m. at the dining hall of the Northwest School. Duane A. Wilson, Minnesota state commissioner of agriculture, will be the banquet speaker. There will be a style review, featuring wool, for the women at the banquet.

Family Robinson

Symbolic—that's what I call this picture!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Robinsons don't go to my church—they belong to another.

But I'll tell you there are no finer people in our town than Cliff and Berta, and their kids, Polly and Joe. They're good neighbors . . . friends who'd stick by you in trouble . . . people with standards, ideals.

And other folks around town feel the same way about the Robinsons. Tradespeople say it's a pleasure to do business with them. Community leaders admire the way they pitch in and help.

So I say this picture is symbolic. For if we'd stop and figure WHAT MAKES FINE PEOPLE LIKE THE ROBINSONS . . . why this whole town would be in church next Sunday!

Policeman Killed, Youth Wounded in Gun Battle

BLOODSTAINS on the trampled snow near the right-rear wheel of the car driven by Paul Wangberg mark the spot where Police Sgt. Donald D. Myers, 33, fatally wounded, fell on top of his slayer, who was also wounded in the exchange of gunfire. The scene was located at an approach on the east side of highway 32 where old highway 59 turns off 32 to go west to Newfolden, and is about 16 miles north of Thief River Falls. The shooting took place about 9:45 p.m. Saturday after a chase from the city in which Wangberg repeatedly thwarted officers' efforts to stop him until he pulled off the road of his own accord. When Myers and Patrolman Bennie Miramontes rushed him, Wangberg shot Myers through the heart with a 7 mm. Mauser rifle but Myers fired two shots from a police revolver, seriously wounding Wangberg, before falling on top of his slayer.

VICTIM in a gun battle late Saturday was Police Sgt. Donald D. Myers, 33, as he rushed Paul Wangberg, 19, after a chase on Highway 32 to the Newfolden turnoff. Myers managed to wound Wangberg twice even after he had been shot through the heart by a high-powered rifle. Vitality which enabled Myers to shoot even after being fatally wounded himself probably saved patrolman Bennie Miramontes from a similar fate.

YOUNG slayer of Sgt. Donald D. Myers was Paul Wangberg, 19, pictured here while he was captain of the Lincoln high school wrestling team. Wangberg became violent when his father suggested that he undergo psychiatric treatment in a family discussion shortly after 9 p.m. Saturday. The boy drove from home in the Wangberg car with officers in pursuit and, after stopping east of Newfolden at the intersection of old highway 59 and 32, shot Myers with a deer rifle when the officer rushed him.

Sgt. Donald Myers Killed Instantly by Rifle Bullet

Paul Wangberg, 19, In Serious Condition After Being Hit Twice

Violent death in an exchange of gunfire came to Thief River Falls Police Sergeant Donald D. Myers about 9:45 p. m. Saturday at the intersection of highway 32 and old highway 59 about 16 miles north of Thief River Falls. Wounded twice in the shooting was Paul Wangberg, 19-year-old son of Rev. and Mrs. Reuben A. Wangberg, city, who fired the fatal shot from a 7 mm. Mauser hunting rifle.

Wangberg left his parental home in a violent rage after he had been discussing with his father his need for psychiatric help. He had overpowered his father and a younger brother, taken the rifle and two boxes of ammunition and headed for the family car when Sgt. Myers and patrolman Bennie Miramontes arrived to answer a call to the Wangberg home. Miramontes, who was driving the squad car in pursuit of the Wangberg youth, was not involved in the shooting and was not injured.

Events leading up to the tragedy which struck the Myers and Wangberg families started shortly after 9 p. m. Saturday when the subject of psychiatric treatment for Paul Wangberg was mentioned in the Wangberg home. The youth flared into a rage and attacked his father, who called police. Myers, who was on desk duty, answered at the time and said he would come out

TRF Planning Unit Proposed to City Council

Committee Voices Its Conclusions at Informal Meeting

The conclusions of the steering committee that was named by Mayor Orin Green to study community planning as recommended by the Minnesota department of business development were discussed at an informal dinner meeting of the city council at the Rex Cafe Thursday evening. While there was some sentiment for organizing on a county basis rather than as a city, there appeared to be no opposition to the general idea.

City Attorney Robert Wurst reported on the main provisions in a model ordinance recommended by the League of Minnesota Municipalities. This ordinance would provide for a planning commission of seven members to be named by the council. Ex-officio members would be the city engineer and the city clerk and one member of the council: The other four members would be appointed to serve four year terms, on a staggered basis, the first appointments to be for one, two, three and four years.

There would be at least one meeting a month and expenditures of money could be made only as authorized by the council. The ordinance authorizes a consulting service for which the federal government pays two-thirds of the cost. Under the direction of a professional planner a comprehensive plan for the development of the community would be developed.

The ordinance calls for public hearings before any development program is adopted and the planning commission serves only in an advisory capacity.

Times Wins MNA 1st Place Award In Farm Coverage

State Award Presented At Annual Convention In Minneapolis Friday

First place in agricultural news coverage in competition among the state's 421 newspapers, was awarded to the Thief River Falls Times at the 96th annual meteing of the Minnesota Newspaper association held in St. Paul during the weekend. The award was presented Friday evening at the annual association banquet.

The William P. Kirkwood Memorial award, tops in the state's agricultural news field, is given each year to the paper which does the best job of covering farm news in the area. It is presented "In memory of a good farm reporter, a dedicated teacher of journalism, a wise counsellor, a loyal friend." The Warren Sheaf, successive winner of the first place award the past two years, received honorable mention this year. Third place went to the Norman County Index at Ada.

Along with the award, which is a framed certificate, goes a $25 check from the Minnesota Veterinary Medical association in appreciation of the cooperation given that organization by the state's newspapers. Representing the Times at the banquet were Marvin Lundin, city editor, Robert Mattson, shop foreman, and their wives.

Lundin also received a second place prize of two Minnesota Viking football tickets and a certificate for a picture entered in the state MNA photo contest. The picture was one taken at a Lincoln high school wrestling match and titled "Ohh, My Aching Back."

Award recipients at the banquet were announced by Ralph Keller, manager of MNA, and presented by Miss Penny Hicks, recently elected Queen of the Snows for the St. Paul Winter Carnival.

Rolvaag Asks for Endorsement of DFL for Governor

Lieutenant Governor Karl F. Rolvaag Saturday issued a statement announcing that he will not be a candidate for reelection to his present office, but that he will seek th DFL endorsement for governor of Minnesota. He added that he will not make the race unless he wins endorsement at the state DFL convention.

INTERIOR of the Silver Creek Lutheran church, which was dedicated at special services Sunday afternoon, is pictured above. All new furnishings are used in the 30x48 church structure which was built with considerable volunteer labor by members of the congregation. A 30x60 parish education building is also attached to the church. Finished in blonded fir, the structure replaces one which was destroyed by fire last Palm Sunday morning.

Heart Fund Campaign Slated in T. R. Falls During This Weekend

Nearly 100 local women, working under 24 captains, are expected to serve as solicitors in the annual Heart Fund appeal set for this weekend, concluding on Heart Fund Sunday, February 25, it was announced today by Mrs. Robert E. Looker, chairman of the campaign.

She stated that the workers will make their rounds Friday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons between the hours of 1 and 4 oclock.

Mrs. Looker pointed out statistics released by the Minnesota Heart association this week indicated that heart disease remians the leading cause of death and disability in Minnesota.

John B. Moyer, president of the association, said that over 17,000 Minnesotans died of ailments of the heart and blood vessels in 1961, which caused more than 53 per cent of all deaths in the nation.

"An increase in the number of heart deaths each year, paradoxically, is due partially to the forward march of science," declared Dr. Moyer.

"Science has made great medical progress by controlling the infectious diseases in recent years. Some diseases, such as smallpox, diptheria, and typhoid fever, have been virtually eliminated. As a result, life expectancy, which was 48 years in 1900, is 70 years today. More of us, therefore, are surviving—or are spared—the diseases that were foremerly fatal, and are living to the ages in which heart diseases take their greatest toll." Dr. Moyer explained.

Valley Home Group to Conduct Annual Meeting Feb. 26th

Members of Society to Vote on Amendment to By-laws Monday Evening

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Valley Home society will be held Monday evening, February 26, at 7:30 in the basement assembly room in the municipal Auditorium in Thief River Falls, Waldie Christensen, president, announced today.

Reports will be given on the current status of plans for the erection of a new home for the aged in this city.

The following resolution will be presented for adoption to conform the by-laws to the articles of Incorporation and requirements of the federal Housing and Home Finance Agency:

"Be it resolved That Section 1 of Article I of the by-laws of Valley Home Society be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"Section 1. 'Any person may become a member of the society upon election of the board of directors and paying a membership fee of not less than ten dollars. Application for membership shall be in writing, filed with the secretary, and approved by the Board of Directos.' "

Mr. and Mrs. Art Stenseth left Tuesday for Texas to visit with her son, Major Clarence Fuller, who is stationed with the army at Fort Worth.

Postoffice and Public Offices to Close Thursday

Washington's Birthday will be observed in Thief River Falls next Thursday, February 22, by city and county offices remaining closed all day, in addition to the postoffice, where window service and mail deliveries will be suspended. Banks and stores, however, will remain open as usual, and schools will be in session.

Builders Exchange Banquet Tuesday

Election of Officers to Precede Dinner at Elks

The Thief River Falls Builders Exchange will hold its annual banquet in the Elks club rooms Tuesday evening, February 20, at 7 o'clock, it was announced today by Ed Rustad, president.

He added that the annual business meeting and election of officers is scheduled for 6 o'clock preceding the dinner. A slate of candidates for the various offices will be submitted by the nominating committee, of which James Walker is chairman.

Guest speaker at the banquet will be Brooks Baukol of the Baukol Construction Co. in Grand Forks. Gene Belto, vice president of the Northern State bank, will serve as toastmaster.

Several Hearings Set by City Council

Arranged Thursday on Street, Sewer and Knight av. Lighting

The city council acted on several routine matters at a special meeting Thursday night, all members being present. Morris Owen, superintendent of the power plant, explained several changes that have been suggested by the Bureau of Reclamation in the contract for Bureau power. Mr. Owen stated that he considered the changes to be reasonable and recommended that they be approved.

Councilman Roy Jorgenson reported on an airport committee meeting held Feb. 5, stating that the present custodian has resigned, effective May 1. The council directed the clerk to advertise for applications for this position, to be in not later than March 10.

The charges for weighing on the city scale were discussed and it was decided that no changes could be made under the terms of the present lease, the scale being operated by D. Irwin Olson on a rental basis.

Engineer Douglas Stewart reported on several street projects, including street lighting on Knight Ave. from the Great Northern tracks to Third St. He estimated the installation of ten standards and lights comparable to present lighting in the business section would cost $4,500. The Council ordered a hearing on the proposal to be held in the chambers on Friday, March 2, at 8:00 oclock.

Hearings will also be held at that time on several curb and gutter projects on the West side. The improvements would be on First St. between Arnold and State Avenues; on Fifth St. between Arnold and State; on 11th St. from Main to Duluth, and on Knight Ave. from 10th to 11th.

A petition for the widening of LaBree Ave. from First St. to Main Ave. was tabled.

Mr. Stewart recommended a continuation of the 10 inch storm sewer on First st. between Arnold and State avs. at an estimated cost of $3,500, and a new main on Fourth st. between Duluth and Arnold avs. at an estimated cost of $6,000. He stated there had been four leaks in this block during the past six years. He recommended a new storm sewer on Sixth st. between State and Arnold avs. and a connection with the Kenney Ave. main to complete the loop. He

County 4-H'ers Competing at Winter Shows

34 Share in Various Demonstrations and Livestock Judging

Thirty-four Pennington county 4-H'ers will be participating in the Red River Valley Winter Shows this week, according to County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk. Two dairy and general judging teams will be taking part today, Monday.

The 4-H'ers are: Dairy teams, Kathy Svendsgaard, Deanna Burtness, Bruce Hanson, Gary Sande, Gary and Wesley Skibicki, Lon Szymanski and Donald Hanson. General teams, Kermit and Peter Solem, Charlotte and Harold Myers, Daniel and Judy Kaushagen, David and Darrold Rodahl.

The teams are coached by Dale Svendsgaard in dairying and Bernard Myers, general judging.

On Monday, Mark Bruggeman of City View Club will also show Holsteins in the futurity show and Ross Hanson of the Silverton club will enter in the Hereford Division.

Kathleen Torgerson of Steiner will compete in the 4-H radio contest at 1:30 p. m. The talks will be aired over KILO Grand Forks radio station.

On Wednesday fifteen county 4-H'ers will present demonstrations, states Home Agent Laura Duerst. The members competing will be: Deanna Burtness, Silverton; Judy Rupprecht, Silverton; Emily Nelson, Silverton; Larry Berggren, Silverton; Florence Arneson, Rocksbuyr; Christine Szymanski, Mavie; Rosemary Leidberg, Mavie; Linda Swanson, Highlanding; Anita Swanson, Highlanding; Sheryl Mousley, Happy Acres; Maureen Mousley, Happy Acres; Faye Stucy, Deer Park; Cathy Mousley, Happy Acres; and Gloria Haugen and Sharon Yonke, St. Hilaire.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Bottem were Sunday afternoon guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Drees, in Red Lake Falls.

TEACHING teachers in the creative arts is the profession of Miss Sigrid Rasmussen, art consultant, who will head a three-day workshop for art teachers beginning Tuesday at Washington elementary school in Thief River Falls. She will assist teachers in learning by doing as they work with water colors, poster paints, finger paints, colored chalks, modeling clay and crayons. Crayon resist with Crayola crayons, shown above, is one of the art techniques which will be taught at the workshop.

Wilbur Hallstrom Has Been Nominated for Title of King Agassiz

Wilbur Hallstrom, who farms 640 acres in Black River township west of St. Hilaire, has been selected as Pennington county's candidate for King agassiz honors at the Red River Valley Winter Shows in Crookston this week. Selection was made by a seven-member judging committee comprised of farm, business and professional people.

Hallstrom has served as vice president of the Pennington County Crop Improvement association for three years and has been a member of that group for 10 years. He is a registered seed grower and also has approximately 150 sheep and 25 head of cattle on his farm.

The 38-year-old farmer is also president of the St. Hilaire Parent and Teacher association, has served as township assessor for 11 years, is a member of the Northwest Farm Management association and Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. Both Hallstrom and his wife were 4-H club members for a number of years and are currently serving as adult leaders. Hallstrom is a past president of the county rural youth organization.

Coronation of King Agassiz of 1962 will take place at 8 p. m. Wednesday in Kiehle auditorium at the Northwest School of Agriculture with the public invited to attend.

Selected as the Red Lake county candidate for the King Agassiz title is Robert Swanson, who farms northwest of Plummer. His farm has one of the most modern dairy setups in this area. He is a member of the Plummer school board, and is active in the Mission Covenant church of St. Hilaire.

Bank Debits Rise Here in January

Bank debits for the month of January in Thief River Falls were six per cent higher than for January of 1961. Bank debits, mainly checks against depositors accounts are looked upon as one of the accepted measurements of business activity.

City and County Share in Taxes on Cigarets & Liquor

Thief River Falls Gets More Than $10,000, While County Receives $7,025

More than $10,000 representing this city's share of state cigaret and liquor taxes for the last half of 1961 was received Friday from the state auditor's office by City Clerk L. H. Thorstenson, while County Treasurer Ellsworth Jorgenson received $7,025.59 as the share due the county and township.

The city of Thief River Falls received $4,076.07 in liquor taxes on the basis of 57 cents per capita, and $6,149.86 in cigaret taxes at the rate of 86 cents per capita. Pennington county received $4,225.18 in cigaret taxes, which goes into the general revenue fund, and $2,800.41 in liquor taxes, which is distributed to the townships on a per capita basis.

For the state as a whole the cigaret tax distribution amounts to $2,935,923, compared to $2,628,675 for the corresponding period of 1960, while liquor taxes total $1,945,902, slightly more than the $1,911,763 distributed a year ago.

P.P. Taxes Due Before March 1

Remittances have been coming in to the county treasurer's office in steadily growing numbers in recent days in payment of 1962 personal property taxes, Ellsworth Jorgenson, treasurer, stated this week. Wednesday, February 28, marked the deadline for paying the tax without imposition of a penalty.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the kitchen of

MRS. JIM THOMPSON

Here is a recipe for a good Sunday dinner that can be baking at a low temperature in the oven while your at church services. Mrs. Thompson and her family prefer venison but she adds that pork chops are very good, too. Why not try it?

CHOPS WITH WILD RICE DRESSING,

- ¾ cup chopped onion
- ¼ cup parsley or celery tops
- ½ cup celery
- 1 can mushrooms
- 3 cups cooked and salted wild rice
- 1 can mushroom soup
- ½ can water

Cook onion in butter until yellow, add mushrooms and celery and brown. Add other ingredients and put into a casserole dish. Brown and season chops. Arrange chops on top of dressing, cover and bake until chops are done—at least one hour.

Mrs. Thompson enjoys knitting and working in the local Homemaker's club. Her husband, Jim, is the clerk at Agassiz Refuge. They have three children; Karan, 14; Lynn, 12; and Wesley, 10; also, a dachshund named Maxine. The Thompsons are members of the Community Methodist church and Mrs. Thompson and Karan are members of the church choir.

TRF Jaycees Induct Ten New Members and Hear Supt. Hankerson

The regular meeting of the TRF Jaycees was held Feb. 15th at the Elks Club with 24 members and two guests present, including Rev. Glen Gronlund and Supt. M. B. Hankerson, the guest speaker. President Ralph Foster called the meeting to order.

James Carlson spoke on the membership kits that were presented to ten new members.

Gene Belto introduced the new members, including Si Giere, Charles Holmquist, Doug Remick, Al Torkelson, Maynard Troland, Leo Wald, Keith Spindler, Jim Tally, Fred Ballou and Leon Iverson. After repeating the pledge together, led by Bene Belto, President Foster presented them with membership kits.

State Director John Elsbrener gave a short report on the bus trip that 19 Jaycee members took to Bemidji to attend the recent winter regional meeting. Bruce Hall stated that the Jaycees are sponsoring a teen-age dance, featuring the Rock-N-Teenbeats, to be held Friday, March 2nd at the city auditorium. Glen Peterson gave a progress report on a wrestling match to be sponsored by the Jaycees some time in March.

Maynard Toland reported that the ice break-up contest began Saturday with a car being placed on the river ice. $100 will be awarded to the person guessing the closest to the time the car goes through the ice. Phil Bergland was given authority to plan the annual Jaycee sponsored FFA Bean-Feed, where the outstanding young farmer award is presented.

John Elsbrener introduced Supt. Hankerson who spoke to the members on the school proposal and bond issue. He presented a summary of predicted enrollment and classroom needs of TRF schools; a program for the improvement of school facilities and a diagrammatic room schedule. Following Mr. Hankerson's talk a lengthy question and answer period was held. The Jaycees showed much interest in the discussion.

POTENTIAL OPERA STARS COMPETE AT U MARCH 1-2

It is within the realm of possibility that a Metropolitan Opera Star may be born in Minneapolis March 2. Upper Midwest Regional Auditions are scheduled for March 1-2 at Northrop Auditorium on the University Campus. Contestants are expected from Iowa, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Wisconsin, our own state, and Manitoba. First place winner gets $300 cash and a trip to New York as guest of the National Council for the Metropolitan Opera to compete in the national finals. A cash award of $200 goes to second place winner, $100 to each of the next two top performers. The two-day contest which will be judged by an imposing battery of Upper Midwest music leaders, is open to the general public without charge and definitely promises some extraordinary musical entertainment for all who are interested.

Mrs. Neal Fox to, Aid Symphony Ball

Named Area Chairman for Minneapolis Orchestra

Mrs. Neal Fox of Thief River Falls has been named an area chairman for the 1962 Symphony Ball to be held at the Hotel Radisson in Minneapolis April 28.

Mrs. Fox will organize hostesses from Thief River Falls for dinner parties preceeding the ball, as well as arrange for groups to attend the benefit. Ball guests from Thief River Falls who wish to do so will be invited to attend dinner at Twin Cities private clubs before the dance. A luncheon for all area chairmen will be given Feb. 20 at the Minnikahda club, Minneapolis.

Hostess will be Mrs. Leonard Lampert, Jr., state dinner party chairman. Mrs. Lampert will point up the tremendous importance that the area chairmen play in the success of this first state-wide Syphony Ball. Guests will hear progress reports on all phases of the ball.

The formal benefit will have as theme "An Evening at Versailles."

Four musical groups will play, including the Minneapolis Symphony. The party is sponsored by the Womens' Association of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, with all profits going to the orchestra. Proceeds from the six previous WAMSO balls have netted over $130,500 for the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra.

Former Plummer Man Named Pastor

Rev. Richard Larson to Serve Bloomington Church

REV. RICHARD LARSON

Rev. Richard Larson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Larson of Plummer, has been selected as pastor of the Glad Tidings Assembly of God Church in Bloomington, Minneapolis suburb. The church, located at 7950 First Avenue South, is one of more than 30 Assemblies of God churches in the Twin City metropolitan area.

Rev. Larson graduated from Plummer High School in 1951, attended the University of North Dakota for two years, and received a B. A. degree in theology from North Central Bible College in 1960. He is currently engaged in securing a M. A. degree in speech from the University of Minnesota.

Mrs. Larson, the former Janice Rood of Thief River Falls, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Rood of this city. The Larsons have two children.

For the past 2½ years, Rev. and Mrs. Larson have been assistant pastor and church organist, respectively, at the Bethel Assemblies of God church, located in south Minneapolis.

Silver Creek Has Church Dedication Sunday Afternoon

Dr. A E. Hanson, president of the northern Minnesota district of The American Lutheran church, was guest speaker at dedication ceremonies of the Silver Creek Lutheran church northeast of Thief River Falls Sunday afternoon. The new church replaces one destroyed by fire last Palm Sunday morning.

In addition to hymns and the message by Rev. Hanson, Scripture readings were taken from I Kings 8, Psalm 84 and 100 and John 17. A vocal solo was presented by Charles Holmquist and Rev. Milton R. Wilson, pastor of the congregation, presided at the service which also included dedication of the church furnishings.

The new structure is 30x48 with a 30x60 parish education addition. It is finished in blonded fir and nearly all the furnishings are new. Ladies of the congregation served lunch following the dedication services. Melvin Torgerson is president of the congregation.

Missionary Will Speak Feb. 22 at Covenant Church

Rev. Austin L. Sorenson, representative of the American Mission to the Greeks, will be the guest speaker at the Mission Covenant Church on Thursday, Feb. 22, at 8 p.m. The service is co-sponsored with the Evangelical Free church of this city.

Rev. Sorenson is heard daily on the broadcast entitled "A Look at the Book," and is well known for his mission work. Slide pictures will be shown, which were taken in Greece during his recent trip to the Middle East.

The public is invited to attend. A free will offering will be received for the American Mission To Greeks Inc.

SWEET IS THE TASTE of the fruits of victory. This taste was extremely sweet Friday night as I was privileged to accept for the Times the top state award for agricultural news coverage at the state press convention in Minneapolis. To many this may seem insignificant—but not to me.

The William P. Kirkwood Memorial award is presented to the winner of a contest in which all of the state's 421 nespapers are automatically entered. Issues are selected at random during the year and not submitted by the newspaper firms themselves. First place is a rating not easily attained. I believe the Times can be justifiably proud.

But pride is vanity unless tempered with humility. It is with humility that we at the Times accept this award. Our sincere thanks go to the many persons who have cooperated to make it possible—extension service, SCS, ASC, FHA, PCA, creameries, dairy groups, county fair, elevators, Chamber of Commerce, livestock groups, FFA, vocational school, farm organizations, individual farmers—and many more. Without any one of them the first place rating would be impossible.

With information gleaned at the convention, we hope to make the Times a better newspaper for all concerned in 1962. Since agriculture is our major "industry" in this area, it will be treated as such in coming issues. We will continue to appreciate your cooperation and assistance in covering farm news well.

According to rumors I hear about early childhood, Abraham Lincoln and "Stream" Olson have a lot in common. The story is told that "Stream" was an avid trapper of pocket gophers during his early days in Holt because each tail he turned in to Bob Lund, former Holt banker and now local insurance man, brought a two cent payment.

One day the trap line yielded an especially long gopher tail, and enterprising "Stream" cut it in half and presented the two pieces for a handsome four cent bounty. The story does not say whether "Stream" had a change of heart or his father discovered the fraud, but it does say that our hero walked all the way from his home back to the bank to refund the two cent overpayment.

And I cant resist telling the tale of the drivers license examiner who was giving a road test to a comely, if elderly lady. They drove into the country where traffic was light in order to test for turning ability. "All right, now pull over and stop," the examiner demanded. A knowing light came into the lady's eyes as she indignantly replied, "I most certainly will not, young man!"

ON PATIENCE AND PERSISTENCE

Rush and fret and worry seems
To be the daily diet
Of those who in life's swollen stream
Seek solitude and quiet.

For if you don't get this done first
Then that cannot be done,
And so a sudden frenzied burst
Keeps people on the run.

Now, while persistence pay, 'tis said,
And there is some truth in it,
You may more quickly move ahead
If you can pause a minute.

With just a little time for thought
To view the situation,
Impossibilities are wrought
To utter devastation.

To prove this will you only give
A thought, for me it pleases
To carry water in a sieve
By waiting 'til it freezes.

Talent Festival at Winter Shows Set for Tuesday

Area Young People to Compete for Prizes at Crookston High School

A popular event at the Red River Valley Winter Shows, Crookston, is the Talent Festival for youth, sponsored jointly by the Winter Shows board of managers and the Crookston Junior Chamber of Commerce. The festival this year will be held on Tuesday evening, February 20, at 8 o'clock in the Central high school auditorium, Crookston.

Ken Kennedy, program and production manager of WDAY-TV, Fargo, N. Dak., will audition the talent numbers during the afternoon of Tuesday and will serve as master of ceremonies for the evening program. The top numbers that have been auditioned during the afternoon and selected will appear on the evening program at 8 o'clock. There are cash prizes for top awards.

According to the general cochairman for this event, Ralph Taylor and Dwayne Gunderson of the Crookston Jaycees, entries are running ahead of last year.

The Central High School Concert Orchestra of Crookston, directed by Lloyd Lee, will play a one-half hour concert as a part of the program. Admission will be $1.00, adults; 75 cents, teen-agers; 50 cents for children under 12 years of age.

2 Workshops for Teachers of the Retarded Are Set

Mankato State college today announced plans to hold two workshops concerned with the teaching of the mentally retarded during the coming summer months.

The first will be held at the Owatonna and Faribault State Schools, June 6-9. It will carry two hours of undergraduate or graduate credit and is designed primarily for teachers who will be teaching classes for the educable and trainable next fall.

The college's second workshop will be held on the Mankato State campus July 18-21 and will also involve two hours of undergraduate or graduate credit.

Preliminary registrations for the workshops are now open and are being accepted at the college.

Snow, Salt, Grit Damages Carpets

Your family is bound to track snow, salt and grit into the house this winter. These can damage your carpet if you dont take immediate action.

Melting snow and ice that penetrate the carpet backing create yellow or brown stains. They could even cause mildew. Salt used to clear streets of ice and snow attracts moisture, causing brown stains, a white crust on the carpet pile and fading. Grit works down into the carpet and cuts the fibers.

It's best, of course, to remove tracked-in snow and ice before it melts. But if it should melt on the carpet, blot up the moisture as soon as possible. Spread cloths or paper tissues over the spot and weight them down. Change them often until all the moisute is absorbed. Remove grit and salt immediately with the vacuum cleaner.

To prevent permanent damage, have rugs and carpets cleaned as soon as possible after winter soiling.

Furniture Seal of Integrity

If you're shopping for furniture, look for a little bronze-color seal with interlocking circles, each no bigger than a half dollar. This little seal of its counterpart on a furniture tag has real meaning for consumers.

One of the circles bears the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers insignia; the other has the words "Seal of Integrity" and "Manufacturer Warranted." The seal or tag signifies that the furniture was produced by a manufacturer licensed to sell under the NAFM's new Seal of Integrity program.

Each warranty statement directs the customer to report any defect to the dealer who sold the furniture. The statement also authorized the dealer to make all necessary arrangements for adjustment with the manufacturer. The warranty covers "defects in workmanship, material and construction for a reasonable length of time."

The Seal of Integrity program is the manufacturer's answer to the customer's cry for assurance that the furniture she buys is a good sound product, and that if anything is wrong, the manufacturer will correct it if he is at fault.

Elegance Keynotes '62 Furniture

Three main style categories in furniture introduced last summer—Modern, Provincial (both early American and French) and Italian Classic—will again be shown in a variety of design detail and price span.

Decorators have been hailing a new era of elegance in furnishings and decoration since 1958. But it is only within the past three years that furniture adopting some of the classic lines and featuring rich textured fabrics and finer woods has come within the price range of the average home owner.

INCOME TAX ADVICE

By Minnesota State Bar Assn.

Charitable Contributions and Interest

(This is the eleventh in a series of articles on income taxes made available as a public service by the Minnesota State Bar Association, Public Relations Committee.)

You may deduct contributions made by you in cash or other property to organizations operated for religious, charitable, literary, educational or scientific purposes. This is another of the itemized personal deductions available to you. However, you cannot deduct contributions which you make, no matter how charitable your intentions, to needy relatives or to other individuals, social clubs, labor unions, or other such organizations.

On your Federal return, contributions to political organizations or to candidates for political office are non-deductible, while on your Minnesota return, you may deduct such donations up to $100.

You need not make a donation of cash in order to obtain a charitable contribution deduction. In fact, you can often afford to make a larger contribution to charity because the law permits you to deduct the fair value of the property you donate to charity, whether or not this amount exceeds the price you paid for the property, with no requirement that you report the increase in value as income to yourself.

For example, if you have a share of stock which cost you $50 and is presently worth $100, you can give the share to a charitable organization and take a $100 deduction. If you sold the stock and gave the cash as a charitable donation, it would be necessary for you to pay an income tax on the $50 profit. By giving the stock to charity you get a $100 deduction and pay no tax.

You are also entitled to deduct as a charitable contribution the fair value of new or used clothing, toys, and other articles which you give to charity and also expenses which you incur for travel and transportation in serving a charitable organization. You cannot, however, deduct as a charitable contribution the value of your time which is donated.

On your Federal return, your charitable deduction is limited to 20 per cent of adjusted gross income. However, where one-third of the total charitable deduction is for donations to churches, educational organizations and hospitals, you are entitled to deduct a maximum of 30 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

On your Minnesota return, the deduction is limited to 20 per cent of your taxable net income before the credit for contributions.

Interest expense is deductible in full from your tax return. This expense is often a substantial part of your monthly mortgage payments on your home.

If you are buying a car or other property or appliances on time, a portion of your time purchase price and monthly payment will normally be interest expense. Where the amount of interest expense is not clear or where the time carrying charge includes other charges such as for insurance on your life, you may estimate the interest charge by determining your average monthly balance during the year and multiplying this amount by 6 per cent if this amount does not exceed the total carrying charge for the year. It is, of course, preferable to obtain the actual amount of interest which you pay because most running accounts or time charges are based upon substantially higher interest rates than 6 per cent.

(This column, based on Minnesota and Federal law, is written to inform, not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of a trained expert who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Policeman Dead, Youth Wounded in Gun Battle

immediately, according to police reports.

He then turned the desk over to Patrolman Irving Swanson after calling Miramontes to pick him up at the station. The two, with Miramontes driving, then went to the Wangberg home at Main av. and Seventh st. Rev. Wangberg and another son were in the yard and Rev. Wangberg pointed out to the officers Paul in the act of backing the Wangberg car out of the garage.

Myers and Miramontes attempted to head off the youth, who then rammed the squad car, causing slight damage, before he roared off in reverse to LaBree av., then drove up to Thirteenth st. where he turned west and again turned north on Main av. to leave town on hwy. 32.

Rev. Wangberg had warned the officers Paul was armed with a hunting rifle before they gave chase. They stayed close behind the boy as he drove about 60 mph toward Holt, and they made several attempts to stop him but with no success. Just south of Holt, Miramontes said, Myers took Miramontes' revolver and fired a couple of warning shots into the air to no avail. Myers had not brought his own gun along, having left it at the desk when he rushed to answer the call.

During the chase the officers had radioed back to the station to notify officers there of the situation and Police Chief Elton Cummings and Sheriff Charles R. Richards then left the city to aid in the arrest of the boy. At the same time, Marshall county Sheriff Oscar Erickson had also been called and he started out from Argyle toward Newfolden on old highway 59.

As the chase continued north of Holt, the two officers discussed a plan of apprehension once they got Wangberg stopped, Miramontes said. As they neared the Newfolden cut-off on old 59, Wangberg braked and pulled into deep snow on the right side of the road and the officers pulled alongside. Myers jumped out of the squad car on the right side and Miramontes out the left as Wangberg left the right side of the Wangberg car and leveled the rifle at the officers over the top of the car.

Myers ran around the rear of the Wangberg car with Miramontes' revolver drawn and then, Miramontes said, he heard three shots, two almost simultaneously, and a third very quickly following.

Miramontes related that when he ran around the front of the Wangberg car he found Myers slumped over the fallen Wangberg, who was screaming he had been shot. Kicking the two guns out of Wangberg's reach, he rolled Myers body over to see how seriously he had been wounded, as he was bleeding profusely from a chest wound near the armpit.

One of two cars which stopped at the scene shortly after the shooting brought Myers' body to Northwestern hospital, after which Cummings and Richards arrived on the scene, as did Erickson, and Wangberg was put into the squad car and brought to the hospital by Cummings and Miramontes. He was taken into surgery for treatment for his wounds and later Sunday morning was placed under arrest for murder by Erickson and a guard was placed over him.

Miramontes, who was badly shaken by the turn of events, was then sent to the police station where he was questioned concerning the shooting and a full report on the matter, as related here, was released to newsmen late Sunday. A more brief report had been released early Sunday morning for radio newscasts and wire services.

Sheriff Erickson said late Sunday a coroner's jury has been called to convene to view the body this afternoon.

Myers had served on the police force here for over seven years and was promoted to sergeant late in 1960. The well-liked policeman was a Legionnaire, a mess sergeant in the local National guard and a member of Zion Lutheran church, as well as other local organizations. Funeral services have been set for 2 p. m. Thursday at Zion Lutheran church with Rev. Leland Steen officiating. Green Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements and a complete obituary will be published in Thursday's Times.

Paul Wangberg graduated from Lincoln high school in 1961 and attended Concordia college last fall but had quit. He captained the LHS wrestling team last year. He had had trouble with police once earlier, during the 1961 Pennington county fair, when he engaged in a fight over a girl and then attacked officers who attempted to break up the fight. His leg was broken and he had a wound near the waist from the shooting.

Rev. Wangberg, in a telephone interview Sunday night, told the Times reporter that Paul has displayed signs of mental disturbance at various times and that the family was deeply concerned about it. It was their broaching the subject to Paul which touched off the tragedy.

City Council Sets Hearings Friday Evening, March 2

estimated this cost at $8,100. Hearings on these proposals will be held at the March 2 meeting.

Stewart also discussed the program for state aid streets. He estimated the cost of completing the 1961 and 1962 projects at $105,000. This year's state aid will be $26,100 he said.

The Council will hold its regular meeting Tuesday night, February 20.

Tom Mehegan, 55, Formerly of TRF, Dies at G. Forks

Thomas Mehegan, 55, died Wednesday at his home in Grand Forks. Funeral services were held at 9:30 a. m. Saturday at St. Mary's Catholic Church, with Rev. David Boyle officiating. Burial will be in the spring at the Community Cemetery, Fertile, Minn.

Mr. Mehegan was born March 17, 1906, at Wahpeton. He attended the State School of Science at Wahpeton, the University of North Dakota and the University of Minnesota.

He was married to Pearl Johnsrud at Thief River Falls on Jan. 3, 1938. They operated hotels there and at Kewaunee, Wis., and Green Bay, Wis., before coming to Grand Forks in 1957. Mr. Mehegan had been employed recently as a sales man at Ruettell's Cothing in Grand Forks.

Surviving are his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Donald J. (Kathryn) Johnson, Grand Forks, and a granddaughter. His parents, a brother and a sister preceded him in death.

In 1938 he was president of the Rotary Club at Thief River Falls.

Beltrami County Board Postpones P. P. Tax Hearing

County commissioners of Beltrami county have decided to postpone indefinitely the public hearing in regard to assessment of household goods, to allow time for further study of this problem, due to the fact that persons and organizations which had asked the change have now requested such postponement. This means that the hearing previously set for February 23rd will not be held, said Wayne Alsop, Beltrami county auditor.

Pennington GOP Convention Set Friday, March 9

Arrangements Are Made at County Caucus Held in Court House Thursday

At a county caucus of Republicans, held in the meeting room of the court house Thursday night, it was agreed that the county convention will be held Friday evening, March 9. The place will be announced later.

David Stenseth, GOP 7th district field man, spoke of the need for more intensive organization work and recommended a system of block workers for a survey and registration of conservative voters. He stated that Edward G. Bayuk of White Bear Lake, will be in the district at the time set for the county convention and probably would be available as a speaker. Mr. Stenseth was asked to extend the invitation in behalf of the county organization.

All present at the caucus were named as delegates to the county convention and it was decided that the convention would be open to all Republicans. Stanley Mortenson presided and Mrs. Robert Bredeson acted as secretary.

Youth Held for Theft of Vehicle in St. Louis, Mo.

A former Thief River Falls resident is in custody here after two local policemen, Richard Nelson and Bennie Miramontes, early Saturday checked out the car with Missouri license plates which he was driving and discovered it had been stolen.

Nelson and Miramontes saw the car pull away from the curb in the 300 block of Main av. North and stopped it shortly after 2 a. m. Saturday. The driver, Leigh E. Grindeland, who has been living in Grand Forks and Missouri since leaving here, was discovered to have been driving a stolen vehicle and is being held for St. Louis, Mo., authorities.

He is also wanted by the FBI for alleged violation of the Dyer act relating to the interstate transportation of stolen cars.

TALL TEAMS FAVORED IN HS BB TOURNAMENT

Counting the two regional games that each of the eight basketball tournament teams will be playing, and the seven games the winners will play in the finals, the average winning score has been above 60. The 1959 title went to Wayzata after the lowest-scoring year in the previous twenty—the highest score of the season was only 68, yet the average was above 60. So there can be little doubt, concludes Analyst Art Johlfs, that the 1962 champ must be a strong 60-point team. So who is it? If height is a factor in scoring, then Bloomington, Virginia, Sauk Centre, Crosby-Ironton, Ramsey, Silver Bay, Truman, Austin, Jackson, Osakis, Watertown, Oslo (averaging 67 to opponents' 37), Duluth East, Minneapolis Central, Lamberton, and Roosevelt (nine players over 6-3), Howard Lake, Glencoe, Wheaton, Crookston, and Albert Lea are all very much in the running. Although Brainerd and Austin had suffered crippling injuries, they are going strong, Brainerd having topped 100 in four different games and one of their boys, Brown, writing history with more than 40 points in one game. Johlfs thinks Brainerd will meet the Region 5 team, and he picks Danube or Granite Falls to play Bemidji. Regions 2 and 4 are running real darkhorses thus far.

Thursday's Snow Brings Total to 32 Inches in '62

Sub-Zero Temperatures Predominant in Record of Last Week's Weather

Snowfall here since January 1 has amounted to 32 inches, which gives us quite a heap of the white shovel filler—but we've had to handle only a little of it at a time. When one considers that Sioux Falls, S. D., received 30 inches from Friday until Sunday, perhaps our lot hasn't been so bad after all. The most we've had in one snowfall this winter was last Thursday's 6.2 inches of the fluffy white stuff.

No doubt, however, most of us would gladly let Sioux Falls have the honor of the most snow in one storm, plus the subzero temperatures we've had in recent weeks.

The day-to-day temperature record since Thursday is as follows: Thursday, high 29, low 16, with 6.2 inches of snow; Friday, 27 and -10; Saturday, 10 and -21; Sunday, 16 and -9, and the low this morning was -8.

The forecast is for variable cloudiness and little temperature change today, scattered light snow, partly cloudy and colder tonight, variable cloudiness and colder Tuesday.

The high today will be 10 to 20 and tonight's low from 10 below to 5 above.

TRF Professional Engineers Attend State Meetings

Minnesota's professional engineers will observe this week, Feb. 19-24, as Engineer's Week, along with engineers all over the nation, during the state convention in St. Paul, according to Joseph Seidel, county engineer.

Seidel said the convention will get under way at the St. Paul Hotel today when the meeting of state highway engineers convenes. Other societies will hold meetings thruout the week, he stated.

Attending the convention from Thief River Falls, in addition to Seidel, are Douglas Stewart, consulting engineer; and Ervin Pearson and Allen Wynemer, state highway dept. project engineers.

TRF People Visit Augsburg College

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hanson, Thief River Falls, attended Parents Day at Augsburg College in Minneapolis Saturday, February 10. Their son, Phil, is a junior at Augsburg. Over 600 parents visited the college for a day of campus tours, departmental demonstrations and faculty visits. Parents were also guests of the college for a band concert and basketball game.

PULP WOOD totaling about 550 cords was stacked along the Soo Line tracks at the south edge of the city when this photo was taken last week. The pulp is cut to 100-inch lengths by crews employed by Herbert Holthusen, Grygla, and is contracted for by St. Regis Paper company of Sartell. The crew of up to 10 men has worked since the first of the year and will have about 700 cords cut by the end of the month when operations will cease. The wood is entirely spruce and comes from the area 45 miles east, eight miles north and 12 miles east of Thief River Falls. It will be stored here until called for by the company, probably sometime this summer. A cord of wood is a pile four feet high, four feet wide and eight feet long.

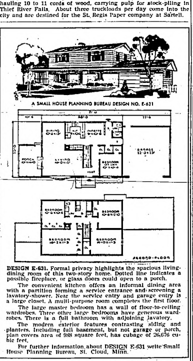
HEADING the pulp cutting crew which will take about 700 cords of spruce for pulp this winter 65 miles northeast of Thief River Falls is Herbert Holthusen, owner of Holthusen Construction company of Grygla. His family has been in the timber business in this area since before the turn of the century. He currently has two semi-trailer trucks, capable of hauling 10 to 11 cords of wood, carrying pulp for stock-piling in Thief River Falls. About three truckloads per day come into the city and are destined for the St. Regis Paper company at Sartell.



A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. E-631

DESIGN E-631. Formal privacy highlights the spacious living-dining room of this two-story home. Dotted line indicates a possible fireplace, or glass doors could open to a porch.

The convenient kitchen offers an informal dining area with a partition forming a service entrance and screening a lavatory-shower. Near the service entry and garage entry is a large closet. A multi-purpose room completes the first floor.

The large master bedroom has a wall of floor-to-ceiling wardrobes. Three other large bedrooms have generous wardrobes. There is a full bathroom with adjoining lavatory.

The modern exterior features contrasting siding and planters. Including full basement, but not garage or porch, plan covers area of 988 square feet, has cubage of 26,676 cubic feet.

For further information about DESIGN E-631 write Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Precinct Caucus Reminder Issued by DFL Chairman

Charles Kotaska, Pennington county DFL chairman, today reminded party members that precinct caucuses will be conducted thruout the county Tuesday evening, February 27, at 8 p. m. for the purpose of electing delegates to the county convention. The townships and villages will hold caucuses in their own communities, while in Thief River Falls all five wards will caucus jointly in the basement of the Eagles Hall.

Crookston City Council Calls for End to P.P. Tax

The Crookston city council Tuesday made formal recommendation to the Polk county board of commissioners for the abolishment of the personal property tax on household goods. The council unanimously approved the resolution which requests the county board to remove household goods from personal property assessment. The move was the result of a recent meeting of county and city finance officers called after many complaints were made on recently published personal property tax lists.

No Serious Traffic Accidents Repored

City police reported today that no traffic mishaps of major nature have occurred in the city over the weekend. While there were five minor collisions or other mishaps, damages in every case amounted to less than $50 per car and lack of space prevents publishing a record of individual mishaps.

VA REPRESENTATIVE AT GRAND FORKS FEB. 23RD

Due to the fact that Thursday, February 22nd is a legal holiday, the representative of the Veterans Administration will be at the Grand Forks postoffice Friday of next week, February 23 instead of Thursday. The change of day is for this one week only. Future visits by the VA Representative will be on Thursday.

SOME REASONS WHY STATE IS IN DEBT

According to figures from the office of State Auditor Stafford King, Minnesotas bonded debt in 1960 was $202,957,607. Payable from property taxes is 67.17 per cent of the total for university, state colleges, and state buildings, 7.98 per cent for rural credit deficiency, 2.14 per cent for seaway property conversion, .62 per cent for school aid debt service, and .21 per cent for state parks; leaving 21.88 per cent of the total bonded debt for state trunk highways, payable from special sources. Non-dedicated general revenue fund was at a 6-year high of $20,667,594 in 1958, and was $5,984,109 "in the red" in 1960, while the school fund slipped from a little above $45 million in 1955 to nearly a quarter million deficit in 1960, according to Minnesota Taxpayers analysis of state budget figures.

Northrop Indians	1	4	.200

Result of Wednesday's Game:
Washington, 18, at Knox, 23.

Schedule, Wednesday, Feb. 21
Northrop at Washington, 4:15

The city grade school basketball schedule for the 1961-62 season will be concluded on Wednesday afternoon when the Northrop Indians meet the Washington Wildcats on the Washington court.

The grade school championship was clinched last week by coach Roger Dorn's Knox Tigers, who scored a 23-18 win over Washington to nail down the title. The Knox team led all the way in their title-clinching tilt against Washington, holding a 14-10 margin at the intermission. Paul Ihle and Stan Sjoberg scored 8 points apiece, while Brian Nelson tallied 7 points to lead the Knox scoring. Glenn Nelson and Sid Brouse had 6 points each for coach Rox Max's Wildcats.

The summary:

Knox (23)

4-H CLUB NEWS

Steiner 4-H

The Steiner 4-H club held its monthly meeting January 16. Bruce Russell called the meeting or order. Secretarys report was read and approved. New business was the radio speaking contest. It was decided to have a window display during 4-H Club Week.

Community singing was led by Mrs. Eddie Anderson and a demonstration was given by Kermit Solem on making a manger knot. Two vocal selections were presented by a trio of girls, Kathleen Torgerson, Karen and Lorna Moe. A project talk on safety by Shirley Fuller, demonstration on using a portable motor by David Halvorson and slides and talk by Jim Thompson, clerk at the Aggassiz National Wildlife refuge, completed the program.

Lunch was served by Alfred Solem's and LaVern Rondorf.

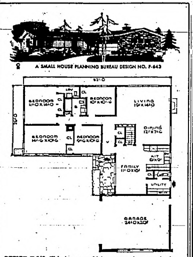
Nature is a great equalizer. About the time a man loses his punch, he gains a paunch.— Successful Farming magazine.



DESIGN F-643. This home could be arranged on a suburban plot, a city or corner lot. For a narrow plot, garage door and windows can exchange places, permitting a straight driveway.

The utility area serves as laundry, mud room and outside entrance. There is lots of work and cabinet space, appliances, even a dishwasher in the kitchen and a large family room.

All four bedrooms have floor-to-ceiling wardrobe closets. The master bedroom has its own adjoining lavatory. The hall bath has a vanity-lavatory.

A covered garage passage opens to central vestibule. Natural stone covers three walls of garage, extends to a wainscot under bedroom windows, combines with vertical siding. Floor area is 1652 square feet; cubage, 30,231 cubic feet (not including garage).

For further information on DESIGN F-643, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Savannah Is Ready to Go

The NS Savannah, first atomic-powered cargo-passenger ship, is ready for sea trials, reports the Atomic Engery Commission and the Maritime Administration. The nuclear reactor of the sleek 595-foot vessel has been loaded with 17,000 pounds of uranium fuel, enough to power the ship for 3½ years. Extraordinary precautions will be taken to insure safe operation before this unique ship goes into service. First trials will take place at Camden, N. J., where the keel was laid May 22, 1958. Then the ship goes to Yorktown, Va. for further wringing out. Finally a New York maritime firm will operate the Savannah for the government on an 18-month trial period. During this time the ship will carry 10,000 tons of cargo and about 60 passengers on visits to major U. S. and foreign ports. More than 4,000 subcontractors and suppliers collaborated on the construction of the Mercury spacecraft.

The earth is an endless source of heat. Enough is contained in a cylinder of earth 100 feet deep and 30 feet in diameter to warm the average home for a year. . . . Chicks, in a California project designed to discover how long it takes the young to identify themselves with a parent, are being "mothered" by a plastic duck wired for sound.

Disease killed two-thirds of the 360,222 Union Army soldiers who died in the Civil War, reports Dr. Roy Williams in "Medical Affairs". About 258,000 Confederates died, 94,000 in combat.

Parking privileges for physically handicapped workers are now being granted by law. The National Society for Crippled Children and Adults estimates that there are 4,000,000 orthopedically handicapped persons in the U. S., and that 2,500,000 of them would benefit by being able to park closer to their jobs. A Chicago chemist, Dr. Rolf Ehrmann of Chemetron, spends hours of his spare time encouraging the spread of such legislation; he reports that seven states now give workers, on medical certification, the right to obtain special windshield stickers or plates.

Oldest brides and bridegrooms in the world are in Ireland, according to the the Population Reference Bureau. Irishmen average 31.4 years of age when they marry, their brides 26.5 Marriage partners are youngest in India: 20 years for grooms, 14.5 for brides.

Bug-eating bugs can be a powerful ally in man's battle against insect pests, says the Department of Biological Control, University of California. Studies at the school show, for example, that the typhlodromus mite feasts happily on the cyclamen mite—one of the worst enemies of strawberry growers — but leaves the fruit alone.

JEROME MYHRER FINISHES COURSE IN CARPENTRY

Jerome Myhrer completed the prescribed course in carpentry at the Thief River Falls area vocational school Friday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Myhrer of Rustad addition, and will be employed with his father.

Appearing in newspapers of the Minnesota Editorial Association through the cooperation of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture

Eroded topsoil moving to lower land smothered crops and made it hard to get around with a tractor on a 40-acre problem field near the farm of Ted and Anton Alleven, Winnebago. The first year the Allevens operated the forty it was seeded down. With the help of County Agent James V. Johnson, the Allevens laid out about three acres of 30-foot wide waterways, then plowed all but the waterways. Harlan L. Johnsrud, area soils agent, says the Allevens figure grassed waterways are much easier to cross than ditches — and they no longer need worry about the crops below getting covered with topsoil from the hillside.

Russel Anderson's cows no longer stand bawling at the farmstead gate at two or three in the afternoon. Since Anderson installed a watering pit in the pasture across the road from his buildings last summer his cows drink when they want to, milk production and peace of mind have increased and Anderson's anxiety and concern have been relieved. Anderson, who farms in the Pine County Soil Conservation District, has built a second pit in another pasture, making it easier to graze his young stock there. Both pits were constructed with the assistance of SCS technician Ron Bergum and through the ACP cost-sharing program.

Planting corn to control wind erosion—that's the story from Norman County, where potato farmer Bennitt Aarestad set out to protect his open potato land from wind erosion during the winter. According to Soil Conservation Agent Curtis G. Klint, Aarestad started by planting 2-row field windbreaks. Because of weed problems between the rows he switched to single row belts of Manchurian elm at 40-row intervals. To provide wind protection while the trees are small he plants 2 rows of corn at every 64th or 80th potato row. The corn can be picked or left as food for wildlife.

Remember this in 16 months: USDA estimates that full conservation programs will have been developed for 1¼ million farms by mid-1963.

Bond Sales Here $8,681 in January

Sales of Series E and H Savings Bonds in Minnesota in January totaled $6,491,276, this was 16.8 per cent lower than the sales for the same month last year. Sales of Series E and H Bonds in Pennington county totaled $8,681, according to J. M. Roche, chairman.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear son and brother Clifford N. Kalstrand who passed away five years ago Feb. 18, 1957. Dear Clifford, You are not forgotten, Though on earth you are no more, Still in memory you are with us, As you always were before, Days of sadness still come over us, Tears in silence often flow, Memory keeps him ever near us, Though he left us five years ago. Sadly missed by his father, Peter Kalstrand, brothers and sisters. 1t15p

In District Court
Ninth Judicial District

Leslie O. Flage, Plaintiff,
-vs-
Sarah C. Weirt also all other persons unknown claiming any right, title, estate, interest or lien in the real estate described in the Complaint herein, Defendants.

SUMMONS

The State of Minnesota to the above-named Defendants:

You and each of you are hereby summoned and required to serve upon plaintiff's attorney an answer to the complaint which is on file in the office of the clerk of the above-named court within twenty (20) days after service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of service. If you fail to do so, judgment by default will be taken against you for the relief demanded in the complaint.

This action involves, affects, or brings in question real property situated in the County of Pennington, State of Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit:

Northeast Quarter of Southeast Quarter (NE¼ SE¼) of Section Twenty-three (23); and North Half of Southwest Quarter (N½ SW¼) and Southeast Quarter of Southwest Quarter (SE¼ SW¼) of Section Twenty-four (24); all in Township One Hundred Fifty-two (152) North, Range Forty-four (44) West of the 5th Principal Meridian.

The object of this action is to obtain the judgment of the court determining plaintiff's title and all adverse claims to the above described tracts of land, adjudging that the plaintiff is the owner in fee simple, absolute, and entitled to the possession of said tract of land, and the whole thereof, adjudging that defendants in said action, and each of them, have no right, title, claim, interest or estate in or to said tract of land or lien thereon, and adjudging such other relief as the Court shall deem proper.

Dated February 7, 1962.

Order for Hearing on Petition to Determine Descent

State of Minnesota,
County of Pennington—ss.
IN PROBATE COURT

IN RE ESTATE OF Margaret Carlson, Decedent.

Jessie M. Mac Lean having filed in this Court a petition representing, among other things, that said decedent died intestate more than five years prior to the filing thereof, leaving certain property in Pennington County, Minnesota, and that no will of said decedent has been proved, nor administration of her estate granted, in this State and praying that the descent of said property be determined and that it be assigned to the persons entitled thereto;

IT IS ORDERED, That the hearing thereof be had on March 13th, 1962 at 10:00 o'clock A.M., before this Court, in the Probate Court Room, in the Court House, in Thief River Falls, Minnesota, and that notice hereof be given by the publication of this order in the Thief River Falls Times and by mailed notice as provided by law.

Dated February 19th, 1962.

HERMAN A. KJOS,
Probate Judge.

(Probate Court Seal)
STANLEY N. MORTENSON,
Attorney for Petitioner,
Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

Feb. 19

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT Whereas, A Certificate was, on the 6th day of February, 1962, presented to the County Board of Pennington County, Minnesota, executed by the Clerk of Common school district No. 1561, stating that a Resolution had been adopted by the school board of said district on the 22nd day of January, 1962, and that pursuant to the provisions of said resolution, an election was held on the 2nd day of February, 1962, on the question of dissolving said school district, and that a majority of the votes cast at said election were in favor of dissolving said school district and having the territory embraced therein attached to Independent District No. 445 of Viking of Marshall County.

NOW THEREFORE IT IS ORDERED, That a hearing be held on said Certification at a meeting of said Board at the Court House in the City of Thief River Falls in said County on Tuesday the 6th day of March, 1962, at 1:30 o'clock P.M., at which time and place this Board will hear all persons interested, and their evidence and arguments, for and against dissolving said Common school district No. 1561, of Pennington County, Minnesota.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of said hearing be given by the publication of this order for one week prior to said hearing in the newspaper known as the Thief River Falls Times, published and printed in said County, by the posting of copies thereof in Common school district No. 1561, proposed to be dissolved, at least ten days before said day of hearing, and by the mailing of copies thereof to the Clerk of the above named school district and to the Clerk of each adjoining school district and the Commissioner of Education, etc., at least ten days before said day of hearing, as provided by law.

The County Board of Pennington County, Minnesota.

By GLENN TASA,
Chairman

Attest: C. W. Rolskuhr,
County Auditor.

QUESTIONS Answered for VETERANS

Q—How many veterans of the U. S. Armed Forces are women?

A There are about 416,000 women veterans of wartime service and some 34,000 women veterans with peacetime service only.

Q As a Spanish-American War veteran with 87 days of active duty I draw the service pension based on 70-days service. I think the new laws adding travel time home to the service time will qualify me for the 90-day service pension. How do I apply for this?

A The VA is now reviewing all cases where Spanish-American War veterans on the rolls for the 70-day service pension may now qualify for the 90-day pension. After a reasonable time, if you do not hear from the VA, write the Veterans Benefits Office, Munitions Bldg., Washington 25, D. C. Be sure to give your claim number. Your branch of the service will certify where you were separated and how much travel time it should have taken you to reach your home by the most direct route.

Q How must I report the interest on U. S. Savings Bonds as part of my income?

A You may refrain from reporting the interest until you cash in the bonds or you may report the interest annually.

Q—I would be entitled to go to vocational school under the War Orphans Education Act but I have married. Does that bar me?

A Marriage does not bar an eligible orphan from taking advantage of this Federal benefit.

Prowler Quint Loses to E. G. Forks, Fertile

The Prowler varsity basketball squad dropped a pair of decisions during last week's play. In a district conference game played at East Grand Forks on Friday night, coach Larry Selk's East Siders marked up a 61-41. And on Satuurday night, on the local court, coach Dick Werdahl's Fertile Falcons of District 30, rallied in the fourth period to overtake the Prowlers and score a 47-43 win.

The Prowlers will conclude their 1961-62 schedule this weekend, playing the Warren Ponies at Warren on Friday night in a district conference game, and then closing out the schedule by hosting the Halstad Pirates of District 30 here on Saturday night.

Playing at East Grand Forks on Friday night the locals were outpointed, 36-21, in the first half as the Little Green Wave, with burly Dennis Adair hitting on seven field goals and sharpshooting Don Blue notched five field goals and a pair of free throws, took control of the game.

In the first period, the East Siders held a 17-9 margin, with the Prowler scoring being limited to Tom Lindberg's three field goals and a free throw, and John Aune's field goal. In the second period, the East Siders racked up nine field goals and a free throw while the Prowlers could hit on but three field goals, and tallied six points on free throws.

Dennis Adair, with twelve field goals for 24 points, w the game's high-point player. Th Prowlers' Tom Lindberg, with 19 points, earned runner-up honors. Don Blue chipped in 18 points for the East Siders to be the only other player to reach double figures.

After trailing throughout the first three periods, the Fertile Falcons, in a fourth period rally that was sparked by the five-point output of forward Ron Newell, overcame the Prowler margin to edge out the locals, 47-43, in an interdistrict game played here Saturday night.

The Prowlers jumped off to an 11-3 lead midway in the first period and a 14-9 margin at the period stop. Fertile, picking up eight points from the free throw line, pared the Prowler lead to one point at the intermission, 22-21.

In the third period, the Falcons, with 4:39 to play, evened the game at 25-all on Jim Overland's jump shot. But the Prowlers, on field goals by Paul Klungness, John Aune, and Tom Lindberg, moved ahead to a six-point lead.

That lead was short-lived as Fetile, on pair of field goals by Dale Erickson and two free throws by Newell, knotted the game at 31-all with 2:08 to play in the quarter. Lindberg, with a field goal and free throw, gave the Prowlers a three-point lead, 34-31, as the period ended.

Lindberg opened the fourth period by notching a pair of free throws, but Fetile's Newell, with a pair of field goals and a free throw, evened the game at 36-36 with 5:30 to play. Paul Sannes, scoring on a rebound, pushed the Falcons into the lead for the first time, and from then on the Fertile club, playing control ball tactics, were able to boost their lead to 47-39 with 1:18 to play. In the final minute, field goals by Wayne Bjerken and Klungness pared the Falcons' margin to 47-43.

Ardell Liden Rink Top Winner in Bonspiel

For the first time in six-year history of the States-Dominion bonspiel, a local rink, the Ardell Liden quartet, was successful in winning the first event honors. In the finals match, which was concluded on Sunday evening, the Liden rink defeated the A. W. (Bill) Johnson rink of Grand Forks, 8-5, for the top honors.

In the second event finals, the Bob Watson rink of Winnipeg defeated the Jerry Smith rink, also of Winnipeg, in an extra-end match. On the Watson rink, Moe Simonvick threw the lead rocks, Gordy Earl was second, Frank Cancilla at third, and Watson at skip.

In the third event finals, the Jimmy Doyle rink of Winnipeg defeated the local club's Harold Halvorson rink for the event title. On the Doyle quartet, Claude Laurie was at lead, Ted Derrett at second, Jack Beech at third, and Doyle at skip.

In winning the first event honors, the Liden rink—Ardell Liden, skip; Duane Liden, third; Lyle Liden, second; and Don Liden, first—moved through their competition in this manner: defeated the Bob Watson rink of Winnipeg in a first round match; edged out the Jimmy Doyle rink of Winnipeg in a second round match; bested Winnipeg's George Midway rink in the quarter-finals; and defeated the J. M. Woods rink of Winnipeg in the semi-finals, and then defeated the Johnson rink of Grand Forks in the finals.

The scoring by ends of the championship finals:

Ardell Liden	230	010	110	1	— 8
A. W. Johnson	001	201	001	0	— 5

Local 'B' Cagers Score Two Wins

Defeat E. G. Forks 'B' Team 56-39 and Fertile 56 to 31

Coach Joe Mrkonich's Prowler 'B' cagers boosted their season's record to eleven wins and two losses this past week by scoring a pair of decisive wins.

On Friday night, playing at East Grand Forks, and with Bob Olson, Ken Larson, and Rick Jensen hitting in double figures, the local B's defeated the East Siders, 56-39.

On Saturday night, on the high school court here, coach Mrkonich's club raced away to 17-7 lead at the end of the first period, and a 35-14 advantage at the intermission as they defeated the Fertile B's, 56-31. Rick Jensen and Gary Hagen, in limited action, sitting out the second half, led the Prowler B scoring with 9 and 8 points, respectively.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Knox, Cage Champs

Entitled to mention, front and center, is coach Roger Dorn and his Knox school Tigers who, by scoring a 23-18 win over Washington on Wednesday afternoon, won the city grade school basketball championship.

So it's a round of cheers to Paul Ihle, Stan Sjoberg, Brian Nelson, Jim Buurrell and the rest of the boys on coach Dorn's Tiger squad.

Last year, the grade school basketball schedule ended in a tie between the Northrop Indians and the Washington Wildcats. And previous to last year, the Northrop club, coached by the late Phil Beadle, held a monopoly on the grade school cage championship, having won the title for six or seven years in succession.

Fact is, coach Dorn isn't sure how long ago it is since the Knox school last won the basketball championship. But the Knox coach is plenty proud of his boys, and their success this season, and rightly so.

Who Will Beat Them?

Coach Bun Fortier brought his Bemidji Lumberjacks basketball squad here a week ago, for a game against the Prowlers, and the result was a 60-35 win for the Jacks. And this past week-end the Jacks defeated Ada, 81-55, and Crookston, 52-37.

But it was the manner in which Bemidji took charge of the game here that was impressive. Bemidji will undoubtedly be a tough outfit by tournament time, and it is probable that the Jacks will enter the district and regional tourneys as top-heavy favorites. East Grand Forks has the burly physical size to play Bemidji's contact style of ball, but the East Siders scoring is too concentrated, with Dennis Adair and Don Blue being the marksmen. And then, too, the East Siders may not get through the District 31 tournament.

By tournament time this Bemidji squad won't be far off the pace and strength of last year's club, and that team went tot the finals of the state tourney Jack Phelps is the only returning starter, and he should be as good or a bit better than last season. Dick Sessing, who is just rounding into form after being sidelined by an arm injury, is playing a strong game, and scoring well. While he doesn't have the pin-point accuracy of last season's Larry Higgins, Sessing is more mobile and a better rebounder. Big Bill Rabe has been a surprise at center this season, and he has given the Jacks stronger scoring punch at center than Bemidji received last year from Larry McDowell. McDowell, though, was a deceptive player, and he was more effective around the boards and setting up the screens. Rabe, though, is developing into a strong rebounder.

Bill Hanson at a guard is as strong and well-balanced a player as last season's Spence Price. Marv Hanson and Dennis Aguiar, who have been sharing the other guard—position,—are—considerable below the caliber of last year's all-state player, Lee Fawbush. There is the possibility that coach Fortier will give Gary Suman, a six-foot two-inch player, a shot at the guard spot.

It will take some doing to sideline the Jacks during the tournament time. As one of the Bemidji assistant coaches commented, when discussing the desire of the Bemidji players, "They play every game as if it's the last basketball game they'll ever play."

And How About District 31?

Foolhardy, indeed, would it be to rate a team as a favorite in the District 31 tourney which opens play at Grand Forks on March 5, and concludes on March 7.

As the saying goes, on any given night anyone of seven or eight of the district's teams can turn in a win over any team in the district. You can take your choice, East Grand Forks, Climax, Warren, Thief River Falls, Crookston, Plummer, Oslo, or Goodridge. All these teams are capable of winning the title.

Perhaps the East Grand Forks and Climax clubs are entitled to a slight edge, but only because they have the physical size to withstand strenuous trounament play.

And did you notice that the Plummer Cardinals invaded the home court of the Middle River Skippers on Saturday night and recorded a 40-34 win?

Sportsmen's Club Will Meet Feb. 21

The Pennington County Sportsmen's club will meet in the assembly room in the basement of the city Auditorium Wednesday evening, February 21, at 8 o'clock. Gay Warnecke, secretary, announced that motion pictures will be shown and lunch will include barbecued venison and home-baked beans. Door prizes will be awarded.

Buechert Scores Five Goals as Thieves Lose 7-6

St. Vital Goalie Has 39 Saves to Hold Off Final Thieves Rally

Scoring four goals in the first period, a single in the second and two in the third frame, St. Vital scored a 7-6 decision over the Thief River Falls Thieves in senior hockey action Sunday afternoon at the local arena. Harry Buechert tallied five goals for the victors and assisted on another.

Gus Holmes scored unassisted at 2:01 to open the scoring and give the Thieves a 1-0 lead but Buechert tallied on an assist from Charlie Van DeKeere at 4:01 and unassisted at 4:10 to put St. Vital ahead 2-1. Mike Poole hit the net at 8:12 to tie the score on an assist from Joey Poole and Monty Markstrom scored on an assist from Poole for a 3-2 Thieves lead. Dick Riel tallied for St. Vital on an assist from Buechert and the latter scored on an assist from Bob Lowenberger to put the visitors ahead 4-3 at the end of the period.

Don Butt scored unassisted at 3:02 of the second period to boost the margin but Del Offerdahl tallied on an assist from Markstrom to pull the Thieves within one point at the end of the second period.

Buechert scored on an assist by Van DeKeere at 4:10 of the final period and Joey Poole matched the goal with an assist from Markstrom at 4:20 to make the score 6-5 for the visitors. Buechert scored unassisted at 12:13 and the Thieves closed the gap to 7-6 on Joey Poole's goal at 13:08 with Markstrom's assist. The Thieves had 18 shots on goal in the final period but couldn't slip the puck past goalie Maurice Belot in the fading minutes.

Belot had a total of 39 saves in the contest while Ken Sauve of the Thieves had a total of 28 stops.

Warroad Six Defeats Locals in Semi-finals

The defending state and regional hockey champion Roseau Rams will meet the Warroad Warriors tonight, Monday, at 7:30 p. m. in the championship finals game of the Region Eight high school hockey tournament being played at Roseau. At 9:00 p. m., a consolation tilt, between the Thief River Falls Prowlers and the East Grand Forks Little Green Wave will be played.

In semi-finals game played on Friday night (the games were set back one day when hazardous travel conditions on Thursday forced a one-day postponement), the Roseau Rams defeated East Grand Forks, 8-0, and the Warroad Warriors sidelined the Prowlers 3-0.

Warroad tallied at the 3:49 mark of the first period in their semi-finals tilt against the Prowlers when Rich Ganyo deflected Dennis Hopla's drive from just inside the blue-line, past goalie Tom Teal. The Prowlers played creditable hockey in the opening minutes of the period, controlling the puck in the Warriors' zone, but the locals were unable to get into shooting position.

The Warriors boosted their lead to 2-0 in the opening minutes of the second period when center-ice man Gary Hokanson banged in a rebound after Fred Meeker had given goalie Teal a test.

And in the third period, at the 2:21 mark, the Warriors gained an "insurance" goal when Ganyo, on an assist from Dennis Foster, scored from close in, giving coach Gordon Genz' Warroad sextet a well-earned 3-0 win.

Grygla 'High School' Question Discussed

Editor's Note: The following letter presents the thinking of the Grygla School Board on the question of organizaing as a high school district. The proposal for establishing a high school at Grygla was prompted by a recent resolution adopted by the Minnesota School Board Association which favored the dissolution of smaller districts and provide that all areas must become a part of a high school district. The letter is addressed to the Middle River Record which had commented editorially on the proposal and the Times publishes it at the request of the board.

Earl Anderson, Editor
Middle River Record
Middle River, Minn.

To the Editor:

We would like to comment on the editorial entitled "Grygla Proposes High School", in order to clear up some of the generalizations made in this article. We are sorry to see that you have obnoxiously painted such a dark picture for this proposal, but we feel this must be due to a lack of information on the issue or based on personal prejudice.

The very first sentence in this article is very misleading; stating that "the residents of the Grygla community are jumping at the chance given them when the Minnesota School Board Association presented a resolution, Number 21, that would give them a reason to try to have their school district or districts incorporated and valuations set by January 1, 1965."

This resolution did not instigate our ambitions as is implied by this sentence, but stimulated us to work harder on this project before we are forced to join a district that maintains a high school. This issue has been brought to the public's eye several times before, but was neglected. Now, after several years of careful consideration and research, we feel that we have something basic to work with, and aren't just "jumping at the chance" as you stated. We are well aware that a move like this involves a great deal of planning and no decisions are made until we have facts and statistics to prove them wise.

We realize that we must "buck opposition", namely the Middle River and Goodridge districts, but we do not have to consolidate with either before there will be enough pupils to maintain a high school with federal aid and state aid support. Furthermore, we would not need to acquire any students from the Goodridge nor the Middle River School districts. We are discussing the students from the Gatzke and Grygla districts only. A long-range survey has been made of the forth-coming enrollment of the proposed combined Gatzke and Grygla district. The results of the survey are tabulated below:

Survey of Enrolment for Gatzke-Grygla District

Pre-School

Yr. Born	Gatzke	Grygla	Total
1961	13	27	40
1960	6	20	26
1959	14	28	42
1958	8	20	28
1957	6	32	38
1956	9	26	35
Total	56	153	209

Present Enrollment (1-6)

Grade	Gatzke	Grygla	Total
1	14	32	46
2	6	28	34
3	14	25	39
4	6	29	35
5	8	32	40
6	6	34	40
Total	54	180	234

Present Enrollment (7-12)

7	10	33	43
8	12	36	48
9	7	26	33
10	10	25	35
11	12	22	34
12	2	16	18
Total	53	158	211

One can plainly see that the enrollment of the combined communities would presently and for the next 11 years far surpass the 200 requirement. Beyond that, we will have to rely on our good friend the stork. We rest assured that our high school enrollment would be more than sufficient.

Few people realize the problems faced by the students from parts of the Gatzke district, Skime district and the Grygla district. They have perhaps the most acute transportation problem in the state. Some students board the bus at 6:40 a. m. and don't get home until 5:00 p. m. or after. Many high school students ride over 100 miles by bus each day. Won't you agree that this is quite a sacrifice to go to school under these conditions? In addition to the inconveniences caused, the transportation of these high school students to outlaying districts is extremely costly to the home districts. Last year the transportation bill for our secondary students to Goodridge totaled $10,259.97.

Other statistics that may prove interesting are as follows: Middle River district (as of July 1, 1961) has a bonded indebtedness of $106,000.00. Goodridge (as of July 1, 1961) has a bonded indebtedness of $95,000.00. Neither district has undertaken any big building project for a number of years. Our new building project was completed only 2 years ago at a cost of apporximately $200,000.00. Yet the Grygla district stands the most firmly of the three financially, with a bonded indebtedness of only $77,000.00, and a balance in the treasury almost capable of erasing that figure.

Another interesting comparison is the valuations of the districts. The Grygla district's valuation exceeds the Middle River district valuation by almost $60,000.00. Middle River operates a high school; Grygla does not. Why?

It is interesting to note the mill rates of the school tax levy in the two districts. The Middle River district has three rates used, varying in different parts of the district. The average throughout the district is 144.57 mills. The Grygla district's mill rate levied for school purposes is 124.94 mills, and as of yet we are not in need of a special grant from the state in distress aid.

The figure $400,000 quoted as a "guesstimate" seems to strike architects as being exceedingly high. Perhaps you weren't aware that we have a regulation, high school size gymnasium which is fully equipped.

We appreciate the admiration expressed for the residents of our district and hope that this letter will enlighten you on this issue.

Sincerely,
Board of Education
Grygla, Minnesota

Report Reveals Rise in Federal Spending

Just a century ago the federal government was spending a million dollars every twelve and a quarter hours. This was considered stupendous, but we were in the midst of the Civil War.

Under the $92.5 billion budget proposed for the 1962-63 fiscal year, the U. S. Government plans to spend a million dollars every five minutes and forty seconds during the twelve-months period. This is 127 times as fast as a century ago, observes the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

In fiscal 1862-63 the federal Government spent $715 million, but the final year of the war pushed expenditures up to $1,300 million—a million every six and three-quarter hours, the statisticians calculate.

That record stood for over half-a-century, until fiscal 1917, which saw the U. S. involved in World War I. For that year federal expenditures jumped to $1,978 million, or a million every four and a half hours. At the end of the war, fiscal 1918-19 saw the rate top a million dollars every half hour, for an annual total of $18,515 million, the records show.

The 1918-19 figure stood until World War II. But during fiscal 1941-42 our Government spent a million dollars every 15½ minutes, or nearly twice as fast as at the peak of World War I outlays. For fiscal 1944-45 federal expenditures soared to $98,416 million—a million dollars every five minutes and 24 seconds.

That war-made speed record still stands by a narrow margin. But beginning next July 1 we'll be crowding close on its heels, the figure show.

Minneapolis Farm Forum Scheduled Monday, March 12

Walter Heller, Advisor to President Kennedy, to Be Principal Speaker

Several nationally-known figures will speak at the 16th annual Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce Farm Forum. The one-day event will be held Monday, March 12 in the Leamington Hotel in Minneapolis.

Professor Elmer Learn, University of Minnesota agriculture economics department, will open the forum by speaking on the alternatives for greater prosperity in agriculture.

The overall theme for this years forum is, "Agricultural Choices in the World of the 60s."

The best course for agriculture in years ahead, as seen by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will be presented by Robert Lewis. Edward Martin from the State department of economic affairs in Washington, D. C. will discuss how U. S. agriculture will be influenced by the world market.

Dr. Karl Brandt, Food Research Institute, Stanford University, will discuss the chances for greater freedom in agriculture in the 60s. The main speaker will be Walter Heller, chairma nof the Presidents Council of Economic Advisors.

During the afternoon session, Wisconsins Democrat Senator William Proxmire, and Al Quie, Minnesota Republican Congressman, will present agriculture controls viewed from two sides of the political fence. Proxmire is on the Senate agriculture committee and Quie is on the House agriculture committee. A question and answer panel featuring the days speakers will conclude the program.

The Forum is open to the public and is scheduled to begin at 9 a. m. Monday, March 12.

Grim tragedy, in its most tragic form, has brought sorrow to our community. In extending our sincere sympathy to the survivors of this horrible experience, we have in mind the anguish of those who weep because of the madness of a disturbed son as well as to those who have lost a husband and a father. There is an Italian proverb that tells us that great sorrows are silent. In our community this tragedy will be borne quietly.

"Tho I am truly sensible of the high honor done me in this appointment, yet I feel great distress from a consciousness that my abilities and military experience may not be equal to the extensive and important trust. However, as the Congress desire it, I will enter upon the momentous duty, and exert every power I possess in their service and for the support of the glorious cause. I beg they will accept my most cordial thanks for this distinguished testimony of their approbation.

"But lest some unlucky event should happen unfavorable to my reputation, I beg it may be remembered by every gentleman in the room that I this day declare, with the utmost sincerity, I do not think myself equal to the command I am honored with.

"As to pay, sir, I beg leave to assure the Congress that as no pecuniary considerations could have tempted me to accept this arduous employment at the expense of my domestic ease and happiness, I do not wish to make any profit from it. I will keep an exact account of my expenses. Those, I doubt not, they will discharge, and that is all I desire."
—George Washington on his Appointment as Commander in Chief.

Is He Consistent?

President Kennedy has, on several occasions, pointed up the need for holding the line on wage and price increases. He and his top aides have asked labor to moderate its wage demands. If he is thinking seriously about joining with Europe in a Common Market, then of course wage and price spirals will be out.

In view of his position on the need for remaining competitive industrially, it is difficult to understand his request for a billion dollar pay increase for federal employees and federal aid for education in order to increase teacher pay. Some merit pay increases no doubt could be justified for public employees and teachers but there is no justification for across the board increases to any of these groups.

The educators and federal employees are very strong politically, and we don't like the idea of the President buying votes with our dollars, but our main objection to his recommendations for these pay increases is that they are inconsistent with what he has told organized labor.

Another pay increase for federal employees would put the government in a position where it could not logically oppose any pay increase demand, no matter how unreasonable. His recommendations in this field justify reasonable doubts as to the sincerity of anything he has said about holding the line against inflation and remaining competitive.

Wage boosts for those on the public payroll are just as inflationary as wage boosts for those in private employment, and much more so when the cost must be met by issuing more printing-press dollars.

Youth on the March

President Edward D. Eddy, Jr., of Chatham College, reports a very noticeable improvement in "the kind and quality" of students who now are seeking college admission. In a condensed report of a recent talk by Dr. Eddy, published in The National Observer, he is quoted as saying:

"The students are changing faster than the colleges . . . There are far too many of us who cling to tradition and thus ignore the rapidly rising level and the substantially changed attitude of American youth. Our colleges are in grave danger of short-changing both the students and our society.

"The so-called college admissions crisis has done a beautiful job of scaring American youth. In our readiness to prepare for a flood of youngsters beginning in 1964, we have succeeded in changing the attitude of the youngster of 1961. The far greater appreciation of, and regard for, higher education on the part of these students has resulted in their readiness to be challenged deeply and consistently."

Dr. Eddy thinks that an important factor in improving the attitude of high school students who plan to go on to college is the greater emphasis that is placed on higher admission standards by the better schools. "Grades become increasingly important as the number who look forward to applying to "a good graduate school" increases. More and more, undergraduate education is viewed as the necessary, almost evil, stepping stone toward the "real" process of education at the graduate level." He continues:

"These students aren't children. They are sufficiently adult to merit the freedom which ought to come with the end of adolescence. I am confident that the great majority of them will meet our expectations if we give them the chance. And I am also confident that we are merely deluding ouselves by trying to play the parental role.

"If we are honest, we will realize that all of campus life needs a thorough overhauling. The American high school is now offering—in all its gory messiness—what we used to encounter in collegiate living. The over-emphasis on football, the marching bands, the beach parties, the steady dating and queens of the ball are all flourishing at the junior and senior high school level.

"Let us who are in the colleges merely mutter "Thank God," and hen go to work on something different for our students. Let us begin all over again and find a new rationale, a new justification beyond custom and tradition, for the various extra-class activities on a college campus.

"Let me be blunt: We had better put up or shut up. We must make college living a genuinely important experience in all its phases, or stop making what may be ridiculous claims."

The colleges Dr. Eddy refers to are, of course, the comparatively few that do maintain high entrance standards. In Minnesota only Carleton rates as "highly competitive" and in this classification even some A average students are rejected. St. Olaf is listed as "competitive" in the new directory published by the American Institutions of Higher Learning. There are other good schools in the state that maintain high standards, but there also are too many diploma mills.

But Dr. Eddy's report was most encouraging. Apparently we are starting to move in the right direction.

They Don't Like Us

Richard Mowrer, reporting in the Christian Science Monitor from Madrid, tells of a strong anti-American feeling in that country, which makes us wonder just a little whether we still have any friends. He said:

"Criticism of American foreign policy, some of it perhaps well founded, some of it arguable, has been a feature of Spanish press, radio, and television comment for many weeks. But then it rose to a pitch never attained since the bases-for-aid agreements were signed between Spain and the United States in 1953. Criticism of American policy developed into stinging, and even insulting, attacks on he United States as such."

As an example of what is being said about us in leading newspapers, he passed along the following clipping from one article that has had widespread circulation:

"Hypocrites," said the article, were those "who sign treaties of alliance with countries they call their friends and establish in their territory strategic military bases and then foresake them in silence when times become difficult; those who praise themselves for their anticolonialism and who, when demanding independence and self-determination for under-developed peoples, seek to tie them to total economic dependence; those who offer millions as if they were generous helpers and who pay starvation wages for the wealth they derive from the countries to which aid is offered; those who ride roughshod over the weak and behave like cowards when a powerful neighbor offends them."

Spain does not have a free press so it must be assumed that the opinions expressed, with such evident hatred, must represent the thinking of the dictator government. As time goes on it becomes increasingly clear that many of the billions of dollars that we have tossed around to help needy nations have not been friendship-builders for us.

It would be easier for us to laugh off our past mistakes if we had some assurance that from them we had gained experience that now serves us as a guide in our present foreign relations program. It doesn't appear, however, that we have learned anything from past experience.

Go Slow on Aid

Before Congress appropriates additional aid to colleges, maybe, a study would be in order to determine just what the government is already doing for American colleges. The need for such a study is justified by a report made by President Nathan M. Pusey of Harvard, in which he stated that during the past two years the university had received more income from the government than from endowments. And Harvard is one of the most heavily endowed schools in the country.

Dr. Pusey said, "We are now involved in 34 categories of programs managed by two-score federal agencies." Together the federal aids make up about one-fourth of the university's annual budget. He regards this relationship as "hazardous." Which prompted the Wall Street Journal to comment:

"This is not a condition peculiar to Harvard. In greater or lesser measure it involves many other schools throughout the country. Yet ignoring the implications of this Federal liberality, the Administration is determined to pour still more funds into the educational system. To continue to do so blindly, without even a glance at the effects of what has been done already, is not only hazardous but inexcusable.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

If you can put it off until tomorrow, maybe someone else will do it for you.

THE ANDERSEN LETTER

from

Governor Elmer L. Andersen

Progress on many fronts. In the last couple of weeks I have had occasion to check on some of the numerous study groups that I have established to see what progress is being made. I can't possibly review all of them in the scope of this column but it is heartwarming to see volunteer citizens putting out the amount of time and dedicated effort as these students of important areas of governmental activity.

Mental health. In few areas has there been more development of medicine, technique, and philosophical approach than in the field of mental health. It was high time that we took a careful look at our Minnesota activity. We had the national study as a guide.

I was fortunate to recruit an old friend, Judge Edward J. Devitt to chair this important study. He and his committee members are visiting the hospitals, giving everyone an opportunity to be heard, letting the facts lead where they will, and will make definite recommendations to move this program forward.

Natural resources council. Here Henry McKnight, Chairman, Parker Anderson, Executive Secretary, and a splended cross section group of conservationists are doing a perfectly superb job. They recently had a state-wide conference at the University and the reports that came to me indicated that some excellent papers were presented, new facts were brought out, and here too I believe an outstanding program is forthcoming.

Needs of education. The whole field of education continues to be one of the greatest challenges in state government. How to make the best use of money, how to provide the money that is needed, and how to administer and organize the program so that education will keep pace with the dynamic world in which we live.

George Rossman, Grand Rapids editor, is guiding this excellent committee with the help of state department people and outside interested groups. There are some difficult decisions facing us, but if we all look at the same facts and recognize them to be facts, it makes harmonious decision so much easier.

Taxes and tax reform. Here, of course, is another area of top importance and significance. Dean Paul Grambsch, of the School of Business Administration of the University is Chairman and gathered, together here are people knowledgable in all types of taxes and tax procedures. They are making careful studies in many directions, not only on the income tax as it is functioning, but property taxes and the methods of administering the property tax law. The whole field of iron ore taxation is being reviewed in light of the great changes that have taken place in this industry and in Minnesotas own situation in the industry.

Agriculture and country life conferences. Bob Rupp, managing editor of the Farmer Magazine, chairs this project, in which Duane Wilson, Commissioner of Agriculture and Mervin Syverson as Deputy are also closely involved. At the first general state-wide meeting a host of practical suggestions for Minnesota agriculture were made and now regional conferences are in the works that will give people a chance to express themselves. What we seek to learn is how we can best bolster Minnesota agriculture economically, while keeping it free and independent, and also protecting the very great human values of the farm family and rural life generally.

These are, but a few. As you can readily appreciate these are but a few of the areas of state government needing attention in the future. There are no simple quick solutions but the contribution of dedicated specialists in these many fields is proving to be an enormous help in determining how we should proceed.

It's hard to "accept" a diet, but you can help! Make the dieter's plate pleasing to the eye. Dress it up with salad-greens and fresh parsley. Brighten plain foods with paprika. "Spread out" food instead of mounding it; that makes it seem like more! And ask your doctor about beer for the dieter. Beer is a fat-free food, rich in important minerals. There are just 104 calories in a bubbling eight-ounce glassful!

Brownie's Favorite Beverage
Recently we mentioned an Australian hen who enjoyed a glass of beer each night. Now we've received word of "Brownie", a horse from Valdosta, Ga. who joined his owner in a stein or two each evening. Brownie lived to the ripe old age of 28, equivalent to 104 years of human life.

Facts of Tax
Stop me if you've heard about the fellow who claimed one extra dependent: the Federal Government! Actually, he had a point. Every government—federal, state and local—must depend upon its citizens for the funds from which progress is made. One of Uncle Sam's largest tax-payers is the U.S. Brewing industry, which pays over $796 million per year in federal taxes, alone.

Heard the word? We were third in sales in '61. Third!

It's nice to be loved.

Like we've said: "When people like a car they show it." All you have to do is put together a car that's sharper looking, smoother running and a bigger value. That's why Pontiac and Tempest stormed into third place.* Why don't you see your Pontiac dealer (a very happy man these days) and go with a winner?

CHAMBER L.I.F.E.

Living-Industry-Farming-Education

By Rolly Larson
Manager Chamber of Commerce

It is no secret that we are well into 1962 already and that we are all wondering where the time has gone. Within our organization the election has taken place, the annual meeting is over, the reorganization sessions have been executed and the various committee personnel have been appointed.

Presently the membership drive is under way in order that financial support may be realized to complete the 1962 program of work that has been drafted. To date the results have been gratifying for this new year. The Chamber of Commerce, with continued support, and cooperation, should bear out the desires of those who are sincerely concerned and interested this year.

The board of directors is trying hard to live up to the community expectations of the organization. In turn we expect the citizens of the community to extend themselves in such a manner that will render the Chamber of Commerce as effective as it can be. Living, Industry, Farming, and Education (L. I. F. E.) is a good theme for the Chamber just as "To Build and To Serve the TRF Area" is a proper motto. Community development is the general objective of the Chamber that each of us should keep in mind.

One of the key factors in community development is community frame of mind. It is this factor that is of great concern to me oftentimes. So often we hear some uninformed 'citizen' tearing the organization and its leadership apart verbally and usually the statement, "why don't 'they' do this or that?" enters the conversation. I have often wondered who "they" really is. Where is that great critic, complainer, or authoritarian backstabber showing his or her leadership to make Thief River Falls a better place to live? More often than not these people are not paid mmbers of the Chamber or any other community organization for that matter and furthermore they probably haven't lifted a finger to do anything for Thief River outside of their own back yard for months, and probably years.

Therefore I feel that if each of us makes it a point to keep ourselves in the right frame of mind maybe the organization, its leadership, and the city of Thief River Falls won't seem so bad after all. It is easy to be an aject theorist but it is much harder to be a constructive thinker and worker. Which each of us want to be is our own choice but I feel we should give the decision due thought rather than drawing hasty conclusions.

One conclusion you'll be happy to draw is to Shop and Trade Where Bargains Are Made—In the Heart of Northwest Minnesota, Thief River Falls.

Strandquist . . .

The Nelson Grocers rolled their best game of the season last Monday evening with a series score of 2552 pins. An average per player of 170 pins. 229, and 213 scores were recorded in the series. Scores recorded were by the following players: Roy Stennes, 474; Ed Stennes, 575; Eddie Nelson, 438; Dick Weller, 570; and Rev. Lindgren, 495. The ladies, Johnson's Shoppers, strengthened their position as top team in their league Wednesday evening by winning 2 games out of three.

Snowmobile vs. Snowdrift

Philip Hougard and Dick Weller became restless Friday afternoon and decided to have a run over the snow drifts in Philip's Cabin snowmobile. After a half-mile run south of town when speed was built up so the bumps were not quite so noticeable, they were challenged by an exceptionally large drift which caused a nose dive and turned the vehicle end over end. The occupants, with nothing more than a few bruises, crawled out of the cab to find a banged up snowmobile with a shattered propeller. Not yet satisfied the men entered the hangar to start an airplane, which after half an hour of cranking, refused to start. Next: A slow plodding back to town.

1,000 at Dedication of New Home of RR Valley Shows at Crookston

The spacious new Red River Valley Winter Shows building at Crookston, comprising more than 54,000 square feet of space, was dedicated Wednesday night to "the people of the Red River Valley who built it." Speaking before more than 1,000 Valley residents, Dr. Herbert Albrecht, president of North Dakota State University, Fargo, dedicated the building as "a shrine in which a great idea will be perpetuated, in which the resources of a great industry can be expressed."

Representatives of three universities were among the more than 20 area dignitaries who sat above the crowd on a high, platform-like balcony of concrete at one end of the building.

Dr. George W. Starcher, president of the University of North Dakota, gave the invocation that preceded Dr. Albrechts dedication speech, while Dr T. H. Fenske, associate dean of the Institute of Agriculture at the University of Minnesota, gave a talk that followed it.

Also appearing on the program was Duane Wilson, Minnesota commissioner of agriculture, and State Rep. Richard Fitzsimons of Argyle. Fitzsimons, in a new contest at the Winter Shows last year, was named "King Agassiz I for outstanding agricultural achievement. As "King Agassiz", he commissioned the new building Wednesday.

Quest Begins for Homemaker of '62

Winner to Be Named in Minneapolis March 17

The search has begun to find Minnesota's top homemaker of the year to succeed Mrs. Howard Schultz of Saint Paul, Mrs. Minnesota of 1961.

Six homemakers from the Twin Cities area and six others from elsewhere in Minnesota will be selected as finalists in the contest to be held March 16 and 17 as part of the opening weekend program of the Builders Show in the Minneapolis auditorium.

Finalists will be honored at a banquet sponsored by Swift & Co. in the Hotel Radisson March 16. They will be judged on their homemaking skills in a series of tests conducted in four kitchens at the Builders Show March 17. That evening, Mrs. Minnesota of 1962 will be named.

The new Mrs. Minnesota will receive a wardrobe, gas range, wrist watch from Vermes Jewerly, Inc., and an all-expenses trip with her husband to the 24th annual Mrs. America pageant later this year.

The contest may be entered by married women, 21 years and over. Entry blanks are available at nearly 200 Red Owl food stores and from 210 Minnesota LP Gas dealers. They also may be obtained from Minneapolis Gas Co., Minneapolis area gas appliance dealers or by mail from Mrs. Minnesota, 918 Midland Bank Building, Minneapolis 1 Entries close March 1.

Consignment Sale of Livestock Set for Winter Shows

RRV Livestock Assn. to Sponsor Annual Event at Crookston Feb. 22 and 23

The Red River Valley Livestock association will hold its annual consignment sales in Crookston Thursday and Friday, February 22 and 23, in connection with the Valley Winter Shows. Sales managers will be County Agent Carl Ash of Crookston and D. Reimer of Northwest School.

At 1 p.m. Thursday, consignors will offer 51 bred gilts of all popular breeds and 52 bred ewes of five breeds. Six Shetland stallions and six mares will be included in a show and sale Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

Futurity animals to be sold exclusively to 4-H and FFA members include three dairy heifers, nine beef heifers, five bred ewes and ten bred gilts.

At the sale Friday, February 23, at 1 p. m., 54 beef and dairy bulls and 26 bred cows and heifers will be offered by 34 consignors, the breeds including Shorthorns, Aberdeen Angus, Herefords, Holsteins and Milking Shorthorns.

Farm & Home Week Being Evaluated

Revision of 'U' M. Event Is under Consideration

The public and the faculty of the St. Paul Campus of the University of Minnesota have been asked to evaluate the benefits of Farm and Home Week, held each January on the Campus.

The reactions of these groups and others interested will help determine the future of the traditional event, according to Robert R. Pinches, acting director of agricultural short courses.

Among the alternatives that will be considered are continuing the week as in the past, discontinuing the week, radically changing its nature, moving it to various parts of the state and several others.

Farm and Home Week has been held nearly every year for over 60 years. The program has usually featured separate programs for those interested in home economics, forestry, agriculture and related industries, gardening, youth work and other related areas. Daily convocations have brought to the state leaders from all parts of the nation including cabinet officers, governors, college presidents and many others.

This evaluation is part of the Institute of Agriculture's ongoing program of studying and adapting its programs in college training, extension education and research to changing conditions, H. Macy, dean of the Institute, declared in appointing an evaluation committee.

The evaluation will involve questionnaires sent to several hundred leaders in rural communities, over 1,000 people who registered for Farm and Home Week in 1962 and to faculty members. In addition, discussions will be held with department heads and leaders both on and off campus.

Water Resources Topic of Seminar at Winter Shows

Session Scheduled for Wednesday at 10 a.m. on Northwest School Campus

A top-level water resource seminar has been arranged for the 1962 Red River Valley Winter Shows at Crookston. It is scheduled for Wednesday, February 21, beginning at 10 o'clock in the forenoon at the Northwest School in the Kiehle building.

Several hundred personal invitations have been sent to leaders of the Red River Valley. All citizens

Recent activity in the Congress in other parts of the nation places emphasis on evaluation and study of the water resources of any sizeable river basin.

Is it not time for citizens of the Red River Basin to study and to plan for the next fifty to seventy-five years? What are the alternatives in studying and planning for mendations of the Kerr Report to Congress? Experts who understand these questions will be at the seminar to present their experience and ideas. There will be an opportunity for questions and answers.

Dr. Olaf Solne, president of the Red River Valley Development Association, will preside at the meeting.

HAZEL . . .

There will be worship services at the St. Pauli Lutheran church Sunday, Feb. 25, at 11 a.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Skaaren and family and Mrs Gunhild Skaaren spent the weekend visiting with the latters brother, Tolvin Anderson at Perham.

Dinner guests at the Walter Lambert home a week ago Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Nelson, Joyce and John of Trail. Other visitors during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Vaxland and Harlan of McIntosh and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Klemmetson and Angela of Highlanding.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gilbertson visited Friday at the Pete Nelson home in Thief River Falls. Other visitors at the Nelson home the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Luverne Grimm of Brooks, Mrs. Carl B. Larson, Nina Larson and Horace Dalager.

Sunday visitors at the Carl Alberg home were Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Snetting and Mr. and Mrs Walter Lambert.

Sunday dinner guests at the Hannah Johnson home were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Christiansen of Larimore, N. D. and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Johnson of Grand Forks.

Study Says Majority of Farms Too Small

The technological revolution in agriculture has left the majority of farms "too small to be successful economic units," according to a 50-page report prepared for the Upper Midwest Research and Development Council's program to stimulate the economic growth of this region.

This report was prepared by the Upper Midwest Economic Study, a research project co-sponsored by the Council and the University of Minnesota, under the direction of Dr. James M. Henderson. A supplementary report, preparation of which is underway, will contain agricultural projections to 1975 and suggest alternative aimed at improving the farm economy.

When completed in mid-1963, the Upper Midwest Economic Study will cover all major aspects of the regional economy, providing factual information on which to base the Council's program for acting on economic problems.

Despite farm consolidations, largely responsible for a 25 percent reduction since 1940 in the number of farms, nationally as well as Upper Midwest, the majority are still too small to make efficient use of their labor and equipment, is the conclusion of the author's of this report, Arvid C. Knudtson of the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis and Rex W. Cox of the research staff of the Upper Midwest Economic Study.

The brightest prospect for the improvements of farm incomes, suggests the report, is that "adjustment forces continue at work" —with the result that "a growing number of successful farms, now one-fourth of total, form a nucleus of a more healthy regional agriculture." The number of farms that can be classified as successful business operations, with cash sales in excess of $10,000 per year, rose from about 62,000 in 1954 to 92,000 in 1959, the report states. Probably two-thirds of Upper Midwest farms, however, earn net incomes too low to provide adequate returns for labor and invested capital, the authors emphasize.

Net farm income was 12 per cent of the region's total personal income in 1960 compared with less than 4 per cent for the nation. Gross farm income was $3.6 billion, 10 per cent of the national total. One person in five, or 1.3 million people, live on Upper Midwest farms.

The decline in the number of farms in the four full states in the region between 1940 and 1960, from 390,000 to 306,000, was accompanied by an increase in the average size, from 165 to 195 acres in Minnesota, 545 to 822 acres in South Dakota, 513 to 715 acres in North Dakota, and 1,044 to 1,882 acres in Montana. Substantially all Upper Midwest farms continue to be family owned.

Land, labor and capital tied up in farm units too small to provide adequate incomes "can only result in continued farm consolidations," the authors state.

"In the 1950's the number of family and hired workers declined by 27 per cent in the four states, from 680,000 to 499,000. Output per man-hour in 1960 was nearly three times the level of 20 years ago.

"Increased capitalization was necessary to achieve the advance in productivity," the report continues, "and in the capitalization process agriculture has become a new and expanding market for a host of production supplies. In the last two decades, the use of power and machinery increased nearly two and a half times; fertilizer use tripled; use of purchased feeds doubled.'

Given ample non-farm job opportunities, there remain problems of labor mobility which have to be met if agriculture in the Upper Midwest as well as nationally, is going to make needed adjustments toward larger, higher income farm units, the authors conclude. Industrial development in rural areas may help relieve the situation but is unlikely to reach a level high enough to absorb the farm exodus. A need exists for vocational training to enable the farm labor force, especially young adults, to acquire specialized skills required in other lines of work.

States' First AI Calf Born in 1937

Artificial Insemination Notes 25th Anniversary

Twenty-five years ago February 16 a newborn calf bawled hungrily and struggled to its feet in the dairy barn on the University of Minnesota's St. Paul Campus.

Two days later a young graduate student at the University's North Central Experiment station at Grand Rapids opened a package containing a test tube. Inside the tube was a tightly rolled slip of paper bearing this message. "Announcing the birth of Minnehaha Tuba, first calf in Minnesota to result from artificial insemination"

The Grand Rapids researcher who had mechanically transferred semen from a bull to the calf's mother while visiting the St. Paul Campus nine months earlier was C. L. Cole, today professor and head of the University of Minnesota's department of dairy husbandry. Late in 1936 he had organized the nation's first artificial breeding organization with four dairy herds in the Grand Rapids area.

Artificial insemination has since become a standard practice in Minnesota and the nation. Today in Minnesota more than 607,000 cattle in 66,377 herds are bred artificially.

The result is an industry providing employment for scores of Minnesotans and bringing about better cattle and more efficient production on Minnesota farms.

Remarkable new Shell Heating Oil saves you money in two important ways

New Shell Heating Oil has been refined by a special, Shell-patented *Hydro-desulphurization process.

Literally billions of sulphur and nitrogen atoms are removed from the oil.

The results are clear: this new oil is bright and clean—as stable a heating oil as your burner can use. This superior cleanliness and stability helps save you money.

New Shell Heating Oil also has a special additive that helps guard burner openings against heat-robbing deposits.

Result: The oil burns in a hot, cone-shaped flame. No heat is wasted by lopsided burning. Fuel bills are less. Service calls are fewer.

New Shell Heating Oil is available now. Call us today for complete facts.

INTRODUCING THE BIG DODGE CUSTOM 880

NEW FROM DODGE!!

CUSTOM-MADE FOR THE BIG CAR MAN. The new Dodge Custom 880 is a big automobile. No pretense. No half-measures. It offers the comfort and sense of well-being that only a large car can give you. The Dodge Custom 880 has been made for one reason. To completely satisfy the needs and demands of the big car man.

This car is big, all right. Wheelbase is 122 inches. Overall length almost 18 feet. The trunk is 33 cubic feet. Mammoth by any standards.

Custom 880 is very hot (265 hp V8). It is also satisfyingly economical. This same engine got 20.0 miles per gallon when it won its class in last year's Mobilgas Economy Run.

The car handles beautifully. Its long wheelbase and perfectly balanced Torsion-Bar suspension system provide a stable, smooth ride. The body, of course, is rustproofed. The brakes are extremely large. You can go thirty-two thousand miles between grease jobs.

See the Custom 880 at your Dodge Dealer's. Available in six models: 4-door hardtop, 2-door hardtop, 4-door sedan, a convertible, and 6- or 9-passenger station wagons. All custom-made for the big car man.

"Babes in Toyland" To Be Staged Monday & Tuesday

LHS Operetta Ready After Much Planning And Organizing Work

Thousands of individual work hours have gone into the rehearsal and production of "Babes in Toyland", the Victor Herbert operetta which will be presented by the Lincoln high school chorus Monday and Tuesday evenings in the high school auditorium. Performances will begin at 8 p. m. each evening.

In addition to vocal rehearsal by the choir and soloists, a large number of students have been working frantically to prepare countless costumes, build and paint background flats, construct artificial flowers for the garden scene, prepare scenery, lighting and sound effects. A number of high school band members will also take part in the operetta and have been rehearsing for marches and other mood music.

Fourteen flats have been built and decorated to provide an all-new background for the stage. Paper flowers have been made by the hundreds to properly give the illusion of a garden setting. The costume committee made many bright red jackets for the toy soldiers and aprons for the toy shop workers and many other characters in the production have been making their own costumes.

Tickets are on sale from any of the senior choir members or from Sandra Halvorson, ticket chairman. Reserved seats are one dollar each with general admission set at 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children. Approximately $500 has been invested in the production in addition to student labor after school and on Saturdays, stated Bryant Ulseth, director, and a large crowd is hoped for by the vocal group.

Dress rehearsal will be held Saturday at 1 p. m. while grades three through six at local elementary schools will witness the premiere performance at 1 p. m. Monday. Junior and senior high school students will be presented with a matinee performance on Tuesday at 1 p. m. About 150 students are participating in staging of the production.

"Babes in Toyland" opens when the young people of Mother Goose Land are attending a party in the garden of Contrary Mary (Nadeen Craik). Barnaby (Gary Kelly), an old miser who never smiles, reveals that he is giving the party to announce his engagement to Mary, one of the 14 children of Widow Piper (Bonne Nelson).

Mary refuses to wed Barnaby in spite of her mother's urging and Alan (James Wendell), believing Mary has forsaken him for the

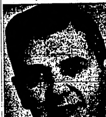
Trinity Father-Son Banquet Speaker Set

Loren M. Ness, assistant director of the Brotherhood of The American Lutseran church, will be guest speaker at the annual Father and Son banquet of Trinity Lutheran Church Brotherhood to be held Wednesday, February 28, at 6:30 p.m. in the church.



Formerly national director of boys' work for the Brotherhood of the Evangelical Lutheran church, Ness is a layman in charge of boys' and youth work. His work consists of encouraging sponsorship through Lutheran congregations of organized activities for boys and youth such as cub scouts, boy scouts, 4-H club work, ahletics and also in working with "problem youth."

He is director of the scout camp chaplaincy service of the National Lutheran committee on scouting and has been active in youth work for a number of years. While engaged as a teacher and school administrator in the middle west for a number of years, he was active in volunteer scout organization and leadership work and took part in rural youth activities.

For several years he served professionally as a district scout executive in Minneapolis. A graduate of Concordia college in Moorhead, he received his Master's Degree at the University of North Dakota in 1941. He is married and the father of a son and a daughter.

Kathleen Torgerson Co-champion of Dist. 4-H Speaking Contest

Kathleen Torgerson, 18, of Thief River Falls and Glenn Nordling, 17, of Hallock were named co-champions of the district 4-H radio speaking contest held in connection with the Red River Valley Winter Shows Monday at Crookston.

The contest was broadcast from Crookston over station KILO, Grand Forks.

The winners received a $15 cash award and qualified for the state contest in St. Paul March 2 and 3. At St. Paul, they will vie with other district winners for a top award of $200 and a $100 second place prize.

Kathleen and Glenn topped a field of nine contestants from as many counties at Crookston. Glenn's brother, Neal, was a co-champion in the district contest at Crookston last year.

Co-winner of second place Monday were Darryl Torrin, 17, of Badger and Ann Louise Strandberg, 17, of Argyle.

Others taking part in the contest were:

Sharon Hegge, Oklee; Tim Arneson, Shevlin; Bernice Ubel, Williams; Robert Blueser, Mahnomen; and Dianne Kroening, Fosston.

The speakers' topic was "How Would You Present the United States to the World?" The contests are sponsored by the University of Minnesota agricultural Extension service in cooperation with the Minnesota Jewish Community Relations Council.

Bray Mutual Fire Insurance Group Pays 50 Losses

Annual Report Is Given When Organization Meets At St. Hilaire Recently

Fifty losses totaling $27,475 were paid during 1961 by the Bray Mutual Fire Insurance company of Pennington and Red Lake counties, it was reported at the annual meeting of the organization held recently in St. Hilaire. The company was organized on March 9, 1893.

Paul Thyren, St. Hilaire, was reelected president, and Edgar A. Naplin of Red Lake Falls was reelected secretary. Alfred Longren of Thief River Falls was reelected to the board of directors and Walter Swanson was renamed to the board of audit. A film entitled "The Farmer's Side of the Fence" was shown at the meeting.

Beginning 1961 with cash on hand of $27,009, the company received $32,042 during the year in memberships and premiums, dues and interest for a total of $59,051. Total losses and operating expense was $36,106 and investment in savings of $4,132 left a balance of cash on hand at the end of Dec. 31, 1961, of $18,813.

At the beginning of 1961 the company had 1,971 policies in force with coverage totaling $16,638,324. During the year 380 new policies were issued and 370 were expired and canceled, leaving $18,007,194 insurance in force at the end of 1961.

Losses during the year totaled $24,747 in 29 fire losses, $2,598 in smoke damage losses.

Grygla Creamery Annual Meeting Slated Monday

Challenges which face cooperatives through the mechanism of group selling and buying will be presented by Edward E. Slettom, executive secretary of the Minnesota Association of Cooperatives, when he speaks at the annual meeting of the Grygla Cooperative Creamery association. The meeting will be held Monday at 1 p. m. in the Mar-Bel hall at Grygla.

Born and reared on a Morrison county farm, Slettom has served as deputy commissioner of the Minnesota Department of Agriculture, vocational agriculture instructor, agricultural agent for five years and is a graduate of the University of Minnesota. He is a past state president of the Minnesota Association of Future Farmers and was at one time active in 4-H club work.

Rodekuhr Tells Rotary Club of Tax Computation

County Auditor Speaks at Noon Meeting Held At Elks Club Monday

C. W. Rodekuhr, Pennington county auditor, discussed the manner in which taxes are computed and distributed at the regular meeting of the Thief River Falls Rotary club held Monday noon in the Elks club rooms.

Rodekuhr explained that a "mill" for tax purposes is not necessarily the same as the "mill" which is described as one-tenth cent in a dictionary definition, it is rather, he said, a system of measurement which a unit of government uses to determine what is needed for obligations anticipated in an annual budget. The number of mills used for taxation is determined by the budget needs of governmental units.

Townships, cities and villages, school districts and state requests are made on a budget base and the county budget is computed in the auditor's office. Homestead rate is 25 per cent of the assessed valuation of property up to $4,000 and 40 per cent above that figure.

He listed the personal property tax as "difficult to administer" and in some cases "inequitable" due-to-the-manner of assessment. He also noted that 30 per cent of the tax dollar in Pennington county goes for bond retirement as a result of building programs which have been conducted.

40 et 8 Wild Game Dinner Saturday

The annual wild game dinner sponsored by the local voiture of the 40 et 8 will be served in the American Legion club rooms Saturday, February 24, at 7 p. m., John Elsbrener, chef de gare, announced today.

Guests will include members of the 40 et 8 and their ladies, as well as Legionnaires and auxiliary members. Two travel prizes will be awarded, and dancing will follow the dinner at 9:30.

The menu will include such delicacies as venison, bear, moose and antelope meat, and ducks, pheasant, grouse and smoked turkey, with all the trimmings.

Goodridge School Tax Rate on Farm Land 96.40 Mills

The mill rate for Goodridge Independent school district 561 of Pennington and Marshall counties for 1961 payable in 1962 is 96.40 mills on agricultural land, Supt. David M. Brown stated this week. The total levy is $42,041.92.

Since most of the property, $412,439 in assessed valuation out of $431,243, pays the agricultural rate, 96.40 mills can be considered the tax rate for the Goodridge district, said Supt. Brown. The rate for non-agricultural land is 121.40 mills

WINNER of a $50 savings bond from the local Elks lodge as part of the Minnesota Elks Scholarship contest is Miss Carol Rolland of St. Hilaire, senior at Lincoln high school. She was the American Legion Auxiliary Girls State selection last year. Announcement of the award was made by Edwin Broughton, north district chairman of the Elks contest. Miss Rolland's application will now be considered for an award at the state level.

Coroner's Jury To Probe Death of Sgt. Myers

Wangberg Youth Listed As Improving at Local Hospital This Morning

Determination as to the cause of the death of Police Sergeant Donald D. Myers last Saturday night will be reached by a coroner's jury in the near future, according to the office of Warren A. Saetre, Marshall county attorney. Saetre is busy with district court proceedings in Warren and no date has been set for the inquest, it was reported by Harold Myhre, the county attorney's law partner, in a telephone conversation with the Times this morning.

There are several forms of legal action which may be taken, Myhre said, but it is anticipated that a grand jury will indict Paul Wangberg in the fatal shooting. The 19-year-old youth, wounded twice in Saturday night's gun battle, is reported as improving at Northwestern hospital where hospital authorities state that a bullet lodged in the back muscle near the spine has not yet been removed.

Named to the coroner's jury were Harold Bustrack, Richard Lahl, Charles Engelstad and Donald Bauer of Warren, Victor Loranger and Bernard Tracy of Argyle. This group of men viewed the body Monday afternoon in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Christopherson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heinze and Geneva Overum attended a horticultural meeting at Crookston Tuesday and also attended the Winter Shows.

Heart Fund Drive Set for Weekend

The 1962 Heart Fund drive will reach a peak next Sunday, February 25, when local Heart Sunday volunteers will ring doorbells at virtually every home in Thief River Falls to collect contributions.

Chairman of Heart Sunday is Mrs. Robert Looker. She said an attempt will be made to give all persons in the community the opportunity to contribute personally to the fight against heart disease. David Drotts is regional chairman.

Headquarters for the city drive will be maintained in the Elks club room Sunday from 1 to 6, and members of the BPO Does will serve cookies and coffee. Nearly 100 solicitors will cover the residence districts, and no canvass will be made in the business district, Mrs. Looker stated.

To assist in the drive, David Drotts has made the following appointments: Mrs. Erdman Pearson, chairman for St. Hilaire; Mrs. Orris Olson, Goodridge; Herman Christoferson, Silverton; Mrs. Lewis Quam, Reiner; Ted Lendobeja, Kratka; Mrs. Bruce Legg, West Rocksbury; Mrs. Hanford Bjerke, East North; Mrs. Paul Furuseth, Norden; Mrs. Robert Hirst, Bray; Oscar Houske, Wyandotte; Veral Mosbeck, Polk Centre.

"Funds contributed here Sunday," Mrs. Looker said, "will be part of a nationwide collection involving over 1,500,000 volunteers, 5,500 communities, and twenty million American homes. In a few short hours, a huge financial stride will be made against heart and circulatory diseases, which are responsible for more death and disability than all other causes combined."

Volunteer blockworkers will carry the official kit which includes individual envelopes in which contributors may seal their checks, bills, or coins.

Where the volunteer worker finds no one at home, he or she will leave a pre-addressed mailin envelope in which a contribution may be sent conveniently to Heart Fund headquarters and credited to this community. Funds will be processed at the Northern State bank, with Orville Hanson serving as fund treasurer.

Council Gives Start To City Plan Group

SYMBOLIC of a change in command of the Thief River Falls National Guard unit, Capt. Joseph Forberg presents the keys to his office and the local armory to 1st Lt. Richard A. Edlund who will succeed him as company commander. Both men entered the National Guard in 1954, Edlund being commissioned through the army reserve and Forberg being commissioned initially through the reserve officers training corps. The 38-year-old Edlund served in the European campaign and the 33-year-old Forberg served in the Korean conflict .

Cemetery Rates Are Increased As Result of New Resolution

Initial reading of an ordinance to create a city planning commission was held and a resolution increasing rates at the municipal cemetary adopted at the regular meeting of the Thief River Falls city council Tuesday evening in the municipal court room. Action on salaries and consolidation of departments was tabled to an adjourned meeting to be held following a hearing on street improvement on March 2.

Amendment to the planning commission ordinance may be made prior to the second reading. It will become law upon publication following the third reading, it was noted at the meeting.

Robert Lund of the cemetery commission presented the rate increase resolution. Effective March 1, the rates will be as follows respectively for sale of lots and perpetual care: single grave, $40 and $25; two graves, $80 and $50; one-half lot (four graves), $150 and $100; and one lot (eight graves), $300 and $200.

Prices for opening single graves and interment will be $20 for children under 10 years of age and $35 for persons 10 years or more. Winter storage in the vault will be $10 for children under 10 years of age and $15 for persons 10 years or more. Foundation for grave markers will be $8 per foundation and foundation for monuments will be $2 per cubic foot.

A resolution calling for termination of contract with Juran & Moody, fiscal agents of the city, was unanimously adopted. Council members expressed the opinion that the contract can be renewed or a new fiscal agent attained at a later date but that holding of the present contract would bind the city to the present firm in forthcoming bond issues for civic improvements.

Adopted by unanimous council vote was a resolution expressing condolences to the Donald Myers family, stating his action was "above and beyond the call of duty" in the shooting in which he was fatally wounded Saturday night.

A bid of the Burroughs company for a new billing machine for the city office was accepted in the amount of $5,946.24 including trade-in of the present machine. It was the only bid submitted. Five bids were opened on a carload of poles for the light department but awarding of a contract was deferred to the adjourned meeting pending attendance of Harry Hendrickson, supervisor of the light department.

A call for bids was authorized on gasoline and road oil with bids on both pump and bulk price to be received on gasoline. These bids will be opened at the next regular meeting of the council. Application for renewal of taxi license for Paul E. Sullivan was also approved. Alderman Roy Jorgenson reported on a meeting of the liquor store committee and made several sugges-

Program Set for Land O'Lakes Meet

Program arrangements have been completed for the annual meeting of District 17 of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., to be held Wednesday, February 28, at the city auditorium in Thief River Falls, according to Art Stenberg, district chairman, who will preside at the session. The district includes 26 creameries from the area between highway 2 and the Canadian border.

All business people in the city are invited and encouraged to attend any or all of the morning and afternoon sessions, Stenberg said. The morning business session will begin at 10:30 a. m. with a noon lunch to be followed by an afternoon program at 1 p. m.

Included in the morning session will be reading of the minutes of the last annual meeting by Carl Krohn, secretary, and a financial report by Edgar Rokke, district treasurer. John Lager will give the fieldman's annual report and questions from the floor will be answered. Music at the noon luncheon will be provided by the Lincoln high school band under the direction of John Moum.

Bryant Ulseth of Lincoln high school will lead community singing to open the afternoon session and the invocation will be given by Rev. Reuben Wangberg. Roland Larson, executive secretary of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce, will give the address of welcome with Joseph Jacobson, secretary of the Wannaska creamery, to give the response.

A vocal duet will be sung by Mr. and Mrs. Ulseth and a talk given by Trig Sundheim, treasurer of Land O'Lakes. Miss Eileen Stauffnecker of Greenbush will give a clarinet solo with Miss Carol Gjovik as accompanist. Efficiency prizes will be awarded by John Lager and a trumpet duet will be presented by David Christianson and Wayne Thompson of Badger with Miss Linda Wagner as accompanist.

Frank Stone, general manager of Land O'Lakes, will deliver the main address of the afternoon and remarks will be given and attendance prizes awarded by George Hildre, manager of Land O'Lakes field service. Unfinished business will be followed by closing remarks by Stenberg and election of officers will precede adjournment.

Kathleen Hartje Semi-Finalist in AFS Student Plan

LHS Junior Among 2,500 Considered for Assignment To Foreign Land in 1962

Kathleen L. Hartje, duaghter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hartje of Thief River Falls and junior at Lincoln high school, has been selected as a semi-finalist in the American Abroad program of the American Field Service. Across the nation a total of 2,500 students have been selected as semi-finalists and 1,300 will be placed in foreign countries this summer.

Announcement of the selection of Miss Hartje as semi-finalist was made in a letter to Mrs. J. W. Ewing, American Abroad coordinator for the local AFS chapter. The letter emphasized that final selection is not guaranteed and will not be completed until family placement in foreign countries has been arranged during the period February through late May.

The American Abroad program is the same as that under which Becki Ferber lived in Turkey last summer, sharing life and experiences with a family there. There is no FAS student at Lincoln high school this year but plans are being made and a request submitted for a student during the coming school year.

Public Urged To Secure CD Book

Fallout Protection Data Told in Newest Edition

"Fallout Protection — What to Know and Do about Nuclear Attack" is the title of a new booklet released by the national Civil Defense director. He urges each family to obtain a free copy of the booklet which is available free of charge at local post offices in the county.

The booklet contains information about the dangers of nuclear attack and how the individual can protect himself. Its publication was one of the first Civil Defense tasks assigned to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara by President Kennedy.

Also described in the 46-page book is the national Civil Defense program including the national fallout shelter survey program. This plan, which has been initiated here, will identify, mark and stock public shelters in existing buildings with supplies of food, water and essential survival items.

Local KC's Take Part in Series of Discussions

Our Lady of Lourdes Council 4619 of Thief River Falls is partaking in a series of discussion events with three other Knights of Columbus council in the area with questions pertaining to religion selected and discussed by the groups.

Each council selects a number of its members to meet with the members of another council. Two priests act as moderators and judges to evaluate the answers and comments. The team that displays the greatest ability will compete in further meetings with teams from councils of other areas in Minnesota. Other councils in this area are located at Greenbush, Argyle and Crookston.

Rev. Dale Listed As Trinity PTL Banquet Speaker

Rev. Otto Dale

Rev. Otto Dale, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church in Thief River Falls from 1955 to 1959, will be guest speaker at the annual Pocket Testament League banquet of the local senior Luther League to be held Sunday at 6:00 p.m. in the church parlors.

Rev. Dale graduated from the University of Tampa (Fla.) in 1946 after attending St. Olaf college and Valley City State Teacher's college. He graduated from Luther Theological Seminary in St. Paul and was ordained into the ministry in 1949.

Prior to coming to Thief River Falls he served churches in Milbank, S. D. and since leaving here he has been pastor of a mission church in south Florida and is presently serving a congregation in Fergus Falls. All members of the senior Luther League are urged to attend the banquet.

Mercury Hovers Near Zero Mark; No Relief Seen

Absence of Warming Trend in February Is Sign of More Winter

"Mary, Mary, quite contrary, how does your garden grow?" Not so cotton pickin' well right now, as a matter of fact, because with February nearly down the drain there's still no sign of a pronounced warming trend as has been the case the same month in recent years.

In short, folks, it looks like a long, cold winter with a lot of it ahead of us yet. May as well book your reservation at Washkish right now because one will get you five the ice won't be out of Lake of the Woods when fishing season opens.

Temperatures the past week pretty well support the above statements with sub-zero readings recorded every day since Feb. 15. High readings have been in the teens or lower. The day to day record is as follows: Monday, high 14, low -8; Tuesday, 4 above and 11 below; Wednesday, 7 above and 15 below, and the low this morning was 10 below. Only a trace of precipitation was recorded Monday and again Wednesday.

The forecast is for variably cloudy skies and increasing northerly winds 20 to 40 mph, with much blowing and drifting snow. Locally colder today and Friday, with continuing strong winds.

The high will range from 0 to 15 above and the low tonight will be 0 to 10 below.

New Stamp Notes Obital Success

Commemoration Issue Is Available at Post Office

Commemorating the first orbital flight of United States astronaut, a new new four-cent stamp is being issued simultaneously with the completion of the flight, according to the U. S. Postal Department. It was released at 300 of the larger post offices throughout the country immediately upon the successful completion of the flight of John Glenn Tuesday and is now available here.

The stamp is printed in blue and yellow on white paper and portrays a space capsule in space with the earth in the lower left portion of the stamp. Initial printing was 100 million and the first day cancellation was Cape Canaveral, Fla., a temporary station of the Cocoa, Fla. post office, established for the one day.

Provision has been made for collectors to obtain envelopes bearing the new stamp with the cancellation "Cape Canaveral, Florida", the date and hour of recovery of the space capsule and the wording "First Day of Issue" from the Philatelic Sales Agency, Post Office Department, Washington 25, D. C., at a cost of one cent above the face value of the stamps involved. Orders for first day covers should not be sent to Cape Canaveral.

The Library Corner

By Eleanor Olson

A year or so ago one of the books I most enjoyed was Elizabeth Jenkins' biography of one of England's most remarkable woman rulers, "Elizabeth the Great." Now I am pleased to learn that Miss Jenkins has written a sequel to this sensitive historical study which deals with the odd relations that existed between the queen and her favorite, Robert, Earl of Leicester.

This relationship held the world's attention during her reign and has continued to arouse speculative interest ever since. Elizabeth was unable to marry Leicester for political reasons, indeed it seems she had no intention of marrying anyone, although the possibility that she might marry first one king or another from the continent was used as a political tool through out her reign.

While Elizabeth coundn't marry Leicester, she was terribly jealous that he might marry someone else. Poor Leicester remained between the frying pan and the fire for many years. The reading of the tale will be most fascinating when it is told in Miss Jenkin's master storyteller's hand.

Another new book on the library shelves dealing with English ristory is "The Last Plantagenets" by Thomas B. Costain whose past works have included numerous historical novels which held his readers entranced from start to finish. Our idea of the Plantagenets probably is a Shakespearean one and we can be sure that Mr. Shakespeare was not above bending the truth and distorting personalities for the sake of building an excellent play.

Mr. Costain attempts to clear up some of the probable misapprehensions about these storybook kings and queens. While this is not a professional history, Mr. Costain's lighter anecdotal approach may provide just as clear a picture of 15th century England as a survey of land tenure, parliamentary procedure or the statistics of the wool trade. Mr. Costain may not do the Plantagenets full justice, but he depicts them in a style they would have appreciated and which we can enjoy.

Edlund Is Named Guard Commander

Advancement of First Lieutenant Richard A. Edlund to company commander of the Thief River Falls National Guard unit has been announced. He will succeed Captain Joseph Forberg who is being transferred to headquarters of the Second Battle Group, 136th Infantry, at Moorhead.

Edlund is Lincoln senior high school principal, succeeding Arnold Larson in that position in January of 1961. A native of Kelliher, he came to Thief River Falls from Goodridge in July of 1953 as an instructor in physical education and assistant football and baseball coach. He attended Bemidji State College and the University of North Dakota and received a Master of Science degree from the latter in 1954.

The 38-year-old Edlund served three and one-half years on active duty during 1942-1945 and was a rifleman in the European campaign, Africa, Sicily, Germany and France. He joined the National Guard in 1954 and was commissioned through the army reserve in 1957. Together with his wife Hazel and three sons he lives at 237 Kendall av. N.

"I want to compliment Captain Forberg on turning over an excellent company and I'm looking forward to working with all the fine national guardsmen in this unit," Lt. Edlund said. "All young men of military age should give serious consideration to joining the new program that is offered by the Guard."

Capt. Forberg is a native of Aneta, N. D., and came to Thief River Falls in 1953 as an instructor in mathematics at the high school, a position that he still maintaines. A 1951 graduate of the University of North Dakota with a Bachelor of Arts degree, he was commissioned a second lieutenant through the Reserve Officers Training Corps.

Entering service in 1951, Capt. Forberg served two years of active duty at Fort Riley, Kan., and Fort Benning, Ga., and one year in Korea. He joined the National Guard in 1954. In his new position of assistant S-3, he will serve as coordinator between air units and the battle group. He and his wife Eleanore have a daughter Kathy, 9, and son Robert, 4.

"I want to thank the businessmen of Thief River Falls for the cooperation they have extended the local National Guard unit during my period of command," Capt. Forberg said. He plans to continue making his residence here and driving to Moorhead for meetings.

Oslo Man Victim of Storm Thursday

Edgar Olson Found Near His Farm Home Saturday

Edgar Olson, 47, Oslo area farmer and father of five children, died as a result of exhaustion in last Thursday's snow storm, according to findings made by Dr. E. E. Pumala, Marshall county coroner. His body was found Saturday morning in a field near his home after he apparently left his stalled automobile and attempted to walk home Thursday.

Olson had apparently walked three miles north from his car and then turned east instead of west in the confusion caused by the storm, it was reported. He was found about a mile east of his farm which is located 6½ miles northwest of Alvarado.

Funeral services are set for today at 1:30 p. m. in Zion Lutheran church at Oslo with Rev. Paul Guldseth officiating. Olson is survived by his wife, five children, two brothers and three sisters.

Police Sergeant Donald D. Myers Died February 17

Donald D. Myers, a resident of Thief River Falls, died in the line of duty Saturday evening, February 17 at the age of 32 years. Funeral services will be held today, Thursday at the Zion Lutheran church. Rev. Leland Steen will officiate and interment will be made at the Greenwood cemetery. The body will lie in state at the Green Funeral Home from Tuesday evening until noon Thursday and at the church one hour prior to the time of service.

Mr. Myers was born September 13, 1929 at Faulkton, South Dakota and moved with his parents at the age of 4 years to Richfield, Minnesota. They later moved to Thief River Falls, where he had since resided. He attended school here, and served in the army during the Korean Conflict. He entered the service December 28, 1950 and was discharged September 2, 1952. He had served with the National Guard in this city since 1948.

On May 8, 1953 he was united in marriage to Florence Jarshaw at the Rindal Lutheran church. After their marriage they continued to live in this city, where he was employed at Thief River Welding Co., and had served with the police department for the past 7½ years, holding the rank of Sergeant. He was a member of Zion church and of the VFW, the American Legion and the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Mr. Myers is survived by his wife, Florence and three daughters: Penelope, Pamela and Patricia, all at home; also his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Myers of this city, two sisters, Inez Johnson of Longview, Wash., and Retta Hedlund of Thief River Falls; two brothers, Arnold Myers of Albert Lea, Minn. and Bernard Myers of this city.

Complaint on the amount charged for weighing trucks at the city scale was registered by two coal dealers who were informed that the rate is listed in city ordinance and not subject to change due to a lease agreement which will not expire until August 1. The dealers complained that a charge of one dollar to weigh local coal delivery trucks and semi-trailer trucks with many times the load weight was not equitable.

Chairman Roy Lee stated that the items of salaries of city employees and consolidation of departments would be the first item of business on the agenda at the March 2 adjourned meeting.

"learn, live, serve through 4-H"
4-H

4-H WEEK "Learn, live, serve through 4-H" is the theme of National 4-H Week March 3-10. Pennington county's 425 4-H'ers are among 53,000 in Minnesota and more than 2 million in the nation who have planned special activities in observance of the week. Kick-off in Minnesota will be the state 4-H radio speaking contest on the University of Minnesota's St. Paul Campus March 3.

Local Clubs Observe 4-H Week March 3-10

More than 400 4-H club members in Pennington County will observe National 4-H Club Week March 3-10. They are among 53,000 youths in Minnesota and more than 2,296,000 in the United States who will take special note of the week by setting new goals, reviewing past accomplishments and telling others about 4-H work.

Joining with them in obervance of National 4-H Week will be 310,700 men and women who serve as unpaid volunteer leaders and guide local 4-H work in 50 states and Puerto Rico. In Pennington County, 51 men and women volunteer their services as 4-H leaders.

"Learn, live, serve through 4-H" is the theme for the week.

Activities in Pennington County during the 4-H Week will include window displays, bulletin posters, and special club programs.

Kick-off for the week on state level will be the finals in the statewide radio speaking contest on the University of Minnesota's St. Paul Campus March 3. Champion and reserve champion in the contest will appear on WCCO radio that day.

Established as an educational program for young people, 4-H club work is sponsored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the land-grant colleges and universities—in this state, the University of Minnesota—cooperating with county governments and local people. During National 4-H Week, emphasis will be placed on the educational support given by the now century-old land-grant college system and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

4-H work is generally known as a "learn by doing" program. But it has other aims, too.

Among these, are to help young people to: acquire knowledge, skills and attitudes for a satisfying home and family life; develop leadership, talents and abilities; learn scientific methods of making decisions and solving problems; recognize the importance of scientific agriculture and home economics and their relation to the economy; explore career opportunities; cultivate traits of healthful living, wholesome recreation and intelligent use of leisure time; gain attitudes and understanding for working cooperatively with others; and strengthen personal standards and philosophy of life based on lasting and satisfying values.

James Muzzy Given Plaque for Top Dairy Herd at Winter Show

J. R. Muzzy, Thief River Falls, showed the best dairy cattle herd—five Holsteins — in open class competition at the Red River Valley Winter Shows.

He received a plaque from the Red River Valley Dairymen's association.

eH also showed the junior, senior and grand champion Holstein bulls and the junior, senior and grand champion Holstein females.

The reserve champion herd, consisting of five Milking Shorthorns, was exhibited by Wildwood Farm, Twin Valley. Wildwood Farm also showed junior, senior and grand champion Milking Shorthorn females.

Clifford Larson, Thief River Falls, had junior, senior and grand champion Milking Shorthorn bulls.

Eugene Paulsrud, exhibited the junior and grand champion Brown Swiss bull and junior, senior and grand champion female in that breed.

Marvin Peterson, Lockhart, had the junior, senior and grand champion Jersey females. There were no bull entries in Jersey competition.

Forty-one Holsteins, 16 Milking Shorthorns, nine Brown Swiss, and two Jerseys were entered in open class dairy cattle competition.

D. Waage Speaks in Philadelphia Heart Fund Drive

Don L. Waage, formerly of Thief River Falls and now assistant to the board of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. in Washington, D. C., spoke February 14 at a bank operations clinic in Philadelphia, Penna., sponsored by the Pennsylvania Bankers association. He discussed the topic, "The Need for Safe and Sound Banking".

Social Security Requires Correct Earnings Reports

Individual May Cheat Himself by Failure to Report All of Income

In social security headquarters in Baltimore they have earnings records of more than 140,000,000 workers—every person who has been issued a social security account number card in the 26 years since social security started. Each earned dollar shown on each of those 140 million accounts had to be reported before it could be put in the worker's account.

For every dollar that hasn't been reported, or was reported incorrectly, someone is short one dollar in his account. Those dollars will be very important one day because each worker's record of earnings is used to figure the amount of his retirement of disability benefits, or the benefits payable to his family in case of his death.

Self-employed people, reporting their earnings for social security purposes at the same time they file their annual income tax return, should be sure that Schedule SE at the bottom of page 1 of their Schedule C-1 or Schedule F-1 is completely and correctly filled in. For it is only from this Schedule SE that the social security people can make a record of self-employment earnings.

To make sure your earnings records are correctly kept, always put your name on the Schedule SE, even though it is also shown in other places. Be sure, too, that your social security number is entered on this form, as well as the earnings on which you are paying social security tax.

Every three years, it's a good idea to check the social security 19 lightning losses and $130 in two records to see if your earnings are on your account. The Grand Forks social security office can supply a postcard for this purpose. And they can help straighten out your account if all of your earnings are not shown on the statement you receive.

W. Rodekuhr, registration; LeRoy Nabben, publicity; M. R. Leverson, housing; and Harold M. Johnson, state and district and program. Jordet presided at the meeting and preliminary reports were given by the various chairmen.

MAN'S FLIGHT THROUGH LIFE IS SUSTAINED BY THE POWER OF HIS KNOWLEDGE

Institute Planned for Organization Leaders

Dates have been scheduled for an Institute for Organization Leadership in Thief River Falls during late March and early April under the sponsorship of the education committee of the local Chamber of Commerce and the Thief River Falls vocational-technical school. The course will consist of three sessions and will be free to the public throughout the area.

Arnt Aune, director of the vocational school, and Dr. O. D. Beich, member of the education committee, are serving as co-chairmen of the sub-committee arranging the institute. Sessions will be held on Friday, March 23 and 30 and Tuesday, April 3.

Initial session of the institute will deal with how to be a good officer, how to be a good chairman and how to run a good committee. The second will outline parliamentary procedure and provide valuable information on how to conduct a business meeting. The final session will be concerned with how to be a good toastmaster and a representative of Toastmasters International is expected to be present to conduct the study.

Directors and officers of all organizations on a community-wide basis are urged to make plans now for attendance at all three sessions. Certificates of achievement will be awarded to all persons who are in attendance at the three meetings.

"We feel that an institute of this type is something which is desperately needed in an enterprising community," Dr. Beich said. "As current organizations progress and new groups come into being, it is essential that leaders in these groups have a working knowledge of parliamentary law and what is expected of them as officers.

"Anyone who attends any one of the meetings will be sure to learn something he didn't know before. It will be a revelation for the beginner and a refresher course for the experienced. Directors and officers owe it to themselves and the groups they serve to be prepared to do their best in their respective organizations."

Newfolden Group to Offer 3 Plays Friday Evening

The Dramatics Club of Newfolden high school, under the direction of Mrs. May Larson, will present three one-act plays Friday, February 23, at 8 p. m. in the Newfolden auditorium.

The plays, "The Flattering Word", "Antic Spring", and "Enter the Hero", will be judged by John [illegible] of Warren high school. The winner will be announced shortly after the plays are over.

Between the plays, there will be a short intermission, at which time musical selections will be offered.

Tina Larson, Sister of Local Man, Dies Feb. 16

Tina Larson of Pontiac, Michigan passed away Friday, February 16 at the age of 62 years. Funeral services were held at the First Lutheran church at Audubon, Minn. Wednesday, February 21 at 2 p. m. with Rev. Paul Knutson officiating. Interment was in the Audubon Lutheran cemetery and the West Funeral home of Detroit Lakes was in charge of the arrangements.

Miss Larson was born in Audubon, Minn. August 25, 1899 where she lived until she moved to Pontiac 19 years ago. She was employed there as a registered nurse.

She is survived by five sisters: Ella of Audubon, Minn.; Alpha of Detroit Lakes; Clara of St. Peter, Minn.; Ruth of Tucson, Arizona; and Josephine of Jamestown, N. Dak.; seven brothers: Christ of Detroit Lakes; Peter of Park Rapids, Minn.; Hardy and Conrad, both of Long Beach, Calif.; Evan of Mahnomen; and Arthur of Thief River Falls.

She was preceded in death by one brother.

Oscar Joppru Dies; Services to Be Held Saturday

Oscar Joppru, a resident of the Thief River Falls community for over 60 years passed away at the Northwestern Hospital Sunday evening, February 18, at the age of 83 years.

Funeral services will be held Saturday, February 24, at 2:00 P.M. in the Zion Lutheran church. Rev. Leland Steen will officiate and interment will be in the Satersdal cemetery. The body will lie in state at the Green Funeral Home from Thursday evening until noon Saturday and at the church for one hour before the time of services.

Mr. Joppru was born May 31, 1878 in Norway and came to America with his parents when 7 years old settling in North Dakota, where he attended school and grew to manhood. In 1898 he came to Thief River Falls and settled on a farm northeast of this city where he farmed for many years.

In 1919 he was united in marriage to Mrs. Tilda Joppru in Thief River Falls after which he continued to farm near here until he retired in 1946 when he moved into the city.

He is survived by 7 sons; Clarence of Babbit, Minnesota; Richard in California; Orville, Sanders; Art, Melvin and Olaf all of Thief River Falls; one daughter (Margaret) Mrs. Art Taylor of Babbit, and one brother John Joppru in Canada; and thirty-three grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his wife Tilda, his parents, 2 sons and one daughter.

Eldred Girl Wins Talent Contest at RRV Winter Shows

Ruth Bredile Wins $100; Warren Buck of TRF Wins Third with Piano Solo

Ruth Bredile of Eldred took top honors in the fourth annual talent festival at the Red River Valley Winter Shows Tuesday night.

Ruth won a $100 cash award from the Winter Shows board of managers for her piano solo. Competing in the contest were youths 12 to 21 years of age.

Second place and a $75 prize went to a vocal group from Ada. Members were Julie Johnson, Carol Johnson, Barbara Hanson, Jan Gorze, Solveig Nornes, Sandy Woltjer and Kathy Ruoff.

Warren Buck, Thief River Falls won third prize of $50 for his piano solo.

A $10 cash award went to each act performing Tuesday night. Seventeen acts were presented.

The contest was sponsored jointly by the Crookston Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Red River Valley Winter Shows Board of Managers.

Guest performer at the Festival was Craig Arness, Fisher, who presented the trumpet solo and dance which won first place for him at the Festival last year.

Serving as Master of Ceremonies for the Talent Festival was Ken Kennedy of WDAY-TV, Fargo, N. Dak. Contest judges, from Crookston, were T. W. Thorson, Don Myrold, Lloyd Lee, Sister Frances, and Belva Saugstad.

Lt. Col. Brundin Helped to Launch Orbiting Capsule

Three Minnesota men, all Air Force officers, held key positions in the successful launching of John Glenn's space capsule Tuesday.

The boss was Lt. Col. Robert H. Brundin, the Air Force chief of the Mercury-Atlas program. It's Brundin's responsibility to see that the Atlas rockets used for Mercury capsule launchings are as safe and reliable as any rocket can be made.

Brundin was born in Glenwood, Minn., and his mother, Mrs. Nathan Brundin, still lives there. His late father was a Soo Line employe who worked out of Thief River Falls for some years before moving to Glenwood.

Working with Lt. Col. Brundin are two other Minnesotans—Maj. Charles Gandy, a graduate of Washburn high school and St. Thomas Academy, and Maj. I. B. Hanson of St. Cloud, a University of Minnesota aeronautics engineering graduate.

Catholics Attend Library Meeting

Six from City at Session In Crookston Sunday

Six Thief River Falls residents attended a meeting of the Catholic Library association of the Diocese of Crookston last Sunday at Mount St. Benedict, Crookston. Approximately 100 teachers were present.

Attending from here were Sister M. Hyacinth, O. S. B., Sister Ernesta, O. S. B., Sister Marguarite, O. S. B., Sister Joyce, O. S. B., Virgil Burger, and Father G. Robert Pryor.

The program consisted of two addresses followed by discussions, and a social hour in which opportunity was given to view an exhibit of books relating to the elementary library.

Sister Adrienne, O. S. F., librarian at the College of St. Teresa, Winona, talked on "The Library and the Elementary School." Her address was followed by a talk entitled, "Roots of Freedom: Faith and Knowledge", delivered by Father William Mehrkens, superintendent of schools of the Diocese of Crookston.

60 Ninth Graders Entertain Lions

Miss Gladys Johnson's Students Recite Ballads

Lions club members at their luncheon meeting Wednesday noon in the Elks club rooms enjoyed a novel program in the form of group recitations of old-time and modern ballads by sixty Lincoln high school students from two sections of the ninth grade English classes taught by Miss Gladys Johnson.

The numbers were announced by Miss Johnson, who was introduced by Francis Hamerlinck, program chairman.

In a brief business session President Gordon Reierson reported on a week-end conference of Lions clubs at Boissevain, Manitoba, at which he and several other Lions and their wives were in attendance. The Thief River Falls club will be host to the 1963 conference next February.

Washington PTA to Present Play Monday, March 19

"65th Precinct", a play dealing with the roaring 20's, will be presented by about 40 parents and teachers of the Washington PTA Monday, March 19 at 8 p. m. at the Lincoln high school auditorium. There are three acts in the play, and tickets are now on sale by members of Washington PTA. Mrs. Robert DuChamp is ticket chairman.

"Honoring Rural Opportunities and Responsibilities" is the theme for National Future Farmers of America Week, Feb. 17-24.

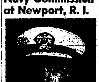
Jones Receives Navy Commission at Newport, R. I.



Ensign Evan Jones

Recently commissioned as an ensign in the U. S. Navy was Evan M. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Quentin Jones of Thief River Falls and graduate of Lincoln high school in this city. Commissioning took place after he had successfully graduated from the navy's officer candidate school in Newport, R. I.

Ensign Jones received a degree from the University of North Dakota in June of 1961 and reported to officer candidate school on September 18 last year. He will attend the navy communications school in Newport before reporting aboard his ultimate duty station, the USS Los Angeles in Long Beach, Calif. He will serve on active duty for three years.

Prowler Matmen Edge Greenbush 26-20 Wednesday

Roy Delorme Loses 1st In 15 Matches; Region Tourney Set Saturday

Gaining decisions in the final two matches and capturing two weight divisions by forfeit, the Thief River Falls Lincoln high school Prowlers wrestling team defeated Greenbush last night 26-20 to complete the season with an 11-2-2 record.

Region 8 tournament action will take place Saturday at Crookston Central high school with matches beginning at 11 a. m. Consolation matches will begin at 7 p. m. and finals will begin at 8 p. m. Park Rapids and Bemidji are favored for the team trophy which is awarded to the school which has the largest aggregate score in the tournament. Matches in each weight division will be determined by drawing.

Last night's meet with Greenbush was a 20-20 tie until Roger Miller decisioned Romaine Kukowski and Dwight Myhrer decisioned Paul Flafen by identical 4-0 scores in the 178-pound and heavyweight divisions. Joe Taylor and Ray Ulrich of the Prowlers had previously been awarded forfeits in the 141 and 148-pound classes.

Roy Delorme sustained his first loss in 15 matches in the 98-pound class when LeRoy Sikorski decisioned him 4-2 last night. It is likely that the two will meet again in the Region 8 tournament Saturday.

In other matches, Don Berggren (TRF) pinned Allen Kasprowicz in 3:26; Roger Wilson (TRF) lost to Lawrence Gonsorowski 4-2; Steve Skadsen (TRF) lost to Allen Snare 3-1; Ted Johnson (TRF) pinned B. Ames in 3:10; Mike Soeby (TRF) was pinned by R. Gonsorowski in 2:12; Terry Nelson (TRF) was decisioned by Richard Lorentson 5-4; and Leland Pietron (TRF) lost to Allen Bertilrude 11-4.

Lions and Rotary To Have Taxation on March Program

Two programs on taxation presented by representatives of the Minnesota Tax Payer's association have been arranged for forthcoming meetings of Rotary and Lions clubs in Thief River Falls, according to program chairmen for the organizations.

Charles P. Stone, general counsel for the association, and Harold T. Miller, research director, will attend the Rotary meeting on March 12 to discuss state spending and the tax picture, according to Kenneth Onken, program chairman for the month.

James Geisen, program chairman for the Lions club, reports that Stone and Miller will review tax reform financed by a replacement sales tax at the noon meeting of the Lions club on March 28. Members of the two organizations are asked to keep the dates in mind and plan attendance at the respective meetings.

Only 4 Cases in Municipal Court

Patrol and Police Bring In Traffic Offenders

Only four persons appeared in municipal court Monday, all on traffic law violations. Several cases were set back on the calendar, however.

There were two highway patrol cases. Dennis W. Erickson, rt. 1, pleaded guilty to having illegal brakes and was fined $15, of which $5 was suspended. Russell R. Lambert, Brooks, pleaded guilty to failure to display valid license plates and was fined $15.

Two persons were also brought into court by city police. Clifford N. Johnsrud, Goodridge, pleaded guilty to failure to yield the right-of-way, accident involved, and was fined $25.

Eugene L. Votava, city, pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of intoxicants and was given a 30-day jail sentence, suspended on conditions set by Judge Stanley N. Mortenson. He was also placed on court probation.

On the additional charge of having an open bottle of intoxicants in his car, Votava was fined $15 after he pleaded guilty.

Don LaSalle Heads Anoka Exchange

TRF Native Promoted by N.W. Bell Telephone Co.

Donald LaSalle, 33, a native of Thief River Falls, has been named Anoka manager of Northwestern Bell Telephone company.

He replaces Bill Strand, Anoka manager the past three years, who leaves to become assistant exchange rate engineer at the Minneapolis plant next week.

LaSalle, who took over his new duties Monday, has been an assistant development engineer the past three years in the Minneapolis Northwestern Bell office. He has also worked at Mora, St. Cloud, Montevideo, Willmar, Roseau and Bemidji for the company.

LaSalle began as a lineman for the company in 1948 at the Crookston branch. His career was interrupted by a two year hitch in the army from 1951 to 1953 during the Korean War. He and his wife and two children presently make their home in Robbinsdale.

He is the son of Alvin LaSalle, now living in California.

Marshall FAS Job Calls for Paving No. 6 at Gatzke

Seven Federal-aid secondary road improvement jobs, approximating $621,000 in costs, will be let during the week of March 12 in Clay, Cook, Hubbard, Lincoln, Marshall, and Redwood counties, the Minnesota Highway Department announced today.

The jobs will include sand-gravel sub-base, gravel base, road-mixed bituminous base, surfacing and seal coat, gravel surfacing and grading of 37.9 miles of secondary roads and one bridge.

The Marshall county project is on CSAH 6 — Sand-gravel sub-base, gravel base, road-mixed bituminous base and surfacing of 10.9 miles between C. R. 128, 9¼ miles east of Middle River, and T. H. 89, three miles east of Gatzke. Bids will be open March 14 by County Auditor Levi G. Johnson at the county courthouse in Warren.

Officers Elected by Breeders Co-op

Annual Meeting Held at Anoka February 17

Loren Trunk of Princeton, Minnesota was elected president of Consolidated Breeders Cooperative at its Annual Meeting held Saturday, February 17th at its headquarters at Anoka. Other executive members elected were Marvin Larson, Anoka, vice president; Frank Wyatt, Rochester, secretary; Sidney Stoltz, Plainview, treasurer; Robert Draxler, Glenwood City, Wisconsin, and Duane Wolfgram, Racine, Minnesota, directors. George Miller, Austin, was elected as alternate to the executive committee.

The financial statement given by the business managers, L. S. MacRostie, showed that C. B. C. had had another year of growth and progress. 234,230 first service cows were bred which was a gain of over 7 per cent above the previous fiscal year. The report also showed the cooperative to be in a strong financial condition with assets totaling more than $670,000.

In his annual report, R. W. Seath, general manager, reviewed the progress of C. B. C., pointing out that the Cooperative had distributed $205,000. of patronage earnings. In addition, Consolidated Breeders Cooperative completed the conversion to 100 per cent frozen semen service.

Local Nurse To Attend Conclave On Major Duties

Focused on improving the practice of the head nurse through study of several of her major functions, a state-wide conference for head nurses will be held February 23 at the Citizen's Aid building in Minneapolis. Miss Lydia Daneen of Thief River Falls will attend.

Margaret Clipper, supervisor of University of Minnesota hospitals in Minneapolis, will speak on gaining cooperation of the patient, family and visitors in carrying out the doctor's orders. Mrs. Thora Kron, Duluth, author of "Nursing Team Leadership", will discuss acurate recording and reporting of the patient's progress.

Effective methods of implementing doctor's orders will be discussed by Margaret Grainger, assistant professor, University of Minnesota school of nursing, and a panel will discuss beginning patient education and rehabilitation on admission. The conference is sponsored by the head nurses' branch of the Minnesota Nurses association.

Grygla Shipping Group to Elect Two Directors

Election of two directors to fill the expired terms of Alton J. Anderson and Ray W. Anderson will take place at the annual meeting of the Grygla Cooperative Shipping association to be held Friday, March 2, at 2 p. m. in the MarBel Hall at Grygla. Reports will also be given by officers of the association.

Carl Spong, Central Livestock association representative from South St. Paul, will be guest speaker and a movie entitled "The Pig and the Public" will be shown, according to Arnold Stanley, secretary-treasurer of the cooperative. Door prizes will also be awarded at the conclusion of the meeting.

Present officers and directors of the association include Alton J. Anderson, president; Ray W. Anderson, vice president; Arnold Stanley, secretary-treasurer; Paul Saurdiff, trucker-manager; Thomas Smith and Clarence Peterson, directors.

Warren Buck Is Winner of Third In Talent Event

Warren Buck, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buck of Thief River Falls, won third place in the talent festival presented as part of the Red River Valley Winter shows in Crookston Tuesday evening. He played a classical piano selection in the contest.

First place went to Ruth Bredile, Eldred, pianist, and second place was awarded to a vocal group from Ada. First, second and third place awards were $100, $75 and $50 respectively and furnished by the Winter Shows board of managers. Ken Kennedy, program and production manager of a Fargo television station, again served as master of ceremonies.

Also among the 17 finalists chosen from approximately 130 taking part in auditions during the day was Kathy Lafrenz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lafrenz of this city. She also played a piano solo and received $10 for appearing on the evening program. The talent contest is sponsored annually at the winter shows by the Crookston Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Deadline Nears For Vaccination At Lower Rates

Only a few days remain for students in Thief River Falls schools to receive immunization against diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox at the reduced rate offered during the month of February, according to Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse.

Parents who have boys and girls in grades 6, 9 and 12 should encourage their children to receive protection against diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox before March 1, Mrs. Race said. During February each vaccination is only 50 cents at any of the clinics in Thief River Falls. On March 1 the rates will return to their normal amounts.

Third graders at the four elementary schools will receive their "shots" at the respective schools. Dr. Erickson of the Starekow Clinic will be at the school Friday and Tuesday to immunize the children who are too young to visit the clinics by themselves. Any child, regardless of grade, may take advantage of the reduced cost if he is in need of immunization at this time.

..TAXES OUTRUN POPULATION

From 1920 to 1930 births outnumbered deaths in Minnesota by 278,601, or 11¼ per cent of the average population of the decade, but actual population of the state grew only 7.4 per cent. Worst loss was the decade '40-50, when births outnumbered deaths by 12.86 per cent of the average population, but the gain was only 6.8 per cent. Birth increase was 16.51 per cent between '50 and '60, but population gained only 11½ per cent. In the decade from '30 to '40 our state actually held its own in this race, with a birth gain of 7.99 per cent compared with a population gain of 8.0 per cent. During the last ten years per capita income went up almost exactly 50 per cent, while total taxes levied more than doubled.

LHS Athletes Work At Lifting Weights

TWO MAN exercise, with a little comment by the man on top concerning the grunts and groans of the man on the bottom, is part of the weight lifting program which is being used this winter at Lincoln high school. In the above photo, Jim Ranum does a trunk extension exercise, extending the upper half of his body beyond a padded bench, placing a weight behind his head and raising himself to bend as far backward as possible. Providing the assistance, and the kibitzing, is Steve Mittelstadt.

Work for the sake of work may not sound attractive but approximately 70 boys at Lincoln high school are creating work for themselves in a weight lifting program intiated this winter. The program is under the direction of Bill Herzog, assistant football coach at the school, and is not necessarily designed to create work. It is aimed at body development.

"This is not a muscle-building program," Herzog stated in a Times interview this week. "We are not interested in the bulging bicep or the Mr. America physique. Our program can be classified as physical fitness training—but we are, admittedly, selfishly looking at coming athletic seasons in which many of our weight lifters will be participating."

Entirely conducted on a voluntary basis with a sort of honor system used, the program is available three days a week—Each Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The boys have workouts during free periods or after school, doing a series of 12 exercises designed to use nearly every muscle in the human body. The exercise series is the same as that used at the University of Minnesota.

"There is no competition in the sport," Herzog said, "other than that which an individual has with himself for body development and increased strength. The boys keep their own records. Rather than trying to see how heavy a weight he can lift, a boy takes a certain lighter weight and attempts to lift it as many times as possible. He does this with various types of weights in various positions.

"Some of the boys are becoming fanatics in the program, even to the extent of purchasing their own weights and training at home. We have only one set rule in the program and that is for the protection of the boys. Any person who is heard bragging about the amount of weight he can lift is automatically prohibited from taking part in the program."

Herzog noted that prime consideration is given to development of agility, muscle tone, coordination, reaction time, strength and speed and endurance. These are brought about by firming flabby muscles, trimming excess weight, adding solid weight to underdeveloped bodies and creating a desire for self-improvement.

Listing Bob Benson, Brian Lofberg, Jim Ranum and Mark Pream as the most enthusiastic participants, coach Herzog noted that they have made good progress since the program started. Benson, for instance, lifts up to five tons of weight in a single workout.

There is no restriction as to who may participate in the junior or senior high school but students in the upper four grades have shown the most interest. Athletes who take part in inter-school sports, primarily football, have become the most avid workers. Herzog encouraged any boys interested in the program to contact him as there are plenty of weights available to handle a large number of students.

Lincoln PTA Unit Cancels Meeting Set for Feb. 26th

The February meeting of the Lincoln high school PTA unit scheduled for Monday, Feb. 26, has been cancelled due to a conflict with the high school music department's presentation of "Babes in Toyland." The March meeting will feature a talk by Supt. Marshall Hankerson concerning the proposed school building program based on findings by the architect.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

First in Hockey

For many years there was an old canard in circulation in baseball to the effect that Washington was first in war, first in peace, and last in the American League race.

On the local level, in the grade school hockey competition, that saying can be recast to read: Washington, first in war; first in peace; and first in the city grade school hockey race. Coach Gayle Halvorson's high-scoring Washington Wildcats squad, with ten straight wins to date, has clinched the four-team city grade school hockey title.

In their ten-game winning streak (and their ambitions are to post an undefeated season) the Wildcats have rolled up a total of fifty-seven goals while allowing their opponents but five tallies.

So congratulations are in order to coach Halvorson and his squad: goalie Scott Dowers; defensemen Jerry Droppo, Gary Sabo, Gary Owen, Darrel Voecks, and John Hammer; and forwards, Rich Holmes, Tom Stromberg, Arlen Overbye, Stewart Rugland, Dennis Reese, and Allan Rugland.

The Wildcats have but two games remaining on their 1961-62 schedule. Next Saturday, in a 9:00 a. m. game, they meet the St. Bernard's Broncos; and on Saturday, March 3, they will close out their schedule with a 9:00 a. m. game against the Northrop Indians. This game will be a thriller.

Prowler Grapplers to Regional

Coach Al Shaff's Prowler wrestling squad, with the best record of any squad in District 31 competition, will enter the Region Eight wrestling tournament at Crookston on Saturday, Feb. 21

The first session will begin at 11:00 a. m., with matches being held until 5:00 p. m. The consolation finals matches will be held at 7:00 p. m.; and the championship finals at 8:00 p. m.

Bemidji and Park Rapids of District 29 (both squads scored wins over the Prowlers during the season's competition) are expected to duel for the team title.

On an individual basis, coach Shaff has several wrestlers who are given high rating as potential Region Eight champions and earn a trip to the state tourney. Among the blue-and-gold wrestlers who have been impressive during the season's competition are Roy Delorme, who is unbeaten in the 98-lb. class this season; captain Ted Johnson, who has been wrestling in the 130-lb. class; Joe Taylor, who has been a standout in the 148-lb. class; and agile Terry Nelson, who has been wrestling successfully in the 157-lb. class.

Making a Game Try

Carl Onkka of the Len's Tire Service team, who has bowled a pair of big 600-plus totals the past couple of weeks, is making a game try of overhauling Jesse DuChamp of the Elaine's and take the high-average honors in the Tuesday night Business League.

As a result of his remarkable scoring the past two weeks, tall Carl has boosted his average to 188. That mark is just one behind the 189-pin average that Plummer's Jesse DuChamp is carrying. But said Carl, "It is getting hard to pick up any pins in your average this late in the season, and I'll have quite a task if I am to catch Jesse. He's bowling real well."

In State Bonspiel

The Jon Larson rink Don Jorde, lead; Curtis Johnson, second; Roger Nygaard, third; and Jon Larson, skip left town today, Thursday, enroute to Hibbing where, beginning on Friday, they will participate in the Minnesota state curling bonspiel.

The Larson rink gained their state berth by edging out the Harold Halvorson rink in a finals match held at the Fairgrounds curling arena.

Area Hockey Stars Slated to Compete in World Tourney

Jackie Poole Is Among Competitors in Event In Colorado March 8-18

A number of hockey players who have played in this area, and are well-known to local fans, have been chosen to the 17-man U. S. National hockey team that will compete in the world's tournament to be held in Colorado Springs and Denver on March 8-18.

Heading the list, of course, is former Prowler all-state tournament center, Jackie Poole. Jackie is in the army, but he has been given leave in order to participate in the world's tournament.

Joining Poole are such players as Roger and Billy Christian of Warroad, Oscar Mahle of International Falls, Herb Brooks the former St. Paul Johnson star, and Ken Johannson, who was an All-American while at North Dakota U. And of course, the roster would not be complete without the presence of John Mayasich, the former Eveleth and Minnesota star.

The Christian brothers and Mayasich were on the 1960 United States Olympic team that won gold medals in the Olympic games held in Squaw Valley, Cal.

John (Connie) Pleban, the one-time pro and now coach at Duluth Branch, will coach the squad.

Roseau Six Region 8 Entry in State Meet

The 18th annual Minnesota state high school hockey tournament will get under way on the spacious ice sheet in the St. Paul Auditorium this afternoon with Edina meeting South St. Paul in a first-round game that will face-off at 1:30 p. m.

At 3:00 p. m. the Region Eight and defending state champion Roseau Rams will meet St. Paul Monroe. The Thursday evening sessions will find Minneapolis Washburn meeting Coleraine at 7:00 p. m.; and at 8:30 p. m. the highly-rated International Falls sextet will meet the Richfield club.

On Friday afternoon, the consolation bracket, with the losers in the first-round games participating, will begin. On Friday night, the state tourney semi-finals will be played; and the state championship finals will be played on Saturday.

The Roseau Rams made a successful defense of their Region Eight title on Monday night, when, in the finals of the tourney played at Roseau, the Rams defeated the Warroad Warriors. The win was the ninth Region Eight title for the Rams in the eighteen tournaments that have been played since the ice sport was officially recognized by the State High School League in 1945.

The Rams, during their season's play, compiled a record of twenty-one wins, two losses, and one tie. The losses on the Roseau record were administered by International Falls, 4-2, and St. Paul Johnson, 3-1; and the tie game was a 3-all affair with coach John Matchefts' Eveleth Golden Bears. Roseau, with seven veterans on the squad from last year's state championship team, will undoubtedly make a strong defense of their state title.

Local radio station, KTRF, with Maynard Troland at rink-side, will broadcast all of the tournament games in which the Rams participate.

Washington Six Wins 10th in Row

Blanks Knox Sextet by Score of 8-0 Saturday

Grade School Hockey League

	W.	T.	L.	Pts
Washington	10	0	0	20
Northrop	5	1	3	11
St. Bernard's	2	2	6	6
Knox	0	1	9	1

Results of Saturday's games:
Northrop, 2, vs. St. Bernard's, 1.
Washington, 8, vs. Knox, 0.

Schedule, Saturday, Feb. 21
Washington vs. St. Bernard's, 9 a.m.
Northrop vs. Knox, 10:00 a.m.

Coach Gayle Halvorson's rampaging Washington Wildcats hockey squad continues toward their goal of an undefeated season. The Washington club, which has clinched the city grade school hockey title, marked up their tenth straight triumph on Saturday morning as they scored a resounding 8-0 win over the Knox Tigers.

Rich Holmes, who has nailed down the individual scoring honors, paced the Wildcats by scoring four goals. Jerry Droppo added a pair of goals, and Arlen Overbye and Tom Stromberg added singles as the Washington team, for the fourth time this season, hit the eight-goal mark in a game.

On Saturday morning, with the face-off at 9:00 a. m., the Washington team will meet the St. Bernard's Broncos.

In the first game on last Saturday morning's twin bill, the Northrop Indians, on goals by Billy Olson and Dana Stromberg, edged out the St. Bernard's team, 2-1.

The league schedule will be concluded on Saturday, March 3; and in the windup games, Washington will play Northrop, and Knox will meet St. Bernard's.

Newfolden Ends Cage Season on Victorious Note

Sub-District Tourney To Open Monday Night In Roseau Gymnasium

Newfolden Nordics completed their 1961-62 basketball schedule on Saturday, when they traveled to Warroad and defeated the Warriors 40 to 27, in a game moved up to 6:45 p. m. to avoid a conflict with a hockey game. This gave the braves an overall season mark of 10-7 and a conference won-lost record of 7-5.

In final North Border League standings, the Nordics would up in fourth place with a 9-5 point record, behind the leader Middle River and a second place tie between Greenbush and Roseau. Other teams in standings from fifth down are: Baudette, Badger, Warroad, and Williams.

The Nordics will enter sub-district 32 competition on Monday, February 26, against Baudette at 8:30 p. m. Middle River and Greenbush will furnish the competition for each other in the first game of the evening in the Roseau gym.

The Warroad game started slow with the Nordics having an 8-3 first quarter lead and building to a 21 to 10 halftime lead. The second half was played quite evenly with Coach Frank Kohoutek giving the whole squad a chance to play in the final game of the season.

Three Nordic seniors will be seeing their last basketball competition for the school in the tournaments. They are Richard Inman, forward and high scorer for the Nordics during the year; Ronald Shern, the last of the Shern brothers who have played some terrific games for the Nordics over the years; and Richard Ellingson, center.

Teams winning their first round games at Roseau will all advance to the district tournament to be held at Kennedy on March 5, 6, 9 and 10. The Nordic band will play this first night of the tournament and it is hoped that a large crowd of Nordic fans will follow the team to Roseau for this crucial game in the tournament.

Newfolden defeated Baudette, 61 to 32, on the Nordic floor in the only other encounter between these two teams during the season but Baudette has been a terrific tournament team these last few years and were playing below par in the last meeting.

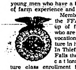
National FFA Week Has Local Emphasis

Forty-nine members of the Future Farmers of America chapter in Thief River Falls are joining with 12,700 FFA members in Minnesota and 378,000 members in the United States and Puerto Rico in the observance of National FFA Week February 17-24.

"Honoring Rural Opportunities and Responsibilities" is this year's FFA Week theme. Farm boys involved in the program undertake during this week a campaign to inform the general public about the importance of the Agricultural industry to America, and of the numerous and wide variety of opportunities that exist in this field for young men who have a background of farm experience and training.



Membership in the FFA is made up of farm boys who are students of vocational agriculture in high school. In Thief River Falls the entire vocational agriculture class enrollment is also included in the FFA chapter headed by Bruce Russell as president. Peter Probasco, vocational agriculture instructor, is also advisor for the FFA chapter.

The organization's activities are designed to help develop rural leadership and good citizenship and to stimulate the boys to better achievement in their study and work toward successful establishment in farming or other agricultural occupations.

Future Farmers choose the week of George Washington's birthday each year for the observance of National FFA Week. Although usually recognized as a Revolutionary War general and first president of the United States, Washington's first love was the farm he called Mount Vernon.

Washington was one of the first farmers in the nation to practice contour planting, crop rotations, fertilization and other soil conservation and improvement methods. It was more than a century after his death before general use was made of many of the sound agricultural practices that he advocated.

Although all members of vocational agriculture classes are encouraged strongly to join the FFA chapter, the program is strictly voluntary on the part of each boy, Probasco said. The chapter meets monthly in the agriculture rooms, holds fund raising projects to sponsor chapter activities, takes part in various judging contests and tours and attempts to broaden the scope of agricultural interest among the members.

Being reorganized this year is the gilt ring which was a former chapter project. Six gilts are to be purchased and two given to each of three FFA members selected. In return the three recipients will return to the gilt ring three gilts from the first crop of pigs produced. Pigs were selected for the program because of their prolific production and relatively short-term turnover to keep the ring active.

Farm boys may retain their membership in the Future Farmers of America until they reach the age of 21, even though they may have already graduated from high school. Last year the Thief River Falls chapter had four state farmers who graduated but still retain FFA membership. They include Roger Rupprecht, Charles Carlson, Kenneth Mehrkens and Dennis Kalnz.

One of the expenses incurred by the chapter is to defray half the cost of jackets if members wish to purchase them. The blue corduroy jackets with blue and gold emblems create a dressy appearance when the chapter is represented at judging contests or on tours. They are also personalized to encourage friendships with members in other chapters who may be encountered in public events.

Concrete Parley Scheduled at UND

Annual Conference to Be Held March 6 and 7

More than 100 architects, engineers and others in the construction industry are expected to participate in the ninth annual North Dakota concrete conference to be held March 6 and 7 in Grand Forks.

E. L. Lium, dean of the college of engineering, University of North Dakota, said that the program will open at 1 p. m. Tuesday, March 6 in the Student Center.

Specialists will present a program on a variety of topics ranging from concrete shell design to lift-slab and pre-stressed floor construction methods.

Stanley S. Johnson, Grand Forks consulting engineer, will preside at the initial session. Opening the second day's program will be Ivan R. Jensen, head of the University's civil engineering department. Oliver Rude, concrete Sectional Culvert Co., Grand Forks, will direct the concluding session.

Addressing the luncheon assembly Wednesday noon, March 7, will be Lt. Col. Vernon T. Loesing, area engineer, Minuteman Missile Facilities, Minot Air Force Base.

TESTING milk with the Babcock milk test to determine butterfat content are Dwight Anton (left) and Robert Rausch, officers of the Thief River Falls chapter of the Future Farmers of America. Several members of the chapter spend a great deal of their own time conducting the tests and keeping records on their dairy cattle as vocational agriculture and FFA project work. Milk testing is one of the skills taught in the vocational agriculture program.

Union State Bank Offering Money Management Kits

J. J. Womack, president of the Union State bank, said today that the bank will give away money management kits to help relieve the pain at income tax time.

He stated, "We're giving away these kits to all of our checking customers during our checking account promotion starting Monday, Feb. 26, and continuing through March 31. Stop in at the Union and pick up yours.

"The kit is a handy file for cancelled checks with index cards labelled by categories and by month for your convenience," Womack continued, "And if you don't have a checking account, open one during our promotion and pick up your free money management kit."

Sample kits will be displayed in the bank lobby during the promotion.

State VFW Calls for Car Safety Measures

The Minnesota Veterans of Foreign Wars emphasized at its recent executive meeting that "Community Service includes the Conservation of Human Life." It is headed by Russell Haase, Cloquet, who also serves as the national safety chairman for the veterans organization.

The committee presented the executive council with a safety resolution which received unanimous approval from the official body. In the statement, the organization commended Governor Elmer L. Andersen for his strong talk on traffic safety given to the Governor's Citizens Traffic Safety Conference, February 3, and approved the governor's suggestion for legislation that would make seat belts mandatory equipment in all vehicles.

The veterans group also asked for additional teeth in such legislation which would provide a penalty for failure to use available seat belts.

The safety committee went on to urge the automotive industry to provide for greater safety in the packaging of passengers by:

1. Adequate padding of dash boards and other interiors, including recessed instruments and panels.
2. Flexible or breakaway steering columns to prevent piercing wounds to the driver.
3. Roll bars or other strengthening of roof supports of sufficient strength to support the weight of the vehicle should it turn over.
4. Proper latches which would prevent doors from springing open upon impact, thus allowing passengers to be thrown out of vehicles.

The veterans requested their safety committee to prepare a strong public education campaign aimed at the proper use of turn signals by all persons. This would be in addition to the pedestrian emphasis campaign adopted last fall as an annual event for all VFW posts in Minnesota.

Editorials . . .

In losing his own life Sergeant Donald Myers probably saved the lives of others. He was a brave officer and deserves our admiration as well as our thanks. Perhaps the future will suggest a way for us to permanently inscribe his name in the records of our community as a memorial to his sacrifice.

"All the best things and treasures of this world are not to be produced by each generation for itself, but we are all intended, not to carve our work in snow that will melt, but each and all of us to be continually rolling a great white gathering snowball, higher and higher, larger and larger, along the Alps of human power.

—John Ruskin

Protecting Local Interests

Senator Eugene McCarthy says he favors the general idea of a Common Market as proposed by President Kennedy but he believes home industries should be protected from "unfair" advantages of foreign competitors. For instance he would raise tariff barriers against the importation of iron ore, thus forcing our steel industry to use ore mined in our country. This is a good example of the kind of opposition that will develop as the debate on this question gets under way.

Senator McCarthy's position on iron ore probably would not have national support, but in each state there probably are industries that will seek special protection, and in each state there no doubt will be strong pressure on its representatives in Congress to seek special consideration for those industries. One McCarthy is not strong enough alone to defeat the Common Market plan, but, in matters of this kind, the McCarthies become traders, and give their support for the local interests of other members to gain support for their own.

Tariff barriers would not be in the best interests of Minnesota's mining industry. To be effective there also would have to be tariff barriers against the importation of steel products. This would mean that our steel industry would become less competitive in world markets and shortly would be producing steel only for our own needs.

Another inevitable result of trade barriers against imports would be more trade barriers to keep our products out of other countries.

We have become strong because the founding fathers had the wisdom to decree that these United States should be a common market. No state was permitted to adopt barriers to a free exchange of goods and services with other states. The Common Market countries of Europe are now following our example with good results. That is why the Common Market idea is gaining favor.

We have nothing to fear from a gradual lowering and elimination of national trade barriers. There no doubt would be a few painful adjustments to be made but we are sure the long range benefits would justify a few temporary inconveniences.

A strong Europe probably is our best defense against Communism, and a stronger union between a strong Europe and a strong America would be a still better defense.

Here in Minnesota we should oppose Senator McCarthy's position on this matter because his proposal would not be in the best interests of the state of Minnesota. If such an approach were encouraged there would be no possibility of our country becoming a part of the Common Market.

Advice to the Governor

Martin McGowan, as publisher of the Swift County News at Benson, has distinguished himself also as that county's representative in the state legislature. In that capacity he has been close to the problems of state government and has had a ringside seat at some of the political performances that in many instances could be classified as both comedy and tragedy.

Representative McGowan is a Liberal, and with that in mind we like a recent editorial on Governor Andersen in which he discussed the extremes of both the strong and the weak in that office, and suggested a course of moderation. Moderation is always good. McGowan thinks:

> "If this paper is called upon to state its opinion of what a good chief executive of a state should be like, the answer would be that he should suggest and promote, but not push too hard to the point of interference. A governor has the duty to formulate a budget for the state and outline a basic program for state betterment. He can talk about his proposals to the public & work with key people in private, but he should not start issuing threats, picking authors for bills or interfering in other ways."

That, of course, is a legislator's point of view. Under our form of government, where we recognize three distinct branches, each independent to a certain extent, it is in the best interests of our government that each branch respect the independence and the responsibility of the other two. Liberal representatives McGowan has given the Governor good advice.

Potato Controls

A committee appointed by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman has reported back with a plan for planting allotments and marketing quotas on potatoes. By coincidence they agree to the same plan that had been suggested by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman. Planting allotments would be based on the historical record of each farm's record, not including the 1962 acreage. Penalties would be imposed on growers who planted more than their allotment.

The proposed program would be administered by a 46-member national potato administrative board who would be appointed by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman. Our guess is that this program would nicely take care of the unemployment problem.

Not Easy

It will be interesting to see what progress President Kennedy will make in his program for reducing the nation's stock piles. Some observers think he will find it much more difficult than he antcipates and predict that in a year from now he won't be saying much about it again.

Only recently his administration did have a little experience with the problem. Claytton R. Sutton, writing in the Wall Street Journal, reports that newspapers in Malaya were carrying bitter attacks on the "economic bullies" in the U. S. Government. According to him:

> "The "bullies" in this case were officials of the General Services Administration, administrators of the U. S. stockpile of strategic materials. And what had they done? They had merely decided to continue to sell small quantities of excess natural rubber, even if the price fell below 28 cents a pound. Malaya, the world's leading producer of natural rubber, was fearful that even these limited sales would push the market price lower.
> "After the uproar—and, significantly, the intervention of the U. S. State Department — the stockpilers backed down.. They announced they would sell at less than 28 cents only their holdings of natural rubber that had deteriorated with age."

Sutton calls attention to the fact that GSA does not set policy. In 1959, when Kennedy was still in the Senate, Congress decided that the rubber stockpile should be reduced by about 40 per cent and GSA had adopted a schedule that it hoped would accomplish this objective over a period of ten years. It was carrying out the instructions from Congress when the President's state department intervened under pressure from Malaya.

It ain't gonna be easy Jack.

Taxpayers Organize

Becker County has organized a Taxpayers Relief Association and we are hopeful that what Becker County citizens have started will develop into a trend thruout the state. The Becker County organization has 800 members and has established committees to study the operations of their local units of government in the interests of more economical operations.

A delegation from this organization called on the school board of the Detroit Lakes district recently and presented a prepared statement setting forth their objectives. The following paragraphs are excerpts from this prepared statement:

"We are not here to set salaries, nor to claim we have the biggest taxes, but we do wish to state that salaries involving such a large amount of local taxes should not go upward every year because a group has obtained higher pay elsewhere.

"Salaries should not be based on school maintenance costs, nor should the ability to pay be a major determining factor in salary considerations.

"During the past five or six years there have been substantial increases in salary schedules far beyond the cost of living index increases, ranging as high as approximately 35 per cent.

"Most industry uses a three-year contract. Our county employees, for the most part, have their salary schedule examined annually, relative to the cost-of-living index.

"In the interests of harmony and to channel time, talent and effort on education, it would seem desirable to setup a similar program in connection with teachers' salaries—which we believe, as previously stated, are now equitable to all parties concerned—with present increments and cost-of-living index increases adjusted annually.

"The majority of interested taxpayers, of course, do not enjoy annual increments, nor annual income increases, relative to the cost-of-living index, so this should be a very fair basis for salary schedules.

"This statement represents a cross section of opinion of the membership of the taxpayers group we represent."

There is need for a taxpayers organization here in Pennington and it would be well if such organizations could be formed in all counties and become members of an area association for the exchange of information. In most instances the members of governing boards would welcome the interest of such groups. Public employees are well organized and through their organizations they become strong pressure groups. A little more pressure from those who pay the bills would make it easier for board members to hold the line.

In recent years, hereabouts, pay increases each year have become almost automatic. The tax increases are piling up to a point where they are retarding progress. A taxpayers association is long past due.

VALUES IN INSURANCE
Lutheran-Brotherhood offers security at low cost for both you and your family

How do you judge the value of a life insurance buy? Just the way you judge any other. You ask, "What am I getting for my money?" Put that question to your Lutheran Brotherhood representative. He'll show you that Lutheran Brotherhood has a wide choice of sound plans—all at a cost you'll find remarkably low. One typical plan offers $10,000 of insurance for only 50¢ a day at age 25. As a Lutheran, you're eligible for these insurance bargains now. Better call your local Lutheran Brotherhood man today or mail the coupon.

Membership in Lutheran Brotherhood is acquired when you become a policyholder. Membership is offered to Lutherans of all synods and to persons directly connected with a Lutheran organization. As a fraternal society, Lutheran Brotherhood contributes to a variety of benevolent activities within the Lutheran community.

The Bible is a CATHOLIC Book

People differ radically in what they think about the Bible. Some seem to think it was handed down from Heaven written in English and bound in morocco. Many accept it as the inspired Word of God without knowing why they are justified in doing so. And others say that the Bible is full of contradictions and must be taken "with a grain of salt."

A proper understanding of the Scriptures can exert a tremendous influence for good in your personal life. You should, therefore, know where we get the Bible... what it means... why you can believe its every word.

Nowhere in the Bible text will you find a list of the 73 inspired books of which it is composed. This list was given to the world by the Catholic Church almost three full centuries after the Crucifixion of Jesus Christ. Between the time of the Crucifixion and the time the Scriptures were gathered into a single Book, millions had received and accepted the teachings of Jesus Christ...and had died without ever seeing the complete Bible.

Established by Jesus Christ Himself and rapidly spread among the nations of the world, the Catholic Church was carrying on Christ's work for the salvation of men some 60 years before the Apostle John wrote his books of the New Testament.

For more than a thousand years afterward, the Scriptures were preserved and circulated by Catholic monks and scholars who laboriously copied the sacred text by hand. And the Bible authorized by the Catholic Church was the first book produced by Gutenberg upon the invention of printing.

Yes, the Bible is truly a Catholic book. They were members of the Catholic Church who, under God's inspiration, wrote the New Testament in its entirety.

It was the Catholic Church which treasured it and gave it to the world in its original and unaltered form. It is the infallible authority of the Catholic Church that always has been the only sure guarantee of its inspiration.

There are obscure and difficult passages in the Bible, some of which may seem confusing. But with the complete revealed truth of God, delivered to her from the beginning, the Catholic Church has faithfully unfolded the meaning of the written Word of God to past generations of mankind—and does so today.

Those who are familiar with the Bible, as well as those reading it for the first time, will find many important questions concerning it answered in an interesting booklet which we shall send you in a plain wrapper free on request. And nobody will call on you. Ask for Pamphlet No. KC-3.

What size Chevrolet do you want to save money on?

CHEVROLET IMPALA Room, refinement and riding comfort. Foreground, the Impala Sport Sedan.
CORVAIR MONZA Sports Car spice without a sports car price. At rear is the Monza Club Coupe.
CHEVY II NOVA The frisky family-sized Chevrolet with a low, low price tag. Above right, Nova Sport Coupe.

Like your driving sporty, with quicksilver steering, flat-as-a-pancake cornering, sure-footed traction? Then a Corvair Monza's for you.

Or maybe the new-size Chevy II is more to your liking. Built for big families and still slips neatly into small parking places. And, with this, the kind of ingenious engineering (new easy-riding Mono-Plate rear springs, for example) that won this year's coveted Car Life Magazine Award for Engineering Excellence.

But say you want to go all out—to get the full treatment in space, spirit and splendor. Then there's nothing like a Jet-smooth Chevrolet. Makes paying more pointless.

So size 'em up—then save it up—at your Chevrolet dealer's.

IF THERE'S A NEW BABY IN YOUR FAMILY YOU SHOULD KNOW THE TRUTH ABOUT ORDINARY LIFE INSURANCE
There has been such a vast increase in the number of apparently different kinds of life insurance protection that some people are understandably confused. The truth of the matter is that Equitable Reserve ordinary life insurance continues as a basic and most important form and if there's a newcomer in your family you should know the facts about it. I'll be happy to relate these to you and answer your other Planned Security questions if you are selected for an interview. In addition, at the end of the interview, I'll make a present to you of an attractive baby photo album. Just fill in the following coupon and I'll telephone you promptly if you're chosen for a visit:

3 steps to teaching your child thrift

FIRST, set an example. Show the youngster how you get the things you want by saving for them.

Then, come in and see us at the bank, together. We'll show your son or daughter how other boys and girls are getting bicycles and trips to summer camp through regular saving. We'll tell how we pay interest on their accounts, just as we do on grownups'.

And finally, open a savings account. Encourage the little saver to deposit allowance and gift money. When that first savings goal is reached, the lesson of thrift has been learned.

We're here to help you get what you want

Revised Minnesota Policy as to Highway Building Is Revealed

Aimed at the ultimate elimination of the necessity for imposing spring-time axle load restrictions, State Highway Commissioner James C. Marshall today announced a long-range construction plan to upgrade all the routes comprising the Minnesota truck highway system. He spoke this afternoon at the annual conference of department engineers at Hotel St. Paul.

To accomplish this gigantic task, he said, the plan proposed provides for construction on the major trunk highway routes which will result in improvements permitting maximum legal loads throughout the year in a one-stage construction operation. Less important highway routes, when scheduled for construction, will be improved by means of a two-stage construction operation, with the initial stage upgrading the highway to a seven-ton axle load carrying capacity and the second stage consisting of an additional surfacing course to bring these highways up to maximum legal axle load capacity. These highways will be built initially with a grade of sufficient width and load-carrying capacity so that the ultimate construction to top standards will be relatively inexpensive.

"Adoption of this policy, based on present and foreseeable revenues accruing to the department at existing road user tax rates", Marshall said, "will result in fewer miles of roads being improved each year, but the mileage thus improved will be of a permanent nature."

In its past efforts to reconstruct as many miles of trunk highways as possible with funds available, he pointed out, the department was unable to build many highways with adequate grades and widths so that these highways, even some constructed after World War II, must now be rebuilt in order to handle mushrooming traffic demands.

Under the proposed program, the department will be aiming for a total of approximately 9,403 miles of regular trunk highways and Interstate routes, capable of carrying maximum legal loads, and 3,255 miles to carry 7-ton, and ultimately 9-ton, axle loads. By comparison, in the spring of 1961, of approximately 11,830 miles on the trunk highway system, 6,945 miles were subject to spring-time axle load restrictions and only 4,887 miles were capable of carrying maximum legal axle loads.

However, there are included in the 7-ton (ultimately 9-ton) group of highways approximately 600 miles of low traffic volume roads which, with the present revenues would not be scheduled for reconstruction in the foreseeable future. Unless there is a substantial increase in road-user revenue, this mileage will have to be placed in tolerable condition through maintenance betterments with periodic rehabilitation through special maintenance operations.

Regulating Supply Necessary to Hold up Farm Revenue

Winter Shows Audience Hears Address Monay by 'U' of M. Economist

More effective regulation of supply will be necessary if agricultural incomes are to be maintained near their present level in the future, Elmer Learn told a Red River Valley Winter Shows audience Monday morning.

Learn, associate professor of agricultural economics at the University of Minnesota, stated:

"If we are going to maintain farm incomes, we are going to have to find means of bringing production into balance with needs, even when these needs are supplemented by domestic and foreign demand programs."

He pointed out that "There is a strong and growing public resentment of agricultural programs. Much of this resentment is based on misunderstanding of both the nature of the problem and of past programs.

"The blame on agriculture for an important share of the current budget deficit is the most visible sign of this trend, but there are other signs as well," Learn continued.

"Agriculture has come almost to the end of the era when it can expect reasonable levels of income support and relatively unlimited power to produce," he stated.

In Learn's opinion, "the real choices of the not-too-distant future are either income support at reasonable levels combined with greater limitations on production, or lower levels of prices and incomes. How much lower depends upon budget pressure and how far we go toward wiping out existing programs."

In conclusion, Learn pointed out that "There is the mistaken notion in some quarters that this choice is agriculture's to make. While agriculture's political power is still extremely strong relative to its population, agricultural problems are not going to be passed or rejected by agricultural interests alone and there is no reason why they should be—All people are directly concerned with farm programs as consumers and citizens."

Survey Shows You ate 7 lbs. of Turkey in '61

You ate slightly more than 7 pounds of turkey last year, if you're an average Minnesotan.

And you ate most of this turkey for special holidays such as Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's and possibly for Easter.

These are some findings in a study made by University of Minnesota researchers in cooperation with the National Turkey Federation and the Minnesota Turkey Growers' Association.

About 200 families were surveyed in the Twin Cities area. The typical family in the survey was composed of husband, wife and two children, aged 6 and 10.

Only about 40 percent of the households in the survey had increased their consumption of turkey in the last five years. Their turkey buying habits had changed scarcely at all in that time.

Approximately 94 percent of the families served turkey one or more times during the year for an average of 31 pounds per family. Because about 6 percent of the families never served it, the average for all families dropped to 29 pounds. Per capita consumption came to slightly more than 7 pounds—close to the national average.

Turkey was most popular for festive occasions rather than for family meals. Nearly 92 percent of the families served it for one or more of the Thanksgiving, Christmas or New Year's holidays. Eighty-two percent of all households served turkey for Thanksgiving. But only 7 percent chose turkey for Easter. When it came to serving guests on occasions other than special holidays, it ranked fourth—behind beef, pork and chicken—for serving two to four guests, but third—ahead of chicken—for larger groups. Most families served chicken more often than turkey because they said it was easier to prepare, the family preferred it and there was no leftover problem.

College Qualification Test Set for April 17 by Selective Service

The annual Selective Service college qualification test will be offered to college students April 17 at approximately 500 colleges throughout the Nation.

The score made on the test is an additional piece of important information for local boards to use in considering students for deferment from induction for study as undergraduate or graduate students. The score will not of itself determine eligibility for deferment, but is considered with other information by the board in determining whether to defer a registrant for further study.

Lt. Colonel Murley A. Reep, State Director of Selective Service for Minnesota, announced that the test in Minnesota will be conducted in this area at Bemidji, Bemidji State college, Concordia college, Moorhead.

Colonel Reep urged students to take the test.

"The purpose of student deferments is to give students an opportunity to continue to prepare themselves for careers in support of the national interest," Colonel Reep said. "The undergraduate student who today does not plan on graduate study may change his plans as he nears graduation," he added. "That is the time that a deferment may be most important. That is also the time when a test score may be important in the local board's decision concerning deferment."

Only college students who are taking a full-time course may take the test, and a student may only take the test once during his college career.

Application materials for the test are now available at the nearest local board office or at any college or university. Students are urged to make application early. The application must be postmarked not later than midnight, Mrch 27. Full instructional materials are issued with the applications.

THE PROOF OF PRAYER

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	John	11	17-27
Monday	John	11	38-44
Tuesday	Acts	9	36-41
Wednesday	Romans	10	5-13
Thursday	Hebrews	11	1-7
Friday	Psalms	121	1-8
Saturday	Psalms	4	1-8

Ask—and it shall be given you. Seek—and ye shall find. Knock—and it shall be opened unto you.

The promise of Jesus is all the proof a child asks. But, knowing that we grownups are often more inclined to skepticism than faith, Christ continues:

What man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will give him a stone — or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent?

And while the multitude pondered the implication of these challenges, the Lord offered his conclusion . . . so simple as to appear obvious . . . so profound as to convince all but an atheist:

If ye, then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children — how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask Him!

But His real proof you'll find in the experience of prayer . . . in your church . . . in your home . . . in the sacred quiet moments of every day.

Protest Filed In Roseau Co. Liquor Vote

Irregularities Noted In Ballot Counting And Voting Methods

Official protest of the February 5 liquor election in Roseau county has been filed and election clerks served with summons as a result of "irregularities" in the voting and ballot counting procedure, according to an article which appeared in the Thursday edition of the Roseau Times-Region. A recount of the ballots is sought and it was reported that election clerks would appear in district court, possibly today.

"The undersigned contestants appeal to the district court in and for the above named county from the findings, decisions and judgment of the canvassing board of said county declaring that the 'yes' votes exceeded the 'no' vote on the proposition," the official protest reads. The document was filed by attorneys Hamerston, Bye and Shanahan.

Listed among the charges were the following:

That 41 absentee ballots in the village of Roseau did not comply with the statutes and that some who voted by absentee ballot were not entitled to vote;

That more than five votes were cast in the election in Badger;

That judges in Strathcona took ballots out of the polling place for people to vote;

That voters in town of Jadis were denied constitutional rights of a secret ballot by two ballot boxes being used one marked "dry" and one "wet";

That some persons were denied the right and privilege of voting because the opening and closing of polls were contrary to election laws;

That more than 80 votes in four townships were cast in the affirmative which should not have been counted as the number of ballots cast does not agree with the registration of voters;

That five ballots in the town of Stokes were not cast on official forms;

And the gross irregularities were practiced in the conduct of the election and it was indicated that "deliberate, serious and material violations of the election laws for the state of Minnesota occurred." It was alleged that the question of the election would have succeeded had the votes in question been or not been counted as the case might be.

Nominations for SCD Supervisor Open to March 3

Goodridge, Reiner, Star, Hickory To Vote at Twp. Elections On March 13

Nominations for farmers to serve on the board of supervisors of the Pennington County Soil Conservation District will remain open until March 3, according to Oscar Houske, board chairman. Harold South, Goodridge, whose 5-year term expires in 1962, has been nominated for reelection.

Goodridge, Reiner, Star and Hickory townships will be the only ones in which ballots for a supervisor will be cast in the March 13 election. Farmers nominated for the supervisor post must have residence in one of these four townships.

Farmers who wish to nominate a candidate to oppose South in the election may do so by contacting the soil conservation district office in the Pennington county courthouse or any one of the district supervisors.

Three distinct advantages are listed in the recent division of the county into five areas, each of which is composed of four or five townships. One supervisor represents each area and each area will vote once every five years to elect a supervisor for a 5-year term.

Under the reorganized program, farmers vote only in their own local area for people whom they know; each area will always be assured of being represented by a supervisor; and needless countywide voting each year is eliminated.

Stewart Elected State Engineers Society President

Professional Engineer Vote Use of "P.E" Title After Signature Friday

D. H. Stewart

D. H. Stewart, head of the Stewart & Walker engineering firm in Thief River Falls and consulting engineer for the city, was elected president of the Minnesota Society of Professional Engineers at the annual meeting which ended Thursday at St. Paul. He succeeds Fred R. McComb of Minneapolis.

Other officers elected were Harlan Schmidt, Mankato, president elect; Howard Loomis, Wayzata, vice president; Charles O. Georgi, St. Paul, secretary; Kenneth M. McGhie, Rochester, treasurer; Lyle J. McGladrey, Cloquet, national director; and Al M. Kircher, Mankato, national director.

The society announced that from this time forward all registered professional engineers are to use the initials "P. E." following their signature as an obligation to professional society membership. The decision was made by the 100-member House of Delegates, governing body of the group, at the convention.

"Professional Engineer" is a title conferred upon engineers who meet the rigid educational and experience requirements set up by the State Board of Registration for engineers, architects and land surveyors. Sixteen hours of examinations are taken and include basic mathematics and sciences, ethics design, problem solving and professional ability.

Life membership in the state society was voted for John Mullen, St. Paul; Byron Clingerman, Minneapolis; L. P. Zimmerman, Minneapolis; Charles Foster, Duluth; and Charles Robertson, New Ulm. All are engineers retired from practice.

Times Needs 15 Copies of Monday Feb. 19 Edition

Due to an unusually large demand for copies of the Monday, February 19, issue of the Times, we find that we have a shortage of copies for use in providing tearsheets for advertising agencies who placed advertisements in that issue.

Returns from news stands normally provide these copies but there were no returns of that issue this week. In order to fulfill the needs of the advertising firms, the Times will pay 25 cents each for the first 15 full copies of the February 19 issue brought to this office. Cooperation by our readers will be greatly appreciated.

TRF Liquor Store Nets $75,457 in '61

Sales at the Thief River Falls liquor dispensary in 1961 rose to $530,041.87, compared to $511,674.68 in 1960, it is revealed in the recently completed annual report. The total for 1961 included $414,310.90 in off-sales and $115,730.97 on-sales at the bar.

Net earnings of the establishment were reported at $75,457.29, down approximately $4,500 from the 1960 figure of $80,015.91. Net profit margin on gross sales was 14.24 per cent last year, compared to 15.60 per cent in 1960.

In explanation of the smaller profit margin in 1961, it was pointed out that inventories were reduced during the year from $95,000 to $76,862, resulting in an estimated loss in discounts earned of from $3,000 to $3,500.

Another factor was an increase in the bartender payroll due to a member of the staff receiving extended sick leave after suffering an injury.

Red Lake Indians Each To Get $25 In Distribution

Members of the Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians will each receive a $25 allotment from funds now available, Dan Needham, treasurer, announced Saturday. This is money accumulated from the earnings of the sawmill and fisheries and the sale of pulpwood and timber, he stated. The total sum distributed will be about $100,000.

Coroner's Inquest In Myers Death Slated Tuesday

Jury to Determine Cause of Death and Possible Criminal Action Involved

Further action as a result of the fatal shooting of Police Sergeant Donald D. Myers February 17 will take place at a coroner's inquest to be held Tuesday at 1 p. m. in the Marshall county courthouse in Warren, according to Warren A. Saetre, Marshall county attorney. It is one of three possible legal steps involved in the procedure.

Dr. E. E. Pumala, Marshall county coroner, and a six-member coroner's jury will hear the testimony of a number of people directly concerned with the shooting. Among those called to testify are Rev. Reuben Wangberg, father of 19-year-old Paul Wangberg, who fired the fatal shot from a deer rifle in the February 17 gun battle.

Other local persons called include police patrolman Bennie Miramontes, who was with Sgt. Myers at the time of the shooting; Elton Cummings, chief of police; and Charles Richards, Pennington county sheriff.

The inquest will be completed Tuesday, Saetre said, with the duty of the jury being to determine the cause of death and whether or not any criminal action was involved. A possible grand jury indictment may be necessary following the inquest before the case can be brought to district court trial, the county attorney added.

'62 Plates Must Be on Cars Mar. 1

All vehicle owners are reminded that state law dictates that 1962 license plates be displayed on all vehicles used by March 1. Penalties accrue after this date and law authorities have been instructed to make arrests of all who fail to display legal plates on all vehicles, commercial and pleasure.

Tribute to Agriculture

Clarence Petersons Win County Valley Farmer and Homemaker Award

by Marvin Lundin
City Editor

Constant effort to improve their farm home and agricultural operations has brought area-wide recognition to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Peterson of rural Thief River Falls. The Petersons farm in Silverton township three miles east and one mile north of Thief River Falls where they have a small grain and dairy operation.

Recognition was given in the form of a plaque presentation Thursday at the Red River Valley Winter Shows in Crookston when they were named winners of the Valley Farmer and Homemaker award for Pennington county. Governor Elmer L. Andersen was guest speaker at the award program which was attended by a capacity crowd in the cafeteria of the Northwest School of Agriculture.

For 34 years Mr. and Mrs. Peterson have lived on their Silverton farm. Mr. Peterson came to this area in 1915 with his father and grandfather, riding in a boxcar with some farm machinery from his boyhood home in Illinois. Mrs. Peterson, the former Emma Christopherson, has lived here since 1905.

Interested in making his farm both profitable and attractive, Peterson joined the Pennington County Soil Conservation District when it was in its early stages of development and was one of the first farmers in the county to have a complete farm plan made on his farm. About 10 years ago he started a program of tree planting for a farmstead shelterbelt. He also served nine years on the board of supervisors of the district and in 1959 was awarded the Minneapolis Tribune award for being the outstanding soil conservation farmer in Pennington county.

Together with his son Arnold, who is married and lives in a separate house on the home farm, Peterson owns 271 acres and rents an additional 120 acres in the farming enterprise. Barley and grain are the main cash crops with a herd of 22 Holstein dairy cattle providing much of the farm income. A full crop rotation is used, implementing legume planting to the extent that no summerfallowing is done on the farm. The

Jaycee Boss-Employee Banquet Set Tuesday

Bert Jones To Speak; Awards To Be Given To Young Man & Boss

Bert Jones, at 28 the youngest state president in the history of the Minnesota Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be the featured speaker at the annual Boss-Employee banquet to be held Tuesday evening in the Elks club rooms in Thief River Falls. A social hour will be observed from 6 to 7 p. m. and serving will start promptly at 7 p. m.

Two citizens of the Thief River Falls community will receive framed certificates in recognition of their selection as Outstanding Boss and Outstanding Young Man of the year. Making respective presentation of the two awards will be last year's winners, Donald M. Olson, operator of the local Coast-to-Coast store, and Glenn Peterson, manager of Falls Supply.

Also of special interest will be the recognition of charter members of the Thief River Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce. A number of these men are still active in local business and professional circles and have used their Jaycees leadership training to play an important role in the development of the community.

Tickets for the banquet are on sale from local Jaycees and persons not contacted should obtain them today. The event is for men only and all Jaycees are encouraged to bring their bosses as guests at the meeting. William Ness is serving as ticket chairman with Warren McIntosh and Keith Spindler as members of his committee. The meal will feature one-quarter fried chicken.

Following recitation of the Jaycee creed and the invocation by Charles Holmquist, Ralph Foster, local chapter president, will give the welcome. The response will be given by Joe Holter, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

James Carlson, first vice president, will introduce Jones who will speak on "The Young Man's Challenge". Recognition of charter members and presentation of awards will conclude the evening's program. Marvin Lundin, director in charge of the event, will serve as toastmaster for the banquet.

Jones attended elementary, junior and senior high school in St. Louis Park and attended the University of Minnesota for three years of extension courses. In high school he was an outstanding athlete, lettering in football, basket ball, baseball, hockey and golf. He now is the owner-manager of Park Employment, Inc., and Jones Properties.

Beginning with charter membership in the Park Jaycees, Jones became chapter president at the age of 21 and has since held several offices including state director, chairman of state directors, chairman of international relations, international director, National speak-up Jaycee chairman and di-

Legion Auxiliary To Aid in Radio Free Europe Fund

Members Will Accept Contribution at Local Banks on February 28

To assist in collection of funds to support Radio Free Europe, the Thief River Falls unit of the American Legion auxiliary will take part in the 12th annual Crusade for Freedom drive on Wednesday, February 28. Representatives of the local unit will be in Northern and Union State banks in this city to accept funds for the campaign.

Since Radio Free Europe's inception, it has received the support of the American Legion auxiliary in its work of sending the truth to 80 million captive people behind the iron curtain, stated Mrs. Ellsworth Jorgenson, local crusade chairman. All funds collected will be used to maintain the 28 powerful transmitters and relay stations which daily broadcast the truth about Communism and the free world.

Radio Free Europe is a private, non-profit American organization broadcasting undistorted news, information and feature programs through the Iron Curtain to the people of Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Bulgaria. Programs are broadcast simultaneously on several frequencies to break through Soviet jamming attempts.

"Khrushchev says our grandchildren will grow up under Communism," Mrs. Jorgenson said. "The local auxiliary feels it is the duty of every alert, active American

R. C. Holthusen Trial Opens Today in Bemidji Court

Reinhard C. Holthusen went on trial today in court in Bemidji on a charge of second degree murder in the death of Palmer Anderson, Thief River Falls, Minn., in 1960.

Holthusen pleaded innocent to the charge Feb. 6 and the trial had been scheduled for Feb. 19 before Judge J. J. Hadler, International Falls.

The suspect's attorney asked for a change of jurists on the ground the defendant could not receive a fair and impartial trial in Judge Hadler's court.

The case will be heard Monday before Judge James F. Murphy of Grand Rapids.

James Muzzy Sells Top Holstein Cow at Shows for $445

Also Sells the Top Daiyr Animal in Futurity Sale Friday at Price of $235

J. R. Muzzy, Thief River Falls, consigned the top-priced animal in the dairy cattle sale at the Red River Valley Winter Shows Friday. It was a Holstein cow which sold for $455 to Conrad H. Kvamme and B. E. Luchau, Ada.

This was $25 more than last year's top-selling cow.

Three Holstein cows averaged $341.

Check Compliance on 1961 Hay Sales on Soil Bank Land

Culkins States Reports Have Been Received of Sales at Excessive Price

Patrick W. Culkins, manager of the Pennington county ASCS office, released information today relative to re-sale of hay harvested from soil bank land in 1961. He said that several reports had been received at the county ASCS office indicating that first and second cutting of soil bank hay was being sold to other parties for prices in excess of the prices stated in the agreement.

Culkins pointed out that all hay removed from soil bank land during 1961 was in reality the property of the federal government and was released by the county committee to relieve a forage shortage that existed as a result of drought conditions which prevailed over the area during 1961.

He stated further that the agreement specifically stated that first cutting of hay must not be sold for more than $7.50 per ton and second cutting for not more than $12.00 per ton. He added that if proven facts of re-sale of soil bank hay in excess of the prices quoted above would be presented to the county ASCS office, the conservation reserve contract pertaining to the land from which the hay was removed would be considered to be in violation. This in turn would subject the contract holder to a severe penalty.

Local Man Hurt When Coal Truck Weight Shifts

Lester Rood, long-time employee of the Osborne-McMillan Elevator company, escaped possible fatal injuries Friday morning when a load of coal he was helping to deliver tipped and crushed him against the rear of the Times office building. He is being treated in Northwestern hospital where he is reported in satisfactory condition.

Rood was standing behind the truck which tipped backward as the weight of the coal load shifted. One corner of the box struck the building as Rud was pinned against the the wall, helping to keep some of the weight away from his body.

The center end-gate of the truck flew out and much of the coal load spilled out on the ground, lightening the load enough so that a number of Times shop employees could pull down the front of the truck which had raised into the air. There were no fractures although one arm was severely bruised and extreme pressure was put on his body by the weight of the truck.

72 Attend PTM Banquet Sunday At Trinity Church

Seventy-two members of the senior Luther League and advisors attended the Pocket Testament Movement banquet held Sunday evening at Trinity Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. Rev. Otto Dal, former pastor of the church now serving a parish at Fergus Falls, was guest speaker for the event.

Eunice Wangberg served as mistress of ceremonies and gave an explanation of the Pocket Testament Movement and Paul Anderson, youth director at the church, presided at a consecration service.

Other numbers on the program included a group hymn sing, puppet show and vocal solo by Janet Thorstenson, trumpet trio composed for Jerry Erickson, Mark Anderson and Bryce Ernst. The senior league is comprised of students in the grades 10, 11 and 12 in Lincoln high school.

Mrs. Koop's hobbies are sewing, crocheting and writing letters.

3 Auto Crashes In City Total $685 Damages

No Citations Issued by Police Department To 6 Vehicles Involved

Three traffic mishaps, two on Thursday and one on Friday, resulted in a total of approximately $685 damage to six vehicles involved, according to the Thief River Falls police department.

About 9 a. m. Thursday, a car driven by Charles W. Emanuel, city, and a taxi driven by Erwin C. Melvie, rt. 1, Viking, collided on East Third street. Emanuel was traveling east on Third street and attempting a left turn into the alley between LaBree and Horace avenues when the collision with the west-bound cab occurred. Damage was $125 to the Emanuel car and $100 to the taxi.

At 12:45 p. m. a car owned by Duane B. Swanson of Grand Forks was parked facing west on Zeh street when struck on the left rear fender by a car driven by Carl G. Sundstrom, city. Sundstrom was traveling south on Riverside av. and making a right turn on Zeh street when the mishap occurred. An estimated $35 damage was done to the Swanson vehicle and $40 to the Sundstrom car.

At 5:35 p. m. Friday a truck driven by Daniel R. Johnson of Goodridge was traveling east on Sixth street when it hit a car driven by Marvin H. Gustafson, city, which was traveling south on LaBree avenue. Damage was estimated at $350 to the Gustafson car and $35 to the Johnson truck.

No citations were issued in any of the mishaps.

Bennes Honored for Policy Sales

L. N. Bennes, Thief River Falls representative of the Lincoln National Life Insurance company, ranked fourth in the nation on number of policies sold during the month of January, according to Henry W. Parson, vice president of the company and director of agencies.

The honor was won in direct competition with all of the company's more than 2,500 sales representatives throughout the country. The insurance firm operates in Puerto Rico, the Philippines, Virgin Islands, Panama Canal Zone and the continental United States.

Marshall Co. Red Cross Chapter to Plan Drive Mar. 1

William Carpenter of Crookston, regional fund drive chairman for the Red Cross, will speak at the annual meeting of the Marshall County chapter of the American Red Cross at Hotel Warren Thursday, March 1. The meeting will be preceded by a dinner at 7 p. m. and will be a combined annual meeting and fund drive kick-off, according to Ralph Larson of Argyle, county chapter chairman.

County fund drive chairman Glenn E. Johnson of Warren will distribute drive materials for the March campaign. All township and village fund drive chairmen and workers are urged to attend the meeting.

Other officers serving with Superintendent Larson are Mrs. Norma Hanson of rural Goodridge, vice chairman; C. B. Johnson of Warren, secretary; and John Hildenbrand of Warren, treasurer.

Chamber Welfare Committee Views Fire Prevention

Plans for a fire prevention demonstration series to be held in Thief River Falls March 27 were made at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Community welfare committee Friday afternoon, according to Sig Sinding, committee chairman.

Demonstrations will be given at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. that day for school students and at 8 p. m. for the public. Other emphasis for the day will be use of special posters and display of city fire fighting truck and equipment. Similar programs are to be held in Grand Forks and Grafton the preceding week.

Other reports at the meeting Friday were given by James Parkins on progress of the highway billboard program and Harold M. Johnson on the essay contest which is planned for the near future.

Rev. Alfred Seltz Rejects Call from Las Cruces, N.M.

St. John Congregation Unanimously Asks Pastor to Continue Serving Here

At a special meeting of St. John Lutheran church in Thief River Falls and of officers of Redeemer Lutheran church in Plummer, members Sunday voted unanimously asking their pastor, the Rev. A. C. Seltz, to decline a call which he received to Bethlehem Lutheran church, Las Cruces, New Mexico, and to continue his work in the Thief River Falls parish.

Recognizing the greater importance of his present work in this parish as well as his duties as first vice president of the Minnesota district of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, the Rev. Seltz announced that he would remain here.

He came to Thief River Falls in November, 1956, and in June, 1958 the present new church edifice of St. John was dedicated.

In another item of business transacted in the special meeting Sunday, Fred Koop was elected alternate lay delegate for the Thief River Falls-Crookston Circuit to the national convention of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod which is to be held in Cleveland, Ohio, June 20 to 30, 1962. The Rev. Marvin Uhlig of Roseau is pastoral delegate. The Rev. A. C. Seltz will attend as a Minnesota District official.

TALKS by Rev. Rochunga Pudaite of India will be given at the Mission Covenant church in Thief River Falls Tuesday at 8 p.m. and to released time classes at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the church. He is one of eight missionary speakers who will be on the daily program of a Steer Missionary Conference which opens Wednesday at the Fosston Baptist church.

Mercury Skids To —24 Reading Saturday Night

Temperatures in the Times area took another downward skid during the past several days to a low of -24 degrees Saturday night. High temperature recorded during the second half of the month was 14 degrees on Friday and Saturday. Another inch of snowfall Thursday brought the total for this winter to near the four-foot mark.

Little relief is seen in the forecast as variable cloudiness is predicted together with colder temperatures tonight and tomorrow. High today is expected to be near zero with the low tonight to plummet again to near the -20 mark. Snow shovels could well be put into use again with predictions calling for increasing winds and locally drifting snow.

High and low temperatures for the past several days include 13 and -10 Thursday, 14 and 2 Friday, 14 and -12 Saturday, 5 and -24 Sunday and a low last night of -20 degrees.

ARTISTRY in elementary form was practiced by more than 50 elementary school teachers Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at Washington elementary school as the instructors took a 15-hour course in art for the elementary grades. Work was done with colored chalk, crayons, modeling clay, finger paint and other materials used in grade school art instruction. Shown with some of the art work done and clay figures made, left to right, are Mrs. Dale Knewtson, fifth grade teacher at Knox; Eugene Manning, fifth grade teacher at Washington; and Mrs. Ralph Skay, fifth grade teacher at Northrop. Instruction was given by Miss Sigrid Rasmussen, a professional instructor employed by an art supply firm.

North Central Sets Record in Cargo Revenues

$1,231,759 Total Is 29 Per Cent Increase Over 1960 Record Mark

North Central Airlines announced today that it realized over $1.2 million in cargo revenues last year—the first time any local airline has exceeded the million-dollar mark in this traffic category.

John S. Minerich, manager of cargo administration, said the $1,231,759 in cargo revenue—including air freight, air express and U. S. mail— was a 29 per cent increase over the $952,531 in cargo business handled by North Central in 1960.

He added that in 1961 the company's air freight revenue exceeded air mail or air express for the first time. "This trend indicates the growing importance of air freight to the nation's shippers," he said.

"The 22,414,301 pounds of cargo carried last year represent a 26 per cent gain over 1960's record, also set by North Central. This included 7,637,678 pounds of air freight; 8,332,611 pounds of air express; and 6,444,012 pounds of mail."

North Central serves 91 cities in 10 states and two Canadian provinces, over a 7,100 mile system.

HISTORY IS NOT A DULL SUBJECT if dates and statistics are held in relation to other dates and statistics in a sequence of events. I never could work up much enthusiasm for the subject in school, but since graduation I have found increasing interest in historical lore. Of special interest is the colorful past life of this area which probably did not seem so colorful to those who lived the rigors of frontier life.

It isn't that we don't conduct occasional cleaning sessions here at the Times, but the other day a drawer cleaning session in the shop turned up an issue of the Times published on Thursday, March 22, 1928. This may not seem like history to many persons, but since the issue was printed eight years before I was born, it was of interest to me.

There was to be a second annual auto, electrical and style show held in the auditorium. Automobiles on display were by Buick, Packard, Ford, Dodge, Nash, Chrylser, Pontiac, Oakland, Humobile (Six and Eight), Hudson, Essex, Studebaker, Chevrolet and Willys-Knight. Six different makes of electric washing machines were also on display.

How many of the style show models do you know to be still living in the area? They were Mrs. Oscar Swanson, Mrs. Clarence Erickson, Mable Severson, Peggy Shaw, Katherine MacMillan, Pearl Fjelstad, Ruby Song, Joyce Olson, Brunnel Erickson, Millard Myrin, William Froehlich, John Mostue, John Kiewel, Mrs. Alvin Holzknecht, Mrs. F. S. Patton, Lulu Cook, Wildavene Denhart, Ruth Seeland, Martha Boyer, Marian Wilson, Cleo May Engelstad, Anna May Semish, Walter Larson, Clayton Snyder, Harold McFarland, Morris Mabey, Leland Knight, Ernest Jaranson, Melvin Peterson and Lester Rolland.

Names and people and customs and traditions and fads and fashions have a way of disappearing before anyone knows they're gone. Unless an effort is made to preserve some of these things, they are lost to future generations. Maybe revitalization of the Pennington county historical society, about which there has been some talk, can be one of the accomplishments in 1962. Anyone interested in working on such a project please let me know.

Construction firms must be optimistic about the world situation. They are willing to give home owners five years to pay for construction of family fallout shelters.

Our measure cubit comes from the Latin "cubitum", meaning elbow. It measures the distance between the elbow and the tip of the middle finger. Egypt's pyramids were built by the Royal Cubit, then 20½ inches long, and Noah's Ark was built by the Jewish Cubit, 18 inches long. This proves, I imagine, that the Egyptians had longer arms than the Israelites.

MAN IN SPACE

John Glenn took a rocket ride
And disappeared from view.
The pinnacle of U. S. pride
He scaled horizons new.

He viewed the earth from outer space
While passing over thrice,
And in his orbit-making race
He found the comfort nice.

We showed the Russians, too, they say,
That scientists of ours
Can help protect the U. S. A.
Sans U2 trips by Powers.

And while I share the nation's pride
In doing something best,
I must admit that rocket ride
By delay lost its zest.

But in this fact I will agree
With unreserved decision
Whatever Glenn accomplished, he Breathed life to television.

Clarence Petersons 1 of 16 Farm Families Honored at RRV Shows

Sixteen farm families, one from each of the Red River Valley counties, including Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Peterson of Pennington county, received special recognition at the 24th annual banquet honoring Valley farmers and homemakers, held in conjunction with the Red River Valley Winter Shows at Crookston on Thursday evening, February 22. The 1962 honored guests received bronze plaque awards from the Red River Valley Development association, which sponsored the banquet and award.

The families were selected by a special committee in their respective counties on the basis of contributions to the agricultural development of their communities, improvement of their farmsteads, and contribution toward betterment of crops and livestock on their home farms and in their counties.

Those honored for the 1962 award were: Mr. and Mrs. Lorlys Hansen, Detroit Lakes; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sherman, Ulen, Clay county; Mr. and Mrs. Otto K. Olson, Bagley; Mr. and Mrs. John P. O'Neil, Baudette; Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Blaeser, Mahnomen; Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Johnson, Warren; Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Wagner, Deer Creek, East Otter Tail county; Mr. and Mrs. Julian Halvorson, Fergus Falls, West Otter Tail county; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Peterson, Thief River Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ophus, Erskine, East Polk county; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Lindem, Sr., Fisher, West Polk county; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Huot, Red Lake Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Venaas, Roseau; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scott, Ada; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Berg, Lake Bronson; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Afield, Kent, Wilkin county.

At the banquet, held at the Northwest School, Herman F. Skyberg of Fisher, a member of the University board of regents, served as toastmaster. Invocation was given by the Rev. R. H. Manwiller of Crookston. Governor Elmer L. Andersen gave the banquet address. The honored Valley Farmers and Homemakers were presented the bronze plaque awards by Dr. O. C. Solne, president of the Red River Valley Development Association, with the response given by Harry Ophus of Erskine, one of the honored Valley farmers.

Opening the program was community singing led by T. W. Thorson with Donald W. Anderson as piano accompanist. The "Red River Valley Four" quartet of East Grand Forks consisting of Luther Enstad, James Preston, Edward H. Hamlet, and Ordean Thompson sang three songs.

Petersons are patrons of the Thief River Falls Cooperative Creamery association.

Active in community affairs, Peterson served 21 years as clerk of school district 28 in Silverton township until its consolidation with the Thief River Falls district. A member of the Silverton Lutheran church, he has served on the church council for 25 years. He has been township treasurer for five years, was a supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration in Pennington county for six years and a director of the county National Farm Loan association for eight years.

Mrs. Peterson is a past chairman of the Silverton homemakers club and served as councilor the past two years. A past treasurer and secretary of the Silverton Lutheran Ladies Aid, she is also an adult leader for the home assistance group of the Silverton 4-H club. Her flower garden and farm yard are given many hours of loving care during the summer months.

The Petersons have seven children, of whom 16-year-old Carol and 12-year-old Joyce are students at Lincoln high school and live on their parents' farm. In addition to Arnold, who farms in partnership with his father, other children include Mrs. Irwin (Pearl) Johnson of Thief River Falls, Mrs. Ronald (Irene) Johnson of Bellflower, California, Mrs. Warren (Lorraine) Mosbeck of Red Lake Falls and Mrs. Donald (Margaret) Rupprecht of Thief River Falls. The Petersons also have 10 grandchildren.

A firm believer in soil conservation practices and increased productivity of his land, Peterson is an avid advocate of the use of crop rotation and phosphate fertilizer. "For a number of years we have never failed to use phosphate on our cash crops," he said.

The handsome plaque presented in recognition of the selection of Mr. and Mrs. Peterson as Pennington county's Valley Farmer and Homemaker will hang beside the plaque awarded Peterson for his conservation farmer recognition. It is proper that the two awards be together. Both are tribute to a positive attitude toward making farming an important industry in this community.

Anna Lian, 95, of Gatzke Succumbs; Rites Saturday

Mrs. Anna Lian of Gatzke passed away Thursday morning, February 22 at her home at the age of 95 years. Funeral services were held Saturday, February 24 in the United Lutheran church of Gatzke with Rev. Duane Thompson officiating. Interment was in the Landstad cemetery at Gatzke.

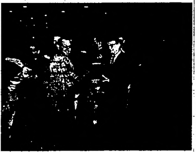
Mrs. Lian was born December 21, 1866 at Tydalen, Norway where she was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith and grew to womanhood. She was united in marriage to Ingebret Lian in Norway. Mr. and Mrs. Lian came to the United States in 1888 and lived in Morman county, Minnesota until 1898 when they moved to Marshall county settling on a farm in Rollis township near Gatzke. Mr. Lian passed away in 1917.

Since the death of her husband, Mrs. Lian had made her home with her sons in Rollis township. In her younger days she was active in church and community affairs. She was the oldest of the Gold Star Mothers of World War I in this part of the state. Her son, Hans E. Lian, for whom the Hans E. Lian Post 441 of the American Legion and Auxiliary of Middle River was named, was killed in World War I.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Alton J. (Gilma) Anderson of Grygla; two sons: Bernard and Franklin Lian, both of Gatzke; three grandchildren: Mrs. Eugene (Eleanor) Zacharias of Minneapolis; Mrs. Marlyn (Gloria) Sistad of Crookston and Glen Lunsetter of Gatzke. She is also survived by four great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her husband, one son and one daughter, two sisters and two brothers.

The Collins Funeral Home of Middle River was in charge of funeral arrangements.



BEST HERD Pictured is James R. Muzzy of Thief River Falls, who showed the best dairy cattle herd—five Holsteins—in open class competition at the Red River Valley Winter Shows, Crookston, Feb. 18-23. He received the best dairy herd plaque award from the Red River Valley Dairymen's association. Presenting the award is Mervin Syverson, state deputy commissioner of agriculture.

CROWNED Herman Natwick of Ada was named "King Agassiz the Second" at the 52nd annual Red River Valley Winter Shows, Crookston, on Wednesday night. Selected from nominees chosen in their home counties in the Red River Valley, he is considered symbolic of farm progress in the Red River Valley and is the official ambassador of the Red River Valley Winter Shows, 1962.

Christ Evenson, Former Resident, Dies in Oregon

Christ Evenson, former resident of New Solum township, passed away at his home in Springfield, Oregon at the age of 82 years.

He was born in Trysel, Norway April 21, 1879 and came with his parents to America in 1881 when he was five. They settled in Minnesota where his parents homesteaded on a farm in New Solum township, Marshall county. There he grew to manhood and in 1908 was united in marriage to Clara Kindly. They made their home on his parent's farm until the fall of 1946 at which time they sold it and moved to Springfield, Oregon where he lived until the time of his death. He was a member of the Rindal Lutheran church which he helped to build. He also served as treasurer of the Busy Bee school board for twenty years.

Mr. Evenson is survived by his wife, Clara and five children: Leonard of Eugene, Oregon; Chester of Riverside, California; Mrs. Olaf (Mayme) Hall of Newfolden; Mrs. Herman (Anne) Borgaard of Junction City, Oregon and Mrs. Hubert (Esther) McMurray of Springfield, Oregon; also sixteen grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by three brothers and three sisters.

Oscar J. Hedlund Succumbs Feb. 21 in Fergus Falls

Oscar J. Hedlund, a former resident of St. Hilaire and a resident of Fergus Falls for the past 25 years, passed away Wednesday, February 21 at the age of 63 years.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, February 27 at 2 p.m. in the Green Funeral Chapel. Rev. Eldor Langager will officiate and interment will be in the Community cemetery at St. Hilaire. The body will lie in state at the Green Funeral Home from Sunday evening until the time of services Tuesday.

Mr. Hedlund was born June 24, 1898 near St. Hilaire, Minn. where he attended school and grew to manhood. He was baptized at the Clara Lutheran church and helped with the farm operations on his father's farm for several years. For the past 25 years he had been working in the Fergus Falls area and was also employed at the state hospital for several years.

He is survived by three sisters: Minie and Nancy Hedlund, both of St. Hilaire and Mrs. C. O. Johnson of Moose Lake, Minnesota. He was preceded in death by one sister.

Hartvik Engen, a pioneer resident of Marsh Grove township and the past 16 years a resident of Thief River Falls, died Wednesday, February 21 at Northwestern hospital at the age of 85 years.

Funeral services were held today, Monday at 2 p.m. in the Zion Lutheran church with Reverend Leland Seen officiating and Rev. Ole Sande giving a brief message. Interment was in the Viking cemetery.

Mr. Engen was born February 15, 1877 in Melo, Norway and came to this country with his parents when he was five years old settling at Warren, and two years after his parents homesteaded west of Viking where he attended schoo land grew to manhood. On January 14, 1900, he was united in marriage to Marie Hanson and after their marriage he continued to farm in Viking and Marsh Grove township until 1946 when he retired and moved to Thief River Falls. He was a member of the Zion Lutheran church. While living in Marsh Grove township he served as clerk of school district 127 for 27 years, served on the creamery board and also on the township board for many years.

Survivors include his wife, Marie, four daughters: Mrs. Axel (Minnie) Gustafson of Viking; Mrs. Carl (Hulda) Christianson and Mrs. Arthur (Ella) Anderson, both of Thief River Falls; and Mrs. Mildred Rud of Warren; three sons: Clarence of Mexico; Walter of Crookston; and Harvey of Viking; two sisters: Mrs. Al Holmgren of Thief River Falls and Inga Beecher of New York; three brothers: Ingvald of Chicago, Ill.; Willie of Viking and Martin of Thief River Falls; 17 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by one brother and two sisters.

The Green Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Bruce V. Nelson Wins Contest for Safety Slogan

Bruce V. Nelson, airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon E. Nelson of Thief River Falls, recently won the traffic safety slogan contest held each week in view of better traffic safety while attending Aviation Familiarization School at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphis, Tenn.

This school is designed to provide selected enlisted men in the familiarization they need to advance to one of the many technical and professional schools at this training center.

Nelson's winning slogan was "Safety Is In Our Own Hands; Drive Safely and Considerately!" From Memphis he will be assigned to the fleet where he will put to use the knowledge and understanding he learned at the Memphis training center.

Before entering the Navy in September of 1961, Nelson was graduated from Thief River Falls Lincoln high school.

County ASC Offers Reseal Program

Farmers May Continue Loans on Their '61 Crops

Farmers who have price-support loans on 1961 crops stored on the farm were advised today that a broad reseal program has been announced by the Department of Agriculture under which these farmers will be able to continue their loans after loan maturity dates this spring and at the same time earn storage payments.

P. W. Culkins, office manager of the Pennington county ASC, stated that a 2-year reseal program will be available for farm-stored 1961-crop wheat; and a 1-year program for barley, oats, and soybeans. Farmers will also be able to convert purchase agreements on their 1961-crop farm-stored grains to reseal loans. For crops grown in other years, reseal loans will be extended for another year on 1960-crop barley and oats, on 1959-crop barley (on a limited basis), and on 1959-crop wheat.

Farmers who want to reseal their crops under loan should apply at the ASCS county office before loan maturity date for the crop to be resealed.

Order for Hearing on Petition to Determine Descent

State of Minnesota,
County of Pennington—ss.

IN PROBATE COURT

IN RE ESTATE OF Margaret Carlson, Decedent.

Jessie M. Mac Lean having filed in this Court a petition representing, among other things, that said decedent died intestate more than five years prior to the filing thereof, leaving certain property in Pennington County, Minnesota, and that no will of said decedent has been proved, nor administration of her estate granted, in this State and praying that the descent of said property be determined and that it be assigned to the persons entitled thereto;

IT IS ORDERED, That the hearing thereof be had on March 13th, 1962 at 10:00 o'clock A.M., before this Court, in the Probate Court Room, in the Court House, in Thief River Falls, Minnesota, and that notice hereof be given by the publication of this order in the Thief River Falls Times and by mailed notice as provided by law.

Dated February 19th, 1962.

HERMAN A. KJOS,
Probate Judge.

(Probate Court Seal)
STANLEY N. MORTENSON,
Attorney for Petitioner,
Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

Feb. 19

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT

Whereas, A Certificate was, on the 6th day of February, 1962, presented to the County Board of Pennington County, Minnesota, executed by the Clerk of Common school district No. 1561, stating that a Resolution had been adopted by the school board of said district on the 22nd day of January, 1962, and that pursuant to the provisions of said resolution, an election was held on the 2nd day of February, 1962, on the question of dissolving said school district, and that a majority of the votes cast at said election were in favor of dissolving said school district and having the territory embraced therein attached to Independent District No. 415 of Viking of Marshall County.

NOW THEREFORE IT IS ORDERED, That a hearing be held on said Certification at a meeting of said Board at the Court House in the City of Thief River Falls in said County on Tuesday the 6th day of March, 1962, at 1:30 o'clock P.M., at which time and place this Board will hear all persons interested, and their evidence and arguments, for and against dissolving said Common school district No. 1561, of Pennington County, Minnesota.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of said hearing be given by the publication of this order for one week prior to said hearing in the newspaper known as the Thief River Falls Times, published and printed in said County; by the posting of copies thereof in Common school district No. 1561, proposed to be dissolved, at least ten days before said day of hearing; and by the mailing of copies thereof to the Clerk of the above named school district and to the Clerk of each adjoining school district and the Commissioner of Education, etc., at least ten days before said day of hearing, as provided by law.

The County Board of Pennington County, Minnesota.
By OLENN TASA,
Chairman
Attest: C. W. Rostekuhr,
County Auditor.

Norman County Man Is New King Agassiz II

Herman Natwick of Ada was named "King Agassiz the Second" at the 52 annual Red River Valley Winter Shows Wednesday night.

Selected from nominees chosen in their home counties in the Red River Valley, he is considered symbolic of farm progress in the valley and is the official ambassador of the Red River Valley Winter Shows.

Natwick, 35, is a director of the Minnesota Turkey Growers' association and the Northwest Minnesota Turkey Growers' association, and he is president of the Twin Valley Cooperative Shipping Association. He is past president of the Norman County Farm Bureau, Lutheran Brotherhood of Zion Lutheran Church in Twin Valley, and the Twin Valley PTA.

In March, 1960, Natwick was named by the Minnesota Junior Chamber of Commerce as Minnesota's outstanding Young Farmer at a state-wide banquet in New Ulm. Natwick is a large-scale turkey raiser, cattle and lamb feeder.

He was named outstanding soil conservation farmer in 1950 for the East Agassiz Soil Conservation District.

Natwick, representing Norman County, was one of 12 men selected by local citizens in their respective Red River Valley counties. Others included Leonard Hapka, Argyle; Robert Swanson, Plummer; and Wilbur Hallstrom, Red Lake Falls, Pennington county.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor Times:

While in Thief River Falls recently, several of your local citizens pointed with pride to your editorial page. I also wish to commend you for your realistic views relating to the state of our country. With most of the press being slanted towards liberalism-socialism, there is much work to be done in order to alert the complacent, unsuspecting public to what our "hidden government" is attempting to do to our wonderful country.

However, I could not agree with what you said about the Peace Corps. There is conclusive evidence available to prove how effectively this scheme can breed socialism. By recruiting some of our best educated young people and requiring them to live under the most backward conditions, they are automatically conditioned to lean on the government for a mere pittance.

Keep up the good work! ....

Very truly yours,
H. Seefeldt

Editor Times:

I'd like to add my congratulations to you and your fine staff at the Times on placing first in the Farm News section of the annual Minnesota Newspaper Association contest.

I see the Times regularly through my mother-in-law's paper and always have felt that you do an excellent job of coverage of all activities including agriculture.

At the same time, Paul Stelmaschuk, the local county agent, has mentioned, too, the good cooperation he gets. This was particularly noticeable in the honors Pennington County has received in the last two years in the promotion of soil testing.

All of us in the Institute of Agriculture of the University of Minnesota recognize the great importance of agriculture and its related industries to the economy in Minnesota. We are, therefore, especially pleased to see so many newspapers such as yours do a good job of covering activities of agriculture and the industries so closely related to it.

Best wishes for continued success.

Sincerely,
Harold B. Swanson

Hereford Bull Is Bought for $820 at Winter Shows

Sold to Charles Kiewel, Crookston; Bernard Myers Sells Angus Cow for $110

A Hereford bull consigned by Schermerhorn Farms, Mahnoman, brought $820—highest price in the beef cattle sale at the Red River Valley Winter Shows Friday.

The bull was brought by Charles E. Kiewel, Crookston. The 24 Hereford bulls in the sale averaged $463.33—$17 below last year's sale.

Schermerhorn Farms also sold the highest-priced Hereford cow, which went for $505 to Elliott Stock Farm, Galesburg, N. Dak. The 11 Hereford cows in the sale averaged $349. This was $8 less last year's average.

In the Shorthorn sale, Arlan Stangeland, Barnesville, sold the top-priced bull to Love Bros., Euclid, for $535. The 10 Shorthorn bulls in the sale averaged $353.50—which was $35 more than last year. Milton Marmorine, Gonvick, consigned the top-selling Shorthorn cow. C. O. Swenson, Gardner, N. Dak., paid $325 for it. The six Shorthorn cows in the sale averaged $271.66. This was $41 higher than last year.

Arvid Shulstad & Son, Barnesville, consigned the highest-priced Angus bull, which went to Arthur Wagner, Gonvick, for $140. An average of $365 was paid for the four Angus bulls offered. This was $7 higher than last year's average.

The fifty-nine open class beef animals in the sale averaged $385.

Viau To Manage Sears Store in Devils Lake, N. D.

Robert Viau, manager of Purdy's Shoe store in Thief River Falls for about 7½ years, will assume management of the Sear's Order store in Devils Lake, N. D. on March 5. He is currently in training at the local Sears store which is managed by Harold Stroble.

Viau came to Thief River Falls from Devils Lake where he had previously clerked in a shoe store. Mr. and Mrs. Viau have two sons, 10-year-old Danny and five-year old Ripley, and will move to Devils Lake where they have rented a home. Robert Purdy has assumed the management of his father's shoe store here.

Prowlers Score 67-60 Victory over Warren

The basketball Prowlers closed out their district conference schedule on Friday night by suprising coach Irv St. John's Warren Ponies and scoring a 67-60 win in a game played on the Warren court.

Following Saturday night's schedule-ending game against the Halstad Pirates, the Prowlers will engage in a week's session of drills in preparation for the 31st district's tournament at Grand Forks on March 5-7.

In Friday night's tilt, the Ponies, with forward Tommy Howard looping three field goals, sped away to a 13-6 lead midway in the opening period. Wayne Bjerken's three field goals kept the Prowlers within reach of the fast-rushing Ponies. Coach Jack Junker's Prowlers pared the Warren lead to 15-14 at the end of the opening period.

In the second period, with an attack sparked by the cornershooting of Paul Klungness, the Prowlers moved into a 30-25 lead. Adding field goal efforts to the Prowlers second-period spurt were Tommy Lindberg, John Aune, George Hankerson, Elton Hornseth and Mike Aune.

The Ponies, in the opening minutes of the third period, took charge of the game's scoring, and with 6:18 to play of the quarter, knotted the game at 32-all on Howie Elseth's free throw. Hankerson, on an assist from Bjerken, dropped in a field goal, giving the Prowlers a two-point lead. But Warren's Dave Fischer, from close in, and Elseth, from the lane, hit on field goals to boost the Ponies in a 36-34 lead. Hornseth banged in a rebound with 4:37 to play in the period, and Klungness, on a pass from Mike Aune, scored on a lay-up, and the Prowlers took over lead. The Prowlers, with accurate shooting from the field, gained a 10-point lead, 50-40, at the end of the period.

And in the opening minutes of the fourth period, field goals by Bjerken, Lindberg and John Aune shoved the Prowlers into a 56-40 lead, with less than six minutes to play.

Warren, in the final minutes of the game, picked up twelve points via the free-throw line, and added four field goals, but were unable to seriously threaten the Prowler lead.

Warren's Elseth, with 17 points, and Howard, with 16 points, were the game's high scorers. The Prowler scoring leaders were Bjerken with 14 points, Klungness with 13 points, and John Aune with 12 points.

Local 'B' Quintet Whips Halstad 'B's

Score 68 to 44 Victory Here Saturday Night

The Prowler 'B' cagers closed out their 1961-62 schedule Saturday night by scoring a convincing 68-44 win over the Halstad 'B' squad. Kenny Larson, with 16 points, led coach Joe Mrkonich's 'B' team to their thirteenth win of the season. The local B's have dropped but two decisions during the season, the losses being to Bemidji at Bemidji, 48-38, and Grand Forks at Grand Forks 56-49.

Duane Ramstad, a smooth-playing guard, led the Halstad 'B' team scorers with 15 points.

New Attendance Record at Shows

29,733 Were Counted at '62 Event in Crookston

A new all-time total attendance record at the Red River Valley Winter Shows had been established when the event closed Friday evening.

Total attendance this year was 29,733, compared with the previous all-time record in 1961 of 20,613 an increase of 44 per cent.

The shows got off to an earlier start this year, opening on Sunday afternoon with a horse show, instead of opening on Monday as had been the custom in years past. In addition, daily attendance, Monday through Friday, was higher almost every day this year than last.

The big increase in attendance this year is attributed partly to the new facilities used for the shows this year. A new show building with one and one-fourth acres of floor space is being used this year for the first time.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Encouragement

One of the encouraging aspects of the basketball Prowlers surprising 67-60 win over the Warren Ponies in a district conference game played on the Warren court on Friday evening, was the contribution made to the win by the "boys from the bench." The win was a trifle more decisive than the score would indicate as the Prowlers outpointed the Ponies, thirty to seventeen on field goals. The Ponies marked up twenty-six points from the free-throw line, and those points also are a part of the game of basketball. And, too, the ball was bouncing for the Prowlers in the game.

But to get back to contributions made by Elton Hornseth, George Hankerson, and Mike Aune. Hornseth, coming into the game in the second period, spelling off Tom Lindberg, scored four field goals in the second and third periods; Hankerson, playing at a forward position, marked up three field goals; and Mike Aune, who came in for brother John when John, who was guarding Warren's Jerry Cook, ran into foul trouble, scored a pair of vital field goals.

John Aune has developed into perhaps the best defensive player on the Prowler squad, and the junior guard turned in a first-rate performance in holding Warren's classy Jerry Cook to but three field goals and five free throws.

On Saturday night, playing on the home court, the Prowlers dropped an overtime tilt to the Halstad Pirates, the top-rated team of District 30. Interested spectators at that game, and taking notes on the play of the Prowlers, were the members of the Climax Vikings team. The Prowlers showed flashes of promise in the game, but they could not maintain, or contain, Halstad's Henry Holte, and the result was a 51-47 win for the Pirates.

The District 31 tournament pairings, with five teams—Crookston, Thief River Falls, East Grand Forks, Warren, and Climax—being seeded into the tourney, will be made this week. The other three tournament entries will come from the sub-district tournament that opens tonight in Fisher. The sub-district winner, runner-up, and third place winner will gain berths in the district tournament at Grand Forks on March 5, 6, and 7.

The Best

Perhaps the best basketball player to perform here against the Prowlers this season was Henry Holte of the Halstad Pirates. Holte, a gangly, loose-limbed individual; tallied 29 points as he led the Halstad team to an overtime win over the locals.

The Pirates were without the services of Nathan (Cactus) Warner, a guard who has been hitting at a 16.5 points per game average for Halstad in conference play. Cactus was ill with the flu, and his loss put an extra scoring burden on Holte, but the agile center came through with a fine all-round game.

As an indication of the difficulties the Prowlers had in "containing" Holte is the fact that Elton Hornseth and Tommy Lindberg, who shared man-to-man duties on defense, fouled out of the game. That Halstad team, with Holte and a healthy Warner, will make quite a bid for District 30 honors.

Winnipeg Club and Thieves Tie 7-7 Here Sunday

Opening Period Gives Local Club Deficit To Make Up in Last Frames

After a hectic first period which found the local club unable to score against the defense of the Winnipeg Thunderbirds, the Thief River Falls Thieves came through with four goals in the second period and three more in the third to finish with a 7-7 tie Sunday afternoon in the local arena.

Hoskins proved to be a stand-out in the goal for the Winnipeg club as he made 12 stops in the first period, 10 in the second and 16 in the fast-skating third stanza for a total of 38 in the game. Rod Collins kicked out 18 Winnipeg shots in the game, 10 in the first period when the Thunderbirds took a 3-0 lead.

Boyce Gord scored twice in the first period on assists from Bill Predinchuk at 4:02 and Smanwisech at 18:40 and Predinchuk scored on an assist from Cunningham at 15:01. Cunningham had a cross checking penalty at 4:10.

Gus Holmes opened second period scoring for the Thieves on an assist from Dale Wennberg at 4:03 and hit the net again on an assist from Wennberg at 11:01. Joe Poole tallied the other two goals for the Thieves in the period at 12:04 and 15:23 on assists from Jack Houfek and Del Offerdahl. Winnipeg managed a 6-4 lead at the period stop on an unassisted goal by Smanwisech at 8:18, and goals by Predinchuk with an assist from Cunningham at 13:09 and Bill Pratt on an assist from Horner at 19:20. Chip Strand drew a penalty at 1301 for high sticking for the Thieves.

Pratt scored unassisted for Winnipeg at 5:13 of the third period which was a hotly-contested 20 minutes. Demetrick of the Thunderbirds drew 2-minute and 5-minute penalties for fighting at 2:10 and 9:20 with Joe Poole and Houfek drawing matching penalites at the respective times.

Closing out the Thieves scoring were Wennberg on assists from Jerry Drews at 11:18 and Duane Glass at 16:08 and Del Offerdahl on an assist from Monty Markstrom at 14:10.

Int. Falls Sextet Wins State Title from Roseau 4 to 0

Defending Champions Are Dethroned in Finals of Tournament in St. Paul

Coach Larry Ross' hard-shooting International Falls sextet from Region Seven dethroned the defending state champion Roseau Rams, 4-0, in the finals of the 1962 Minnesota state high school hockey tournament played in St. Paul on Saturday night.

The Broncos flashed to a 2-0 lead in the first period on goals by Keith Christiansen and Matt Donahue. And then added a pair of goals in the second period, with Glen Blumer and Bob O'Leary scoring, to control the tempo of the game.

The Rams, making a desperate defense of their state title, outshot their opponents, 29-19, but the Broncos' goalie, Mike Curran, proved unyielding. On several occasions the International Falls goalie foiled solo rushes, stopping shots from point-blank range.

The win marked the second state hockey title for the Broncos in the 18-year history of the state tournament. In 1957, International Falls won the state title, and in the finals of that tourney the Broncos defeated the Roseau Rams, 3-1. The Roseau Rams were state champions in 1946, 1958, 1959, and 1961; and runners-up in 1947, 1957, and 1962.

Halstad Quint Downs Locals in Overtime

Agile Henry Holte, the Halstad center, scoring four of the six points collected by the Pirates in the three-minute overtime period, provided coach Jerry Mehlisch's Halstad team with their game-winning margin as the visitors from District 30 defeated the Prowlers, 51-47, in a schedule-closing basketball game played here Saturday night. The Prowlers, who will enter next week's District 31 tourney at Grand Forks, closed out their 1961-62 schedule with a record of five wins, and thirteen losses.

In Saturday night's thriller, the Prowlers, after trailing by one point, 10-9, at the end of the first period, moved into a 27-24 lead at the intermission. Paul Klungness hit on four field goals to spark the Prowlers' 18-point second period effort.

The locals maintained their three-point advantage during the third period, holding a 39-36 lead as the quarter ended. John Aune, who was the high scorer for the Prowlers during the game, looped three field goals into the east basket during the period.

The Prowlers held a 43-39 lead with 3:20 to play in the fourth period, but Halstad's Greg Henderson, on a break from mid-court, drove in for a field goal, and when Holte hit on field goal, the game was knotted, 43-all, with 2:26 to play.

Paul Klungness drove in from the left for a layup, and the locals led, 45-43. Halstad's Holte, driving in from the right, scored from close with fifty seconds to play, tying the game and forcing an overtime period.

Gary Kelly tossed in a free throw to give the Prowlers a short-lived lead to open the overtime period. Holte, who turned in a 29-point for the winners, dropped in a pair of free throws, and then followed with a field goal on a 49-45 lead with 1:42 to play. Klungness notched a Prowler free throw with 34 seconds to play, and in the final seconds, Bruce Aalgaard and Henderson added Halstad points via free throws.

Halstad played the game without the services of their high-scoring guard, Nathan (Cactus) Warner, who was out of action because of illness.

Big Game Count Shows Reduction In Deer Herd

Aerial Survey Indicates 532 Deer and 134 Moose In Agassiz Refuge Area

Reduction of 43 per cent in the deer herd in the Agassiz National Wildlife refuge and state lands surrounding it was noted in the annual inventory of big game animals taken February 21. Pilot-biologist Art Brazda and assistant refuge manager Ralph Town made the count from the air, according to Herb Dill, refuge manager.

The count this year was 532 deer and 134 moose as compared with 962 deer and 130 moose in the same area in 1961. State wildlife management units located on three sides of the refuge, including Elm Lake, Eckvoll and Mudlac units, provided 152 deer and 66 moose for the count total. The combined acreage of federal and state big game habitat covered in the air census totals approximately 76,800 acres of 120 square miles.

While most animals appeared to be in good physical condition, the men reported, some dead deer were seen. Some were undoubtedly the result of hunting last fall, they said, but some were fawns shoulder-deep in snow. Three of the eight dead deer counted appeared to have recently succumbed.

"It is well that a large number of the deer were harvested last fall," Dill commented. "This left more food for the remaining deer and undoubtedly resulted in utilizing some deer that would otherwise have perished this winter under the conditions recently observed.

Rep. O. Langen Chides Administration for Fiscal Recklessness

It appears there is nothing quite so permanent as a "temporary" increase in the public debt limit, according to Congressman Odin Langen. He said it was unfortunate that the Congress had to meet again this week to raise the debt ceiling, which now stands at 300-billion dollars. "And we'll be asked to increase it by another 'temporary' eight billion to accommodate fiscal 1963."

The Minnesota Congressman said that one of these days we'll reach the point of no return. "We may reach it today. We may reach it tomorrow. One thing is certain, if we refuse to learn from the past we will surely reach it eventually."

Langen charged that the public and members of Congress have been fed a steady diet of explanations and excuses. He noted that the main theme revolves around the Berlin crisis and the resulting military buildup. "But when you lower the waving flag long enough to see the cold figures on the wall" said Langen, "you note that the revised budget for fiscal 1962 contains an increase of only $2.2 billion for military personnel operaves $6 billion of additional expense that cannot be blamed on the Berlin crisis. The main crisis, it seems to me, is in the field of fiscal miscalculation and irresponsibility."

Langen also noted that the all-too-easy method of deficit spending is wakening our position in the international arena. "Our accounts payable in the world exceed our accounts receivable by about $19 billion," said Langen, "and I shudder to think what would happen if our creditors demanded payment, since we simply do not have the gold reserves to cover it." The Congressman said that round after round of increasing our public debt limit results in a loss of confidence in the value of our currency and could cause a deluge of demands for payment.

"I respectfully suggest," concluded Langen, "that this government look carefully at the immediate past and use it as a prologue to fiscal responsibility instead of a prelude to disaster."

The title role of Elijah will be sung by Irving Nordquist, Bemidji business man, and other soloists will be Mrs. Henry Dyck, Mrs. Donald Miller, Darrel Stokes, Edward Broom, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hanson.

Highway Travel Down in January

2½ Per Cent Decrease Noted from Last Year

Travel on Minnesota's rural trunk highways was down 2½ per cent in January as compared with January of last year, according to the latest report issued from data received by the State Highway Department's automatic traffic recorders at 26 locations on the trunk highways.

The main reason for the general decrease, it was pointed out by the traffic engineers, was the subnormal weather conditions this season.

The areas most affected by the heavy snows and below zero temperatures were U. S. 2, east of Lengby Corners; U. S. 61, south of Dresbach; U. S. 75, north of Pipestone; U. S. 61, southwest of Knife River; U. S. 161, south of Onamia; U. S. 59, south of Winger; U. S. 75, south of Warren; and U. S. 53, north of Virginia.

One exception, new U. S. 14, west of Rochester, showed a 12 percent increase.

Otter Tail County Girl Is Winner of RRV Spelling Title

Carol Jo Christianson of Erhard Places First In Winter Shows Event

Carol Jo Christianson of Erhard, an eighth grader in the Otter Tail county school system, won the Valley Winter Shows district spelling contest at Crookston Wednesday. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Oris Christianson.

She received a bronze plaque from the Red River Valley Development Association, sponsors of the contest.

Second place winner was James Brun, Detroit Lakes eighth grader from Becker County. Tied for third were Connie Sandeen of McIntosh, sixth grader from Polk County, and Paul Norson of Hitterdal, eighth grader from Clay County. Fourth prize went to Denise Gigler of Ada, seventh grader from Norman County.

Other contestants—not in order of their placing—were:

Susan Rindahl of Goodridge, Pennington County; Melissa Peterson, Waubun, Mahnomen County; Don Mathsen of Alvarado, Marshall County; Phyllis Knutson of Williams, Lake of the Woods County; LouAnn Bakkee of Bagley, Clearwater County; Judith Pederson, Plummer, Red Lake County; and Susan Krohn of Warroad, Roseau County. Twelve counties each sent one representative to the district contest.

Cash awards to winners were $7 for first, $5 for second, $3 for third and $2 for fourth.

Advice Offered to Women Motorists

AAA Tells What to Do When Car Stalls on Road at Night

It's easy for a woman to panic when her car breaks down at night while she's driving on a nearly-deserted road. But she can made it much less frightening and much easier to get out of this situation if she's armed in advance with the knowledge of what to do. . .and what not to do, according to the Minnesota AAA.

E. Ray Cory, president of the motoring organization, pointed out that while the majority of automobile breakdowns occur within five miles of the motorist's home, the time does arise when they can occur far from home on a lonely road and at a late hour.

Cory said the advice to women drivers is this:

"Unless you are virtually in front of a lighted house, don't get out and try to walk along the highway looking for a telephone. Instead, attach a white handkerchief to the door handle on the side of the car facing the road; then climb inside the car and lock yourself in.

"The white handkerchief (or a white piece of paper if no handkerchief is available) is becoming more and more recognized as a distress signal — particularly by highway patrols across the nation," the AAA official added. "A Good Samaritan will come along sooner or later. And there are many more Good Samaritans driving the highways today than criminals."

On state trunk highways in Minnesota a highway patrolman or some law enforcement officer should be along in due time to assist the lady in distress and a white handkerchief on the door handle will assure speedier assistance.

Increased Output of Meat Is Urged

State Agriculture Chief Predicts Rising Demand

Livestock production offers the brightest prospect for Minnesota agriculture in the decade ahead, said Duane A. Wilson, state commissioner of agriculture, at the Red River Valley Winter Shows Tuesday night.

He addressed a meeting of livestock producers.

Wilson pointed out that by 1970 the nation's population will have increased by 20 per cent and that U. S. per capita meat consumption will have risen by 10 per cent. This means, he said, that there will be a 30 per cent total increase in meat consumption by 1970.

Wilson said that Minnesota is in a favorable position for livestock production because its land is suitable for animal farming, because its farmers have the necessary know-how, and because it has processing facilities for meat production.

It takes about 60,000 blue corduroy jackets each year to satisfy the demands of FFA members throughout the nation.

January Peak Is Set by State Employment

Minnesota nonfarm wage and salary employment in January was at a record level for the month, with 941,678 persons employed in state business and industry. This figure was 23,000 (2.5 percent) above that for January, 1961, but it represented a seasonal decline of 29,000 (-3.0 percent) from the number employed in the state in December.

The monthly report released by Commissioner Frank Starkey of the state department of employment security revealed the largest gains over a year ago occurred in firms engaged in the manufacture of durable goods, with increases in machinery, ordnance, and scientific instrument manufacture accounting for 8,800 of the total. Non-durable goods manufacturing added 2,800 to the overall net gain, with 1,700 of this occurring in canning and sugar refining firms.

Nonmanufacturing employment gains since a year ago were concentrated in government, trade and service while losses were noted in metal mining, railroads and public utilities.

The largest losses over the month were mainly seasonal ones which occurred in trade (-16,000) following peak holiday employment and further cutbacks in construction (-6,900). There were also normal reductions in the service industries (-2,900).

Mr. Starkey pointed out that the employment estimates in these reports are annually revised as more accurate information becomes available. Employment, hour comes available. Employment hours and earnings figures previously published have been adjusted this month to the 1961 "benchmark". A revised monthly employment series for 1960 and 1961, based on this new "benchmark", will be available soon upon request to the Department.

Average weekly earnings of production works in Minnesota's manufacturing industries declined eighty cents to $102.24 in January. Earnings are up $4.59 from a year ago.

Unemployment in Minnesota increased seasonally to a level of 113,600 in January 1962 compared to 86,200 the previous month. A year ago there were 125,000 persons unemployed.

The rate of unemployment rose to 8.2 percent (of the total labor force) in January compared to 6.3 percent the previous month and 9.4 percent a year earlier.

Fighting Litterbugs Is Highway Headache

Winning the dubious honor of being the state's chief litter area for 1961 was Maintenance Area 5A with 5,084 hours of equipment use at a cost of $12,620, and 14,987 hours of labor at a cost of $35,008. This area encompasses Minneapolis and the western portion of the greater metropolitan area, including Hennepin, Anoka and Carver counties.

Runner up for second place is adjoining Maintenance Area 5B which contains St. Paul and Ramsey county and Dakota, Washington and Chisago counties on the eastern border of the state. Equipment costs in the 5B area totalled $7,932.50, while the labor costs amounted to $21,779.80. Coming in third with combined costs for equipment and labor of $17,457.50, was Maintenance Area 3B with headquarters at St. Cloud and comprising six counties.

In spite of the fact that these are depressing figures, they represent the second lowest amounts in the past six years, although they are $33,927 higher than in 1960. The worst year, 1958, hit a high of $278,471, and was followed closely by 1959 with a total of $250,448.

The amount of litter definitely reflects the travel flow as recorded by the Department's 26 automatic traffic computers placed at as many points on rural highways throughout the state, a maintenance official said. Maintenace Area 5A, in Golden Valley, has the largest traffic volume of any section of Minnesota.

In computing the litter costs, the following scale is used by the maintenance section: an equipment rate of $2.50 per hour is the cost rate for a 2½ ton maintenance truck, and a labor rate of $2.35 an hour (up from $2.20 per hour in 1960), is the present rate for a Highway Maintenance Man I. The average cost per truck load is figured at $25.74.

The 1961 report shows a total of 8,238 truck loads, 22,914 equipment hours with costs of $57,285, labor hours totalling 65,846 with costs of $154,738.10, bringing the total costs for the 16 maintenance areas in the state to $212,023.10.

One of the principal handicaps in the fight against litter, as seen by the Department, is the fact that, while the Highway Patrol is responsible for the capturing of the litter offenders, better known as litterbugs, the prosecution of charges is in the hands of the local municipalities.

More than 50,000 boys each year get leadership experience by serving as an officer of a local FFA chapter.

"Though a man has all other perfections, but wants discretion, he will be of no great consequence in the world; but if he has this single talent in perfection, and but a common share of others, he may do what he pleases in his particular station of life."

Automation—Good or Bad?

Some people are greatly disturbed about automation. They are sure it will create unemployment and be generally bad.

We do not share this view mainly because the automation we have experienced and observed over a period of quite a few years, satisfies us that automation has been good in the past and it will continue to be good in the future.

Of course it will create problems and for some it will bring hardship. The automobile put the livery stables out of business, but the change came gradually and most livery stables operators adjusted to the new competition without too much difficulty. Many of them put in gasoline pumps. How many would like to go back to the horse and buggy?

Printers were alarmed when automatic typesetting machines were introduced. One machine could do the work of seven hand compositors. But the change came gradually and while a few may have suffered, actually the change was not only good for all people but especially good for the printers themselves. Machines reduced the cost of printing and with the lower cost printed material of all kinds was made available to the masses at prices they could afford to pay. There are many more printers, and workers in related industries, per capita today, than there were 60 years ago, at wages that give them more buying power.

We have no reason to fear a future that gives promise of better machines and increased efficiency. They will make for better living, and if we just had some assurance that the deadening influence of our promising politicians could be kept under control we would look forward in happy anticipation to living another hundred years.

Fraudulent Lady

According to the Toronto Star, the Canadian auditor-general "held up his hands in pious horror" in a report that revealed a dastardly act of misconduct. A Civil Service employee had cheated the government by subtracting 13 years from her age and working five years past her legal retirement age of 65. The auditor-general "primly referred to the lady's deception as a fraud" and the government was going to do all sorts of things to punish her "such as to make her return her salary for the past five years."

Then suddenly, the government discovered that it still needed her services and now she is back on the payroll. Which prompted the Star to state:

> "Our labor market on this continent is designed in the belief that a man—or a woman — becomes automatically useless at 65. This is a lot of nonsense, as some of the brightest heads around the world have been proving for centuries.
> "Some people wear out at 40, some do it with actuarial precision at 65, and some go on ripening and improving, like old wine, until death pulls the cork.
> "There has to be a cut-off year for such purposes as pension plans; but a cut-off which is rigidly enforced merely deprives the country of the sort of bright accumulation of wisdom and experience which is sometimes its only hope.
> "Perhaps it is fortunate for the country that these bright types, like the fraudulent lady, generally know exactly how to deal with both birth certificates and auditors-general."

Disunited Nations

Thomas J. Hamilton, writing in the New York Times about the storms of disagreement within the United Nations, reports that there will be a hard fight before Congress appropriates the $100 million requested by President Kennedy for the purchase of United Nations bonds. A red-hot argument, one that would be heard 'round the world, and approval of the appropriation by a narrow margin, might be helpful in straightening out some of the difficulties with which the organization is beset.

The United Nations has been a little too meddlesome for its own good, especially in its criticism of "colonialism." The nations of Europe that at one time were colonial powers are seeking for satisfactory solutions for the problems of their few remaining colonies. Colonialism no longer is an evil and in most instances the European governments are committed to programs of gradual independence for their remaining possessions.

In a recent speech on the conduct of the United Nations, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home charged that the organization "had established a double standard of behavior" and that recent anti-colonial resolutions had demonstrated "an almost total lack of responsibility." Those are harsh words, but mild in comparison with some of the things that have been said by those who speak for Belgium, France, Portugal and other nations.

It will take strong and intelligent management to restore the United Nations to the position of leadership which it maintained until recently. Obviously the organization has been weakened by the large increase in membership, the admission of newly formed governments that are incapable of making any contribution to the group but still have a voting power equal to the large nations that must assume the responsibility and pay the costs.

The world needs an international organizatoin through which international problems may be resolved peacefully. The United Nations has gotten itself into trouble when it has interferred with the internal problems of member nations.—If the organization will now mend its ways, admit past errors and be the wiser because of them, then there may still be hope for its future.

These are qustions that might properly be discussed at some length in Congress when the $100 million appropriation bill is being debated.

Right Answer

President Kennedy came up with the right answer when he declined Khrushchev's invitation to a "summit" meeting. In excusing himself he said:

> "I feel that until there have been systematic negotiations—until the main problems have been clarified and progress has been made—intervention by the heads of government would involve merely a general exchange of governmental positions which might set back, rather than advance, the prospects for disarmament."

That was a nice way of telling the ruler of the Russians that he is on probation and that there will be no more summit meetings until substantial agreement has been reached on several matters that we think are pretty important.

No Saucers

After 15 years of investigating flying saucer reports, the Air Force has reported without reservation that the objects that had been seen may have been birds, balloons, hoaxes or unusual sky lights—but not spacecraft from other planets. It stated that there was no evidence that any of the 7,369 unidentified flying objects checked on were spaceships swooping in from other worlds.

We are glad that's settled, but it was fun while it lasted. Many good people had thrilling experiences that made good conversation material for months. What's next?

Heavy Fines for Market Hunters

(Grand Rapids Herald Review)

Minnesota duck hunters, who have been irked by stories of market hunting in the south, can take some heart from the report of 161 arrests in Maryland, North Carolina, Virgina, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Of the 161 arrested, 70 have been convicted and sentenced, 27 are to be sentenced, 52 await trial, 2 were acquitted and 10 dismissed. Some of the violators have been fined up to $500 and sentenced to 181 day in jail.

More than 5,000 wild ducks and geese were purchased for evidence by undercover agents in the 2½ years before the mass raids, which were concentrated in Louisiana and Arkansas.

As hunting limits here have become more restrictive, the stories of market hunting in the south have been increasingly bitter pills to swallow. Minnesota hunters can well direct a bit of applause toward the department of the Interior for this demonstration of consistent conservation law enforcement.

Latin Lesson

(New Ulm Journal)

Cecelia Ramirez, student from Chile at Holy Trinity high school, speaks English with a heavy Spanish accent. But, in a question-answer appearance at the New Ulm Rotary club luncheon this week, she came through clearly on two points.

1. She observes that Americans work harder than people in her country, and they deserve more of life in a high standard of living. She said that her impressions of America, from films, were that we had it good up here and it came easy. Living here five months, studying and observing, has changed her mind. In my reports back home, she said, I tell them that all Americans are hard workers, the rich as well as the poor.

2. She thinks American children don't have enough respect for their parents. She gave that as the poorest impression gained of this country.

Cecelia's points are flattering on the one score, and challenging on the other. Maybe there is a connection between adults working too hard and children being disrespectful? Perhaps there should be a little less of the work, and more time spent inspiring and counseling children in the home.

Young people could take this suggestion to heart also from one of their own age. Disrespect earns no compliments. It doesn't win jobs, or promotions. It isn't a sign of weakness to be a gentleman or a lady. Try acting in the positive and see.

Interesting Opinions

Don't flatter yourself that friendship authorizes you to say disagreeable things to your intimates. The nearer you come into relation with a person, the more necessary do tact and courtesy become. Except in cases of necessity, which are rare, leave your friend to learn unpleasant things from his enemies; they are ready enough to tell him.

—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

"The man that designs his son to honor and to triumphs, to consular dignitaries, and presidencies of councils, loves to see him pale with study, or panting with labor, hardened with sufferings, or eminence by dangers."

— Jeremy Taylor

CHAMBER L.I.F.E.

Living-Industry-Farming-Education

By Rolly Larson

Manager Chamber of Commerce

In the humdrum of Winter Shows Builders Exchange, committee meetings, J-C Boss Employee Banquet, LOL convention and a host of other functions throughout our community one cannot help but appreciate what concerted efforts on the part of individuals in our area really means.

Out of all of this activity the people involved and others as well develop within themselves an enterprising spirit that is typical of what made this country great. It is very gratifying to see people extending themselves to become better individuals and to do a better job at whatever is their respective livelihood. Faith, courage, optimism, hope and other commendable traits are all blended together to produce this activity and to produce this healthy attitude or frame of mind.

Here in Thief River Falls as a community, we can only be the beneficiaries of this progressiveness. The more we extend ourselves as individuals, the more we will benefit as a community. This fact can be proven by merely observing the significant things that have been done here and elsewhere over the years and by analysing the background of each accomplishment.

In an organized society such as we live in each of us has his rights as an individual which we all take advantage of to a great degree. The thing that we tend to overlook entirely too often, however, is that each of us has some sort of an obligation as an individual too. We have an obligation to the people we are surrounded by, we have an obligation to the locale, the state, the country, and as the U. S. A. stands, we have an obligation to the world that is a huge one. We each have an obligation to do the best that we can, whether we admit it or not. Too often we find ourselves shirking our obligations at every turn within the realm of our very lives.

In addition to our natural and human resources there are two things that have made this U. S. A. a great country God and our form of government. We are afforded rights as individuals enjoyed by no other people and to maintain this freedom we must live up to our obligations. There is no other answer and we might as well face it. We must be active, we must have significant goals, and we must strive through learning and working to achieve them.

With these thoughts in mind the membership of the Chamber of Commerce or any other organization of individuals can be great. We can be as great as the thinking of our membership—no more, and no less. This applies to any organization at any level and it applies to each one of us as individuals.

Greatness is something we can achieve together just as business can be successful if we all Shop and Trade Where Bargains Are Made In the Heart of Northwest Minnesota, Thief River Falls.

from

Governor
Elmer L. Andersen

Explorer John Glenn

Several hundred years ago three inventions occurred which changed the old world into a new world.

One was the invention of the mariner's compass which made it possible to steer and chart a course regardless of weather. Another was the invention of gunpowder which compelled people to live together in larger units of society for safety. The third was the invention of printing which brought the wisdom of the ages to large numbers of people and permitted free exchange of ideas.

I believe that historians of the future will look back upon our day as another one in which new inventions created a new world of discovery, learning and human relationships.

One of the modern historic moments was when Enrico Fermi triggered the first successful experiment in nuclear fission. Here was released an awesome new power that makes annihilation the alternative to world brotherhood and peace. It also holds promise of fantastic material benefit. Col. Glenn's space flight, the first American orbiting of the earth, introduces an era of discovery no less breathtaking than that of the 15th Century. Photographs of space beyond space indicate the possible existence of whole new galaxies. Who can say what may or may not exist in the outer reaches of space?

Historically speaking radio and TV have just been invented. Today we see anything in the U. S. happen, as it happens. Tomorrow, satellite communication systems will bring actions throughout the world to our vision and consciousness at the moment of happening. In a real way each of us will be involved with all men everywhere.

We live in a troublous frustrating age in many respects. On the other hand it is a vastly challenging age. My confidence is that we will survive and grow into new dimensions of accomplishments and understanding.

It was interesting that Col. Glenn's historic trip occurred in Brotherhood Week. To the degree that we resolve human relationships close to the American ideal of equality, freedom and opportunity for all individuals to that degree will the great scientific developments of our time redound to the benefit of mankind.

DAKOTA MAID
FEED SERVICEMAN

I've noticed that more than ever before, farmers in the Thief River area are going into the beef cattle business. There's good reason for this. Beef prices are strong and this area grows lots of good "beef feed" (pasture, hay and straw). Finally, beef cattle don't require a lot of labor and attention in the summer when the farmer is busy with the crops.

Another thing I've noticed is that the real successful beef cow operators always feed some cake (protein supplement) for about six weeks prior to calving. Beef cow men who are using Dakota Maid's 32% Supplement B for this purpose are reporting excellent results. Available in either wafers or pea size pellets, 32% Supplement B contains 20,000 units of all-important Vitamin A in every pound, plus 2½% phosphorus! I recommend feeding 32% Supplement B at the rate of 1 pound per day for each cow for 40 to 60 days prior to calving, depending on roughage quality and weather conditions. You'll use less hay and get a stronger, healthier calf in the bargain.

Valley Home Society Will Conduct Fund Campaign

Waldie Christensen Renamed President At Annual Meeting

Members of the Valley Home Society organized the final fund raising drive for their new building project at the annual meeting of the organization in the basement meeting room of the Thief River Falls city auditorium Monday night Waldie Christensen, reelected president, stated that final approval of the plans and specifications are expected within two weeks and bids will be called for to be opened April 6.

Estimated cost of the building is about $420,000. A government loan in the amount of $390,000, payable over a period of 50 years, has been assured, Christensen stated. None of the loan will be available for furnishing the building which probably will bring the total cost well over the half a million dollar mark, he said. The federal money will not be available until the society has performed its part of the agreement.

Members of the finance committee are Martin Gulbranson, L. B. Hartz and George Beito and they have already taken steps to get this solicitation under way. The mailing of statements to those who have already made pledges will be directed by Anton Hall.

All five of the directors whose terms expired were reelected. They are Christ Anton, Waldie Christensen, Olger Green, M. C. Gulbranson and Rufus Olson. Stuart McLeod was reelected secretary and George A. Beito was reelected treasurer. Arthur Bartleson replaced Donald Thyren as a member of the building committee.

Bernard Myers Elected To Wis. Feeder Pig Board

Marketing Cooperative Holds Meeting Recently For Local Producers

Bernard Myers of rural Thief River Falls was elected to the advisory board of the Wisconsin Feeder Pig Marketing Cooperative at a local meeting of the organization held recently. He will also serve as Pennington county delegate to the annual meeting of the cooperative which will be held March 10 in Eau Claire, Wis.

Norval Dvorak, president of the cooperative, was present at the meeting and reviewed the financial statement as well as outlining the scope of the organization. He noted that 280,000 feeder pigs had been handled in 1961 and that it was expected that the number would increase to 400,000 in 1962.

While volume of pigs handled by the cooperative climbed sharply in the past year, overall production has declined slightly, the manager said. The cooperative handles 34 per cent of the feeder pigs produced in Wisconsin and is the largest handler of feeder pigs in the United States.

Danger of flooding the market by over-production is minimum, Dvorak said, since the production had merely switched from the corn belt area to the northern area. Corn belt feeders would just as soon purchase feeder pigs from a dependable supply and concentrate their operations on feeding the hogs to marketable weight rather than raise their own feeder stock.

Management practices were also discussed with the 15 interested area farmers who attended the meeting. A new building with complete equipment for feeder pig production has been placed on the market by the cooperative and was explained at the meeting. Joe Raines, Minnesota fieldman, was also present to discuss the Minnesota situation.

Myers has been serving as field representative for the cooperative in this area, weighing pigs at his farm on the day of pickup so that the truck does not have to wait for the weighing procedure. Presently the marketing organization makes pickups here every other Monday.

FIREMEN ARE SUMMONED BY OIL-BURNER BLAZE

The local fire department responded early Wednesday afternoon to a call from the Ronald Alby home at 309 Conley av. S., where an oil-burner became flooded, no damage resulting.

"ANTIC SPRING" was the title of the one-act play which won first place in the one-act play festival presented at the Newfolden school auditorium. This play will now be given in the sub-district drama festival at Greenbush on March 8. Cast members left to right include Charlotte Schweitzer, DeVere Chapman, Lyle Westman, Emilie Carlson, Carole Rokke and John Tandberg.

County Fair Ass'n. To Plan Campaign

As a semi-final phase prior to the kick-off of the membership campaign in the Pennington County Fair Association, Inc., a combined meeting will be held Monday, March 5, at 1:30 p. m. in the courtroom of the Pennington county courthouse. The meeting has been called by Silas Hanson, county chairman.

All members of the expanded reorganization committee are urged to be in attendance and other interested persons are invited to attend and express their opinions. Discussion will center around organization of the membership sale and possibly the establishment of a membership goal.

The new organization, which will assume operation of the Pennington county fair as soon as legal wrinkles can be ironed out, is concerned about obtaining as large a membership as possible in the association. Cost of membership was set at $5 at a previous meeting, with the hopes that a representative of nearly every county family would be able to hold membership in the organization.

"This new organization gives everyone an opportunity for membership," states an open letter prepared by the organizational committee. "Purchasers receive a lifetime membership with full voting privileges. There is no re-sale value to the membership, it will pay no interest and is non-transferrable.

"In the interests of promoting Pennington county, its agriculture and social life, we believe this to be extremely important," th letter continues in regard to continuation of the fair. "To acquire the funds and county-wide interest to accomplish such ends, we are making an appeal for cooperation in this venture."

Group Favorable To Cleaning Plan for Thief River

County Commissioner of Pennington and Marshall Hear Proposal Wednesday

County commissioners of Marshall and Pennington counties and representatives of the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy District meeting Wednesday with directors of the Thief River Development association and Herb Dill of the Fish and Wildlife service, were favorably impressed with the proposal for clearing the Thief River of obstructions by the U. S. Corps of Engineers, as explained by Dill.

Stanley Mortenson, secretary of the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy District, was asked to write to the U. S. Corps of Engineers for a statement setting forth what they would be able to do and on what terms.

Dill stated that the Fish & Wildlife Service had been assured by the engineers that that portion of the river channel below the outlet that was within the refuge could be cleared by the engineers with money that is already available. He stated that there was a possibility that the clearing could be continued all the way down to the mouth of the river at Thief River Falls if requested by responsible local authorities.

The Corps of Engineers will be invited to have a representative present at a later meeting when a specific program would be explained to local officials and land owners. In the absence of president Julian Rodahl, vice president Otto Rupprecht presided.

Deadline Nears for Nominating SCD Supervisor

Only a few more days remain for nominations of farmers in Goodridge, Star, Reiner and Hickory townships as candidates for supervisors on the board of the Pennington County Soil Conservation district, according to Oscar Houske, chairman. The candidate elected at the March 13 township election will serve a five-year term on the board.

March 3 is the deadline for nominations and candidates must be from one of the four townships listed. Farmers in only these four townships will bote for a district supervisor this year. Harold South, Goodridge, whose term expires this year, has been nominated for reelection.

Goodridge Voters Elect Elg Mayor

Voters in the village of Goodridge turned out in larger numbers than at the regular election to cast their ballots in a special contest for mayor on Tuesday. A total of 70 votes were cast in the special election necessitated by discrepancies in the regular election.

Carl Elg, who has served as mayor for a number of years, was elected to the post with a total of 36 votes. Vince Skibicki finished a close second in the balloting with a total of 34 votes. All balloting was done on a write-in basis and only the two men mentioned received votes, according to Orvis Olson, village clerk.

Social Change Plays Role in Home Program

Home Councilors at District Meeting Hear Extension Personnel

Easier, more comfortable living and increase in leisure time are among social changes that have a direct bearing on adult education in homemaking, extension home councilors from nine northwestern Minnesota counties were told at a district conference held Tuesday at the Pennington county courthouse in Thief River Falls.

In a talk on "The Changing Home Economics Program", Dorothy Simmons, state leader in the University of Minnesota extension home program, said that other factors which may change the emphasis on adult education for homemakers include increase in gainful employment of women and the post-parental period in the family life cycle when the children are reared and the mature woman has freedom for activities outside the home.

Prominent in the home economics extension activities in the earlier years, Miss Simmons noted, were efforts to reduce the drudgery and loneliness associated with farm life in that period and the introduction of new methods of processing and preparing foods and fibers for family use.

Though changing conditions have brought changes in emphasis thru the years, the basic purpose of the extension home economics programs has always been to help families and individuals acquire the knowledge, attitudes and skills by which they might have good health, comfortable and attractive homes, personally satisfying relationships in the family and in the community.

Arleen Barkelm, assistant 4-H club leader, explained that the planning of the county extension program is a joint effort of the local people and the extension agents who represent the land grant college—in Minnesota the state university.

"Successful planning involves a combination of the thinking of the people in the local community with new information about the community and its families, trends in modern living and new research findings which will benefit families," she added. "A sound educational program which will meet present needs must start with a study of the community, its homes and people, and their needs and interests. The next step in program planning is determining what could be improved in the situation."

Howard Newell, district supervisor of county agent work, discussed resources and changes in the community. He noted that major changes have taken place in transportation, communication, education and agriculture. While farms are getting fewer and larger, the average age of farmers is getting older as young people continue to leave farming for other positions in urban areas.

J.J. Womack, G.A. Beito Get Boss, Young Man Awards

Certificate of Appreciation

AWARDS for outstanding young man and outstanding boss of the year were presented Tuesday evening at the annual Boss-Employee banquet of the Thief River Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce. Gene Beito, left, vice president of Northern State Bank, received the outstanding young man award from Glenn Peterson, 1961 award winner. John J. Womack, president of Union State Bank, was presented with the outstanding boss award by Donald M. Olson, recipient of the award last year. Eighty-nine men braved severe sub-zero cold to attend the event at which Bert Jones, state Jaycee president, was the guest speaker.

Presentation Made at Jaycee Boss-Employee Banquet Tues. Night

Certificates of achievement, indicating selection as the outstanding boss and the outstanding young man for 1962, were presented at the annual Boss-Employee banquet of the Thief River Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening in the Elks club rooms. Bert Jones, St. Louis Park, president of the Minnesota Jaycees, was guest speaker at the event.

John J. Womack, president of Union State Bank in Thief River Falls, was presented with the outstanding boss award while Gene Beito, vice president of Northern State Bank, received the outstanding young man award. Respective presentations were made by 1961 recipients of the awards, Donald M. Olson, owner of the local Coast-to-Coast store, and Glenn Peterson, manager of Falls Supply.

Welcome was given by Ralph Foster, president of the local Jaycee chapter, with the response given by Joe Holter, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Charles Holmquist pronounced the invocation and Marvin Lundin served as toastmaster. James Carlson, first vice president of the local chapter, introduced the guest speaker.

It was noted by the toastmaster that several of the charter members of the local organization are still active in Thief River Falls community activities and their names were read. They include Merle Lindberg, Justus Larson, Clifford Bjorkman, Lloyd Bennes, Walt Larson and Olis Wold. The chapter was founded in 1935 with Lincoln Arnold, then a local attorney, drawing up the articles and by-laws of the chapter. Gorman Thompson served as the first president.

State President Speaks

In discussing "The Young Man's Challenge", the state Jaycee president noted that the United States today is filled with apathy and that it is up to the young man to make Americans aware of their great heritage. He urged young men, through active Jaycee participation, to accept the challenge and build strong local communities, strong states and a strong, united America.

Jones told of the constitutional convention of the United States of America, where men of action debated for 117 days the shortcomings and failings of other civilizations. From these men, who averaged only 34 years of age, came our constitution and the Bill of Rights, he said.

"We must be aware of the power which young men have to change the face of the world," he added. He noted that 20,000 young Chinese communists came down out of the hills of China and changed the entire way of life for 650 million people. They averaged only 29 years of age.

Jones challenged young men to sell the American system of government to the American people. He called attention to dangerous thinking of the coming generation in regard to government ownership of business and agriculture, urging

Three Crashes in City Blamed to High Snow Banks

65 Accidents To Date This Year Indicate Need for Speed Reduction

With three accidents during the first part of the week being attributed in part to high snowbanks bordering city streets, a word of caution has been issued to motorists by the city police department. Reduced speed is necessary to avoid collisions at intersections due to restricted visibility and icy approaches.

Traffic mishaps to date in the city total 65 as compared with 29 a year ago. Exceedingly cold weather is another warning sign for motorists to beware of drivers with balky cars who may pull into traffic without the normal ability to increase speed and keep up with moving vehicles. Cars stalled on icy streets or parked partially in traffic lanes due to snow piled along curbs also demand caution while driving.

The first accident this week occurred at 9 a. m. Monday when a

Coroner's Jury Reaches Decision In Myers Slaying

Prosecution of Paul Wangberg, 19, Thief River Falls, was referred to Warren A. Saetre, Marshall county attorney, as a result of a coroner's inquest held Tuesday at Warren. The jury ruled the death of Donald D. Myers, Thief River Falls police sergeant, was a felony due to a bullet fired by Wangberg. The youth is currently under a 24-hour guard at Northwestern hospital in this city where he is recovering from bullet wounds received in the February 17 exchange of gunfire with the local policeman.

Attorney Saetre stated it is not yet known whether a grand jury indictment will be necessary to bring the Wangberg youth to trial. A grand jury is necessary if a life imprisionment sentence is required by the charge. The attorney may bring a charge of second-degree murder which carries a penalty of 15 to 40 years imprisonment.

Testifying at the inquest Tuesday were Rev. Reuben A. Wangberg, father of the youth; Bennie Miramontes, Thief River Falls police patrolman who was with Myers at the time of the shooting; Alvin Peterson of Thief River Falls Victor Nord and George Blum of Plummer who arrived on the scene within minutes after the gun battle occurred.

Dr. E. E. Pumala, Marshall county coroner, presided at the inquest. Members of the jury which returned the verdict were Richard Lahl, Harold Bustrack, Charles Engelstad and Donald Bauer of Warren, Bernard Tracy and Victor Loranger of Argyle.

Heart Fund Drive Brings in $752.70

The Heart fund drive conducted in this city last weekend by nearly 100 women under the direction of Mrs. Robert J. Looker, chairman, had brought in $752.70 up to Wednesday afternoon, with more to be received.

Mrs. Looker urged those who were not at home when the solicitor called to mail in the "Not-at-home" envelopes left at their homes by the canvassers. She also thanked the volunteer workers and contributors for their cooperation.

Red Lake Refuge Building Is Razed

Headquarters House Is Destroyed by Fire

The conservation department's game and fish division reported today that the headquarters house at the Red Lake refuge burned to the ground the morning of Feb. 4.

The refuge headquarters is located at Norris camp, a field installation 18½ miles south of Roosevelt in Lake of the Woods county.

Fire occurred as the result of an explosion of a gas heater in the bathroom. Herman Anderson, refuge manager, was in the room at the time and was severely burned on the hands and forearms.

Anderson and his wife escaped from the building, however, the fire spread so rapidly that their dog, which was apparently asleep under the kitchen table was trapped and killed.

The frame building was consumed so rapidly that the Andersons were unable to remove any furniture or other personal belongings before the house was destroyed.

Highway Dept. Urges Drivers To Check Signals

Law Requires Drivers To Signal Intentions To Make Turn or Stop

Many state motorists would find it to their advantage to "turn over a new leaf" in the Minnesota Drivers Manual and double-check their knowledge of correct usage of turn signals. So advised the Minnesota Highway Department today in an effort to remind drivers to "signal their intentions correctly" when making maneuvers in traffic.

State law requires drivers to signal their intention to turn right or left continuously during not less than the last 100 feet traveled by the vehicle before turning. No person should stop or suddenly decrease the speed of a vehicle without first giving an appropriate signal in the manner prescribed by law unless there is a good and sufficient reason for not being able to do so.

Signals can be given by hand or arm or by signal lamp or other signal device approved by the Commissioner of highways.

Unsafe turns are causes of a great many of the traffic accidents that occur both in cities and rural areas. A frequent driver error is in the making of turns without first looking to see if it is safe to pull into another lane of traffic or turn off at a driveway or intersection.

Signaling alone does not give drivers the right of way in which to turn. Give signals well in advance of maneuvers and allow other drivers a chance to react. They may be trying to pass you or they may not be watching you as closely as they should.

Correct turning and signaling manouvers are described in the Minnesota Drivers Manual, available free by writing to the Safety Promotion Section, Minnesota Highway Department, New Higwhay Building, St. Paul 1, Minnesota.

Rotary Club Is Given Concert by LHS Orchestra

Members of the Thief River Falls Rotary club were presented with a concert by a representative group of the Lincoln high school orchestra at the Monday noon dinner meeting in the Elks club club rooms. James Solsten directed the orchestra on the program arranged by Justus Larson, program chairman.

Frosty —37 Wed. Is Low Reading for This Winter

Warmer Temperatures Expected Tonight With Snow Also Predicted

Cold shivers have been racing up and down the spines of Times area residents the past several days with extremely good reason. Temperatures have declined to approach the zero mark and yesterday set records for the current season with the coldest high and low readings of the winter.

Low temperature early Wednesday morning was a frosty -37 degrees and the best the sun could do during the day was to boost the reading to a high of -18. Both marks eclipsed the previous low records of the season set January 17 when a low of -35 and high of -15 were recorded. As a matter of fact, this area has not had an above-zero reading since Sunday.

We who complain of cold noses, stiff fingers, balky automobiles, extended home heating and cold feet beneath the quilts may take heart from the weather forecast. The predictions call for the mercury to leap to a high of 0 to -10 today and hit a low of only -25 tonight. Of course, some snow is predicted to accompany the heat wave. . . . .

High and low temperatures recorded for the past several days include -7 and -20 on Monday, -9 and -28 on Tuesday, -18 and -37 on Wednesday and a low last night of -35 degrees. Any way that a person looks at it, this is a chilly beginning to March, a month which generally begins to show signs of an end to the siege of winter in this area.

"Antic Spring" Wins Newfolden Play Event

A near capacity crowd turned out for the one-act play festival presented at the Newfolden community school on Friday. Three one act plays, "Enter The Hero", "The Flattering Word", and "Antic Spring" were presented by the students under the direction of Mrs. May Larson, speech and drama instructor at the local school.

"Antic Spring" was declared the winner by John Reinbold, Warren, judge, and will advance to the subdistrict drama festival to be held at Greenbush on March 8 at 2 p. m.

"Antic Spring" is a comedy following modern trends by doing without any properties but six chairs—to represent an open touring car. As a result it places great emphasis on pantomime and character portrayal. It is the story of six young people of high school age going on a picnic.

Members of the cast were John Tanberg, Emilie Carlson, Carol Rokke, Lyle Westman, DeVere Chapman and Charlotte Schwitzer. Paul Tangquist was the student director.

Reinbold, instuctor of speech and drama at Warren high school, commented when making his decision known that he was surprised at the large, enthusiastic audience and the quality of the three plays. He said that the community, student body, student directors, casts and faculty director were to be commended for their interest in this activity.

A majority of these mentioned could be attributed directly to the director, Mrs. Larson, for her excellent work in speech and drama the past two years, Supt. John Halvorson added.

Hesse Represents Local Shippers at Central Meet

George H. Hesse, rural Red Lake Falls, attended the 41st annual convention of Central Livestock association in St. Paul recently as a voting delegate representing the Thief River Falls Cooperative Shipping association. John Dysart, former Red Lake county agent, was also in attendance at the meeting.

Business report of the association revealed that Central and affiliated companies handled 2,400,000 head of livestock during 1961 with the stock having a record-breaking value of more than $180 million. Part of the total came from Thief River Falls since the local cooperative is a member of the Central association.

Largest livestock selling agency in the world, Central handled 32.1 per cent of the South St. Paul market receipts — an all time high percentage. More than 4,000 livestock producers from 12 midwest states and Canada attended the convention.

Wadena Man Is 7th District Judge

Chas. Kennedy Appointed to Succeed Rogesheske

From the office of Governor Elmer L. Andersen, came anonuncement last Friday of the appointment of a Wadena man as a judge of the Seventh Judicial District. Named to the post was Charles W. Kennedy. The appointment is to become effective as of Monday, Feb. 26.

In a recent preference poll of attorneys of the Seventh Judicial District Mr. Kennedy outdistanced the field of possible appointees.

A vacancy among the judges of the district has been created a few weeks ago when Judge Walter Rogesheske was appointed to the bench of the Minnesota supreme court.

Mr. Kennedy first came to Wadena in 1939, at that time being associated in the practice of law with William Gunn. Mr. Gunn left the partnership one year later. From that time until 1946 Mr. Kennedy was practicing alone with the exception of a two year tour of duty with the U. S. Navy in the Pacific Theatre of Operations.

Since 1946 Mr. Kennedy and Ray Bradford have conducted a law practice at Wadena.

The new appointee is a member of the board of governors of the Minnesota State Bar Association and was president of the Seventh Judicial District Bar Association in 1951.

Lions Club Hears Talk on Trinidad

Miss Joyce Ramserran of Lincoln Faculty Speaks

Miss Joyce Ramserran, a native of Trinidad, who recently assumed the post of instructor in Spanish and French at Lincoln high school, spoke about her native land at the Lions club luncheon meeting Wednesday noon. She is a graduate of Mankato State college.

Introduced by Francis Hamerlinck, program chairman, Miss Ramserran said that she is enjoying her stay in Thief River Falls, altho the current 30-below weather is quite a change from Trinidad, where the mercury never drops as low as the 60-degree mark.

She described her homeland as being an island 3,000 square miles in size, located 11 miles off the coast of Venezuela. The principal products are pitch, citrus fruits and coffee. She answered numerous questions relating to the religion, ethics and political status of Trinidad.

Kathy Torgerson To Enter State Speaking Contest

District 4-H Club Winners To Compete in St. Paul for Radio Speaking Title

At stake March 3 in St. Paul when 17 district winners in the Minnesota 4-H radio speaking contest meet in the 20th annual event will be a state championship title and a $250 award. Among the winners competing will be Kathleen Torgerson of Thief River Falls.

The 17 participants in the state event are winners of district contests held throughout the state during February. They will present original talks on the subject, "How Would You Present the United States to the World?"

First prize in the contest is a personal award of $200 and $50 for the purchase of books on citizenship and human relations for a local high school or city or county library. The reserve champion will receive $100 plus $25 for books. Prizes will be awarded by the Jewish Community Relations Council of Minnesota, co-sponsors of the event with the University agricultural extension service.

The contest will be held at 8:30 a. m. Saturday in Coffey Hall on the University of Minnesota's St. Paul campus. The four top contestants will be interviewed on WCCO radio at 1 p. m. and the champion and reserve champion will present their talks. On Friday the contestants will be guests at Central high school in St. Paul where they will present an assembly program. In the afternoon they will visit Mount Zion Temple and the state capitol.

At 6:30 p. m. Saturday the group will be guests of the Jewish council at a banquet in the St. Paul campus student center when T. C. Streibert, former director of USIA, will speak on "United States Information Agency and the Cold War."

Miss Torgerson was the Pennington county winner in the radio speaking event and also was named champion of the district contest held at the Red River Valley Winter Shows in Crookston. Glenn Nordling of Hallock will also participate in the state event.

HAPPY HOMEMAKING

by Laura Duerst

PENNINGTON COUNTY HOME AGENT

Congratulations are extended to all the 4-H'ers who took part in the Winter Shows this past week. Good luck is extended to Kathleen Torgerson for her trip to the state radio speaking contest this coming Friday and Saturday. We will all be pulling for you, Kathleen!

As I listened to the dairy food demonstrations, I was amazed at what different ideas the young boys and girls can come up with to demonstrate. Not one demonstration was like another. I think Larry Berggren, Silverton 4-H, obtained the most spectators as he made his homemade ice cream. In his demonstration he explained the custard base and gelatin base.

A new bulletin is now available at the extension office. The title of this bulletin is "Blankets for Warmth, Buying and Care." In this bulletin you will find the proper care for your blankets to add lasting years to them. Selection of a blanket is also discussed. Prices vary with the size of the blanket. Various kinds of machine stitching are used to finish the raw ends and are less expensive than bindings. If any homemaker would like this bulletin, she is asked to stop in at the office and pick one up.

Toy Storage at Children's Height

If you want your children to learn neatness and orderliness while they are small, plan storage space especially for them to use. If storage units for their toys are no more than 48 inches above the floor, even small children will be encouraged to put their things away. A width of 48 inches is preferable for the toy storage unit, but 36 inches will also serve the purpose.

Tip-out bins at the bottom of the toy storage unit provide caches. Plastic pull-out trays under the shelves will hold smaller articles. Large play equipment, such as wagons and bicycles, is best stored in the garage.

Durum Growers May Boost Their 1962 Allotments

Higher Price Supports Offered, Says Marshall County ASC Committee

Durum wheat growers will be able to increase their acreage allotments for durum production in 1962 and at the same time qualify for higher price supports on their crop, Edward A. Johnson, chairman of the Marshall county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county committee, reminded farmers today.

The chairman pointed out that this will be permitted under a special durum wheat program authorized by legislation last year to assure more ample supplies of durum for the future. The program applies only in counties which are capable of producing durum and which have produced it for commercial food products during one or more of the years 1957-61, inclusive, and only to durum producers who grew durum wheat during 1960 and-or 1961.

The program permits producers to increase for durum production their 1962 wheat allotments (the allotment after the 10-percent mandatory reduction required under the Agriculutral Act of 1961) by an acreage equal to 40 percent of their 1960-61 average plantings of durum. Participants in the durum program would not be subject to marketing quota penalties if they remain within their increased allotments. Neither would they be eligible for payments under the 1962 wheat stabilization program.

Producers who take part in this special durum program will be assured higher price protection thru differentials which will be added to basic county wheat price-support rates. These will be 10 cents per bushel for ordinary durum, 25 cents for amber durum, and 40 cents for hard amber durum.

Durum wheat growers who are interested in the special program to increase durum production in 1962 are required to file applications for participation at their ASCS county office not later than March 30. This is necessary in order to be considered as a program "participant."

Loiell Dyrud Has Lead in Augsburg College 'Hamlet'

Loiell Dyrud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dyrud Sr. of Thief River Falls, will take part in the production of "Hamlet" by the Augsburg Society of Dramatic Arts, to be presented March 1-5 at the Augsburg Little Theatre.

Loiell, playing the leading role of Hamlet, is a senior at Augsburg College majoring in English. He is a member of the National Collegiate Players, and has had leading roles in eight plays at Augsburg.

In addition to being the president of the senior class, Loiell is active in student government, is an avid sports fan, earns part of his college expenses with parttime work, and helps as a technician in staging dramatic productions.

Father Pryor Is Retreatmaster at Crookston

Father G. Robert Pryor, assistant at St. Bernard's Church, is conducting the annual students' retreat at Mount St. Benedict, Crookston, this week.

Making the retreat are the students attending Mount St. Benedict Academy and the students of St. Francis Hospital school of practical nursing.

The retreat, a time of prayer and spiritual inventory, began on Monday evening and will come to a close this afternoon.

Father Pryor, as retreatmaster, is presenting a series of 15 talks to the students.

Minneapolis Man Says He'll File for Lieut. Governor

Wheelock Whitney, Minneapolis businessman, civic leader and Republican party worker for many years, today formally announced his candidacy for his party's nomination for lieutenant governor.

He will seek support of delegates to Republican conventions throughout the state leading to endorsement by the party's state convention June 7, 8 and 9.

Whitney was accorded the "Outstanding Young Man of Minneapolis award by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1959 for his numerous efforts in civic improvement undertakings. He is a trustee of St. Barnabas Hospital in Minneapolis and the Wayzata Community Church.

Winter Shows Told of Manitoba Flood Plans

A flood control and water conservation program planned for the Red River and its major tributary, the Assiniboine in Manitoba, was described Wednesday by a speaker at the Red River Valley Winter Shows.

The speaker was J. A. Griffiths, director of the Manitoba department of agriculture and conservation water control at Winnipeg.

"The department plans to start three major projects on these two streams during the coming summer. Completion is scheduled for 1968 at a cost of $85 million.

Griffiths reported:

The first of the projects is a large diversion floodway around the east side of the City of Winnipeg. It will be some 30 miles long, 25 to 65 feet deep and will involve the excavation of about 100 million cubic yards of material. This project is intended for flood control only.

Two projects are planned for the Assiniboine river. Both will provide flood control and water conservation benefits to agricultural users.

The first is a dam on the upper reaches of the Assiniboine river in Manitoba at a cost of about $7½ million. It will create a reservoir of 500,000 acre feet. The reservoir is intended as a dual-purpose project which is expected to raise the minimum river natural flow of about 80 cfs (cubic feet per second) to a regulated minimum flow of 400 cfs.

The second project on the Assiniboine will be a diversion channel from the river at a point about 50 miles west of Winnipeg northerly into Lake Manitoba. The channel will have a capacity of about 25,000 cfs. It will cost about $12 million.

It will be used primarily to divert flood flows in the Assiniboine up to its design capacity. It will protect downstream farm lands which are highly vulnerable to flooding and will contribute to flood protection within metropolitan Winnipeg.

This project will be operated in low water years to divert water from the Assiniboine during the spring flow to raise the water levels of Lake Manitoba for recreation, fish and wildlife purposes.

In future years it will also be possible to use this lake, which has an area of about a million acres, as a storage reservoir for spring flood flows. The water would be returned from the lake in a downstream channel to the Assiniboine river west of Winnipeg, where it will be needed during the summer, and winter months for dilution and, to a lesser extent, for local irrigation.

Womack, Beito Given Awards at Banquet Tuesday

farmers and businessmen to compare their situation with that of similar positions behind the Iron Curtain.

History of Winners

In making the outstanding boss presentation, Donald Olson called attention to the fact that Womack is a 1935 graduate of the University of Minnesota and graduated from a St. Paul high school at the age of 16. He served four years in the armed forces with overseas duty in the Aleutian Islands.

He returned to the Stockyards National Bank in St. Paul in 1945 and married Everetta Green in 1947. In 1958 he became president of the Union State Bank in this city. Prior to coming here he was president of the South St. Paul Chamber of Commerce.

He is presently on the advisory board of Northwest Banco, treasurer of the Pennington County United Fund, director of Jobs, Inc., Northwest Dairy Day treasurer, member of the Northwestern hospital board and a member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Elks lodge. Mr. and Mrs. Womack have three children, Mary 13, John 12 and Robert 10.

Gene Beito was born in Thief River Falls and is also a graduate of the University of Minnesota. He served as an air intelligence officer in the Navy aboard the USS Bennington and Forestal. Active in church work, he is a Sunday school teacher and Luther League advisor at Trinity Lutheran church.

A member of the local Rotary, Elks, Eagles and Golf clubs, he is director and treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce, director and vice president of the library board, director on the Northwestern hospital board, director of the Northwestern Minnesota Dairy Improvement association, clerk of the Top of the Nation Dairy association and second vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He presently is vice president and director of Northern State Bank, auditor and director of the Security State Bank of Oklee, director of the bank of Gonvick, director of the First National Bank of McIntosh and vice president of the Minnesota Banker's association. He and his wife Gretchen have one child, one-year-old David.

Eighty-nine men attended the event with out-of-town guests including Emmett O'Meara and Lloyd Lind of the Bemidji Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Social Changes Have Affect on Home Program

Contrary to popular opinion, agriculture is not a dying business, Newell emphasized. With the decreasing number of farmers actively engaged in the business, there is an increasing number of people employed in production of farm machinery and equipment and processing and sale of agricultural products.

Representatives from the Pennington county home council who attended the meeting were Mrs. Adam Lendobeja, Mrs. Laverne Adamson, Mrs. Raymond Olson, and Mrs. Clarence Knutson, all of Thief River Falls. Persons attending the meeting from Clearwater, Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, East Polk, West Polk, Red Lake, Roseau and Lake of the Woods counties.

INCOME TAX ADVICE

By Minnesota State Bar Assn.

Deductions for Medical Expense

(This is the twelfth in a series of articles on income taxes made available as a public service by the Minnesota State Bar Association, Public Relations Committee.)

Medical and dental expenses are deductible as itemized personal deductions on both your Federal and Minnesota returns in the year you pay your medical or dental bill.

Generally, you may deduct such expenses as fees of doctors, dentists, and nurses, hospital expenses, eye glasses, false teeth, hearing aids, medicines and drugs, and premiums paid on hospital and medical insurance.

Both Federal and Minnesota law allow deductions for medical expenses only to the extent that your medical expenses exceed the amount you receive for an injury or sickness from health, accident or medical insurance.

On the Minnesota reutrn, there is no limit on the amount that you may deduct for medical expenses. The deduction for medical expenses on your Federal return, however, is allowable only to the extent that such expenses (exclusive of amounts paid for medicine and drugs) exceed 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income. If either you or your spouse is 65 or over, you may claim your medical expenses for both of you without reduction by 3 per cent of adjusted gross income. Moreover, amounts spent by you for medical expenses of your, or your wife's dependent parent will not be subject to the 3 per cent limitation if such parent is 65 or over. In computing the medical expense deduction on your Federal return, the amounts paid for medicines and drugs are deductible as medical expenses only to the extent that they exceed 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

The deduction for medical expenses on your Federal return cannot exceed $2,500 for each exemption you claim, or a maximum deduction of $5,000 if single and $10,000 if married and filing a joint return. Where either of you or your wife is 65 and unable to work due to physical or mental impairment of indefinite duration, the maximum deduction for your Federal return is increased to $15,000 if one of you is 65 and disabled, and $30,000 if you are both 65 and disabled.

(This column, based on Minnesota and Federal law, is written to inform, not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of a trained expert who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application.

Eggs Top Plentiful Food List for March

Eggs top the U. S. Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods for March, reports Laura Duerst, Pennington county home agent.

Since March has been designated as Egg Month as well as Good Breakfast Month, it's a good time to feature eggs in the first meal of the day. In all baking and cooking this month, homemakers will want to take advantage of the increased supply of eggs at prices expected to be below last year's.

Right behind eggs in good supply during March will be milk and dairy products, potatoes, navy beans, peanuts and peanut products.

Milk and dairy products are among the best buys in amount of nutrition provided for the family. The average American family spends about 15 per cent of its money for milk, cream, cheese and ice cream. For this 15 per cent the family gets 64 percent of its supply of calcium, 45 percent of its riboflavin, about a fourth of its protein and many other nutrients.

Heavy supplies of fall-crop potatoes will be in the market in March, at very low prices. Potatoes are an excellent buy from the standpoint of both the money you spend on them and the food value you get for your money. One medium-sized potato—baked, boiled or mashed—supplies as much as a fifth of the recommended daily requirement of ascorbic acid or vitamin C. It also contains worthwhile amounts of two important B vitamins—thiamine and niacin—as well as some of the necessary minerals such as iron, phosphorus and potassium.

Navy beans are an economy buy for baking or for soups and chowders on blustery March days. This year more peanuts will reach food stores as peanut butter, peanut candy and salted peanuts for an abundance of these popular snack foods.

Mrs. Lottie Ottum, Pioneer Resident, Dies Tuesday

Mrs. Lottie Ottum, a resident of Thief River Falls and community for over 50 years, died Tuesday evening, February 27, at Northwestern hospital at the age of 88 years. Funeral services will be held Saturday, March 3rd, at 2 p.m. in the Evangelical Free church. Rev. Joseph Swan will officiate and interment will be in the Greenwood cemetery.

The body will lie in state at the Green Funeral Home from Thusday evening until noon Saturday and at the church for one hour before the time of service.

A complete obituary will be given in the Monday's Times.

Engebret Rude of York, No. Dak. Dies Monday

Engebret Rude, a resident of York, North Dakota, died Monday, February 26 at Northwestern hospital at the age of 88 years.

Funeral services will be held Friday, March 2, at 2 p.m. in the American Lutheran church at York, N. Dakota.

Mr. Rude was the father of Mrs. N. L. Olson of this city.

The Green Funeral Home is in charge of local arrangements.

Norman Farstad, Once Newfolden Man, Dies Sunday

Norman Farstad, a former resident of the Newfolden Community for many years, died Sunday, February 25, at the Veterans hospital in Minneapolis at the age of 45 years, after a long illness. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon March 2, at 2 p. m. in the Evangelical Free church in Newfolden. Reverend Clifford Anderson will officiate and interment will be in the Oak Grove cemetery. The body will lie in state at the Green Funeral home in Thief River Falls from Wednesday evening until 10 o'clock Friday and at the church one hour before the time of service.

Farstad was born July 20, 1916 in New Solum township, Marshall county. In 1927 the family moved to West Valley township where he attended the Sunny Side school and the Newfolden Consolidated school, and grew to manhood in West Valley township.

He served in the Marines during World War II. After returning from the service he worked as a traveling salesman for the Gilbertson Parawax Polish company and made his home in Minneapolis.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Farstad of Newfolden and one brother Orville Farstad of Newfolden; four sisters (Adeline) Mrs. Clifford Dahl of St. Paul; (Eunice) Mrs. Maynard Nelson and (Edith) Mrs. Glen Amundson both of Minneapolis; and (Delores) Mrs. Al Berg, Jr. of Stephen, Minnesota.

He was preceded in death by one sister Opal.

Adolph Schultz of St. Hilaire Dies February 23

Funeral services for Adolph Schultz, 81, of St. Hilaire, who passed away at his home Friday, February 23, will be held today, Thursday, at 2 p. m. in St. John Lutheran church of this city. Rev. A. C. Seitz will officiate with interment in the St. Hilaire Community cemetery. Sinding's Funeral Chapel is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Schultz was born in Germany, February 28, 1879, coming with his parents to Joliet, Illinois in 1882, where they lived for eight years. They homesteaded near Arco, Minnesota in 1890 and there he was united in marriage to Amelia Martens on April 25, 1905. The Schultz family made their home in that area until 1916 when they moved to Bemidji, then to Newfolden, coming to Euclid in 1919 where they lived until 1945, and resided in St. Hilare since that time. He was a member of St. John Lutheran church.

Survivors include his wife, Amelia; one daughter and four sons: Mrs. Jay (Tillie) Bugge and Matthew, both of Chicago; Leonard and Lawrence, both of Eveleth; Fred of St. Hilaire; six sisters and five brothers: Grace, Hulda, Martha, Ida, Mary and Amanda, all of Salem, Oregon; Reinhardt, Edwin, Fred, Richard and Emil, all of Washington and Oregon; sixteen grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by two daughters and one brother.

Oat Plus Pea Mixture Hikes Protein Yield

By planting an oat-pea mixture instead of oats alone for silage or feed grain a farmer can grow feed of higher protein content and raise his protein yield per acre, according to a University of Minnesota agronomist.

R. G. Robinson says that because of the greater concentration of protein in oat-pea silage or feed grain, some livestock producers may be able to buy less commercial protein supplement and still maintain high production.

In addition to making a higher protein silage than oats alone an oat-pea mixture may retain more succulence, thus prolonging the time available for harvest, and may compact better in the silo.

University of Minnesota trials at three locations in southern Minnesota and at the Northeast Experiment Station, Duluth, have shown that in most areas of the state 48 pounds of oats with 90 pounds of peas is a suitable seed mixture.

A mixture of 64 pounds of oats and 60 pounds of peas is more practical for areas where lodging is severe and in southwestern and west central Minnesota. In northern Minnesota, where pea growth is vigorous, a mix of 64 pounds of oats and 60 pounds of peas or less is satisfactory because of the bigorous growth of the peas.

Recommended field pea variety for these mixtures is Chancellor.

Average protein yield per acre for oat-pea silage grown at the four locations was 529 pounds compared to 388 pounds for oats alone. When harvested as feed grain the protein yield averaged 219 pounds for acre for oats; 332 pounds for the oat-pea mixture.

Robinson and O. C. Soine, agronomist at the Northwest Experiment Station, Crookston, have listed complete information in Extension Bulletin 300, "Field Peas for Seed and Forage." For a copy, see your county agent or write: Bulletin Room, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1.

Rice is Staff of Life For a Billion People

More rice is grown in the world than wheat. And rice consumption is increasing for a number of reasons, points out Dr. Raymond E. Crist of the University of Florida. Rice can be grown on poorer land than other crops, as witness Cuba where soils previously thought too poor to cultivate have been producing rice in abundance for more than a decade. Few pests and serious diseases bother rice, Dr. Crist says. The grain is a concentrated form of inexpensive calories that keeps well and can easily be shipped. Rice is the staff of life for more than a billion people, many, of course, in the Orient. But even in the U. S.—not considered a rice-eating country—annual production has tripled in the last 20 years, to nearly three million tons.

Part time sports activity is a possibility for youths with a chronic or acute physical condition, says Dr. Herbert E. Griswold Jr. of Portland, Ore. Dr. Griswold urges team physicians and coaches to seek out these boys and make them into specialists such as pinch hitters in baseball or punters and place kickers in football. . . Life processes in individual cells are being slowed down by University of Chicago scientists. Like a slow-motion movie, the technique permits a more penetrating look at the action of the vital processes.

Caverns are proving to be economical "vessels" for the storage of gases. So economical, in fact, that one large oil company, dug the largest cave in history to be hewn out of solid granite. But before propane gas could be stored in the huge 2.2-million-cubic-foot underground receptacle in Pennsylvania, the atmosphere had to be made safe. To remove explosion hazard, Cardox pumped in 112 tons of carbon dioxide, displacing enough of the air so that the propane could be safely injected. This is believed to be the world's largest "purging" job.

A sterile atmosphere for surgery in the tropics is promised with a new balloon technique developed at the Stanford University School of Medicine. A balloon of transparent plastic is fastened to the patient's skin with sterile glue. The surgeon slips his arms through the sides of the inflated bag to do the operation.

That unnerving spectacle, small boy with violin, soon may be less of a trial to captive audiences if a University of Nebraska project meets with success. It's the use of multiple-exposure, high-speed photographs to show Johnny exactly what happens when the instrument is played correctly. Texts illustrated by the photos will help, the school says, though they won't turn a tin ear to gold.

FALLOUT SHELTER supplies necessary to be self-sustaining over a two-week period are shown in these drawings from the "Fallout Protection" booklet prepared by the Department of Defense and available free to the public through post offices and local civil defense offices. The most essential supplies are outlined in gray, including water, the most important individual item. Each shelter occupant would require at least a quart of water a day, and a gallon would be better to allow for cleansing. Radiation meters, now commercially available, include pencil-like instruments for measuring amount of radiation per hour and total exposure to radiation, and a charger to eliminate previous readings by returning instruments to zero settings.

Commissioner Odin C. Hanson introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, by resolution duly adopted on August 8, 1961, this board determined to issue and sell $170,000 State Aid Highway Bonds as authorized by Chapter 7, Laws of Minnesota, Extra Session 1961, and

WHEREAS, no action was thereafter taken by the board to fix the date of sale and other provisions of said bonds, and

WHEREAS, the County Auditor of Pennington County has caused notice of sale to be published as required by law, stating that the board would meet on this date to sell $170,000 State Aid Road Bonds and this board has met to receive sealed bids pursuant to such advertised notice,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED By the County Board of Pennington County, Minnesota, as follows:

1. The action of the County Auditor in publishing notice of bond sale is hereby ratified and approved, including the amount of bonds, maturities and other provisions set out in the notice of sale.

2. The county shall issue and sell $170,000 State Aid Road Bonds bearing date March 1, 1962, bearing interest payable semi-annually on March 1 and September 1 in each year and maturing serially on March 1 in the amount of $10,000 in 1963 and $20,000 in each of the years 1964 to 1971, both inclusive, all without option of prior payment.

3. The bid of First National Bank of Minneapolis, in Minneapolis, Minnesota and Associates to purchase said bonds is hereby accepted, said bid being to purchase said bonds bearing interest at the rate of 1962 through 1966 — 2.40%
1967 through 1969 — 2.70%
1970 through 1971 — 2.80%
at a price of $170,022.10, and the Chairman and County Auditor are authorized and directed to sign a contract for the sale of said bonds on behalf of the county. The County Treasurer shall return the checks of unsuccessful bidders and retain the check of the above bidder until delivery of the bonds.

4. The bonds and the interest coupons to be thereto attached shall be in substantially the following form:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
STATE OF MINNESOTA

County Auditor

5. The county has agreed to furnish the approving legal opinion of Messrs. Howard, Peterson, LeFevere, Lefler and Haertzen to the purchasers and such opinion is hereby requested. The County Auditor shall cause a copy of such opinion to be printed on each of such bonds and shall certify on each bond with his facsimile signature that such opinion is on file in his office in substantially the following form:

I, the undersigned, County Auditor of Pennington County, Minnesota, hereby certify that, except for dating thereof, the above is a full, true and correct copy of the legal opinion of Messrs. Howard, Peterson, LeFevere, Lefler and Haertzen of Minneapolis, Minnesota, which was delivered to me prior to the delivery of this bond and is on file in my office.

(Facsimile signature)
County Auditor.
Pennington County, Minnesota

At the time of bond delivery, the County Auditor shall obtain a copy of the legal opinion for filing in his office and shall execute a separate certificate as to such fact.

6. The said bonds shall be prepared under the direction of the County Auditor and when so prepared shall be executed on behalf of the county by the signature of the Chairman of the County Board and countersigned and sealed by the County Auditor and the interest coupons shall be executed and authenticated by the printed, engraved or lithographed facsimile signatures of said officers, and when said bonds have been so executed and authenticated they shall be delivered by the County Treasurer to the purchaser on receipt of the purchase price, and the purchaser shall not be required to see to the application thereof.

7. A separate sinking fund is hereby created for this issue and the County Treasurer shall provide moneys therein to pay principal and interest when due. It is hereby determined that the bonds of this issue will be payable in the first instance wholly from the allocations to the county from the County State-Aid Highway Fund. There is hereby irrevocably pledged and appropriated to the said sinking fund an amount of the monies allocated or to be allocated to the county from its account in the County State-Aid Highway fund sufficient to pay the principal of and the interest on the obligations as they respectively become due, which amounts are as follows:

Year	Month	Principal	Interest
1962	9/1		$2025

1971	3/1	20,000	290

Said interest shall be paid out of the county's normal maintenance account.

8. The First National Bank of Minneapolis in Minneapolis, Minnesota and Associates is hereby designated paying agent for payment of principal of and interest on said bonds and the county shall pay the reasonable charges of said bank for its services as paying agent as an additional charge against state-aid highway funds.

9. No general tax levy shall be spread for payment of principal and interest at this time, but the county shall be obligated to provide moneys for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds as they severally mature and the County Auditor shall report to the County Board annually as to any amount required to be levied to meet current or anticipated deficits in the sinking fund.

10. The County Auditor and the County Treasurer are hereby authorized and directed to prepare and furnish to the purchaser of said bonds, and to the attorneys approving the same, certified copies of all proceedings and records of the county relating to said bonds and to the financial affairs of the county, and such other certificates as may be required to show the facts within their knowledge or as shown by the books and records under their custody and control, and such certified copies and certificates shall be deemed representations of the county as to the facts stated therein.

The motion for the adoption of the foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Merle Lindberg, and upon vote being taken thereon, the following voted in favor thereof:

whereupon said resolution was declared duly passed and adopted.

February 6, 1962

Minutes of the meetings of January 2nd and 11th were read and approved as read.

Commissioner Olson introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, it appears to the County Board of Pennington County that the road hereinafter described should be designated a County State Aid Highway under the provisions of Minnesota Laws of 1959, Chapter 500,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, by the County Board of Pennington County that the road described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at the intersection of Arnold Avenue and 6th Street in the City of Thief River Falls, thence running Westerly along the present established street and road, (same being the recently vacated State Trunk Highway No. 1) a distance of 0.81 mile more or less, to the intersection of the new trunk Highway No. 59 and there terminating, be, and hereby is established, located and designated a County State Aid Highway of said County, subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Highways of the State of Minnesota.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the County Auditor is hereby authorized and directed to forward two certified copies of this Resolution to the Commissioner of Highways for his consideration, and that upon his approval of the designation of said road, or portion thereof, the same be constructed, improved and maintained as a County State Aid Highway of Pennington County to be numbered and known as County State Aid Highway No. 30.

The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Hanson and declared carried.

The Board then examined and approved the County Officials reports of Fees and Emoluments as presented for the year 1961, and ordered them filed.

Moved by Lindberg seconded by Olson that the sum of $1,254.55 be appropriated from the Revenue Fund to the Probation Officer Fund for the Pennington County share of the cost of maintaining the office for the last 6 months of 1961.
Carried.

Moved by Almquist seconded by Olson that the Engineer and Auditor be authorized and instructed to advertise for bids for the years supply of Diesel fuel and gasoline, for cutting edges, culverts and for a new Panel truck with bids to be opened March 6, 1962.
Motion carried.

Moved by Hanson seconded by Lindberg that the sum of $1,220.41 be appropriated to the Township of Clover Leaf and $1,277.58 to Silverton Township to complete the agreement entered into in 1957 relative to construction of roads with the exception of the gravel still to be placed on the Silverton project, and the Auditor is hereby authorized to draw his Warrant in payment of said amounts.
Motion carried.

Commissioner Almquist introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, A Certificate was, on the 6th day of February, 1962, presented to the County Board of Pennington County, Minnesota, executed by the Clerk of Common school district No. 1561, stating that a Resolution had been adopted by the school board of said district on the 22nd day of January, 1962, and that pursuant to the provisions of said resolution, an election was held on the 2nd day of February, 1962, on the question of dissolving said school district, and that a majority of the votes cast at said election were in favor of dissolving said school district and having the territory embraced therein attached to Independent District No. 445 of Viking of Marshall County,

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED, That a hearing be held on said certification at a meeting of said Board at Court House in the City of Thief River Falls in said County, on Tuesday the 6th day of March, 1962, at 1:30 o'clock P.M., at which time and place this Board will hear all persons interested, and their evidence and arguments, for and against dissolving said Common school district No. 1561, of Pennington County, Minnesota.

The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Olson and declared carried.

In order to bring the County Extension Committee to full strength for the year 1962 the following appointments were unanimously approved:

FIRE ALARM SYSTEM FOR OAKLAND PARK NURSING HOME THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINN.

Advertisement for Proposals

The Executive Committee of the Oakland Park Nursing Home, Thief River Falls, Minn., will receive sealed bid proposals for the Installation of Fire Alarm System, until 2:00 P.M., March 14, 1962 at the Office of the Superintendent, Oakland Park Nursing Home, Thief River Falls, Minn., at which time all will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Specifications pursuant to which the work will be done are on file at the Office of the Superintendent, Oakland Park Nursing Home, Box 311, Thief River Falls, Minn.

Copies of said documents may be obtained by depositing $10.00 with the Superintendent. The amount of deposit fee will be returned to those submitting a bonafide bid and who return the documents in good condition within five days after the date set for the opening of the bids. One-half of fee will be returned to non-bidders for documents returned in good condition within five days.

The work will consist of installing and furnishing material as shown in the drawings and specifications.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check or bidder's bond acceptable to the Committee in an amount equal to at least five per cent of the total amount of bid, payable without condition to the Superintendent, Oakland Park Nursing Home, Thief River Falls, Minn. In case the successful bidder fails to enter into contract or to provide a performance bond as required by law, within the specified number of days of the award of the Contract, such check or bond shall be forfeited to the Home as liquidating damages.

The Committee reserves the right to hold all bids for a period of 30 days (calendar) after the date set for the opening of the bids and to waive any irregularities and to reject any or all bids as they deem to the best interest of the Home.

District Basketball Play to Begin Monday

The 31st district basketball tournament will begin play on Monday afternoon, March 5, on the University of North Dakota fieldhouse court in Grand Forks. First round pairings will find East Grand Forks meeting the sub-district tournament's third place team, Fisher or Red Lake Falls, at 2:30 p. m.

At 4:00 p. m. the Climax Vikings will play the defending champion Thief River Falls Prowlers. Monday evening's schedule will have Warren playing the sub-district tournament's second place team, Plummer or Oslo; and at 9:00 p. m. the Crookston Pirates will meet the sub-district champion, Oslo or Plummer.

The district tourney semi-finals will be played on Tuesday night, with games at 7:30 p. m. and 9:00 p. m. And the district tourney finals are billed for Wednesday night at 9:00 p. m. Horace May and Jim Smalley of Bemidji will be the tournament officials.

At a meeting of the athletic directors and basketball coaches held last week, for the purposes of "seeding" the district's "big five", the following ratings were made: first, East Grand Forks; second, Warren; third, Crookston; fourth, Climax; and fifth, Thief River Falls. The sub-district tournament's champion, runner-up, and third place winner will enter next week's district tourney.

The Prowlers have won the district cage title the past two years, defeating Crookston, 47-38, in the 1960 finals; and Climax, 67-53, in last season's tourney.

Plummer Cagers in District Play

Defeat Favored Oslo Team in Subdistrict Tourney

As a result of their play in the sub-district tournament that was concluded at Fisher on Wednesday night, the Plummer Cardinals, the Oslo Bobcats, and the Fisher Flyers earned berths in the 31st district high school basketball tournament that will begin at Grand Forks on Monday afternoon.

Coach Howie Emerson's Plummer Cardinals, with a fine exhibition of basketball, surprised a favored Oslo team, 67-51, in the sub-district tournament finals on Wednesday night. The Cardinals, as the sub-district winners, will meet the Crookston Pirates in a district tournament first round game at 9:00 p. m. on Monday night.

The Oslo club, gaining sub-district runner-up honors, will play the Warren Ponies in a district first round game at 7:30 p. m. on Monday. And the Fisher Flyers, who edged out the Red Lake Falls Eagles, 36-34, for third place, will play the East Grand Forks Green Wave at 2:30 p. m. on Monday.

Plummer Girls Edge Oklee in Basketball Game

Success in the first game played was noted by the Plummer high school girls basketball team as they gained a 21-20 victory over the Oklee Girls Athletic association Saturday night at Oklee. The Plummer team trailed 14-13 at halftime but outscored the Oklee team in the second half.

On the starting line-up for Plummer were Jane Bregier, Marlene Rush and Pat Toulouse as forwards, Carol Cardinal, Margie Gallant and Faith Clausen at guards. Other Plummer players were Carol and Margaret Berberich, Carolyn Parr, Sanrea Robidoux, Rita Paradis, Barbara Cox, Marlys Meyer, Joyce Martell and Rose Peterson.

Golden Gophers vs. Viking Trotters

What shapes up to be the finest basketball attraction of the past several years is slated for the high school gymnasium here on Saturday night when the Golden Gophers, a team composed of members of the Rose Bowl Minnesota Gophers football squad, will meet the Viking Trotters in an exhibition game.

According to the advance information received, such football stars as Judge Dickson, Bill Munsey, Tommy King, Dave Mulholland, Bob Bell, and others, will be on the Golden Gopher roster.

And in meeting the Viking Trotters, an independent team playing out of Viking, but with players from the surrounding area, the Gophers will be given a thorough test. Dave Hanson, Jack Junker, Dennis Bakke, Bobby Dahl, and Dwight Tangquist are some of the boys who will be wearing the Viking uniforms. The battle around the backboards should be worth the admission price.

The last time that an aggregation of Gopher football players appeared here in a basketball exhibition was in the early 1950's. That was the Golden Gopher cager squad that featured Billy Bye, Jim Malosky, big Clayton Tonnemaker. The huge crowd that witnessed that game, with the local Pharmacy Rockets providing the opposition, were well-pleased with the entertainment.

It's the Golden Gophers and the Viking Trotters here Saturday night.

Valuable Experience

The veteran Fran Kleffman rink of Hibbing: Nick Juellio, lead; Frank Kleffman, second; Terry Kleffman, third; and Dick Brown, fourth for the sixth successive time won the Minnesota state curling title in the bonspiel that was concluded at Hibbing on Saturday. The Kleffman rink wil participate in the national bonspiel to be held in Detroit, Mich. in a couple of weeks.

The local club's Jon Larson rink: Don Jorde, lead; Curtis Johnson, second; Roger Nygaard, third; and Larson, skip, engaged in three matches in the bonspiel. The locals dropped their opening match to the MaGee rink of Duluth, 11-8; and then were eliminated from the championship bracket by Kleffman, losing by a 13-8 score. After gaining a win in the consolation via a forfeit, the local rink lost to the Mapleton rink, 7-4, in the semi-finals.

The members of the local rink had an enjoyable time, and they are agreed that the experience gained in competing against the state's top-ranked rinks was invaluable. Jon ventures the opinion that the Kleffman rink will make a strong bid for the national title.

To Ask for a Bonus

This item is for the attention of Jim Muzzy, the sponsor and captain of the Daleford Farms bowling team of the Monday night National league.

The team hold a nine-game lead over the second-place Custom Motors team for the league championship, and it's just about a cinch that the Daleford Farms boys will be making the march to the head table to receive the championship awards at the annual bowling banquet.

But what we wish to call to Jim's attention is that Helmer Skomedal, a new member of the team, is planning on asking for a sizable bonus. Helmer was a member of the Steiner Farmers team for a number of years, but when this team was disbanded he joined the Daleford Farms squad. And Helmer maintains that his bowling, and he is carrying a 161-pin average in fifty-seven games, is one of the reasons why the Dalefords are leading the league. Helmer has a notebook filled with facts and figures showing the improvement in the league standings since he joined the team. Better pay the bonus, Jim.

Nearly $3 Million Spent on Wetlands

103,000 Acres Have Been Optioned or Purchased

Acquisition costs for wetlands and other wildlife and public hunting areas are approaching the three million dollar mark, the conservation department reported today.

Under the program, financed by a surcharge on the small game hunting license, over 103,000 acres of land and water have been optioned or purchased by the state.

Reports from department area game managers in the field show that wetland projects, acquired under the Save Minnesota's Wetlands program, are receiving good use by pheasants this winter.

The marsh vegetation furnishes good protective cover, game officials explained.

Flocks as high as two and three hundred birds have been observed on some of the state-owned wetland projects. In some counties where drainage has been very heavy the few marshes which are left furnish some of the only remaining good pheasant cover.

Bemidji Wrestlers Win Region 8 Title

The Bemidji and Park Rapids wrestling squads, both from District 29, dueled for the Region Eight team honors in the tournament held at Crookston on Saturday; and the Bemidji Lumberjacks, with an aggregate of 19 points, won the squad honors. The Park Rapids squad piled up a total of 88 points for runner-up honors. Other team totals were Greenbush of District 32, 51 points; Thief River Falls, 38 points, and Warren, 37 points, from District 31; Mahnomen, 33 points, and Ada, 32 points, from District 30; and Crookston of District 31, 26 points.

The division winners who win individual honors, and who will participate in next week's state wrestling tournament, were:

95-pounds 8 LeRoy Sikorski, Greenbush.
103-pounds 8 Dave Raynolds, Mahnomen.
112-pounds 8 Doug Cheney, Park Rapids.
120-pounds 8 Gary Binkert, Bemidji.
127-pounds 8 Raphael Gonshorowski, Greenbush.
133-pounds 8 Vincent Ames, Greenbush.

Washington Wins 11th Hockey Game

Northrop Blanks Knox 2-0; Schedule Ends Saturday

Grade School Hockey

Washington	11	0	0	22
Northrop	7	1	3	13
St. Bernard's	2	2	7	6
Knox	0	1	10	1

Results of Saturday's games:
Washington, 3, vs. St. Bernard's, 0.
Northrop, 2, vs. Knox, 0.

Schedule, Saturday, March 3
Washington vs. Northrop, 9:00 A.M.
St. Bernard's vs. Knox, 10:30 A.M.

The 1961-62 city grade school hockey schedule will be concluded on Saturday morning, March 3, and the finale will be highlighted by the Washington vs. Northrop game, slated for 9:00 a. m. The Washington team, winners of the grade school title, will be endeavoring to close out their season with an unbeaten record; and coach Dick Brooks' ever-trying Northrop Indians will make a desperate effort to break the Wildcats' winning streak.

In last Saturday morning's game, Washington, with Rich Holmes scoring a pair of goals and Tom Stromberg adding a single, defeated the St. Bernard's Broncos, 3-0. The shutout was the seventh in eleven games for Washington goalie, Scott Dowers. In only one game, that being the tilt against Northrop a couple of weeks ago, has the opposition scored more than one goal. In this game, won by the Cats, Northrop tallied three goals in their 8-3 losing effort.

State Families Get $55,600,000 in Death Payments During 1961

Minnesota families received $55,600,000 during 1961 in death payments from their life insurance companies, the Institute of Life Insurance reports. These payments were made under 24,700 policies.

The 1961 death payments compare with $51,200,000 the year before, under 24,100 policies.

"The death payments made in this state last year were 109 percent more than ten years ago," the Institute commented. "In 1951, they amounted to $26,600,000 under 16,000 policies. The increase in life policy death payments was primarily a reflection of the greater amount of life insurance owned. Ownership of life insurance in this state increased 135 percent between the start of 1952 and the start of 1962."

Of the 1961 death claim payments in the state $34,800,000 was under 11,200 ordinary life insurance policies; $18,700,000 was under 7,400 group life insurance certificates; and $2,100,000 was under 6,100 industrial life insurance policies.

For the nation as a whole, the 1961 aggregate of death claim payments was $3,581,400,000 under $2,140,300 policies, compared with $3,346,100,000 under 2,037,900 policies the year before and $1,709,400,000 under 1,465,00 policies in 1951. Last year's payments were made up of $2,00,700,000 under 648,600 ordinary life insurance policies; $1,246,100,000 under 481,500 group life insurance certificates; and $334,600,000 under 1,010,20 industrial life insurance policies.

New York led the states in the total of death claim payments in 1961, with $498,600,000 under 258,300 policies. Next in rank were Pennsylvania, $290,600,000; California, $287,600,000; Illinois, $246,400,000; and Ohio, $208,700,.

Year-end Near for 1961 Wool Program

Incentive Payments Due on Marketings to Mar. 31

The 1961 wool program incentive payments, to be made this summer will cover only wool and unshorn lambs which are marketed before March 31, 1962, Edward A. Johnson, chairman of the Marshall county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, reminded growers today.

That is the closing date for the 1961 program, which extends from April 1, 1961 to March 31, 1962. Growers will have 30 days after the closing date in which to file their applications for the payments.

Payments to producers for the 1961 marketing year will follow the same methods used in previous years. Shorn wool payments will be equal to a percentage of each producer's cash returns from wool sales. The percentage—to be announced later—will be that required to raise the national average price received by all producers for shorn wool during the marketing year up to the incentive price of 62 cents per pound.

Lamb payments will be made to each producer who sells lambs that have never been shorn. The payments will be at a rate per hundredweight of live animals marketed to compensate for the wool on them on a basis comparable to the national average incentive payment per pound of shorn wool.

The chairman emphasized the importance of keeping adequate records on sales, which must support the information on payment applications. Thus, producers' sales records for shorn wool should show name and address of buyer, date of sale, name and address of producer, net weight of wool sold, and net proceeds to producer after normal marketing deductions.

Under the 1960 wool program, growers in Minnesota, Marshall county, last year received a total of $43,426.33 in incentive payments earned during the marketing year ended March 31, 1961.

Short Courses Set for Fair Managers

One Event Scheduled at Bemidji Friday, Mar. 16

Dates were announced today by Robert R. Pinches, acting director of agricultural short courses at the University of Minnesota, for three one-day fair managers' short courses.

The courses will be held on the St. Paul Campus of the University March 12, the Morris Campus of the University March 14; and in the Markham Hotel, Bemidji, Friday, March 16.

Attending the courses will be county fair managers, superintendents and supervisors, county agents and others interested in fiar management.

Subjects to be covered at the courses include exhibits, judging, entertainment and ticket sales. Instruction will be by means of speakers and panel discussions, according to Harold Pederson, University of Minnesota extension economist, who is chairman of the program committee.

Cooperating with the University of Minnesota's Institute of Agriculture in putting on the short courses are the Minnesota Federation of County Fairs and the Minnesota State Agricultural Society.

Information on registration may be obtained from Agricultural Short Courses, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1.

Charles Kotaska Ticket Chairman for DFL Dinner

Charles Kotaska, DFL chairman of Pennington county, has been named county ticket chairman for the Minnesota DFL's annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner which will feature Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson as speaker.

The dinner will be held Saturday, March 10, 6:30 p. m. at the Radisson hotel in Minneapolis. In addition to Johnson, members of Minnesota's DFL congressional delegation and statewide DFL elected officials will also be introduced.

The Jefferson-Jackson day dinner is a major fund raising project of the DFL. Similar dinners are sponsored at various times throughout the year by the Democratic organizations in all fifty states.

State Farmers Have Foreign Trade Stake

The world market is an important outlet and source of income for Minnesota farmers, according to a state-by-state study just completed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Minnesota farmers supplied the export market with products worth $163.7 million in the 1960-61 fiscal year, the study indicates. Principal commodities exported were soybeans, corn and livestock products.

"Through foreign markets Minnesota farms and foreign trade are brought close together," says Luther Pickrel, University of Minnesota extension economist in public affairs.

"Foreign markets give farmers in the state a far better outlet and income than is possible from the home market alone. But every Minnesota farmer must keep his eyes on events affecting foreign markets because they have a real dollars-and-cents meaning to his income."

On the well known basis that foreign trade is a two-way street, Minnesota also imports many agricultural products. Many are noncompetitive consumer items such as coffee, tea, cocoa, spices and bananas. Some competing agricultural products also come in from abroad, but the state's agriculture is far ahead in the exchange. Minnesota exports nearly three times its share of competing imports.

U. S. agricultural exports reached a record $5 billion last year. Exports for dollars amounted to 3.2 billion; of this 1.3 billion in sales received some government subsidies.

Among our biggest dollar customers for agricultural products are the United Kingdom and the six Common Market counties of Western Europe.

Whether these counties will continue as important customers depends largely on: (1) a suitable replacement for the existing reciprocal trade agreement act which expires June 30, and (2) the existence and growing importance of the Common Market and the type of trade policies the U. S. is able to negotiate with it.

Many agricultural groups thruout the country are working closely with the USDA in efforts to build exports even further. In areas such as Western Europe, business is booming and customers have the money to buy more U. S. farm products.

The biggest problem in such counties is access to markets; trade barriers often limit the amounts that American agriculture can sell. One big national objective at this time is to arrive at an international trade program that gives U. S. agriculture better bargaining power so it can sell even more effectively in foreign markets.

J. C. Penney Store Planning for 60th Anniversary Sale

Promotional plans for the 60th anniversary sale, starting today at Penney's were discussed at a dinner meeting of employees at the Rex Cafe last night. A recording of the entertainment presented at the national convention in St. Louis was played. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Benson were special guests at the dinner, Mr. Benson having retired as local store manager in 1958.

The first store in the Penney chain was started at Kemmerer, Wyoming and the company now operates 1,700 stores. The Thief River Falls store was opened in 1921.

Red Lake County Schools Receive TB Certificates

Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health Association Makes Awards Recently

All but two schools in Red Lake county are now proudly displaying certificates for achievement in tuberculosis control, according to the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health association which issues the certificates. They were awarded recently following the Mantoux testing program which was conducted in Red Lake county last fall.

All schools except two qualified for either a Class A or Class B certificate in accordance with the percentage of participation by the students in each school. To qualify for certification status, schools must be tested at least once every two years. All reactors to the test must be X-rayed annually. Christmas Seal fund pays for the X-rays.

Receiving Class A certificates were Brooks (98 per cent), St. Joseph's Parocial School (96 per cent), Oklee (95 per cent), Red Lake Falls Public schools (95 per cent), District 1736 Beau Gerlot (100 per cent), District 1733 Terrebonne (100 per cent), District 1729 Franklin (100 per cent) and District 1736 Huot (95 per cent).

Class B certificates went to Plummer (94 per cent), and District 1738 Midway (85 per cent). Schools which failed to qualify were District 1728 Woodland and District 1730 Badger, both with 75 per cent participation. R. J. Shudkle, Red Lake Falls, represents Red Lake county on the newly-organized regional board of directors of the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health association which sponsors the program.

Editorials . . .

"No nation can long exist as a great one, if the industrious, strong, creative, self-reliant, ingenious and patriotic are penalized to the point of discouragement by being forced to carry the load of those who are not.

"The character and not the standard of living of a people is determinant. The ultimate test of the Welfare State is whether it does, or does not succeed in improving the national character, and fostering the primary virtues, which are the sterner ones of courage, determination, duty, fortitude and personal responsibility."

—Dorothy Thompson

Is It Worth the Cost?

When the Russians surprised the world with the launching into orbit of the first Sputnik they burdened us with another big item of expense. Since that time we have spent billions in our efforts to overtake the Russians in this new field. The successful flight of John Glenn was proof of excellent progress.

It is natural to wonder as to what practical value this penetration of outer space will have. It is estimated that a program of experiments that might lead to a landing on the moon in five years will cost from twenty to forty billion dollars. Will it be worth it? Could the forty billion dollars be used for some better purpose. No one knows.

We do know for sure that there will be no stopping now. A little success whets the appetite for more, and that makes for progress. It is conceivable that man will some day visit other worlds.

The effects of new discoveries can never be foreseen. When Ben Franklin was playing with electricity no one realized what a vast new power was in the making. That first short flight by the Wright brothers was a longer step forward than anyone could have imagined at that time.

More About Stockpiles

President Kennedy's stockpile scandal apparantly is getting careful consideration. Senator Harry Byrd, 74-year-old chairman on the Joint Committee on the Reduction of Non-Essential Federal Expenditures, is giving the problem his personal attention with considerable enthusiasm. He has been trying to reduce the stockpiles for years but without success.

Senator Byrd expressed himself as being "mystified" about President Kennedy's "astonishment" over the size of these stockpiles. In a letter to the President he expressed gratification for the Chief Executive's interest in the matter and urged that the secrecy lid be lifted from the list of strategic materials with a cost value of more than $6 billion. He would like to convert it into cash and pay off a little of the debt.

A check of the records has revealed that as the Senator from Massachusetts Kennedy had voted eight of nine times to support stockpiles.

The American Way

The John Glenn space flight was undoubtedly the most spectacular performance of the century, viewed by millions of people on television and reported step by step thruout the world to thrilled radio listeners. Fortunately all went well. It was a perfect performance and gave to our country a much-needed vote of confidence.

The repeated postponement of the flight did raise the old question as to whether these experiments were getting too much advance publicity. The delays were disappointing, and, if the flight had failed, there no doubt would have been considerable criticism and some doubts as to the capacity of those who direct these activities. "Why don't we do as the Russians do," some would ask, "and report only the successes?"

This possibility was discussed by the Wall Street Journal after seven or eight postponements, with the conclusion that our policy of full publicity is proper. Now that we have the world-wide reactions to the successful flight we know that the policy of full publicity, reporting the failures as well as the successes, has done much to strengthen the confidence of the world in our truthfulness. Speaking in advance of the big event, and not at all certain that the flight would be a success the Journal said:

"The on-again-off-again scheduling of the orbital flight has not only been a strain on astronaut John Glenn but has also begun to raise again some of the criticism about all the publicity buildup the Government has permitted for its space experiments.

"The fear is that somehow all this starting and stopping, with its attendant confusion and uncertainty, leaves a very bad impression on the world about the state of our space program. Moreover, it means that a failure, and someday almost surely a tragic failure, will mark one of these flights and will receive world-wide attention in a wholly unnecessary way.

"This is not a criticism to be lightly dismissed. Certainly the Russians do not operate in any such public glare. Their failures are never displayed, only their successes. But their failures must be many; an unusually long time has passed, for example, since the Russians have announced any space firings and it is unlikely that this is for want of trying. And perhaps it is true that, in some minds, the Russian way is the better "public relations."

"Yet the more we think about it the more we are persuaded that the U. S. Government's policy is the wiser one, and that President Kennedy has been right in not changing it.

"In the first place, if the Russians have won a reputation for success in space technology, it is because they did in fact succeed in being the first to take several important steps, beginning with the original Sputnik. Their credit for these steps would be no less if their failures had also been publicized.

"In the second place, we doubt if they really fool very many people into thinking that their every effort is crowned with success just because they do not mention any of their troubles. Indeed, among those people who care enough to think about it, the reverse may very well be true. Ignorance of what is happening can fan rumor and speculation and exagerate their troubles.

"But all this aside, we think that the real reason for a straight-forward and forthright public policy on our space efforts is simply that it is the only policy that fits our national character.

"Whatever the Russians do, this country could only suffer from a policy that tried to "cover up" abortive efforts, mistakes or even outright failures. Our Government could not, in fact, hide a failure of a man-in-space flight even if it tried. All a secrecy policy would mean would be that the news would come out furtively, and this nation could only lose by a sorry attempt to pretend that every thing always goes exactly according to plan.

"We ourselves wish sometimes that things could be reported from Cape Canaveral with a little less of the carnival air. But in the long run we think this country gains, not only in its own understanding of its own space program but in the world's respect for it, from a public relations policy that lets the public know what is going on."

"Let's Have Courage—"

An unusual speech was delivered recently at the Inland Daily Press Association convention at Chicago. The speaker was Jenkin Lloyd Jones, editor of the Tulsa, Oklahoma, Tribune. The title was "Let's Have Courage to Stop Our Nation's Decay". It was published in full in the St. Paul Pioneer Press and we regret that we cannot justify the space to reproduce it in full in The Times.

We agree with the Pioneer Press that it was what we need a lot more of and here are a few of the excerpts that are fair examples of what he said:

"Let's look to our educational institutions at the local level, and if Johnny can't read by the time he's ready to get married let's find out why.

"Let's look at the distribution of public largesse and if, far from alleviating human misery, it is producing the sloth and irresponsibility that intensifies it, let's get it fixed.

"Let's quit being bulldozed and bedazzled by self-appointed longhairs. Let's have the guts to say that a book is dirt if that's what we think of it, or a painting may well be a daub if you can't figure out which way to hang it. And if some beatnik welds together a collection of rusty cog-wheels and old corset stays and claims its a greater sculpture than Michelangelo's "David" let's have the courage to say that it looks like junk and probably is.

"Let's blow the whistle on plays that would bring blushes to an American Legion stag party. Let's not be awed by movie characters with barnyard morals even if some of them have been photographed climbing aboard the Presidential yacht. Let us pay more attention in our news columns to the decent people everywhere who are trying to do something for the good of others.

"In short, gentlemen, let's cover up the cesspool and start planting some flowers."

Too Many Kennedys

This Kennedy family could develop into quite a problem. In recent weeks members of the family have been speaking for us in trouble areas thruout the world and they have been expressing themselves in a way that could give foreigners the idea that we have one-man rule. As we recall it was brother Jack who was elected President and Robert is on the payroll as an Attorney General.

The Kennedys must be tremendously ambitious. Let us hope that their obvious lust for power and personal glory does not lead to rash action. We are sure the voters did not have in mind the establishment of a dynasty.

Interesting Opinions . . .

"Recipe for success: Be polite, prepare yourself for whatever you are asked to do, keep yourself tidy, be cheerful, don't be envious, be honest with yourself so you will be honest with others, be helpful, interest yourself in your job, don't pity yourself, be quick to praise, be loyal to your friends, avoid prejudices, be independent, interest yourself in politics, and read the newspapers."

—Bernard M. Baruch.

FEED SERVICEMAN

If you're among the growing list of Thief River area farmers who are wintering beef cows, you are probably concerned about how fast those Soil Bank haystacks are disappearing. It's the same problem beef cow operators nearly always have: How to make the feed go farther and get better results.

A lot of good operators are finding the answer to this problem lies in Dakota Maid's 32% Supplement B. Here's a top quality supplement loaded with 20,000 units of Vitamin A per pound and 2½% phosphorous. Feed 32% Supplement B in either wafer form or in pea size pellets for at least six weeks before calving (one pound per day per cow) and you're just bound to get a better calf crop.

32% Supplement B provides four different sources of protein to help those "bugs" in the belly" do the most efficient job of breaking down the roughages into digestible form. If the roughage your broods cows are getting is poor in quality or low in supply, you'll do yourself and your pocketbook a favor by using 32% Supplement B right now.

32% Supplement B is another quality product available at your

This is a Ford Fairlane door latch.

There is no other door latch like it. It combines the strength of a bear hug with the precision of a surgeon's fingers. Its action is supple, its sound is solid. Like the 12-month or 12,000-mile warranty* first introduced by Ford, it is undeniable proof of the superb quality built into every Ford car. It may surprise you to find quality so high in a car that's priced as low as the Fairlane (actually under many compacts), but there are many surprises in this newest of automobiles. The fact is, you won't find any new car that gives you Fairlane's big-car room, choice of V-8 zoom and fine-car quality anywhere near Fairlane's surprisingly low price. There's no other new car that combines so beautifully all you ever wanted from a big car—with handling and economy compacts could envy. As a matter of fact, there's never been a buy like Fairlane because there's never been a car like Fairlane—and that's why this all-new car from Ford is now outselling every other "new-size" car. Which is as it should be. After all, how can you beat an unbeatable combination?

Insurance Institute Reports on Coverage

Six out of every ten workers covered by group health insurance policies issued during 1961 received the broad protection of major medical expense insurance, the Health Insurance Institute reported today.

Major medical insurance helps pay for virtually all medical services prescribed by a physician, including hospital and surgical care, medicines and drugs, physicians' services, medical appliances, and out-of-hospital diagnostic and X-ray work.

The Institute report was based on its second annual analysis of data supplied by insurance companies which were responsible for 74 per cent of the total group health insurance premiums in the United States in 1960. The 1961 data sampling consisted of some 2,500 new group coverages issued last year protecting 307,355 employees and an estimated 768,400 dependents for a total of more than one million insured individuals.

Sixty-two per cent of the employees were covered by major medical policies. About three-quarters acquired their major medical benefits as a supplement to basic coverages they already held, while the remainder had comprehensive policies which combine major medical benefits with basic coverages.

An analysis of the two years shows that there is a trend toward higher maximum benefits in the major medical policies, declared the Institute.

Of the sample of some 2,500 new group coverages, more than 1,300 were major medical policies. More than 57 per cent of these major medical policies provide maximum benefits of $10,000 compared to 45 per cent in the 1960 study. About 38 per cent of the policies in 1961 had a maximum of $5,000 compared to the previous year's 51 per cent. In addition, more than two per cent of the major medical policies in 1961 provided maximum benefits of $15,000 or more, said the Institute.

Some 94 per cent of the major medical policies provided coverage for nervous or mental disorders, including in-hospital care and, frequently, the out-of-hospital services of a psychiatrist.

Dairy Production Records Complete On 3 Holsteins

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has announced the completion of outstanding official production records by registered Holstein cows in this area. They include Warstel Ivy Edith Star 45-32285, a three-year-old owned by Warren E. Gast, Beltrami, which produced 13,750 lbs. milk and 522 lbs. butterfat in 242 days.

Northwest Snappy Imperial 418-8116, a four-year-old, produced 18,670 lbs. milk and 632 lbs. butterfat in 305 days and BDI Masautgo Query 4272784, a four-year-old, had 17,090 lbs. of milk and 604 lbs. butterfat in 305 days. Both are owned by the University of Minnesota, Crookston.

In contrast, the annual production of the average U. S. dairy cow is generally estimated at approximately 7,000 lbs of milk containing 265 lbs. of butterfat.

The University of Minnesota supervised the weighing and testing of the new Holstein records as part of the breed's official herd testing programs.

Farmers Home Agency Loans $13,100,000 in '61

Senator Hubert H. Humphrey reported today that Farmers Home Administration loan funds for Minnesota increased by more than 50 per cent in 1961 over the previous year.

The FHA advanced a record $13,100,000 to Minnesota farmers in 1961, Humphrey said. The total for 1960 was $8,500,000.

The Senator reported that the Bureau of the Budget recently released an additional $1,750,000 for Farmers Home Administration operating loans in Minnesota for the current fiscal year.

"The excellent record of repayment of FHA loans by Minnesota farmers over the years has fully justified these increases for our state," Humphrey said.

Farmers Home Administration loans are advanced to pay for equipment, livestock, feed, seed, fertilizer and other operating needs; to enlarge, buy or develop farms within the limits of the "family farm" definition; to develop water supply systems; and to construct or repair farm homes and other essential buildings.

FHA loans, available to farmers unable to secure sufficient credit at private loan firms or banks, are now limited to $35,000, repayable within seven years.

Plan for Survey of State Park in Lake of Woods Co.

Topographic mapping and survey work in the recently established Zippel Bay state park on the shore of Lake of the Woods will be underway soon, according to Robert J. Owens, chief engineer for the conservation department.

The topography of the land must be recorded in detail in order to prepare plans for camp grounds, buildings and other developments in the park area, Owens said.

Although there is a foot or more of snow in some places in the new park, conservation work project crews will begin work within the next few days, he indicated.

Telephone Traffic Falls Off During Orbital Flight

Nearly All Exchanges Note Business Drop, Including Local Office

Interest of the American public in the orbital space flight of Col. John Glenn last week was evidenced in telephone traffic at Thief River Falls and nearly all telephone exchanges in the nation, according to James Koller, manager of the Northwestern Bell telephone company here.

The volume of telephone traffic dropped sharply in most cities while Glenn was in orbit. It was reported that Des Moines (Ia.) toll traffic was about 50 per cent of normal load during the time of the launch and about one-third normal at the time of the capsule recovery. Spot checks in Minneapolis showed traffic down as much as 30 per cent at some times. In Fargo, total traffic for the day was off nearly 20 per cent.

Reporting on the three-orbit flight, the National Aeronautics and Space administration said performance of the 18 range stations scattered throughout the world was practically perfect. Bell Labs and Western Electric were active participants in Project Mercury with Western Electric heading the industrial team which built the worldwide system of range stations and the communications network linking them together.

The stations had the job of tracking the flight by radar and transmitting telemetry data over some 140,000 miles of communications circuits—about twice the distance covered by the space craft. Data collected by the stations covered nearly 100 items relating to the condition of the space vehicle and of the astronaut himself.

The information was funneled into the Goddard Space flight center at Greenbelt, Md., the computer and communications hub of the entire network. High speed computers and switching equipment there organized and relayed the information to the Mercury control center at Cape Canaveral.

WILDLIFE in Minnesota

by JIM KIMBALL

Probably half of all the letters leaving my desk are answering questions to which we assume everybody knows the answers. The number one question on this list might be—"Why don't you have a later deer season, a longer deer season, or an earlier deer season?" The answer is that we must abide by the state law which says we may have a deer season not to exceed nine days in length between November 1st and November 21st.

Number two on the list of most-asked questions might be, "Why don't you eliminate spearing, restrict spearing, or permit more spearing?" Here again the answer is that we abide by the law and the law says that if you prohibit spearing of northern pike you will also prohibit angling of them. If you shorten the season on spearing, you will shorten the angling season proportionately. This means that a reduction of one day in the spearing season means a reduction of 3½ days in the angling season.

Another frequently-asked question concerns protection of the bear. Here the answer is that the law provides for a bounty on bear. The bear is not on the list of protected animals, but may be protected under special conditions by the Commissioner of Conservation.

A lot of people are also interested in moose. The questions here may be—"Why don't you have a moose season" — "I hope you don't have a moose season" — or — "Do you plan opening the season on moose?" Once again the answer lies in the law. Under existing laws we could have a moose season only within three miles of the Canadian border and the northwest angle. This would not be practical. Whether or not we have a moose season will depend on future action of the Legislature. If we do have one, I am sure it will be a season limited to a small number of animals.

This list of frequently asked questions would not be complete without the one which has been worn shabby in the past few years — "Is it true that we have too many biologists?" — "Do we have twice as many biologists as we used to?" — "Do we have a hundred biologists?"

Like the others, this question does not make for a very good argument because it can be settled so easily with state records which are open to inspection by anyone. The number of people employed as biologists in the Division of Game and Fish between 1955 and 1962 has varied from a low of 41 to a high of 52. On January 1, 1955 which was B. K. (before Kimball) it was 46; as of January 1, 1962 it was 45.

In this business as in every other business, the number of college trained people on the payroll is increasing. We have an increasing number of biologically trained men in fish management, game management, and the warden service. Managing this state's wildlife resources is a biological business, and it is good to have some men with biological training in the management sections. The fact remains that they are not working as biologists and they receive the same pay and have the same duties as their associates who might have backgrounds in some other fields.

Does 45 sound like a lot of biologists? It is about one man in ten in the Division, and their budget is about 8 per cent of the total for the Division. Roughly, half of the efforts of this group are devoted to a wide variety of research projects on various species of game and fish. The other half of their time is spent on surveys and investigations. Approximately 100 fish lakes and 100 game lakes are surveyed each year and this information is turned over to the fish manager or the game manager for practical use.

Another major job of this group is that of reviewing all proposed federal projects which may affect wildlife. These include watershed, drainage and flood control projects sponsored by the Corps of Engineers, Soil Conservation Service, etc.

The final question we will have space for is not really a question at all but an accusation — "I didn't shoot one" — "Hunting was lousy" — "The only reason you opened the season was to get my $3.00!" There are no laws or public records to prove that this is not done—but it seems incredible that people who have devoted their lives to conservation could indulge in such chicanery. About all I can say is that everyone here is on a straight salary—no one gets a commission on license sales.

1961 NW Bell Report Shows Millions Spent

Northwestern Bell Telephone Company carried out a $109 million construction program in 1961. The program included record expenditures to enlarge and further modernize Northwestern Bell's services, according to the company's annual report released today by president A. F. Jacobson.

Northwestern Bell's plant investment has doubled in the last eight years, reaching $933 million at year end. Jacobson pointed out that this is a reflection of continued strong demand for the company's services and the higher costs of plant construction. The report notes that $25 million went to replace worn out or obsolete plants during the year and costs involved were about double the original cost of the plant replaced.

The company provides telephone and other communication services in 645 local areas in Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota. It furnishes most of the intercity circuits which connect all points in the region, including those served by several hundred other telephone companies.

The company provides employment for some 23,000 men and women. "Altogether," Jacobson said, "Northwestern Bell's payrolls construction expenditures, purchases of materials and services, state and local taxes put some $275 million into the economy of the five state regions."

According to the report, the company's services were used about 12 million times in an average business day during last year. Northwestern Bell added 101,000 telephones in 1961, bringing the total served at year end to 2,018,000. Earnings of the company for the year were $2.13 per share of company stock compared with $2.11 per share for 1960.

Among the company's defense communication activities last year was the provision of circuits of the Titan and Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile bases in this region and for Nike installations in the Omaha-Lincoln and Minneapolis-St. Paul areas. Several forms of communications were also required for SAGE direction centers which went into operation during the year in Minot, N. D., and Sioux City, Ia.

Rep. Wichterman at Conference

Leaves Today for West Virginia and Washington

State Rep. Ben Wichterman of Plummer, DFL candidate for Congress in the new 7th district, leaves today for a conference on congressional campaigns being held in White Sulpher Springs, West Virginia on Friday and Saturday.

Wichterman will be joined on his trip by State Senator Donald Fraser of Minneapolis who is a candidate for congress in the 5th district.

Wichterman said, "This conference, which is open to all Democratic candidates for Congress, will include a number of workshops on various programs of the Kennedy administration.

"Of particular interest to me and to our district will be the discussions on the farm program medical care to the aged, and problems of peace."

Following the conference, Wichterman will spend four days in Washington, D. C. discussing the issues of the coming campaign with the Minnesota DFL congressional delegation and various administration officials.

$100,000 Given to Carleton College

Carleton College has received a gift of $100,000 from the estate of the late Putnam Dana McMillan of Minneapolis, long-time associate of General Mills, Inc., who died in April of last years. In announcing receipt of the gift, Carleton's President Laurence M. Gould said that according to terms of the will income from the grant is to be used for faculty salaries.

THE LION'S SHARE

The lion that can roar the loudest and bite the hardest usually gets what he wants.

That's the way it is in the animal kingdom, and sometimes the system creeps into man's world too!

Most of us have too much RELIGIOUS AWARENESS to believe that such a system is the best one. We would rather live in a world in which kindness and peace, and unselfishness were the rule.

Our Churches can help us build such a world. They can turn our religious awareness into SPIRITUAL GROWTH.

On Sunday morning, the man in the armchair knows just as well as the man in the pew what is wrong with the world. But the man in the pew will be busy doing something about it!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Land O'Lakes Expects Best Net Volume in Its History

Marlan Augustine To Succeed Art Stenberg As District Director

With auditing yet to be completed for the final month of 1961, Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., is looking forward to the best net income in the history of the operation. The prediction was made by Trig Sundheim, treasurer of the cooperative, at the annual meeting of District 17 held Wednesday at the municipal auditorium in Thief River Falls.

Marlan Augustine of Holt, member of the Land O'Lakes board of directors during 1958, 1959 and 1960, was elected to the board as a result of balloting in a three-way race for the directorship. Augustine succeeds Art Stenberg, Thief River Falls, incumbent candidate, who served on the board from 1945 to 1957 and was elected again for the 1961 term at the previous annual meeting. Third candidate was Otto Saugen, member of the board of directors of the Thief River Falls Cooperative Creamery.

Sundheim listed the approximate volume for 1961 operations to be $215 million with all departments showing an average dollar volume increase of 18 per cent over 1960. Net profit of 1961 operations is expected to be about $5½ million and the oldest outstanding equities are now only nine years old.

During the year the cooperative processed 1,460 million pounds of fluid milk, bottled 265 million pounds of milk, produced and marketed 150 million pounds of butter and processed and marketed about 36 million pounds of turkey. A total of $2,174,000 in stock was retired, including $187,184 or 50 per cent of the earnings in the dry milk operation for 1960.

Frank Stone, general manager of the cooperative, speaking at Wednesday's annual meeting, noted that the day was especially significant for him. It marked the completion of 26 years with Land O'Lakes, during which time the volume had grown from $35 million to $215 million. Unless quotas are imposed, the volume could continue to rise, he added.

"The organization has had one of its most successful years in 1961," he said. "Many new creameries with volume of up to three million pounds of butterfat handled, began doing business with Land O'Lakes during the past year." The cooperative has taken a position to oppose milk marketing quotas since they tend to limit the volume of production in these areas, he said.

Comment was also made by the manager on an association of five dairy cooperatives which was formed Sept. 1, 1961. The organization was formed to coordinate thinking in regard to processing and packaging of dairy products developed through research by the individual cooperatives. They include Lan O'Lakes, Twin City Milk Producers and North Star in Minnesota, Dairy Maid in Wisconsin and Iowa State Brand in Iowa.

DISTRICT 12 director of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., as a result of the election held Wednesday at the annual meeting in Thief River Falls, is Marlan Augustine of Holt. Augustine succeeds Art Stenberg of Thief River Falls who defeated him in the 1961 election. He previously served as a director in 1958, 1959 and 1960.

Jaycees Discuss Several Items Thursday Night

Chapter To Underwrite FFA Banquet Contribute To Myers Memorial Fund

Several items of interest received attention at the initial March meeting of the Thief River Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce held Thursday evening in the Elks club rooms. Reports were given on projects recently completed or still in progress.

To further the cause of agriculture in the Thief River Falls area, the chapter went on record to underwrite an expense of $50 for an award banquet to be held by the local chapter of the Future Farmers of America. The event will be held this spring and the Jaycees will present their annual young farmer award at the program.

It was also approved by the chapter to contribute the profits from the teenage dance which was to be held March 2 to the Don Myers memorial fund.

Roger Tunberg, co-chairman of the 1961 Miss Aquacade committee, reported on a recent meeting of the District Miss America preliminary pageant. The event will be held March 24 at Moorhead. Tunberg and Charles Holmquist, member of the 1962 local Miss America preliminary, attended the meeting, as did Miss Susanne Pitblado, Roseau 1961 Miss Aquacade and contestant in the district event.

It was reported that Miss Pitblado is a personal friend of the 1961 Miss Minnesota runner-up and has gained considerable knowledge of contest procedure from her. Winners at the district contest will advance to regional competition.

After considerable discussion, a motion authorizing the committee to select the date for a professional wrestling match in Thief River Falls was defeated. It was stated in discussion that the percentage of net gate receipts was too small to justify promoting the event.

A report was given on the boss-employee banquet held Tuesday night and it was reported that cold weather and conflicting events cut attendance to below expectations. Marvin Lundin, director in charge, added that more concentrated effort by Jaycees to sell tickets allotted to them would be necessary to insure success of the venture next year.

Ness Speaks at Trinity Banquet

Father and Son Program Attended by 220 Persons

Loren Ness, assistant director of the Brotherhood of the American Lutheran church with responsibility of boys and youth work, was guest speaker Wednesday at the annual father and son banquet of Trinity Lutheran church. Approximately 220 fathers and sons attended the event.

Charles Holmquist presented prizes to outstanding fathers in attendance. They included J. H. Knutson, eldest son in attendance; William Herzog, newest father; Donald M. Olson, most sons; and Morris Owen, most children. Tributes to fathers and sons were presented by Art Aune and his son Mike.

Ness called attention to boys at Trinity who have received the Boy Scout Pro Deo et Patria award. Specifically mentioned were Larry Larson, Brian and Brooks Mostue, Michael Dahlen, Rolf Wangberg and Gary Christofferson.

Bryant Ulseth led singing of the table prayer to open the evening activities and later led group singing. Rev. Harold Peterson, assistant pastor at Trinity, pronounced the benediction.

Stanton Dahlen Is Appointed to U.S. Committee

Stanton R. Dahlen, president of First Federal Savings and Loan association, has been appointed to the 1962 committee on the Federal Home Loan Bank System of the United States Savings and Loan League.

The appointment was announced today by M. L. Dye, of Salt Lake City, Utah, president of the league.

The committee concerns itself with the effectiveness of the Federal Home Loan Bank system.

Chamber Gov't. Committee Will Meet Thursday

Glenn Scott, Sioux Falls, S. D., fieldman of the United States Chamber of Commerce, will be in Thief River Falls Thursday and meet with the local government committee at a noon session slated for the Rex Cafe.

Scott will explain ways in which a local government committee might better function in expressing community views on state, local and national legislative matters. He will also explain the significance of the Aircade for Congressional Action that will be conducted in St. Paul March 16 by U. S. Chamber dignitaries.

Les Ihle, committee chairman, will preside at the Thursday meeting and all committee members are urged to be in attendance.

Consumers Co-op. To Note Increase

Annual Meeting Slated at Auditorium Saturday

Increase in sales of more than 10 per cent in 1961 over 1960 will be reported to stockholders of Consumers Cooperative of Thief River Falls at the annual meeting to be held Saturday at 1 p. m. in the city auditorium. Sales were up $101,350 during the year to a total of $929,070. Gross margins also showed an increase of nearly $20,000.

Two directors will be elected at the annual meeting with the terms of Gunsten Skomedal and Curtis Johnson expiring. Directors will be elected for two-year terms.

Sig Sampson, director of sales for Midland Cooperatives, Inc., will be guest speaker at the meeting. Door prizes will be given and lunch will be served after the meeting. Leonard Furuseth is general manager of the local cooperative.

3 Inches of Snow Falls on Sunday

After coming in like a lion with −35 degree temperatures, March is adopting more lamb-like tendencies during the initial stages of the month. Three inches of snow on Sunday brought the total on the ground to 35 inches, according to the North Central Airlines weather station at the municipal airport.

High and low temperatures for the past several days include 7 and −35 on Thursday, 16 and −15 on Friday, 24 and 14 on Saturday, 24 and 17 on Sunday and a low last night of zero. Temperature variation during the period was 59 degrees from the low of −35 to the high of 24 just two days later.

Variable cloudiness is predicted for today and tomorrow with high readings of 12 to 22 expected today and lows of 0 to −12 degrees tonight. Little temperature change is expected tomorrow.

3-county Sugar Beet Group to Meet March 7

Pes. Harry Oen to Preside at Meeting in Court House Here

The Tri-County Sugar Beet Development Association, which has a membership of approximately 900 farmers living in Pennington, Red Lake, East Marshall, Clearwater and West Polk counties, will hold its seventh annual meeting in Thief River Falls on Wednesday, March 7th, at 2:00 p. m. in the district court chambers of the court house. Harry Oen, president, will conduct the meeting.

Principal speaker will be Marv Syverson of Ada, deputy commissioner of agriculture for Minnesota. Mr. Syverson is well acquainted with the present federal sugar act and with pending sugar legislation. He will explain his department's role in working for additional sugar beet acreages in Minnesota.

Also to be heard will be Charles Cambell of Hallock, secretary of the Minnesota-North Dakota Sugar Beet Development association, and W. E. Dahlquist of Thief River Falls, who will report on his trip to Washington last May to attend sugar beet legislation hearings held by the House Agricultural Committee.

Business to be conducted will include election of four directors and hearing the annual financial report. Directors whose terms expire this year include Harry Oen, Thief River Falls; B. M. Wichterman, Plummer; Melvin Torgerson, Thief River Falls; and David Nelson, Clearbrook.

A nominating committee consisting of John Glass, Red Lake Falls, Stanley Radniecki, Oklee, Clifford T. Jorde, Thief River Falls and Earl Wagner, Gonvick, met recently and placed the following names in nomination for 3 year terms as directors:

Pennington county, Harry Oen; Red Lake county, B. M. Wichterman; Marshall county, Melvin Torgerson; and Clearwater and East Polk county, David Nelson and Palmer Horn.

Lunch will be served following the meeting. All area farmers interested in sugar beet information are invited to attend. The board of directors will meet immediately following the membership meeting to organize and elect officers for the coming year.

Randall Noper Is New Director of State Motel Assn.

Members of the Minnesota Motel Association re-elected Cliff Kyes their 1962 President at the close of their 10th annual convention in Minneapolis February 24.

Other officers re-elected were: Vice presidents, Maybel A. Rolla, Duluth; and Bill Frank, Minneapolis; and secretary-treasurer, Myrna H. Ellsworth, Minneapolis.

By-laws of the Association were amended to increase the number of directors from 9 to 15. New directors elected include Randall L. Noper, Noper's Motel, Thief River Falls, District 15.

Readers Supply Needed Copies of Times for Feb. 19

The Times appreciates the response of subscribers to the appeal for copies of the Feb. 19 issue. In spite of a larger press run the issue was a complete sell-out and it was necessary to ask for a return of enough copies to take care of checking needs. Many more copies were offered than were needed. One good friend mailed her copy back from Minneapolis. Thank you all.

10 Adult Evening Classes Now in Operation Here

Room Remains in Study of Great Books; Golf Class To Open March 20

Ten adult evening classes are now in operation at the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school, according to Arnt Aune, director. Room remains for a few more people in the Great Books Discussion Group which is being led by Ray Ulferts and will meet next at 7:30 p. m. on Thursday, March 8.

Classes currently in session in addition to the Great Books group include beginning typewriting, welding, bookkeeping, office machines, free hand drawing, millinery, knittin, square dancing, and automotive tune-up. Registrations are being accepted for the golf class which will begin on Tuesday, March 20, at 7 p. m. in the old Lincoln high school gymnasium.

"The great authors are not in agreement," the Great Books Foundation notes. "They will present conflicting, even contradictory answers to the basic questions. The participant in a discussion may disagree with many of them —must, in fact, in the face of disparate positions. His decisions are his own.

"Whatever the answers the Great Books offer, they probe for the heart of each question. And in doing so, they help each participant to think straight, to think for himself and to think at the level of greatness."

Among items being discussed are the Declaration of Independence, Plato's "Apology," Sophocles' "Antigone", Aristotle's "Politics", Plutarch's "Lycurgus and Numa", Gospel of St. Matthew, Epictetus' "Discourses", Machiavelli's "The Prince", Shakespeare's "Macbeth", Marx and Engels "Communist Manifesto", Tolstoy's "The Death of Ivan Ilyich" and Thoreau's "Civil Disobedience".

Only cost of the course is the cost of the books—$8.50 for the set.

Clarence Cherry Dies at D. Lakes

Clarence C. Cherry of Detroit Lakes, who served this area as deputy state fire marshal for many years until his retirement January 1, succumbed Thursday evening. He was about 65. During his years of service, he had been a frequent visitor in Thief River Falls. A former resident of Crookston, he had operated a bowling alley in that city.

Frustrating February

Shortest Month Seems Like Longest in 1962

Now completed is the month of groundhogs, valentines and birthdays of famous leaders of our country and "fabulous" February of 1962 could well go down in local history as "frustrating" February. It was, and this may be stated without danger of contradiction, a very cold and snow-filled month.

In comparison with 1960 and 1961, both of which had mild February weather, 1962 was a proverbial "bearcat". High temperatures averaged 13.76 degrees while low readings averaged 7.03 degrees below zero. Five high daily temperatures were below zero with the coldest high reading being -18 degrees on February 28.

Only eight low readings in February this year climbed above the zero mark with the highest low reading being 30 degrees on February 3. Coldest low temperature of the month, and of this winter season, was -37 degrees on February 28.

Snowfall was also extreme with 14.9 inches of the cumbersome white stuff falling during the month, bringing the season total to approximately four feet. Greatest amount received in one day was 6.2 inches on February 15 and that came just as clearing work was being completed on the 4.2 inches which tumbled out of the sky on February 13. Snow in traceable or greater amounts was noted on 14 days—exactly half the days in the month.

By comparison, 1961 had average high readings of just above 25 degrees and average lows of 5.70 degrees—all above zero. All high readings during February of that year were above the zero mark and 18 low readings were also above zero. About five inches of snow fell with two inches being the greatest amount at any one time.

February of 1960 had average high readings of 18.03 and average lows of −69 degrees with only nine-tenths of an inch of snow and .29 inch of rain. That month had only one high reading below zero—a mark of -1 on February 18.

To many people it is certain that this shortest month of the year will seem like the longest.

High and low temperatures for

City Council Approves Four Street Projects

City Fathers Reject One Project and Ask Same Salary Schedule

Approval was given to several additions to city street improvement projects following a special hearing and adjourned meeting of the Thief River Falls city council Friday evening at the city auditorium. Street lighting improvements on Knight avenue were also approved but a proposed street improvement on LaBree av. S. and Zeh street was rejected on a split vote as being too costly for the city.

Street projects approved were on First street from Arnold to State avenues, Fifth street from Arnold to State avenues, Eleventh street from Main to Duluth avenues and Knight avenue from Tenth to Eleventh street. The two north projects include strom sewer work as well as street surfacing and concrete curb and gutter. Total estimated cost of the four additions to the present street project, as given in the feasability report of D. H. Stewart, city engineer, was $29,900.

The council approved the feasability report and called for plans and specifications on the projects. Only one person attended the hearing and voiced opposition to the plans and specifications were also ordered on the street lighting improvement for Knight avenue.

Stewart presented a feasability report on the LaBree avenue and Zeh street improvement. The proposed area included LaBree avenue beginning at First street and running south past Northwestern hospital, turning west by the city power plant and continuing west on Zeh street to the intersection with highway 32. Since the city would have to pay more than half the cost of the overall improvement and does not have funds available for such purpose, the council by majority vote rejected the proposal.

The long-postponed discussion of salaries for city employees was brought up for discussion and considerable time was spent in hearing opinions on the matter. As an end result to the discussion, Robert Wurst, city attorney, was instructed to answer a letter from the labor union stating that the council prefers to retain the same salary schedule as used in 1961.

Westinghouse Electric Supply company's bid on a carload of poles for the city light department was accepted at the adjourned meeting after action on bids was tabled at the previous regular meeting. Five bids were received with Westinghouse having the low bid of $2,392.

STATE 4-H radio speaking contest champion for 1962 is Kathleen Torgerson, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Torgerson of rural Thief River Falls and senior at Lincoln high school. Second place winner was Dean Lindeman, 18, Glenville. More than 1,000 students took part in the Minnesota contest with Miss Torgerson defeating 16 other district winners in the state event on Saturday.

County Historical Society to Meet

Group Will Study Past Activities and Plan for Other Coming Events

In an attempt to stimulate interest in the Pennington County Historical Society, a special meeting of the organization will be held Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the meeting room of the county courthouse in Thief River Falls, according to Millard Nelson, secretary of the organization.

All officers of the society are especially urged to attend and any interested persons are encouraged to be present. The meeting is being called specifically to review past operations of the society, analyze the present situation and receive ideas as to the best way to proceed in the future.

While the historical group has been in operation for many years, it was officially formed into a society and chartered on Dec. 1, 1938. Joe Rosengren currently serves as president with Paul Roy as treasurer and Nelson as secretary.

Five representatives, one from each of the county's five commissioner districts, serve as vice presidents in the organizational structure. They include Ernest Swanson, Goodridge; Art Rambeck, Thief River Falls; W. A. Corbet, St. Hilaire; Glenn Tasa, Trail; and Bert Vigen, Thief River Falls.

After having been located in several buildings in Thief River Falls, a rather large collection of historical items is currently located in the historical society room in the basement of the county courthouse. Plans for the most advantageous use of the items for display will also be discussed at the meeting Wednesday night. Lunch will be served at the close of the meeting.

Kathy Torgerson Wins State 4-H Radio Contest

Steiner Club Member Is First Among 17 Entries In St. Paul Saturday

State champion in the Minnesota 4-H radio speaking contest is Kathleen Torgerson, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Torgerson and senior student at Lincoln high school. She won top placing over 16 other district winners in state finals held Saturday at the University of Minnesota St. Paul campus.

As state winner, Miss Torgerson received a $200 cash award and $50 to buy books for the local school library. Donor of the awards was the Jewish Community Relations Council of Minnesota, co-sponsor of the contest with the University of Minnesota agricultural extension service.

More than 1,000 4-H members throughout the state took part in the contest, writing and giving original speeches on the subject, "How Would You Present the United States to the World?" Reserve champion in the contest was Dean Lindeman, 18, Glenville.

Active in high school declamatory work, Miss Torgerson was an alternate in the district 4-H speaking contest in 1960. A member of the Steiner 4-H club, she is especially interested in clothing, food preparation and entomology projects. She has shown a reserve champion entomology exhibit at the county fair and won a trip to the state fair as county pie champion.

Enthusiastic about science, she plans to enroll at Concordia college in Moorhead next year and major in that subject. She is a member of the high school science club and President of the high school choir. Her hobbies include singing, sewing, swimming and skating.

By Eleanor Olson

"IGY: The Year of the New Moons" by J. Tuzo Wilson is among the new non-fiction books at the Library. Mr. Wilson, an eminent Canadian geophysicist, was president of the International Union of Geodesy and Geophysics in 1958 when the scientists of the world joined in a mutual effort to learn more about the world we live in and exchange the information gained by their extensive research.

As a result of his presidency, he traveled widely and saw many of the scientific investigations first hand. Mr. Wilson writes with remarkable clarity when interpreting science to laymen and with zest about his experiences in remote regions of the USSR and Red China.

The book summarizes satellite experiments launched until mid 1961 as well as describing studies of the earth's atmosphere and interior. Though obviously a supporter of the West, Mr. Wilson as a Canadian is able to take a detached view of American space achievements. While he is impressed with our scientific ability he is also aware of our political naivete which failed to recognize the impact of early Russian successes on the rest of the world.

As one of the leaders in the campaign to secure the fullest international co-operation and exchange of ideas, he points with pride to the strides made in this field; he points out as well the basic similarities of interest of all peoples, east or west which exist despite the apparent incompatibility of their political thinking. The solid scientific matter of Mr. Wilson's book is interspersed with delightful details of his travels. Regardless of what part of the world the reader may find himself, this is charming and informative reading about the often mysterious world of science.

Other new books on the shelves are:

"The Bull From The Sea" — Renault
"Cassandra at the Wedding" — Baker
"Ararat" — Wilchek
"Castle Dor" — Fuller-Couch
"Devil Water" — Seton
"My Brother Ernest Hemingway" — Hemingway
"Life among the Surrealists" — Josephson
"Crank" — Smith
"The Rothchilds" — Morton

Public Opinion

Editor Times;

It was interesting to note, on the front page of your Feb. 26th issue, "TRF Liquor Store Nets $75,457 in '61." The article went on to state that the sales had risen to $530,041.87, but net earnings were down due to certain causes.

It has also been interesting to note that—in almost every issue there has been an article headed "Cases Brought into Court." Here we read that such and such a person has been fined for "driving a vehicle while being under the influence"; "having an open bottle of intoxicants in a car"; or for "drinking by a minor"; etc., etc.

What about these fines? Should not the Liquor Stores receive credit also for this income? The problem then is to give credit where credit is due. A person arrested—should be asked where he obtained his "influence" or "bottle of intoxicants" so that the proper liquor store received the credit.

Then—on the debit side—should not there be entered the cost of hospitalization or funeral expenses of those hurt or killed in accidents involving drunken drivers: the cost in "welfare" to many who are left without support because of these accidents, etc., etc.?

If a report of this kind could be made in your paper—on the front page—I believe that would prove quite interesting also. What do you think?

Yours truly,
Mrs. Alfred Rasmusse

Here is a recipe for you homemakers who are tired of the usual menu. Try this Chop Suey recipe for a bit of Oriental flavor. It makes a large full meal and can be frozen very nicely. Any leftover roasts or cheaper meats may be used also.

CHOP SUEY

1 pound veal and 1 pound pork diced. Fry slowly in butter for ½ hour. Add 2 tbsp. molasses, 2 tbsp. soy sauce, 1 tsp. salt and fry for ten minutes more. Add 2 cups diced celery and 2 cups diced onions. Fry 20 minutes more and sprinkle about 3 tbsp. flour over the mixture and mix well. Add enough water to cover and simmer about 10 minutes. Then last add chop suey vegetables as you prefer and warm shortly. Serve over boiled rice with chinese noodles and soy sauce.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hanson live at 416 Horace Avenue North in Thief River Falls. They have three children who are married and have families of their own.

Mrs. Hanson's hobbies are cooking, camping and china painting. Her husband is a salesman and his main interest is rifle shooting. He has several trophies and medals he has won at state and national matches. This year for the fourth time he went to Camp Perry as a member of the Minnesota Civilian Big Bore Rifle team and now has his Life Master Card for big and small bore shooting.

County Entries Fared Well at Winter Shows

Pennington county 4-H'ers and open class exhibitors did well at the Red River Valley Winter Shows according to Paul Stelmaschuk, Pennington County agent. The show drew over 29,000 spectators and was considered to have improved considerably over previous years with numerous livestock entries coming from North Dakota as well as Minnesota in this first year of wide-open exposition.

Two families were honored during the winter show for their contribution to community work, promoting better agriculture and family living. They were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Peterson of route 4, Thief River Falls, who were selected from older residents. In the younger group, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hallstrom were honored with Mr. Halstrom being selected as the outstanding young farmer for Pennington county.

Kathleen Torgerson of the Steiner 4-H club won championship in the 4-H radio-speaking contest and Anita Swanson of Highlanding won a championship ribbon with a 4-H demonstration on the topic "Good Breakfast," according to Laura Duerst, county home agent.

In the open class competition Ed Hanson, route 3, Rocksbury township, won sweepstakes with a Redwood flax exhibit. Sweepstakes indicates the top exhibit in the show in that particular grain.

In addition to these championships, many firsts were won by county participants. Odin Hanson of route 4 won the top place in the Shorthorn calf class and an animal Hanson sold to a young exhibitor in the futurity show, Dennis Page of Hines, was champion of Shorthorn show in the futurity division.

Bernard Myers, route 4, Thief River Falls, had the highest selling Angus bull which brought $435 in the Friday sale. Ross Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Hanson, showed the third place Hereford calf in the open class show and he won blue ribbons in class IV and V of the Hereford futurity division. Si-Mar Hereford Farm also showed the junior champion 2-year old Shetland pony of the winter show and won first on the stud colt in the Shetland class.

In the 4-H judging contest, Pennington county tied for fourth place with one of the dairy teams. The second team placed ninth out of 19 participating. Members judging on the first team were Kathy Svendsgaard, Deanna Burtness and Mark Bruggeman. Lon Szymanski was the high scoring dairy judge with 229 out of a possible 250. He placed fifth among all dairy judges. Other dairy team members were Donald Hanson, Bruce Hanson, Gary Sande and Gary and Wesley Skibicki. The team was coached by Dale Svendsgaard.

In the general judging, the two county teams placed seventh and 15th out of 18 teams entered. Harold Myers was the top scoring individual of county contestants with 392 points, placing eighth out of 54 4-H'ers participating. Other members on the general team were Kermit Solem, Charlotte Myers, Peter Solem, Darrold Rodahl, David Rodahl, Judy and Daniel Kaushagen. Bernard Myers was coach of the team.

Andrew Skaar won a first placing with an entry of Climax Timothy; Wilbur Hallstrom showed a second placed Wells Durum sample; Gerald Yonke took second place on his Medium Red Clover exhibit; and Ross Hanson won third with a Wells Durum exhibit.

Meetings Slated to Discuss Potato Marketing Order

The proposed national potato marketing order recommended by the national potato advisory committee will be discussed with growers of the Red River Valley at a series of meetings beginning March 8.

The schedule of meetings includes McIntosh city hall Monday, March 12, at 1:30 p. m.; Ada city hall Tuesday, March 13, at 1:30 p. m.; and Stephen high school March 13 at 8 p. m.

The meetings are being held at this time so that growers may become acquainted with the proposed marketing order before the hearing scheduled for Minneapolis March 22-24, so that those desiring to attend the hearing and offer evidence in support of or in opposition to the proposed marketing order will understand what the program is.

2 Minor Traffic Accidents Noted

$190 Damage Estimated To 4 Vehicles Involved

Investigation of only two minor traffic accidents has been completed by the Thief River Falls police department in the past several days. Damage total in the two mishaps has been estimated at $190 with no injuries resulting and no citations being issued.

At 8:55 a. m. Thursday a car driven by Roger A. Forsberg was making a left turn from Seventh street on Davis avenue when it collided with a car driven by Earl B. Gjernes which was traveling north on Davis. Vision for both drivers was obscured by a semi-trailer truck parked at the intersection. An estimated $35 damage was done to the Forsberg car and $55 to the Gjernes vehicle.

THERE IS SOMETHING ENJOYABLE about watching a job being done well by people you know. Such was the case last Monday evening when the wife and I along with our two daughters witnessed the Lincoln high school chorus production of "Babes in Toyland". I can't remember when I have seen a better job of presenting a high school event.

It must have been a comfortable evening for Sander Tureson also, or so it would seem to persons who noted his unbuttoned shirt collar beneath an attractive black suit. One of the girls who portrayed a toy soldier in the operetta cast, and a total stranger to Tureson, borrowed his cravat to complete her costume since she had forgotten her tie at home. Note to his fellow workers at Union State Bank: No matter what you thought when a gal with Sander's necktie was looking for him last week—he was telling you the truth.

Approximately 3,000 persons were in attendance at the several performances given. The crowd was estimated at 500 the first night, 600 the second night and 900 each for the matinee performances for elementary and high school students. To Bryant Ulseth, director, and the students who took part, congratulations for a most excellent production.

The painted backdrop, which is an attractive woodland scene, must have seemed out of place to my three-year-old Lori. The curtains had just been drawn to open the first scene and there was a calm throughout the auditorium when she loudly questioned, "Mommy, is that outside?"

I particularly enjoyed the acting by Gary Kelly as the diabolical Barnaby, Bonne Nelson as the Widow Piper, James Wendel as Alan, Cindy Steen as Hilda and Ronnie Lindberg and James Robinson as the bungling Roderigo and Gonzorgo. Lighting affects, handling of the musical numbers and the timing and tempo of the action were especially well done.

The recent issue of the Minnesota Parent-Teacher publication carries the following list of "Twelve Things to Remember": The value of time; the success of perseverance; the pleasure of working; the dignity of simplicity; the worth of character; the power of kindness; the influence of example; the obligation of duty; the wisdom of economy; the virtue of patience; the improvement of talent; and the joy of origination.

Persons who believe in vesting more powers in the President of the United States or the Secretary of Agriculture may well heed the advice of Aristotle, one of the world's great philosophers:—"The individual is liable to be overcome by anger, or by some other passion, and then his judgement is necessarily perverted; but it is hardly to be supposed that a great number of persons would all get into a passion and all go wrong at the same moment."

Reminder to hostesses—Don't work too hard to make your guests feel at home. If they wanted to feel that way they would have stayed there in the first place.

Choice tid-bits of wisdom: a bigamist is a person who has had one too many; for stirring passages, look in a cook book; when all think alike, no one thinks much; love is a game seldom called off by darkness; even the clock passes the time by keeping its hands busy; the most insecure person usually has the loudest laugh.

PROBLEM OF THE AGE

Jet plane travel sure is fine,
Twice the distance, half the time.
No more crowded highway rush,
Rather solid comfort plush.

Pretty stewardess concerned
With politeness she has learned.
No more "helpful" back seat driving,
Simply rest for strength reviving.

No more numb posterior,
No more stale interior,
No more driving in the rain—
Just sit back and drink champagne.

Many factors make it so. . .
Brother, what a way to go!
Just one problem jet flight gives—
No more "distant" relatives.

Local Knights of Columbus Council to Meet Thursday

The regular March meeting of the Our Lady of Lourdes Knights of Columbus Council will be held Thursday, March 8, at 8:15 p. m. at the St. Bernard's church hall in Thief River Falls.

Following the business meeting, a Lenten quiz contest will be held with Knights from the Argyle council opposing the Knights from the Thief River Falls area.

A district exemplification will be held at Greenbush, Sunday, March 18, beginning at 12:30. The ceremonies will be followed by a banquet which will be open to all Knights and their lady guests. Tickets for the banquet will be on sale at the March 8 meeting.

John Deere Day To Be Observed Here Wednesday

1962 John Deere Day will be observed by the Amundgaard Implement company in Thief River Falls on Wednesday, March 7. Free movies will be shown at 10 a. m. and 1:15 p. m. at the Falls Theater and a free lunch will be served at noon at the company store.

One film feature will star John Carradine and George Gobel and other films will show new machinery and equipment, including the "Big 105" combine which has a 22-foot platform and two eight-foot pickups designed for threshing 32 feet of swath. Part of the film was taken on the Knudsen Brothers farm northwest of Warren.

Agriculture Parley Set by Gov. Andersen

A "Governor's Conference on Agriculture and Country Life" will be held at Crookston on March 22, according to word received from Governor Elmer L. Andersen last week.

The conference, a one-day workshop session with farmers, homemakers and others interested in agriculture taking an active part, is one of five regional meetings scheduled for Minnesota during March. All are a continuation of a statewide meeting held at University Farm earlier this winter.

Purpose of the conference is "to explore ways of improving Minnesota's agriculture, promote our state's crops, develop new markets and take the steps necessary to improve rural life," Governor Andersen said.
